Greeks in a Fight With the Turkish Forces

Carried Supplies Up Three Flights

TESTIMONY AT THE TRIAL OF THE WINNIPEG STRIKE LEADERS—THE COMMITTEE OF ONE THOUSAND.

LITTLE VARIETY

WINNIPEG, Dec. 9.—When Dr. M. Garvin, a local dentist, testified at the evening session of R. B. Russell's trial, his evidence was of a peculiarly solemn note. While examined by the crown counsel, he related his efforts to induce the Central Strike Committee to rescind its order limiting water supply to the first floors of all buildings, and of how he had emphasized to the committee that water was essential to the sterilization of surgical and dental appliances, and of how, in grave issues, death might result of the lack of water facilities. For all his pleas, he had been informed by the "Strike Committee" that it could not reconsider its decision, and that if the doctors wanted action they should organize and petition the overnment to help in. "So you had to carry water upstairs, three flights of stairs?" sympathized E. J. McMurray, counsel for the defence.

"Yes," the doctor almost sobbed.

"But surely pulling teeth is not such a grave operation as to lead to death?" flashed the cross-examiner before the witness could regain his poise, while the Crown counsel heatedly protested.

Audible oaths were freely evoked by E. J. McMurray from the court spectators in his cross-examination of J. Carruthers, a local dairy proprietor.

"Did you sell milk to the 27,000 strikers?" asked the defence counsel.

"Yes."

"And to whom did you sell the milk?"

"To anyone who would buy it," recently replied the witness.

"To be sure," observed the counsel with a grin to the general discomfiture of the jury.

As the examination veered to the personnel of the "Committee of One Thousand, Mr. McMurray again drew a general chuckle, the Judge joining in the dialogue.

"Who was the chairman of the committee?" asked the cross-examiner.

"I don't know," said Carruthers.

"Then tell us who was on the committee."

"Not the whole thousand?" exclaimed the Judge.

"Oh, I don't think there were a thousand," retorted Mr. McMurray.

When the witness mentioned that A. Andrews, K.C., senior Crown counsel was a member of the committee, he added that he had not seen Mr. Andrews there.

"No!" inquired the latter amiably.

There was probably initiated another "first," as several lawyers, insurance and other business men were rattled by the witness.

The Judge protested against the "cost of variety.

"Can't you get us a preacher or something?" he complained.

"How about a man named Lill?" inquired Mr. McMurray.

"Isn't that a girl?" queried Mr. Andrews in a stage whisper.

LOOKING FOR A QUICK SETTLEMENT.

United Press:

LONDON, Dec. 9.—The Post to-day published a communication received from the propaganda bureau of Gabriele D'Annunzio, which quoted an alleged communication from President Wilson to Premier Nitti of Italy. Wilson, according to the communication, insisted upon a quick settlement of the Fiume-Adriatic problem, and threatened to withdraw the support of the United States from Italy unless the Peace Conference's decision in this affair were carried out.

COAL TAKEN OUT OF ST. CATHARINES

CITY COUNCIL DISCUSSES ACTION OF ONTARIO FUEL CONTROLLER.

(Special to The Examiner.)

ST. CATHARINES, Dec. 9.—It is altogether likely this city will fight any further demands of the Ontario Fuel Controller that St. Catharine's reserve stock of coal be sent to Toronto hospitals or any other place. One car was sent Saturday from here at the command of Provincial Fuel Controller Harrington. At the meeting of the City Council last night this proceeding was condemned, several aldermen pointing out that Toronto has plenty of coal which could be had for thirteen-fifty a ton. The Fuel Controller only allowed St. Catharines eight-fifty a ton. Mayor Elson said he was going to leave the matter in the hands of Chairman H. E. Rose, of the Civic Conservation committee, and Rose declared that no more coal would get out of St. Catherines if he knew it. He said he was appealing to the Dominion Government in the matter. There was something of a sensation when James Lamb, Deputy Minister of Mines, announced the stopping of an advertisement printed in Toronto papers Saturday in which a Toronto dealer was offering coal in car lots. "That was the day little St. Catharines was rushing a car of soft coal to the General Hospital in big Toronto. A car taken from this city's store which it had the foresight to purchase for bad times ahead."

THE GREEKS IN COLLISION

TWO THOUSAND TURKS ROUTED IN A SKIRMISH IN ASIA MINOR —THE CASUALTIES.

OFFICIAL REPORT

Canadian Press:

SALONIKA, Dec. 9.—Greek troops advancing to a line of demarcation in Asia Minor, which was fixed by the Peace Conference, have clashed with Turkish forces, the resistance of the latter being broken, according to an official statement issued at army headquarters. The Turks numbered about two thousand, and were supported by a number of machine guns, the statement says. The Greeks lost an adjutant and six soldiers killed and a sub-lieutenant and 17 soldiers wounded, while the losses of the Turks have not been determined.

RECEPTION TO RETURNED MAN

On Friday evening last Mr. and Mrs. Jones, of 58 Olive street, gave a welcome home party in honor of Pte. T. Littlefair, a brother of Mrs. Jones, returned home after four years in France.

About thirty guests gathered together to give him a real welcome home. Returned soldiers, including Sergt.-Major Allen and Sergt.-Major Wilford, were present.

After cards and games a dainty supper was served. The table was prettily decorated with maple leaves and Union Jacks.

At 12 o'clock Mrs. C. Scoley sang the "End of a Perfect Day," then the Grafonola was set in motion and dancing was indulged in until the early hours of another day.

NATIONALIZATION OF COAL MINES

BRITISH PREMIER TO BECOME A LIVE SUBJECT IN GREAT BRITAIN.

Canadian Press:

LONDON, Dec. 9.—The postponement of action with reference to the nationalization of mines of Great Britain was decided upon by special Trades Union Congress which met here to-day. A resolution was adopted, deferring decision on this issue until February.

Speaking on the subject, J. H. Thomas, general secretary of the Railwaymen's Union, declared that the mines during the war had disused miners owners, irritated miners and bewildered the public. Robert Smillie, the miners' leader, warned the Government that the miners, even if left alone in their position by other labour interests, would insist upon nationalization after February. Should the Government not agree to this constitutional action would be taken.

Allies Are Confident That Germany Will Sign Protocol

FAILURE OF UNITED STATES TO RATIFY TREATY HAS NOT PLACED THE ALLIES IN AN UNFAVOURABLE POSITION.

LAST WORD OF THE SUPREME COUNCIL

(United Press.)

LONDON, Dec. 9.—Credit for the attitude finally adopted toward Germany in the Supreme Council's notes on the protocol was given to the British delegates here to-day. The French wished to deliver a harsh ultimatum to the German delegates, it was stated, but were restrained by the British, who finally insisted that the matter be passed upon by the British cabinet.

The Allies to-day presented a united front to Germany in their demand that she accept the protocol to the peace treaty. Both British and Italian delegates received notifications from their governments that they stand ready to carry out the prescribed penalties should the Teutons refuse to sign. Meantime there was a feeling of confidence in both Paris and London that Germany will sign. The Germans, it was believed, have concluded that the failure of the United States to ratify the treaty has not put the Allies in a position where they are forced in any measure to back down upon their original demands.

Several Concessions.

(Canadian Press.)

PARIS, Dec. 9.—Germany's delegation at Versailles is considering what is looked upon as the last word of the Supreme Council of the Peace Conference relating to the signing of the protocol of the treaty. Elimination of the clause providing for control by the Allies in case of Germany's failure to execute the treaty's provisions, and alteration of claim for indemnity for German warships sunk at Scapa Flow are the most important concessions made by the Council.

Economic effects of turning over to the Allies of German dock and harbor machinery by way of indemnity will be subject of inquiry to be conducted by the Reparations Commission. At the same time, however, the Council places on Germany the responsibility for the sinking of Admiral Von Reuter's fleet. German demands for modification of treaty clauses calling for the surrender of Germans charged with violations of laws of warfare, as well as those dealing with repatriation of prisoners of war are rejected.

WEALTHY FLORIST ARRESTED AND CHARGED WITH MURDER

(United Press.)

HAMMONDTON, New Jersey, Dec. 9.—Clyde B. White, aged 29, a wealthy florist, was in jail at May's Landing to-day, formally charged with the murder of Billy Dansey, the three year old "perfect baby" who disappeared Oct. 8, and whose skeleton was found in a swamp three miles from his home two weeks ago. With White was his housekeeper, Mrs. Edith L. Jones, aged 46, charged with being an accessory after the fact. They were arrested by county detectives late yesterday.

The officers to-day refused to reveal what evidence led to the sensational arrests. They intimated, however, that other arrests would follow, and predicted "sensational disclosures."

WILLIAM JACKSON'S DEATH WAS DUE TO NATURAL CAUSES SAYS CORONER'S JURY LAST EVENING

The inquest into the death of William Jackson, who was found dead in the lane behind the Strand Theatre on Monday morning, Dec. 1, was concluded last evening. Crown Attorney G. W. Hatton conducted the examination of the witnesses before oCroner Dr. Greer.

The list of jurors were called, and all but one was present.

The first witness called was Fred Ferguson, a baker at Coleman's, who stated that at 6.30 Monday morning he found the man's body in the lane at the back of Gibbs' livery while going to work.

Mr. Hatton—Did you examine him?

No, I first put my bicycle in the shed where I keep it, and then Mr. Kline and myself went down to see him. We looked at the body, and Mr. Coleman phoned for the police.

Mr. Hatton—Is that all you know?

Did Not See the Body.

Joseph Kelbrick was the next witness called. Mr. Kelbrick stated that he was a letter carrier and knew Jackson by sight. On Monday morning he went to work at 6 a.m., going down the lane from Brock street but he did not see the obdy. He didn't know anything about it till one of the latter carriers came in and said Bill Jackson was lying dead in the lane. He went out and there were Sergt. Dennard and several of the letter carriers grouped around the dead man.

Mr. Hatton—Was it dark when you went to work?

Yes, very.

Sergt. Blade was the next witness.

Mr. Hatton—Were you on duty that morning?

Yes, till 5 a.m.

Mr. Hatton— Did you see the deceased that night?

Yes, three times. The first time was in the Boston Cafe about 9 o'clock. He called the manager over to show him a new flashlight he had. I stood speaking to him at the corner a minute and he said he was firing the boiler in the new theatre (old Times building.) He said (if I remember right) ttat he was going home early for he wasn't feeling very well.

An hour later I saw him again in front of the Bank of Toronto, spoke to him and passed on. The next time I met him was on Water street near the entrance to the lane. I was going north and he south, but he passed me with his head turned away and never spoke. At the time I thought this peculiar.

Sergt. Dennard in the witness box, said he was on station duty that night and arived on the scene at 6.35. He found the body stretched out on its back, the head to the north and the hands drawn up. Both hands, face and ears were frozen hard. He phoned the coroner and he said to remove the body to Comstock's. This was done and the body searched, revealing two five dollar bills, gold watch, silver chain and several other articles.

Dr Greer—Did you know him.

Witness—Yes.

The sergeant stated that the cap wasn't on the man's head, but was lying on the ground about three and a half away.

Mr. Maher—From his position could a man pass him in the lane and not see him?

Witness—Yes.

Constable Wigg was the next witness.

Mr. Hatton—Have you anything to add to the evidence already given?

I was through the lane at 5.30 a.m. and I do not believe the body was there then or I would have seen it.

Dr. Greer—You wouldn't swear the body wasn't there?

No.

Post Mortem Report.

Dr. Edward Wood was next called.

Mr. Hatton—You were ordered to make a post-mortem examination of the deceased, were you not?

Yes.

Mr. Hatton—Have you any idea of the cause of death?

The results of the examination were not as satisfactory as they might have been, but the cause of death was a cutting off of the blood supply to the heart—there was some sudden stoppage of heart action. This resulted in a congestion of the other organs and we found the other organs filled with blood.

Dr. Greer— Then you would say death was sudden.

Yes, instantaneous.

Mr. Hatton—Were there any bruises or marks or violence.

No, only a slight abrasion of the nose, probably caused by falling.

Dr. Wood stated that in examining the stomach they found that the man had eaten several hours before.

Mr. aHtton—Do you think an analysis of the stomach would throw any light on the subject?

Well, I do not think it would.

Mr. Elliot—Would a sudden fright cause a death like that?

Dr. Wood—I cannot conceive it unless ather man had a very weak heart and this man's heart seemed strong.

Mrs. Maher—Might his illness at the front have anything to do with his death.

Dr. Wood — He never reached France.

His discharge papers were now examined and it was seen that he only reached England. He was discharged on May 14, 1919.

Mr. Hatton—What was the doctor's conclusion?

Dr. Wood—He didn't put it in.

Mr. Hatton—Don't you think it advisable to put one in.

Coroner Greer—We will put it in after we have heard Dr. MacPherson.

Dr. A. W. McPherson was the next witness, and corroborated Dr. Wood's statement about the condition of the heart. He said there were some signs of old trouble in the brain but that there was no hemorrhage nor abscess.

Mr. Hatton—This didn't affect his health?

I don't think so.

The report was now filled in by the doctors.

Mr. H. Kline gave testimony. Mr. Kline is a merchant on George street and he stated that on that morning his attention was called to the obdy by Mr. Ferguson.

Mr. Hatton—When had you been in the lane?

The day parvious, replied Mr. Kline.

Mr. Hatton—Did you know him?

No.

ome confusion now arose over the man's real name, whether it was Sykes or Jackson, but the matter was ruled out.

Coroner Greer spoke to the jury, saying that they had the doctors' evidence, and it was appareit that the man died suddenly and that were no signs of foul play and no motive for any. He said that an analysis of the stomach would cost $75, and he thought they could find their verdict without an anlysis having to be made.

The Verdict.

"We, the coroner's jury, after carefully considering the evidence presented to us, have come to the conclusion that William Jackson came to his death on Dec. 1, 1919, in the City of Peterborough, Ontario, from natural causes."

The unselfish side of the jurymen was reveals at the close of the evening when, instead of putting their fees in their pockets, they turned over $10 to be divided equally between St. Vincent's Orphanage and the Children's Aid Society Mr Maher moved the motion, and Adjt. Buntin seconded it, and it was carried. When it came to sign, however, two of the jurymen backed down.

RESULTS OF THE SESSION

A FORTY-EIGHT HOUR WEEK IS LIKELY TO BE INTRODUCED IN CANADA.

DR. RIDDELL HOME

(Special to The Examiner.)

TORONTO, Dec. 9. — A 48-hour week for all Canada is what Deputy Minister of Labour Dr. W. A. Riddell believes will be realized in the near future as the result of the International Labour Congress recently held at Washington. Although at present there are no laws in Ontario limiting the hours of a day during which an employer may require his employees to work, except as regards underground mining labour, Dr. Riddell thinks that Ontario, along with the rest of the Dominion, will, before long, be conducting its business under a law providing that industrial workers will not have to serve more than eight hours a day. Agricultural pursuits, Dr. Riddell takes it for granted, will be excepted from the operation of the Act. The Congress, he thinks, will also tend to lessen the tendency of Canadian industrial workers to strike. Dr. Riddell has just returned from the inter-Allied conference at Washington, where he represented the Ontario government, under the Hearst government he was director of the Bureau of Labor, while with the creation of the labor portfolio and the appointment of Hon. Walter Rollo as Minister of Labor, Dr. Riddell became Deputy Minister of Labor. "I believe that one result of the Congress will be," he stated today, "that Canada, along with the other countries of western civilization, will share the advantages of the 48-hour week."

NEW INDUSTRY HOPES TO LOCATE IN PETERBORO

CANADIAN ALADDIN COMPANY, MANUFACTURERS OF READY CUT HOUSES, WILL SPEND $70,000 ON PLANT—BY-LAW TO RATEPAYERS.

ADJOINING HENRY HOPE CO.

The Canadian Aladdin Company Limited, a branch of the parent company in Bay City, Michigan, will erect a $70,000 plant on part of the property immediately south of the Henry Hope company which the city will give them together with a fixed assessment of $5,000 for ten years, providing the ratepayers express their assent to the proposition which will be presented to them in a sanctioning bylaw at the January elections.

This new industry manufactures ready cut houses. The American company in Bay City employes two hundred men and the local company propose to begin operations with a pay roll of thirty. They have a high financial standing and a very extensive reputation as makers of permanent homes.

By the proposed agreement with the Aladdin company will receive the northern part of the property adjoining the Henry Hope factory. Their frontage will be 334 feet and in depth the property reaches easterly to the G.T.R. Port Hope line. They are given an option of $10,000 on the remaining part of the lot extending to the corner of the Monaghan Road and Lansdowne street. Its frontage is practically the same as the northern half which the Aladdin company will receive. If the company desires to buy only part of the southern half the price will be proportionate to the number of feet frontage required and on the basis of $10,000 for this entire lot. Moreover, the city will reserve a strip with a frontage of 200 feet if the Aladdin Company does not wish to buy the whole southern property This would provide another factory site.

Ready by Sept 1, 1920

The new company must be operating by September 1st 1920. They will need a siding from the C.P.R. main line and ask the Council for its influence in securing this connection with the main line of the C.P.R. The lot occupied by the Aladdin company is directly west of the De Laval company except that it does not extend all the way to Lansdowne street However, as indicated above, it may take advantage of the option that offers them the entire additional property for 10,000.

The Council is delighted at the companys' decision to locate in Peterboro. They had considered the advantages of Pembroke and Peterboro and finally decided to come here. They will use large quantities of lumber in the manufacture of their houses which have a very wide sale in both the United States and Canada. They have occupied a suite of offices in the C.P.R. building Toronto from which they conducted their Canadian business for several years. They are regarded as having a fine future before them in this country and in Mayor Duncan's words last night, every citizen should give their support to the bylaw and make certain that this splendid concern is obtained for Peterboro.

PRESENTATION TO HASTINGS FAMILY

MR. AND MRS. GORDON BEAVIS HONOURED BY NEIGHBORS.

On Friday evening last, November 28, the friends and neighbors of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Beavis and family, of Asphodel, assembled at their home to bid them a sad and reluctant farewell, and to spend a social time. In this they succeeded admirably, and in a very short time all was merriment. Mr. John Fitz-Patrick acted as chairman, and in a few well chosen remarks, spoke of the excellent qualities, possessed, by Mr. and Mrs. G. Beavis who were about to move to Colborne. Other speeches were made by Fred English, Tim Walsh, John Davidson and others, and songs, recitations and music were very much appreciated by the large number of 70 or more friends present, the program closed by singing "He's a Jolly Good Fellow." An excellent supper was provided by the ladies and well served, and all did justice to the good things prepared. The address was composed and read by Mrs. Tim Walsh and the gifts, which consisted of a beautiful necklace set with pearls and amethysts to Mrs. Beavis, a gold locket set with pearls and initials engraved on back to Mr. Beavis, a cute little signet ring with initials to little Miss Margaret, and to the two little boys, Gerald and Eric, beautifull silk poplin neck scarfs. These were presented by Mrs. F. English. Mr. J. Davidson and Master Laurence Doherty, a little school friend. It was the wee-ama hours of the morning when all dispersed, delighted with the very pleasant time, and only sorry that they would not soon have the pleasure of repeating it.

ADDRESS.

Dear Friends—We have gathered here this evening to bid you a sad and reluctant farewell. We cannot permit you to depart from our midst without giving expression to feelings of regret, at this severance of ties that have bound us so intimately together. Since the announcement of your decision to seek another home, expressions of sorrow have been heard on every side, but none have reason to feel your departure, more keenly, than your neighbors, whose privilege it has been to associate with you, your wife and children. To-night, sad echoes around our hearts are stealing, but we cherish the thought that you are not going so far away that we cannot see you at least occasionally, and we hope you will grasp every opportunity of seeing us as often as possible. We ask you to accept these gifts as a token of love and esteem, and we hope they will sometimes serve, to recall pleasant memories of the happy days spent together in Asphodel. In saying good bye, you leave us, with the earnest prayer, that your future will be one of health, happiness and prosperity, and that you may all be spared for many years to come.

Signed on behalf of your many friends:

Tim Walsh
Fred English
John FitzPatrick
John Davidson

Mr. Beavis replied feelingly on behalf of his wife and children, and stated that he would certainly embrace every opportunity of visiting his good friends and neighbors in Asphodel.—Hastings Star.

Why OXO Cubes sell by the Million; as told by people who use them:—

"Being a constant user of OXO Cubes, I send you some recipes. . . . . Now that lent is so near I make many dinners without it with the help of OXO Cubes. Some of my friends also use OXO Cubes and find them very convenient."

"OXO Cubes are too well known to need any recommendation; besides being quickly and easily made, OXO is very refreshing, strengthening and appetising."

"My friends ask me what I feed my little girl on, and I tell them OXO. I am convinced that it is OXO Cubes she gets on so well with."

"We have found OXO Cubes a distinct saving. There was never a time when they could be used more than now, owing the high prices of other foods."

WALTER CLARK, B.A., URGES BETTER TREATMENT FOR TEACHERS—INTERESTING PAPER ON RATIONAL BASIS OF THE TEACHERS' SALARIES.

The following paper on "A Rational Basis of Teachers' Salaries" was read recently before the Hamilton High School Teachers' association by Walter Clarke, B.A.

Much has been written and spoken about the social and financial status of teachers in our state institutions. The discussions, however, as carried on through the press and on convention platforms have been far from exhaustive. We have heard discussions of only phases of the whole problem. No one has yet given us a complete analysis of the teachers' discontent. Nor have many writers, outside of a general cry for union, given us suggestions for a constructive policy. We hope that the following facts will reveal to the public in general, and to school boards in particular, the justice of any claims that teachers have made up to the present time. These facts ought also to convince some, who think that "one increase of salary ought to keep them quiet for all time," that teachers have an investment far beyond that which is generally supposed. The public, local school boards and the government may well expect to hear more from teachers until a fair return is given for so great an investment.

Parting of the Ways.

The year of entrance to high school is the parting of the ways for the sum total of human intelligence in Canada. During this current year, only a small percentage of entrance pupils are applying their intelligence to the further pursuit of scholastic knowledge. A far greater percentage are applying their intelligence to some form of manual or mechanical work. The smaller percentage receive no income; but on the contrary feed, clothe and equip themselves at their own, or their father's expense. They are at work that fully demands more intense and concentrated mental effort. The larger percentage receive apprentice wages and are at work where actions become mechanical by repetition. The day should come in the student's life when he is rewarded for the energy expended in mental effort and particularly for the finanical loss consequent upon his withdrawing from the economic world for a long period of study. By "economic" is meant the world of "wages-for-production." The student is a producer. He is producing ideas. He is producing a highly balanced, highly trained intellect for his own and his country's good. When he has completed the product, through 12 years of concentrated effort, he looks for a job.

Teachers' Financial Standing.

In our papers we find columns where school boards auction off their jobs to the lowest bidder. The financial condition of the teacher, at the end of his long course, places him peculiarly in the hands of such boards. No elaboration of this phase is needed to show its evil effects on the profession.

Teachers should at once take steps to see that all qualified teachers bid high enough to insure a living wage. Only by a union of all qualified teachers can this be done. Boards ask teachers to set the price upon their jobs. The teachers themselves could soon end this auction sale method by letting all boards know the minimum wage to teachers of various qualifications.

Cost of Training.

If the following table is studied, the reader will soon appreciate the cost of training that necessitates secondary, or both secondary and higher education. The term of training is reckoned on the present qualifications demanded by the department of education in Ontario. It matters not whether the cost is met by the student's own money or that of his parents. The point is that a great investment has been made in his intelligence. Any educational vocation which does not repay the initial cost with interest can be placed only in the parasite class.

The following table represents two brothers who apply their intelligence In two different lines one to become a printer, the other to become a high school teacher. The figures, except those of the first two years, are taken from the monthly card and annual circular of the Toronto Typographical union:

	Year	Printer's Wages	Teacher's Loss in Earning Power	Cost to Teacher, by Years	Compounded at 5% Till End of Training
	2	350	350	400	620.53
	3	750	750	800	1181.96

Teacher's additional outlay, books, etc.: First year, $50; second, $50; third, $50; fourth, $75; fifth, 75; sixth, $75; seventh, $200; eighth, $200; ninth, $200; tenth, $200; eleventh, $200. Total, $1375.

The earning power of the student during the last four summers would be, at a very liberal estimate, $200 each summer. This amount compounded annually at 5 per cent. for four years is $662.03. If this is deducted from the total cost, we have left $16,871.69 which represents the teacher's investment in his intelligence.

Counting the Cost.

From the above figures the reader can see that it costs every graduate nearly $17,000 to qualify for a high school teacher. During this same period his printer brother has received in wages over $13,000.

In January, 1919, the highest initial salary paid to any graduate was $1400. This is just $264 less than his printer brother receives on union scale. This means that boards of education pay teachers less than the mechanic receives, who drew wages throughout his apprenticeship. The printer works five years for wages and then draws $1664. The teacher works 11 years for nothing, even pays for the privilege of working, then draws at the most, $1400. Boards do not pay teachers even the cost of production, not to mention interest on the investment.

Not of Brick or Mortar.

What is it that constitutes a collegiate institute? Is it the fine building? The answer is obvious. Schools do no consist of brick and mortar. They are the living, highly trained intelligence of human beings, dedicated to the directing and molding of the plastic minds of Canada's rising generation.

For too long, boards have regarded teachers as paid servants instead of as partners in a great concern. Every teacher on every staff has more money invested in that school than members of the board which employs him. The cash investment in many a school building does not equal the investment made by the teachers. A collegiate of 26 teachers enjoys the benefit of $461,000, invested in the intelligence of its staff, for which it pays nothing.

A rational basis of reckoning salaries must be adopted. The fact that the salaries of equally qualified teachers with the degree of B.A., range from $650 to $3500 shows that the present system has not even the semblance of a rational basis. A rational calculation must be made from three factors, viz.: A fair interest on one's investment, an annual return of part of his investment, all of which should be back in his possession inside of 30 years; wages for services equal to, or beyond that of the best skilled workman. The minimum salary for qualified graduates should be: Annual return of interest and principal $1100

Initial salary for all graduates..$3100

If any individual presented a school board with a $17,000 building, no praise would be too great. Yet every day the teacher is giving to his board the benefit of a mind which costs $17,733.71 to produce. All he receives in return is wages for directing that mind. He receives nothing for the mind itself.

Printer and Teacher.

The printer, for running a machine which his employer provides, receives more wages than a teacher for directing a mind that he himself provides at a cost of $17,000.

SICK HEADACHES CONSTIPATION

If you have suffered from constipation for years, tried doctors and all the remedies you ever heard or read of, without getting relief, if you have been subject to all the miseries associated with constipation, such as sick and bilious headaches, biliousness, specks floating before the eye, water brash, heartburn, jaundice and the painful, troublesome, internal, bleeding or protruding piles, etc., wouldn't you consider it a blessing to be able to keep the bowels in a good healthy condition and prevent disease getting a foothold on your system.

Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills are indicated just for this purpose; their regular use relieving the worst cases of constipation.

Mrs. Malcolm McDermid, Cranton Station, N.S., writes:—"I have been sick for a number of years with sick headaches and constipation. I tried all kinds of doctor's medicine, but none did me any good. I tried Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills, and after using four vials I am completely cured and would heartily recommend them to all sufferers."

Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills are 25c. vial at all dealers or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

IF HAIR IS TURNING GRAY, USE SAGE TEA

Here's Grandmother's Recipe to Darken and Beautify Faded Hair.

That beautiful, even shade of dark, glossy hair can only be had by brewing a mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur. Your hair is your charm. It makes or mars the face. When it fades, turns gray or streaked, just an application or two of Sage and Sulphur enhances its appearance a hundredfold.

Don't bother to prepare the mixture; you can get this famous old recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients at a small cost, all ready for use. It is called Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound. This can always be depended upon to bring back the natural colour and lustre of your hair.

Everybody uses "Wyeth's" Sage and Sulphur Compound now because it darkens so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied. You simply dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through the hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair has disappeared, and after another application it becomes beautifully

MESSAGE FROM PRESIDENT WILSON

TAKES RESPONSIBILITY FOR SETTLEMENT OF MEXICAN DISPUTE.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 8.— President Wilson would be gravely concerned to see any such resolution pass Congress, he wrote Senator Fall today in referring to the Fall resolution requesting the President to sever diplomatic relations with the Carranza government.

"It would constitute a reversal of our Constitutional practice, which might lead to very grave confusion in regard to guidance of our foreign affairs," he wrote. The President expresed confidence that he had the support of every competent Constitutional authority in the statement that the direction of the government's foreign affairs was assigned by Constitution to the Chief Executive and to him alone.

ALCOHOL AS A BY-PRODUCT OF BREAD

Through the seizure of a still in a bakery in Mexico, where a quantity of alcohol was discovered that had been distilled from bake-oven fumes, considerable discussion has taken place concerning the feasibility of manufacturing alcohol as a by-product of bread.

This "still" was a crudely constructed affair, the vapor from the bread being conducted from the oven into a "worm" which was cooled by passing through a barrel of water, condensing the vapor. The baker was not arrested, as it was clearly shown that no evasion of the law was intended. However, possession of a "still" is in violation of the law, and this one was seized by the United States Internal Revenue Service.

The baker stated that quantities of alcohol could be manufactured for war use at a very small cost by army bakeshops and bakers in large cities. The practicability of the plan remains to be worked out.

EVIDENCE AT THE WINNIPEG TRIAL

(Canadian Press.)

WINNIPEG, Dec. 8.— Giving evidence at the trial of R. B. Russell, one of the eight strike leaders charged with seditious conspiracy, Mayor Gray said this morning that Messrs. Winning, Russell and Veitch took a leading part in representing the Strike committee during the strike. Members of the Strike committee, said the Mayor, attended nearly every Council meeting, but he saw more of them in his office than in the Council chamber. He said Russell was strongly in evidence most of the time.

A document and agreement between policemen and the city was put in as an exhibit. The strikers referred to this as a "slave pact," he said. A. J. Andrews, K.C., read the agreement to the jury. It contained clauses stating that members of the police force would join no union and would not take part in favour or support of a general strike. At meetings of strikers, he said, remarks were made regarding this alleged pact, asking that none of the men sign it and stating that the strikers would do their best to prevent any one signing such an agreement. On May 1 the new agreement reached between the Adjustment Board of Police and Police Commission was presented. It was modified to allow the police force to form a union among themselves, without outside affiliation. The police refused to sign it and on June 9 the Police Commission dismised the force.

ACID TRAP FOR CHILDREN COSTS WOMAN A YEAR.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa.—After being denounced for her cruelty in spreading a corrosive acid on her doorsteps for the purpose of injuring children of the neighbourhood, Annie Letlum was sentenced to a term of one year in the County Prison by Judge McNichol in the Municipal Court.

The woman was convicted on seven charges of technical assault and battery. Last June she spread the acid on the doorsteps when playful children annoyed her. Seven children were burned by the chemical, but none of them seriously. The acid was so strong that it burned a hole in the floor of one of the children's homes, where it had been tracked on a boy's shoes.

ABOUT 170 years ago tea sold in England for $14.60 a pound. It was a luxury which only the wealthy could afford.

Thanks largely to the great increase in the area of tea plants under cultivation in India during the past fifty years, there is enough tea grown to-day to supply tea to the world at a price even the poorest can afford.

A cup of "good" tea—Red Rose Tea—costs only a fraction of a cent. There is hardly anything sold in the grocery store that gives more value or more pleasure for the money.

Consisting chiefly of ASSAM teas—the richest and strongest of Indian teas—Red Rose is exceedingly fragrant, flavory and economical. It is a tea of real quality and real value.

Sold only in sealed packages.

"Peterborough Presents Possibilities Unsurpassed."

TUESDAY, DECEMBER 9TH, 1919.

A CANDID ADMISSION.

"Everybody knows that this is a time of extortion. Get it while the getting's good, seems to be everybody's motto." Widespread attention has been attracted by these words of Ernest J. Stevens, manager of one of the biggest hotels in Chicago, the Hotel La Salle, who used them in announcing a considerable reduction in his prices both for food and for rooms. There is perhaps nothing new in the statement but Mr. Stevens gains fame by being the first to publicly acknowledge what many people have been thinking. His candour is as refreshing as his action in bringing down prices. "We are cutting prices" he says, "because we want to be fair to the public. The time to cut prices is when business is at its best. The hotels are the barometer of business. If the hotels start cutting prices, other businesses will follow." Mr. Stevens may or may not be a prophet; his example may or may not be followed, but he at least deserves credit both for what he has done and what he has said. Both are unusual—to say the least.

SIR ROBERT'S TROUBLE.

There has been a great deal of discussion, newspaper and otherwise over the task of Premier E. C. Drury in selecting his Ontario Cabinet; but the struggles of another Premier, Sir Robert Borden to build up his battered Federal Cabinet have for the most part been ignored by the press. And yet it looks as if the Ontario Prime Minister has the easier task of the two. Sir Robert finds himself called upon to choose three or four ministers. It is said that Sir George Foster, Hon. Martin Burrell, Hon. A. L. Sifton and probably General Newburn, Minister of Militia are all stated to retire in the near future and successors will have to be found for them. In the ordinary course of events this task will not present any great difficulties, but the Premier is facing the unpleasant situation of endeavoring to find safe seats for the men he has in mind. And there are easier things by far than locating safe seats in these days for any candidate wearing the Government colours. In fact there is no riding not even in Toronto that could be relied upon to return a Unionist minister.

NEW INDUSTDIES.

The announcement of the closing of an agreement with another industry concern which has decided to locate in Peterboro will be welcome news to the citizens generally and the acquisition of this company rounds out a year that has been all things, considered a successful one. Altogether Peterboro has landed five new industries during the year, and all of them give promise of a speedy development. Such concerns as the Nashua Gum and Coated Paper Company and the Westclox Company which are branches of well-known American Companies should grow into big industries that will be a credit to Peterboro.

The ratepayers will have a chance in January to say whether or not they want the new concern the Canadian Aladdin Company, which is asking the city for a free site and fixed assessment. The company is connected with a well-known Bay City firm and has a bright future before it. The Canadian Aladdin Company promises to be a valuable addition to Peterboro's list of industries.

A CHANGE OF FRONT.

The Council's sudden change of front on the Housing Scheme last night while surprising, coming so quickly after the previous rejection of the plan is none the less welcome. It had begun to look as if the aldermanic failure to recognize the possibilities of the Housing Scheme was going to place Peterboro in the same position as regards the Government's Housing plan as the County Council had left the County of Peterboro in connection with the Good Roads' proposition. The Housing Scheme has passed the experimental stage. Scores of municipalities having during the past summer availed themselves of the chance to erect badly-needed houses in this way and the fact that the majority intend to apply to the Legislature for further loans is evidence that the plan is succeeding. Peterboro has fallen behind in this respect and it is pleasing to hear that the Council has at last awakened to the situation and has appointed a Housing Commission. Let us hope that the action does not come too late. There are fears in some quarters that the new Government is lukewarm at least in its attitude to the Housing Act bequeathed it by the Hearst Administration and considerable speculation is being done as to what will become of the measure when the Legislature meets.

THE CHRISTMAS TREAT.

The Ladies' Auxiliary of the Great War Veterans' Association, always to the fore when public service is to be done, have this year relieved the Veterans of the duty of holding the Christmas treat for the children of Peterboro's soldiers and the arrangements are now in the hands of the Auxiliary which is a guarantee that nothing will be lacking that will add to the enjoyment of the occasion. The co-operation and assistance of the public is necessary however to assure the success of this event and donations are requested from those who are in a position to help. In many of the families there will be little money available this year for holiday gifts or fare, and the annual Christmas treat will do much to make the Yule Tide happy for youngsters who would otherwise have a cheerless drab Christmas. Already a number of generous subscriptions have been received which will be of great help to the Ladies' Auxiliary but the total is not large enough to adequately carry out the plans that this organization has in view. Those who wish to assist are asked to send their donations to the newspaper offices or to Mrs. Mills, the president of the Ladies' Auxiliary.

BITTER ELECTION IN AUSTRALIA.

The Australian elections take place on December 13. The contest is between the Nationalists (supporters of the present National Government headed by Mr. Hughes) on the one side and the Labor party, under seemingly joint leadership of Messrs. Ryan and Tudor, on the other. The campaign is being waged with extreme bitterness, and the result is greatly in doubt. A big factor in the situation is that returned soldiers' organizations have a great extent allied themselves with the Labor party and have been especially bitter in their denunciations of Mr. Hughes.

One of the grievances of the returned men is that the gratuities voted them by the Government have been paid in bonds instead of in cash. An illustration of the bitterness of their attitude upon this question is found in the following Sydney cable to the London Times:

A month ago Mr. Hughes was received in Sydney by thousands of soldiers like a demigod.

Last night, while he was speaking on his policy, at the Town Hall, a large crowd of soldiers gathered in Martin Place and demanded that their special grant should be paid in cash and not bonds. They clamored for Mr. Hughes' presence, and, as he did not appear, over 500 men marched to the Town Hall and attempted to break into the building. Having failed, they awaited his return to his hotel, which they besieged. They stove in the front door and rushed into the vestibule, shouting "drag him out." The police arrived and were assailed with bottles and stones, but they dispersed the rioters.

Another powerful factor in the contest is the Irish-Australian vote. This vote, which is estimated to be about 23 per cent. of the entire electorate, is said to have been welded into a practically solid block against Mr. Hughes by leaders like Archbishop Mannix, a very able and powerful prelate, and Fr. Ryan, ex-Premier of Queensland, a vigorous and clever politician, who has frankly introduced the Irish question into the platform of the Labor party. Reports from Melbourne show that the recent gathering from all parts of the continent of 4,000 delegates to an "Irish Race Convention," was as much concerned with the election in Australia as with self-determination for Ireland. The convention was presided over by Mr. Ryan, who it is said, is certain to become, in due course of time, the Prime Minister of the Commonwealth; and it was followed by the announcement of the Labor Party programme which according to cabled advices, had a strong "cut the painter" trend.

It is interesting to note that among other radical demands this platform called for extreme taxation of war fortunes, unearned incomes, monopolies, and large estates. It further suggested a referendum to amend the constitution by the abolition of the Senate and to give Australia the fullest powers of self-determination.

The result of an election fought under such circumstances and upon such issues will be awaited with the keenest interest by the whole Empire.—Ottawa Journal.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

The Citizens' Liberty League have so far failed to nominate a candidate for the mayoralty.

Under an elected Police Commission, according to its promoters the Council have no more control over the expenditures of the department than they have at present. From the view-point of the expense of operation, therefore, there is nothing to be gained by the change.

If Controller McBride enters the Toronto Mayoralty race the campaign will not lack vigorous language.

No Premier in Ontario has ever commenced operations with so much advice accompanying his advent as the Hon. E. C. Drury. If he carries out one-tenth of the suggestions he has received he will begin to think that he should have increased his salary instead of cutting it down.

The 55,000 Detroit workers who have been thrown out of employment as a result of the fuel shortage are not likely to be enthusiastic supporters of the miners' strike.

FRENCH ARMY AIRPLANES TO HAVE SILENT ENGINES

Like all healthy youngsters, the airplane is a noisy affair. Propeller and engine unite to produce a roar that always makes conversation difficult, and, in time of war, supplies to a keen-eared enemy a sure warning of impending danger. Designers are seeking to mitigate the evil, and so far, though unable to deaden the "whir" of the propeller, have produced numerous featherweight mufflers to silence the engine exhaust. The attachment has passed the experimental stage, as the French army has adopted a standard mechanism for war airplanes.—Popular Mechanics.

LORD'S PRAYER ON A SHILLING.

It is recorded that Thackeray was one of the neatest of writers and boasted that he could write the Lord's Prayer on a shilling.

Keats wrote like a clerk, and Gray, Tom Moore, Leigh Hunt and Sir Walter Scott all used running hands which were legible without any naked characteristics. The same may be said of the writings of Anthony Trollope and Professor Tyndall; none, perhaps, of these writers being much given to subtlety of expression. Carlyle, on the other hand, is said to have produced the most untidy and awful scribble that ever puzzled a compositor, and Victor Hugo, Browning and Tennyson were nearly as bad.

Then there is the memory of Napoleon, who wrote a hand that he could not read himself, and Macready, the actor, whose order for the theatre was one taken for a prescription for a cough mixture.

BOSS PROMISES PAY RAISE BUT STOPS BENEFITS

NOW EMPLOYEES ARE WONDERING WHETHER THEY DID THE RIGHT THING.

(By Herbert Corey)

NEW YORK.—Yodd McIntyre says that Copeland Townsend, proprietor of the Hotel Majestic, recently decreed that a bulletin board be placed in the lobby for the information of persons interested in the hotel's activities. One morning Mr. Copeland noted a group of men wearing badges standing near the desk. He called to the Swedish porter who was scrubbing the floor.

"Ole," said he, "who are those men?"

Ole hustled over to the bulletin board on which he read this legend:

"Luncheon of the Society of Gynecologists, Obstetricians and Anaesthetists."

The Swede returned to Mr. Copeland. "Yoost dam foreigners," said Ole.

Problem for Employes.

An uptown employer has discovered a new angle to the labor situation. A few weeks ago he increased the salaries of his office people 20 per cent.

"I think that is enough," said he, "for you know we take good care of you. If you are ill we keep you on the payroll until you are fit to go back to work." Only recently in fact, one clerk was parked for six months in an Atlantis City hotel until her nerves quit twittering. Others have been equally well treated. It has been understood that faithful employes are certain of their jobs as long as they live, whether they are able to work or not.

Two weeks ago the employes asked for 20 per cent. more. They wanted the market value of their services they said. Other clerks in similar offices are getting more money than they are. The boss thought it over and decided that they are right:

"I've been paternalistic and fatheaded," said he. "I'm a century out of tune. From now on I shall pay you just what your services are worth in the open market—but we'll cut out the sentiment. I reserve the right to fire any one of you at any minute of a day. If you get sick you'll pay your own bills. If you can't work you can quit. Business as you have remarked is business."

The employes are thinking it over. The boss thinks they will go on strike.

Workers Fooled the Boss.

Four times during the rush season the owner of one of the big dressmaking establishments had trouble with his employes. Not much trouble. Once there was a difference of opinion as to wages, and once they asked for more light and once they refused to work Saturdays and once objected to a foreLady.

"Each time," said the owner they just stood up and walked out on me. Didn't say a word. We didn't even discuss the matter in question. No one so much as replied to me. They just got up and beat it and I had the dickens of a time getting them to come back."

It rather peeved him. Each time he thought that he had a good case, but the employes did not listen to it. They forced him to obey their orders on pain of striking. So when the rush of work slackened he thought he would get even.

"You have refused to work at all on Saturdays," said he. "Hereafter you must work the full half day."

He thought that would anger them and they would walk out and that for a few days or weeks he could continue negotiations. By that time business would have picked up again and he could afford to yield to their wishes. It would have been a layoff, plus a little personal satisfaction.

"But they didn't walk out," said he. "They said: 'Sure Boss.'"

Wilde's Opinion of Beckett.

Jimmy Wilde, the English flyweight, who is over here in the footsteps of other European visitors and for the same purpose, does not think much of Beckett, the British heavy. "E's a good man," Mr. Wilde is quoted as saying, "when the other man isn't as good as 'e is."

On his way to America he encountered a storm at sea.

"All I could do," he said plaintively, "was to wonder what detained death."

Movies and Real Life.

In the matter of the topic that engrosses the attention of a very large share of the population of New York, some one dug up the other day the following quotation from Sir John Hallam's "Jottings of an old Solicitor."

"Lord Bramwell strongly protested against the extreme temperance views and used to say there were two kinds of intemperance: also that he protested against beer being called an intoxicating beverage—that water might as well be called a drowning beverage."

Definition of Intoxication.

Mislikers of the movies hold that the pictures present an exaggerated and sensational view of life. Yet I saw a bicycle policeman the other day who might have gone on in a comedy without change of make-up. A husband walked into an uptown restaurant, checked his hat and coat, walked to a table, slapped his wife, pulled her escort's nose, got his hat and coat and walked out again. Policemen chased burglars over roofs. Thieves entered a manufacturing loft by hand-over-handing down a rope from the seventeenth to the fourteenth storey windows. Mike Gilhooley, the kid stow-away, was adopted at Ellis Island by a well-to-do woman and invested in scenery that would appal little Lord Fauntleroy. Thieves robbed an old woman and then deliberately strangled her, after tying her hand and foot.

A flathouse robber preys on Russian women of the lower east side after his advance agent has discovered the women that have money. The advance agent poses as the agent of a charitable society. Two men tap at the door of a house in which a murder has just been committed, to ask for a drink of water. The presumed murderer himself comes to the door and turns them away. Brooklyn is upset by the case of Sophie Loderhouse and her "phantom lover." A rich woman submits to blackmail to save her son—who isn't guilty at all, but has acted suspiciously in the effort to save his father —who isn't guilty either.

Trouble with the movies is that they are too conservative and restrained.

Too Busy to Trap Radicals.

Isn't it barely possible that we Americans are primarily to blame for the Bolshevist yawping? On a train arriving in New York from Pittsburgh a young foreigner raved against the Government of the United States.

"A people of fools ruled by thieves," was the least he said.

"If you open your head again on the road to New York I'll knock it off," said an American.

The young foreigner did not speak again. But—the matter was permitted to drop. His utterances were of a character that justified an official inquiry into his character and antecedents, but not an American would stir about it.

"We're too busy," was the excuse of every man in the case, "Let him alone."

PEOPLE OF SIBERIA NOW DEMAND TRADE CHECKS.

Prince trade checks [illegible] and wooden [illegible] have begun by replacing the national currency in Siberia. The rouble—in any form outside the metal disc is too unstable [illegible] for any value, and the workman who finds himself with pockets full of "Omsk" or "Kerensky" currency need hold no fear of being considered a plutocrat. For the ruble, up to a few months ago worth half a dollar in exchange, has diminished to somewhat less than four cents face value.

True the green paper variety labeled "Kerensky" commands a higher premium than do the yellow-backed bills of Omsk; true again, the tender of the former is worth more than either of the two aforementioned. But for all practical purposes the people of Vladivostok receive and demand—quite as a matter of course—the quaint slips issued by their tradesmen. Enterprise on the part of the merchants, it may be observed, keeps pace with the times; for example, one Vladivostok restauranter has had his checks made to read: "American Grill. Two Rubles. Not Good for Ever."

Pity Poor Haroun al Raschid

WHEN Haroun al Raschid of Arabian nights fame wanted to get closer to the people he slipped on an old linen duster and, accompanied by Jacafar, his companion, rambled at night through the streets of old Bagdad listening to many strange and beautiful tales.

Haroun was a lover of the arts—music, painting, poetry and literature. But most of all he loved a good story. He would travel any distance to hear one.

You can afford to pity the old caliph. There was no Cosmopolitan Magazine in his day.

He couldn't stop at the newsstand on the corner and take his adventures home with him. He was obliged to go out and seek them in all kinds of weather.

It is your twentieth century privilege to pay a quarter (you can do that today) and take away with you the best work of the greatest writers and the greatest artists in all the world in the best magazine that it is possible to produce. For that's what you do when you buy November Cosmopolitan, which is now on sale.

WE doubt whether Haroun, in all his wanderings, ever encountered a finer story of friendship between father and son than Peter B. Kyne tells in "Kindred of the Dust," his newest novel, now appearing in Cosmopolitan.

Fannie Hurst, who writes uncommon stories about common people, never told a better story than "Back Pay" in November Cosmopolitan. It isn't a pleasant story—and it isn't a sermon. When you read it you'll know why Miss Hurst wrote it and why no one else could have written it. There is something of Henry Fielding's frankness about it.

And how Haroun would have loved to have heard Harvey O'Higgins tell about "The Secret Springs"—the source of every human motive and action—the force that simply makes us do the things at which we and our neighbors marvel.

Kansas, far removed from Bagdad, sent us Dana Gatlin. We can imagine old Haroun sitting wide-eyed and wondering before Miss Gatlin while she tells him the story of the sweet young woman who married a man who simply couldn't be true to her no matter how hard he tried. Yes, the caliph would have enjoyed "Why Do They Marry?"

DO you know what a flange is? Well, it's the raised edge of a car-wheel and it keeps the wheel on the track. Rupert Hughes, in "The Broken Flange," tells about a girl who wanted to be a flange, but who, at the critical moment—but read the story in November Cosmopolitan!

Compare Haroun al Raschid with Rex Beach. Both would go a long distance for a story, and in November Cosmopolitan Rex went to Mexico. Just imagine fishing in the Gulf of Mexico with Rex, where as he says in 'Messing Around in Mexico," the fish are so hungry that you have to stand behind a tree to bait your hook.

Yes, you can afford to pity poor old Haroun.

For you can, tonight, sit in your easy-chair, under your library lamp, and enjoy novels, stories and adventures that Haroun never even dreamed about.

Meredith Nicholson, John A. Moroso, Jack Boyle, Gouverneur Morris, Arthur Somers Roche, Robert W. Chambers, and James Oliver Curwood are a few other world-famous writers whose tales of moving adventure will vibrate in you the chords of laughter and of human sympathy.

HOME-MADE BREAD

Home bread-making reduces the high cost of living by lessening the amount of expensive meats required to supply the necessary nourishment to the body. The increased nutritious value of bread made in the home with should be sufficient incentive to the thoughtful housewife to give this important food item the attention to which it is justly entitled. Bread made with Royal Yeast will keep fresh and moist longer than that made with any other.

CUPBOARD FROM WOODEN BOX

Useful Little Receptacle That Will Not Cost Much to Make and is Extremely Handy.

A handy little cupboard can be easily made with any well-made wooden box of a suitable size and shape. The lid of the box forms the door of the cupboard, and to enable it to be opened and closed easily, a little brass handle of the nature shown in sketch B should be screwed on in front, and it may be purchased at any hardware store for a trifle.

The exterior of the cupboard sketched is covered with a pretty striped cretonne, and this can be easily done by turning the material over at the edges and fastening it on, just inside, at the back and underneath the box with tacks. The interior is lined with pieces of brown paper, cut to fit and pasted in place.

In these days a small hanging cupboard of any kind costs a good deal to buy, and the article illustrated can be prepared at home at a very slight cost, and covering the wood with cretonne will be found quite easy.

WORLD'S GREATEST HERD OF ELK

The greatest herd of elk in the world and one of the last two herds known to be in existence on the continent is to be found in the Riding Mountain Reserve. A letter from a Minnedosa man to Hon. George Grierson the other day, says the Winnipeg Free Press, stated that four very competent men, by visiting all the feed grounds in one day, had estimated the total strength of the herd at between 5,000 and 6,000 head.

The elk are strictly preserved under the game laws of Manitoba and their feeding grounds are within the proscribed areas in which no guns may be carried by other than a game guardian or other officer of the crown.

Danger From Cattle.

The Riding Mountain and other forest reserves are still under Dominion control and naturalists and others complain of the present system of the Dominion government which permits grazing leases in the reserves to settlers in the vicinity. This, it is pointed out has led to the destruction of the feed of the herds of wild animals in the very shelters provided by the province for them in order to prevent extinction. When the provinces have control of their natural resources it will be easy to protect the last great herd of game animals which are vanishing from sight owning to present methods.

The government's correspondent in question has seen 500 to 1,000 elk in a single bunch, and a suggestion has been made by the government to the honorary game commissioners, Mr. J. C. Wemyss, and Mr. S. E. Richards, that they shall go up this winter and see the animals, which can be approached to within 30 or 40 yards by a competent guide.

Magnificent Head.

N. C. Collier, of Minnedosa, reports that he recently saw what is believed to be the world's record in elk heads. He estimated the spread of the main antlers at 80 inches and the prongs would probably be much better.

There are also lots of moose, but as these animals are not so gregarious they are harder to estimate.

The chief difficulty, according to local naturalists, apart from the encroachment on the feeding grounds by the cattle of settlers is that some of the foreign born settlers and homesteaders kill the animals, when they get a chance, for meat. Under the new department being formed, which will take charge of the various police officers of the province and will include the administration of the game laws, attempts will be made to tighten up the protection of the animals, and the severest penalties of the law will be inflicted on all violators. Unless this is done it is said that the elk and the moose will soon be as extinct as the buffalo in Manitoba.

SECRETS OF THE UNDERTAKER

LONDON, Eng.—The Public Health Committee for Southwark report that a letter has been received from the L. C. C. to the effect that complaint had been made by one of the Metropolitan boroughs of the practice of certain undertakers keeping bodies at their premises for a considerable time before interment.

"It appears," says the report, "that the question has arisen primarily with a view to observance of decency in connection with the interment of bodies of children, which, it would seem, are retained by undertakers on payment of a small fee until an opportunity presents itself for disposal by insertion in the coffin with an adult or by other means."

GREAT EIFFEL TOWER IS MUTE WAR HERO

Paris Landmark Wears Civilian Paint Once More.

PARIS.—The demobilization of the French soldiers will be completed at the end of this month and one of the greatest heroes of the war, the Eiffel tower, had almost been forgotten. But matters in that respect have been righted and the tower now wears civilian paint.

It has no war cross or medal yet its records remain to show its faithful service to the Allied cause. For more than 50 months it sent out France's hopes and fears; it was a useful propagandist for neutral countries and it sent out cheery words to the people of the invaded districts where clandestine apparatus was known to exist.

The Eiffel tower's log records how it picked up messages sent from German bases to murderous submarines which never returned to their bases, and afterwards messages sent from aerial stations to airplanes and Zeppelins while on their missions of death. It communicated with every part of the world, more especially with the thirty wireless stations along the front.

The tower won its service stripes in battle and to-day stands as modestly as ever on the left bank of the Seine, where people point to it as the ear witness of the world's biggest conflict.

HATS MAY BE MADE AT HOME

A continued vogue for the narrow back hat is promised for the coming season and although the shops are showing advance fall and winter models in pokes shape or pleated narrow back sailors.

Manufacturing milliners made a rather earnest effort some months ago to discourage the midsummer wearing of velvet hats, but the shops seemed to demand them and these heavy, warm looking hats somehow got in their appearance pretty early, as usual, although not in quite as generous numbers as heretofore.

Among the new materials being strongly featured for autumn hats, a very soft, velvety finished wool material probably leads and scans decidedly chic sports hats are made of suede. Brocaded and plain velvets enter into the development of hats for autumn and winter. These fabrics are often handsomely embroidered in chenille or heavy wool, this embroidery being the only trimming employed.

Certainly this is the day when the home milliner is encouraged to try her hand, and there is no reason why she should not have splendid results.

FLIMSY STOCKINGS OR NONE?

Opinion of French Leaders of Fashion Seems to Be Divided on the Subject.

There is at present waging a very interesting controversy in the minds of those who deal in footwear for American women. It is all about the new fashion in Paris of wearing light slippers, which sometimes are no more than beaded sandals—with or without stockings.

In Paris these slippers are quite the expected thing. Everybody wears them. That is, everybody wears a slipper that is laced over the instep and about the ankle. Some of the French women, of course, wear sandals, and most of them wear stockings. It is perfectly true that stockings are sometimes dispensed with and very elaborately beaded anklets are fastened to wear with bare feet. But for the most part stockings are worn, albeit they are of the flimsiest texture and are often flesh-colored, so that their presence is not noticeable. They are then but a slight barrier interposed between the world and the bare, bare skin.

All sorts of things are done to keep these new, flimsy stockings from shrinking.

WOMAN ROAD MENDERS

LONDON, Eng.—Four women, wearing blue overalls and caps and heavy boots, [illegible] Davies spread Oxford [illegible] recently. One was in charge of the sprayer which poured the hot tar on to the roadway, and another spread it evenly over the surface with a squeegee. The other two were busy with brooms, sweeping the small flints over the tar.

They were all thickly coated in tar, but that did not seem to worry them; they were working quickly and efficiently. "They do the work as well as any man," said the foreman in charge of the job. They are employes of Westminster City Council.

Get Rid of The Cough That Sticks

Some coughs seem hard to shake off—stick right to you in spite of all you do to get rid of them.

Those are the kind of coughs that are dangerous—that weaken the lungs so that the germs of consumption find ready foothold.

We know of no remedy that will cure stubborn coughs—coughs that won't let go—like Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup.

It allays the inflammation, soothes the irritation, and heals the diseased mucous lining of the lungs and bronchial tubes.

Mrs. Leo. Allen, Petit de Grat Bridge, N.S., writes:—"Last winter I had an awful cough that kept me in the house for over two months. I tried several cough remedies, but got no relief. I was almost discouraged when a grocer here offered me a bottle of Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup. After taking that one my coughing began to cease. I took two more and they cured me completely."

Get the genuine Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup; put up in a yellow wrapper; 3 pine trees the trade mark; price 25c. and 50c.; manufactured only by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

FRUIT DRIED IN MACHINE RETAINS FORM AND FLAVOUR

In the fruit-growing district of Washington State, an inventor familiar with the great waste of unmarketable fruit and vegetables has evolved a dehydratin gmachine which promises to conserve at least a portion of this valuable food product.

The machine is large, intended for factory operation, and performs its functions automatically. It first slices or cubes the fruit, and then spreads it on slightly inclined trays, arranged one above the other, in a wood housing.

Independent steam control for each tray permits adjustment for different varieties. The rising of the heated air is declared to produce a vacuum effect, which extracts the moisture in a short time, without affecting the cell structure.

The product, when cooked, regains its original form and flavour, as the dehydrating process removes from it nothing but water, which the cooking process replaces.

BAN SALE OF PAWN TICKETS

PARIS.—Trading in pawn tickets has been made illegal in France. This action was taken in the interests of the poor, who were frequently exploited to the extent of 50 or 60 per cent. by traffikers in pledges. The interest charged by Paris municipal pawnshops has been reduced from 10 to 8 per cent, and further reductions are promised.

$325,000 JEWEL LOSS AT SEA

LONDON, Eng.—Scotland Yard detectives are hoping that a solution may soon be provided of the mysterious disappearance of $325,000 worth of jewels which were lost at sea between Tilbury and Colombo.

The jewels were dispatched by Messrs. Kino Brothers, of Morley House, Holborn Viaduct, to a member of the firm in Colombo. They included some unusually fine stones intended for the Eastern markets. On the voyage they disappeared and so far the mystery has baffled all attempts at elucidation.

"You Are Under Weight, My Boy"

"YES, sir."

"Do you know what that means?"

"No, sir."

"It means that your body is not properly nourished. You are not getting the right food, or else not obtaining full benefit of the food you eat! Are you easily tired?"

"Yes, sir."

"How are you getting along at school?"

"Not very well."

"Now, I am going to send a report to your parents, so that they may know your condition, and I want you to do what I tell you, so as to regain your normal weight."

"All right, sir."

"You can never expect to get far in athletics, or school either, so long as your blood is thin for lack of proper nourishment and your nerves starved and exhausted."

"We shall go a little easy on exercise, and I have asked your parents to see that you eat plenty of plain, nourishing food. I [illegible] use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, so as to enrich the blood and tone up your nervous system."

"Is that a medicine?"

"Yes, I suppose you might call it that, but it is entirely different to most medicines, because it builds up tissue instead of tearing it down. It is what is called a restorative. It sharpens the appetite, improves digestion and helps you to obtain full benefit of the food you eat. We are not much on medicines around here, but Chase's Nerve Food has helped so many under-weight boys whom I know that I never lose an opportunity to recommend it."

"I hope it helps me, for I would like to be able to do 'stunts' like the other fellows, and I don't seem to have the strength now."

"You are ready to do your part then? That is what I want to know."

"Yes, sir, I am."

"We will weigh you every week, and I am sure we shall soon have you all right."

RATEPAYERS TO VOTE ON RIVERSIDE PARK PROJECT

OPTIONS OBTAINED BY SPECIAL COMMITTEE TOTAL $32,750—COUNCIL FAVOURS THIS SCHEME TO GAIN POSSESSION OF A SPLENDID SITE FOR PUBLIC RECREATION.

SPECIAL CONSIDERATION

The proposal to buy the Riverside Park and adjoining properties as a public park and athletic grounds for the citizens for the sum of $33,000 will be submitted to the ratepayers in a by-law at the January elections. All the preliminary details of the project were concluded by the Council at a special session last night. Options have been obtained on the Rapid Tool Company's property, the parcels of the Bettes estate owned by J. H. Bettes and James Ellis, and the Riverside Park for a total sum of $32,750. These options expire in January.

The Council was unanimously in favour of acquiring this site, south of the Hunter street bridge on the east side of the river, as a community asset out only for present uses but especially for the greater Peterboro of tomorrow. The lands are virtually in the centre of the city and possess all the natural advantages for public recreation under ideal conditions. To the south nearby are several islands that could be eventually linked together and joined to the mainland by artistic bridges providing a beauty spot which Ald. Edgar declared would not be surpassed in Ontario.

Parks Have Been Gifts.

An argument emphasized in the deliberations on this scheme was the fact that Peterboro has spent practically nothing on public parks. In this respect it has been abundantly supplied by the thoughtfulness and generosity of the late Mrs. Charlotte Nicholls. It is contended therefore that in providing for the future the present opportunity, and the prospective claims for land damages by the owners of the lots that front on Hunter street, should not be overlooked.

In presenting the introductory by-law Ald. Edgar, chairman of the special committee of which Aldermen Gainey and Hamilton and Mayor Duncan have been members, urged that the ratepayers be permitted to declare now whether they desire to secure possession of this splendidly potential site. If it be their wish to purchase it, the money would be raised by issuing debentures for the required amount, and the damage claims instead of becoming a debit entry against the new bridge would practically be converted into an asset in their share of the cost of the properties under consideration. And above that, a beautiful park would be opened in the south end of Ashburnham for the enjoyment of its residents, as also for the entire city.

The Lowest Options.

Ald. Edgar reported that the special committee composed of himself, Ald. Hamilton and Ald. Gainey had simply carried out the instructions of the Council.

Mr. D. J. Lundy's first price was $7,500 but under subsequent urging he reduced it to $6,250.

Mr. Bettes has offered to sell his property for $10,000 but the Council had offered $14,000 for his property together with that owned by his son-in-law, Mr. James Ellis.

"We tried to induce Mr. Ellis to accept that amount but he would not agree" said Ald. Edgar. "The best we could get was an option of $7,500 on the property owned by Mr. Bettes. Mr. Ellis asked $10,000 for his lot and buildings, but we succeeded in persuading him to decrease his price to $8,000.

For Riverside Park $11,000 is the price set by the owners Dr. Wightman and Mr. J. J. Howden who stipulate that the park must be maintained for athletic purposes for fifteen years. They have always been interested in public sports and games and desire to ensure proper grounds for the period they specify.

This brings the total of the options to $32,750 and we suggest that $33,000 be taked in the by-law to cover incidental expenses.

The Riverside Park property comprise more than the ground within the fence of the baseball grounds. It includes a strip sixty feet wide extending out to Hunter street and another right of way running east and west along the north fence. We are using that now as part of the street of Ashburnham.

The committee met Mr. Cormack of the Quaker Oats Co. He has not heard from Chicago but we impressed upon him that the old dry raceway was essential to the completion of the proposed park. We asked that the company give that strip to the city. They desire to see a park there.

These are the lowest prices we could get and I feel certain that we have every advantage for building up one of the finest parks in Ontario or Canada. Perhaps $33,000 may seem a lot of money.

Question of Damages.

However, if we don't buy these properties we will have to face considerable land damages for them, and it is in the interest of the city to acquire the property and have something to show for our money rather than pay the money and have only a receipt to show.

Save Claims Against Bridge.

Ald. McIntryre said he had advocated this park idea when the bridge question was under discussion last Spring. "We could save the claims on the bridge for land damages by buying the property for park purposes.

A Good Opportunity.

Ald. Crowe—"I'm in favour of parks for the future and I think this proposal is worthy of consideration. The city has been fortunate in having parks through the beneficence of the late Mrs. Nicholls. They didn't cost the city anything and are being handled by her money. There is no park in that part of the city. I think there is an opportunity there we shouldn't miss. Under present conditions I don't think the prices are out of the way. If we had to pay damages on the property we would have nothing for it. The damages might be half of the sum we pay for the property and therefore we would be getting the property at half price.

Ald. Gainey—"I'd like to see the property acquired for park purposes, but it might be just as well if we put the by-law in such a form that the cost will not be named. We could afterwards expropriate or bargain for the property.

Ald. McIntyre—I think the people would like to know what they will have to pay for the property.

Ald. Crowe—If I were outside the Council I would like to know what the city had to pay.

Ald. Taylor approved of the by-law and Ald. Phelan said he was in favour of it, but he contended that the reduced prices supported his contention that most of the quotations were high.

Mr. Harry Stabler representing Mr. Bettes said that in Mr. Faint's will ten years ago the property was valued at $15,000. "I wouldn't be too sure" he added, "that you can hold Mr. Bettes and Mr. Ellis to their options since you haven't said anything for them. During the last few days I have been speaking to a number of business men and their opinions were that the property was worth more than the prices given to the committee."

COLOR SCHEME FOR BEDROOMS

Happy Combination Carried Out in Home by an Artistic Decorator.

The bedroome one side of the hall in Dora's new house were done in rose color and soft golden yellow. In the rose room the monotony of the one color was broken by curtains of cream-colored muslin and yellow fringes in the rose-colored lampshade. Painted furniture of deep cream color was used. Adjoining this, and connecting it with the yellow bedroom, was a bath bright with bath mats and towels of the two colors. The tan bedroom was more severe in its furnishings, which ranged in color from cream muslin curtains, all through the shades of tan, to the dull mahogany of the furniture. Only a rose vase hinted at the combination of colors.

On the opposite side of the hall the children's bedroom was decorated in shades of blue. This was a restful contrast to the playroom adjoining, which rejoiced in apple green walls and furniture painted a dull blue.

This decorator's idea might be successfully carried out by more subtle means. In the accessories of one room the dominant note of the color scheme of the adjoining room could be suggested by the use of colored candles, book ends, curtain cords, mirror frames or any number of other little things. In novelty shops door-stoppers can be found in almost any design or color, and these would be quite effective. A vase of flowers, or even a bonbon dish, might be made to serve the purpose, if the color were vivid enough to assert itself.

Sure Way To Get Rid Of Dandruff

There is one sure way that never fails to remove dandruff completely and that is to dissolve it. This destroys it entirely. To do this, just get about four ounces of plain, ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

By morning, most, if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop instantly and your hair will be fluffy, lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better.

You can get liquid arvon at any drug store. It is inexpensive, and four ounces is all you will need. This simple remedy has never been known to fail.

Ald. Turner's Arguments.

...ngvising that the ultimate deci...n be deferred, Ald. Turner said that ...fifth of the surface of the bridge ...been prepared and that it bore ...entire cost of the overhead on ...detail. It should be spread over ...whole finish and bear the true pro...tion of the cost. The contractor ...making the granite layer 2 1-2 ...s thick instead of 1 1-2 inches as ...fied. The cost per yard for the granite was $3.25, but the plain surface would cost $2.50.

Mr. Barber in a telephone message to City Clerk Armstrong had stated that the granite could be put in for $2.00 a yard.

Ald. Turner also believed that the concrete would peel off and would not be a satisfatcory wearing surface. The Engineer had given the assurance that the granite would be a clear, more durable and more beautiful finish.

This pet problem will give the new Council a subject for debate some cold night toward the end of February when the year is beginning to look toward spring.

Dyspeptic Soup Eaters Can Change Their Spoon for a Knife and Fork and With Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets the World Smiles Again.

Ask a former dyspeptic who tried the Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets plan what wonderful relief they afford. Instead of the grouchy bowl of soup at home and the abject terror at the sight of good things to eat at a party supper, the soup spoon has been replaced by the knife and fork. This comes from giving the digestive processes required assistance. These tablets digest food. They stimulate natural digestive secretions. Thus the food keeps on digesting, doesn't lie in the stomach to sour and create all sorts of distresses. And they act as soon as they enter the stomach, hence relief even in dyspepsia may be looked for almost at once.

If you have been troubled with gassiness, sour stomach, water brash, heaviness after eating and such troubles try these tablets. You will find Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets on sale in any drug store in the United States and Canada.

TAKE MEDICINE IN CAPSULE FORM

GIVES QUICKER ACTION—THE IDEAL METHOD FOR HOME TREATMENT.

Why medicines in capsule form are best was recently explained by a medical authority as follows: "The object of taking medicine is to get quick results and also make the taking as easy as possible. The capsule form does this. The palate does not revolt at the gelatine coating, no matter how repellent to the taste are the drugs contained. The capsule also goes down the throat without inconvenience.

"In the stomach the gelatine coating dissolves almost immediately and the medicines start working promptly. The capsule is far superior to the hard pill, which, especially if it has been exposed to the air, often passes through the system without being dissolved."

A striking illustration of the effectiveness of capsule form medicine is given by Grip Fix, the remedy that relieves a cold in a night. This preparation contains Quinine, Salol, Caffein Citrate, Cascara and Camphor Monobromate, the drugs usually used by physicians for colds or Grippe. In capsule form they provide a reliable home treatment for colds which gives wonderfully quick results, just what is needed.

Have a box of Grip Fix in the house at this season when colds are all around. Get Reid's Grip Fix as there is no substitute so effective or quick. On sale at all druggists at 25 cents per box.

Voice Of The People

SMALLPOX CURE

To the Editor of Examiner:—

"The most scientific school of medicine in the world—that of Paris—published this recipe for smallpox. It is as unfailing as fate and conquers in every instance. It is harmless when taken by a well person. It will also cure scarlet fever. When learned physicians said patients must die, it cured.

Sulphate of Zinc, 1 grain.
Foxglove (digitalis) 1 grain.
1-2 teaspoon sugar—Mix with 2 tablespoons water.

When well mixed add 4 ounces water. Take a spoonful every hour. Child smaller dose. Either disease will disappear in twelve hours."

A PIMPLY FACE OR POOR COMPLEXION QUICKLY RESTORED

Thousands of young men and women would be handsome and attractive were it not for unsightly pimples, blackheads, and rough uneven skin. Custom seems to recommend lotions and salves but unfortunately their effect is but temporary. These disfiguring blemishes do not originate in the skin—their birth in every case goes further back, to the blood, which must be cleansed of humors, before the pimples depart for good.

A physician who has made a careful study of such cases says that the quickest cure comes from a blood-building medicine like Ferrozone. The minute Ferrozone strikes the blood its good work begins. Poisons and foul matter are expelled. Every trace of humor is driven out, and the whole life current is supplied with nutriment and health giving qualities. You can always tell a Ferrozone complexion when you see it—the cheeks are clear and rosy, no signs of sallowness—the eyes are bright and expressive, because rich, red blood is circulating through the whole system, carrying health, energy and strength with it. Not only will all skin eruptions disappear but an increase in vital strength, and all-round improvement, will be apparent. No rebuilding tonic could be more efficient. Get Ferrozone to-day—good for young and old, for well folks and sick folks too. 50c per box or six boxes for $2.50, at all dealers, or direct by mail from the Catarrhozone Co., Kingston, Ont.

"IT IS NOT DONE."

The Chinese are nothing if not polite. Not long ago a Chinese paper, which asked German residents in China not to speak in German, put it this way: "If for nothing else, as a matter of politeness and courtesy, a nice feeling of the fitness of things, those who use German should refrain from doing so in this country. It is not good manners to speak of ropes in a family that has had a hanging."

ADDRESSED THE FARMERS' CLUB ON AGRICULTURAL TOPICS

WEST PETERBORO U.F.O. CLUB HELD INSTRUCTIVE MEETING.

A most instructive and interesting lantern address was given by Mr. Nunnick, Agricultural Adviser to the Conservation Commission, to the Peterborough Branch of the U. F. O. last night, on Farm Problems.

Mr. Nunnick's jurisdiction reaches from the Atlantic to the Pacific, and he is constantly travelling up and there he comes in contact with all manner and conditions of farming.

He illustrates the different methods of farming in the East and West. Where in the East the old is stood all the winter in the manure, in the West they simply draw the manure into heaps and burn it. In some instances they go so far as to have their stables on skids and merely draw the stable away and set fire to the manure. He showed the effect in some slides where the land which was originally the finest, is now through constant cropping—or mining the land as some one suggested—become nothing but dust and is blown about like so much ashes. He showed photos of immense areas of land that has become nothing but worthless wastes. Why the government should allow our vast heritage to be so devastated is hard to understand. Surely the farmers of the East have no sympathy with the miners of the soil in the West.

Mr. Nunnick illustrated many things that were new and added to the prosperity of the farmer and also many things that most farmers know about but they had become careless about, but which were so important as to make farming either a success or a failure.

Everyone went away feeling that they had spent a most profitable evening and hoped for many more such addresses.

Mr. Nunnick said he was at the disposal of any community that wished for his services and promised to come back again and give an address on other phases of farm life.

Mr. Chandler, who is the travelling Superintendent of the U. F. O. chain of stores, also gave an address explaining the working of the co-operative stores which were being opened up in rapid succession all over the province. He said that they were now fitting up their store on Simcoe street and expected to open up for business before Christmas.

Votes of thanks were passed to Mr. Nunnick and Mr. Charlton.

Hana Shimozumi, the Japanese Prima Donna, as "Yum Yum," in "The Mikado," with the Gallo English Opera Co., at the Grand Wednesday and Thursday. Special matinee Thursday.

GALLO ENGLISH OPERA COMPANY

Direct from a phenomenally successful engagement at the Royal Alexander Theatre, Toronto, where it proved the sensation of the season The Gallo English Opera Company will be seen at the Grand Opera House, Wednesday and Thursday evenings and Thursday matinee, Dec. 10 and 11, presenting as its first offering Gilbert and Sullivan's masterpiece, "The Mikado," with a list of principals unequalled in the history of the comic opera stage, and what is said to be the finest chorus and orchestra ever brough to this city.

Among the leading people will be found the names of Hana Shimozumi the only Japanese prima donna ever heard in English comic opera, or to be exact, in any language, as comic opera is unknown in Nippon; Jefferson De Angelis, Albert Parr, Daniel Denton, Louis Casavant, Karl Stoll, Frank Risdale, Rosamond Whiteside, Greta Risley, Ethel Mae Bagnall and many others. All productions are under the musical direction of Max Bendix.

This city has always been devoted to standard lighe opera, and it is so selom in these days of "jazz" musical shows that one of the few great organizations which present the standard lyrical works of a past generation favors us with a visit, that the coming of The Gallo English Opera Company is a most interesting event.

MUSIC AND DRAMA

THE DARLING OF PARIS

Based upon Victor Hugo's great French classic "The Hunch-back of Notre Dame" the feature picture at the Grand last evening, "The Darling of Paris" featuring Theda Bara proved to be one of the most absorbing silent dramas ever presented in the city. The story of the child stolen in her infancy by the gypsies, brought up amongst the 'Brotherhood of fools' and later wrongly accused of the murder of her sweetheart contains a strong current of tragedy which gives the celebrated actress playing the leading role ample scope for a display of her wonderful power as a tragedian. Her acting in the rack scene where unjustly accused of murder she is forced through tremendous bodily pain to make a wrong confession is a display of unusual ability in such a part.

The programme is augmented by a Mutt and Jeff comedy, Vod-a-Vil Movies and a Sunshine Comedy all of which are particularly acceptable.

HOUSING COMMISSION BY-LAW PASSES THE COUNCIL WITH MAJORITY OF ONE

MR. JAMES FINNIE AND MR. FRANK DOBBIN APPOINTED COMMISSIONERS AT THE LAST MEETING OF THE YEAR—ALD. CROWE HELD DECIDING VOTE.

OBJECTIONS OVERCOME

The Council adopted the Ontario Housing Act last night and appointed James Finnie and Frank H. Dobbin commissioners for two and one year terms respectively. Next year's Mayor will also be a member of the local Housing Commission.

Ald. Edgar guided the formal by-law through its prescribed readings, in the second of which Ald. Gainey and Ald. Morrison attempted to have this business set over for the new Council.

With Ald. Crowe presiding, Ald. Gainey moved, seconded by Ald. Morrison, that the committee rise and report progress.

Council divided as follows. For—Aldermen Phelan, McIntyre, Garside, Morrison and Gainey. Against—Aldermen Taylor, Edgar, Turner, Hamilton, Crowe and Mayor Duncan.

Casting the deciding vote Ald. Crowe dryly remarked, "I'll vote against progress this time."

The Council lined up in the same group on subsequent ballots. The opposition questioned the re-introduction of this by-law, following closely upon its recent rejection. They declared that it should not be imposed upon the new Council, especially in view of the fact that no activity would be undertaken until next year.

The Housing Act and the powers of the Commission were dragged through another discussion that brought out the familiar points for each side.

"If Ald. Edgar and the Council) insists on this," Ald. Morrison exclaimed. "I'll nominate Mr. Harry Stabler as a commissioner."

Ald. Gainey proposed T. B. McGrath and William Stevens, but the majority of the Council, who were nursing the by-law along to accomplishment, held together on the appointments, and Mr. Finnie was chosen for two years and ex-Ald. Dobbin for one.

Ald. Gainey called attention to the Peterborough Building Society which, he said, was more flexible than the Provincial Act and more considerate of those persons who take advantage of its loans for building purposes. Besides it was a home "industry" with thirty years' successful experience behind it.

Ald. Edgar replied that the Housing Act did not interfere with any local system.

The World's Greatest Oil Pools

A wonderful wealth is in store in the Peace River District where eminent Geologist and Oil Experts from all over the world, who have made careful and thorough investigations, report that they believe and state with full confidence that THE WORLD'S GREATEST OIL RESERVOIR will be found there.

Here is your opportunity to share in this wonderful wealth possibility.

Oil has already been struck in two wells now being drilled on the Company's properties—both wells will be drilled deeper to the BIG OIL POOL.

Let Canada's Wealth be Enjoyed By The Canadian People

Here is an opportunity for Canadians to invest in Peace River Petroleums, Limited, a Canadian Corporation, controlled by successful Canadian business men, who intend in all sincerity and earnestness, to develop the marvellous oil fields in Peace River.

The Corporation, as will be seen by this announcement, controls over 48,000 acres of the best oil lands in

This Vast and New Oil Field

The names of the directors, all of whom are well known Canadian business men, are alone a guarantee that development work will be aggressively proceeded with, and the funds of the Company expended with economy and wise judgment.

In the past the cream of Canada's mineral resources have been exploited by foreign capital, but here we have a genuine Canadian enterprise which deserves, and should have, the support of every Canadian who is interested in the development of Canada's vast oil resources.

American Oil Fields Near Exhaustion

The great oil fields of America are nearing exhaustion, and at the present rate of consumption of petroleum products, America will soon be compelled to curtail her export of oil.

A recent geological report to the United States Government by Dr. A. E. Atcheson on the oil resources of U.S.A., states that, "The peak of production in oil will be passed in 1921," and it has been predicted that within six years the United States Government will be forced to terminate all exports of oil.

What will Canada do when the United States prohibits all exports of oil!

Peace River Oil will solve Canada's fuel problems.

Canada is now one of the smallest producers of oil in the world, only producing less than 300,000 barrels. Last year Canada imported over 10,000,000 barrels, and her consumption is rapidly increasing.

With the tremendous oil resources that Canada possesses, she should and will be one of the largest producers of oil and become an exporter instead of an importer of oil.

OIL IS KING

Oil to-day is King—The world could not live without oil—Oil lubricates the machinery of the universe—Oil is the coming fuel for all purposes—Navies—Merchan Ships—Railways—Gasoline Engines—Farm Trators—and so on without end.

Look at the rapid increase in consumption of oil for the past several years and the demands are increasingly greater each year.

The nation that cannot control its oil supplies must lag behind in the industrial race.

Shrewd Canadians Are Buying

The shrewd men in Canada who believe that history will repeat itself are buying shares of PEACE RIVER PETROLEUMS, LIMITED, as they believe that the great geologists of the world cannot all be wrong when they predicted that the Peace River District would become the greatest oil field in the world and this is now confirmed by the number of wells that have already been drilled and struck oil.

There is no miracle in a good investment, a good investment is the simple result of good judgment.

In view of these facts, you are recommended to buy shares in Peace River Petroleums, Limited, at the present low price and help to secure

CANADA'S OIL FOR CANADIAN PEOPLE.

No Bonus or Promotion Shares

There have been and will be no bonus or promotion shares issued by Peace River Petroleums, Limited. All the directors have paid cash for their shares; every dollar received for shares by the Company goes into the treasury and will be used for drilling and development work and legitimate expenses. A FAIR AND SQUARE DEAL IS ASSURED YOU.

The "Financier" of London, England, one of the oldest and most reliable financial papers in Great Britain, in a recent article practically demanded that the public are entitled to participate in the shares of oil companies, and that shares should not be offered to a favored few.

Here is an extract from their editorial regarding a recent issue of oil shares in England:

> Instead of permitting the investing public to participate in the financing of the project, they have arranged to offer the shares for sale only to their personal clients and friends, and to ignore the great investing public outside that favoured circle. We cannot help thinking that it would have been fairer to allow the great body of British investors . . . to apply for shares. . . . Undertakings of national importance in their scope and objects ought not to be the possession of the privileged few, but should rather be in the beneficial ownership of investors generally.

Every investor, large or small, has an opportunity to invest in peace River Petroleums, Limited—a project of national importance to Canada.

PETERBORO RESOLUTION HAS BEEN RECEIVED BY THE KITCHENER COUNCIL

MEETING FOLLOWS THE RIOT—ATTEMPT MAY BE MADE TO PLACE POLICE FORCE UNDER DIRECT CONTROL OF THE COUNCIL.

KITCHENER, Ont., Dec. 8.—Shattered by the impact of public opinion against its "back to Berlin" by-law the City Council was unable to muster a quorum of members for Friday's special meeting called by Mayor Gross.

Monday's outbreak, following consideration of the by-law by Council, which had disastrous results for three of the aldermen, was to have been discussed. Reluctance to tackle the explosive subject, or visions of a repetition of the demonstration that developed out of the last meeting, may have been responsible for the slim attendance this afternoon. Had a meeting been held, one of the matters to be taken up was prosecution of those responsible for the violent scenes witnessed in the Council Chamber and on the streets.

Are Angry.

Lack of police protection has been bitterly commented upon by at least some of those who was roughly handled by the crowds, and Mayor Gross had a conference with Attorney-General Raney regarding an investigation. The latter is said to have agreed that the initial steps in this direction should come from Kitchener. Mayor Gross, it was understood, had a report to present to Council at the meeting that was to have been held today.

Bitzer Came Late.

The Mayor was the first to arrive at the City Hall Friday afternoon. He waited from two o'clock until forty-five minutes past the appointed hour, and as only seven of his colleagues had put in an appearance up to that time, he declared the meeting adjourned until some later date. Only one more member was required in order to proceed with business. He arrived in the person of Ald. Bitzer, who was thrown in the lake by Monday night's crowd and given two hooks to get out of town, just two minutes after the adjournment had been pronounced.

Thought It Pre-arranged.

There were those who said that the lack of a quorum was pre-arranged, and that Ald. Bitzer's arrival was timed with the hour of adjournment. Ald. Bowman, who was dragged into the Council Chamber on Monday night by the veterans, and Ald. Asmussen, M.P., who was taken from his home to G.W.V.A. headquarters and made to kiss the flag, were among the seven members present and ready to go on with business, however. The others in attendance were Ald. Zettell, Iler, Schreiter, Katz and Sass, and the missing ones were Lippert, Gofton, Grobb, Brietzkaupt, Bastz, Bitzer, Uttley and Reid.

To Review Outbreak.

At 2.45 the Mayor and those who were present proceeded to the Council Chamber. They were followed by a deputation of five from the G.W.V.A. The Mayor said he had called the meeting to finish up the business left over Monday night and to review the incidents that happened at the last meeting. He had got in touch with the members, he continued, and found that they desired to have the meeting called. As there was no quorum, however, he declared an adjournment.

Favor Legal Action.

Following this the members retired to a committee room and were soon joined by Ald. Bitzer. They met behind closed doors for nearly half an hour, and the Mayor would give out no information afterward, except to say that there had been only an informal talk and that no business had been done.

Get Control of Police.

Ald. Asmussen said there had been some talk about Monday night's riots and that there was a feeling in Council against taking action against those responsible for the violence on Monday night. He said, further, however, that whatever was done, if anything, would have to be on the part of individuals, because Council as a body could do nothing.

One of the matters discussed at the private gathering was that of placing the police force directly under Council. At present the force is under a commission. This question, said Asmussen said, came up as the result of the receipt of a resolution passed by Peterboro' Council asking for legislation along that line. It had also been previously considered in Kitchener.

No Formal Complaints.

Mayor Gross was the first to leave the conference. In company with Chief of Police O'Neill he proceeded to the Court House, where a meeting of the police commission was held, with Magistrate Weir and Acting Judge Spotton, the other members. The press was refused admittance to this meeting. Magistrate Weir stated afterward that the meeting was for the purpose of getting acquainted with the new member, Judge Spotton, and that the riot had not been discussed. He further stated that no complaints about Monday night's occurrences had been received by the commission. Mayor Gross said the riot had been "mentioned," but would give no other information.

By-laws Torn Up.

The final nail was placed in the coffin of the agitation to insult the patriotic citizens with the question of whether they desired Kitchener or Berlin as the name of this city when the copies of the draft by-law were torn in pieces and thrown in the waste paper basket by City Clerk Miller this afternoon.

Claim for Damages.

The Pure Balsamic Essences of Catarrhozone Afford Surest and Quickest Cure.

There is nothing so sure to cure, and to those in fear of changeable weather—those who easily catch cold—those who work among lung-chilling surroundings, or where dust, impure air, fog, or damp can affect them—let them get Catarrhozone and use it several times daily—it will cure every time.

Large size Catarrhozone, sufficient for two months' use, guaranteed, price, $1.00; smaller size, 50c.; sample size, 10c. Sold everywhere.

THE MAGIC OF THE ELECTRIC WIRE

Imagine sitting at a table in London, pressing a button, and key, presto!—people 4,000 miles away have the message in two-fifths of a second!

A week or two ago King George pressed a button at Balmoral, and in a flash the people standing around the memorial to Jacques Cartier (the first navigator of the St. Lawrence River) in Montreal, 3,000 miles away, saw the covering shroud roll off as if by magic.

The idea is not new. Shortly before he died, King Edward, while staying at a Sussex mansion, similarly opened a university in Montreal, and six years ago Queen Mary, by merely pressing a button in Buckingham Palace, opened a hospital in Ontario.

Regarding the method by which these feats are accomplished, a Post Office official, referring to the unveiling of the Cartier statue, explained that a line was connected from Balmoral to the Central Telegraph Office in London, which was connected in turn by cable to Halifax, Nova Scotia, the current being switched to Montreal, a small line to the statue completing the circuit. The only "man power" employed was that of King George.

AN INSIDE BATH MAKES YOU LOOK AND FEEL FRESH

Says a glass of hot water with phosphate before breakfast keeps illness away.

Physicians the world over recommend the inside bath, declaring this is of vastly more importance than outside cleanliness, because the skin pores do not absorb impurities into the blood, causing ill health, while the pores in the ten yards of bowels do.

Men and women are urged to drink each morning, before breakfast, a glass of hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it, as a harmless means of helping to wash from the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels the previous day's indigestible material, poisons, sour bile and toxins; thus cleansing, sweetening and purifying the alimentary canal before eating more food.

Those who wake up with bad breath, coated tongue, nasty taste or have a dull, aching head, sallow complexion, acid stomach; others who have bilious attacks or constipation, should obtain a quarter pound of limestone phosphate at the drug store. This will cost very little but is sufficient to show the value of inside bathing.

A PROMINENT MOUNTED POLICE OFFICER DEAD.

Special to the Examiner:

PRINCE ALBERT, Sask., Dec. 9.—Sir John Grenville Lewis Temple, a baronet, died in the hospital here from pneumonia, a member of the mounted police, which he joined at Regina in 1888. He was very reticent concerning his family in England. He was 63 years of age, and once possessed a considerable fortune, which he lost in the United States before joining the police force as a constable.

THE STRIKE SITUATION

Canadian Press:

INDIANAPOLIS, Dec. 9.—The settlement, within twenty-four hours, of the strike of coal miners, commenced more than five weeks ago, was confidentely predicted to-day. The terms of the proposal submitted to the miners' leaders on Saturday is still a carefully guarded secret this morning.

(Canadian Press.)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 9. — Labor Secretary Wilson in a telegram today to John Lewis urged the miners to accept President Wilson's proposal for settlement of the coal strike. The President, the secretary said, has pointed the way out with honour to the government and honor to themselves.

Heatless Days.

(Canadian Press.)

TORONTO, Dec. 9. — Provincial Fuel Controller Harrington announces that he is considering the necessity of issuing an order for several heatless days weekly on the lines of the former wartime order. He will take this step unless some of the big establishments see the necessity for the conservation of fuel.

THE ELLIOT STORE WISH TO THANK THEIR MANY NEW CUSTOMERS

To do big business is a simple matter if you can satisfy customers with quality and price, and at the same time procure seasonable merchandise—which, to put it casually, is unusually hard for the average store, particularly this year.

Next time you are shopping, note the business-like atmosphere around the different departments of the Elliot Profit-Sharing Store. Customers are finding needfuls this year which are ticketed at prices that bring real pleasure with shopping. Our buyers have had an eagle eye open all this season for old-time values—sensibly priced Christmas merchandise that is attractive and good; and the way "Housewife" and "Miss" are buying right and left tell a real story of our splendid success that you should know about.

We wish to sincerely thank our many new customers for the opportunity of serving them. Bring the little folks to Toyland. Make them feel at home in every part of the store. There is something of interest for you and them wherever you turn. What we most particularly want you to note is the way Elliot's are combating for you that much used and abused term — The High Cost of Living.

BAZAAR OPENED THIS AFTERNOON

LADIES IN CHARGE OF THE VARIOUS TABLES.

This afternoon the Y.M.C.A. main hall was an attractive and busy centre when the ladies of the 57th Chapter I.O.D.E. opened their annual bazaar. The decorations were particularly pleasing and the tables loaded with most charming and dainty hand work solved the Christmas perplexities of many a weary shopper.

At the fancy work table Mrs. Duncan Walker an Mrs. W. H. Hill are in charge, as the handkerchief table Mrs. B. McNeely, Mrs. Joseph Mills and Mrs. Crowe, at the apron table, Miss Revell, Mrs. J. Sharpe and Miss M. Poole, at the white wear table Mrs. Merrill, and Miss Nina Borridaile, at the baby table were Mrs. H. O. Fiske, Mrs. Schneider and Miss Mabel Collins, at the dolls table Mrs. J. Gemmell and Mrs. C. E. Jamieson.

Afternoon Tea

Mrs. Eastwood assisted by Mrs. Foote, Mrs. Crowe and Miss Alberta Meyers were in charge of afternoon tea to-day and Mrs. G. B. Cameron will be in charge to-morrow.

Of two evils we are advised to choose the less. Why not reject them both?

CITY CLERK IS REPRESENTATIVE OF THE BOARD OF COMMERCE

WILL RECEIVE AND FORWARD COMPLAINTS OF PROFITEERING AND OTHER COMMERCIAL ABUSES—SALE OF PART OF CRESCENT ST. OPPOSED.

City Clerk Armstrong was appointed correspondent in Peterboro for the Canadian Board of Commerce at last night's meeting of the Council. Persons who have complaints of profiteering, hoarding and similar abuses should notify Mr. Armstrong who will be in communication with the secretary of the Board.

Object to Closure.

Mr. C. N. Gordon appearing with and for Mr. N. T. de Laplante registered an objection to the city's action in closing the north end of Crescent street where it joins Rink street east of George on the land occupied by the McDonald Lumber Company. This strip of unopened and unused street has been sold to the McDonald Company as a site for their new box factory for the sum of $500.

Mr. Gordon intimated that the city's closure of this part of Crescent street prejudicially affected the land of adjacent property owners. Having been thus advised the Council would have to accept responsibility for their action. He stated that these two streets offered an alternative highway fro mthe wharf instead of by way of George street. Mr. Alex Dick, Mr. John McDonald and other members of the company were present last night.

Ald. Edgar's comment was an interrogation as to what condition had suddenly advanced the valuation of the unopened streets east of George street. "If they have any value why weren't they opened up before. Let us help the local industry. Others come here and are helped."

Resignation Accepted

Mr. T. F. Matthews resignation from the Utilities Commission was accepted, taking effect at once. The position will remain open until the January elections.

Increase Election Official's Pay

Ald. Edgar moved seconded by Ald. Gatside that the officials in charge of the elections be paid as follows—deputy returning officer $6, polling clerk $4 and constable $3. The old scale was four, three and two dollars totally ignoring the higher cost of living and the diminished buying power of the dollar.

Ask $90 From City.

Miss M. E. Heffernan wrote that she had sustained a loss by holding her property on Hunter street expecting it would be bought by the city. She asked for $90 compensation. Miss Heffernan said she had offered the property to the city and while holding it vacant had refused to rent it, being under the impression that the city intended to buy it.

Mayor Duncan explained that he and Ald. Phelan had told Miss Heffernn they would endeavour to have the Hydro-Electric Commission purchase this property on Hunter street, nearly opposite St. John's Church. Sir Adam Beck intimated that he would take it if he could get the Bathgate property adjoining it.

"We failed to get an option from Mr. Bathgate", said Mayor Duncan. "We can't compel the Hydro to take it. The lot is no use to us. I am willing to do all I can."

Ald. Phelan—"You might see Sir Adam Beck when you're in Toronto on Wednesday and take this up with him again."

Will Not Be Liable

The Quaker Oats Co., wrote that they refused to accept any liability for damages arising out of any accident that may occur on the highway crossing over the company's property near the east end of Simcoe street, leading to the temporary bridge.

Power Of Dollar Is Easily Shown

Keep One Moving and See What It Will Do For Your Community

Pays Multitude of Debts

When it is sent out of Town, however, to Pay for what can be Bought at Home it is gone forever.

(Copyright.)

It is a rather wonderful thing, when you stop to think about it, what one lone dollar will do, if it is kept at work. This has been illustrated in a striking manner on several occasions by means of a very simple experiment. If you want to see just how important a role a silver dollar or a dollar bill plays in the life of a community here is the way to do it. Just attach a tag to the dollar and turn it loose, with the request that every person who receives the dollar make a note on the tag as to how he received it. The result will be an eye-opener.

Here is the way it works: Smith, the lumber dealer, who first possesses the dollar, buys some groceries from Brown and pays for them with the dollar. About that time Jones, the plumber, who had done some work for Brown, sends his collector around and Brown pays the bill with this dollar. Jones owes Green, the printer, a small advertising bill, so he sends this dollar with possibly some others, to Green to pay his bill. Green had just put the dollar in his cash drawer, when in comes Black, the milkman, to whom Green owes a dollar for milk delivered at his house. Green takes the dollar out of his cash drawer and pays Black. For some time Black has owed White, the carpenter, for some work done on his dairy house, so now he takes the dollar that Green has paid him and pays up what he owes White. White still owes for some lumber that he bought from Smith, the lumber dealer, so he takes the dollar and squares up his account with Smith. Smith now has his dollar back, Brown has been able to pay his plumbing bill, Jones has squared up with the printer, and so on, all around the circle.

What Might Have Happened.

Now, suppose that Smith, instead of buying his groceries from Brown, had purchased them from a mail order house in a far distant city and sent his dollar to pay for them. Brown would not have had that dollar to pay Jones, the plumber; Jones could not have paid his printing bill; the printer would have had to stand off the milk man: White, the carpenter, would not have got the money which White owed him for lumber.

This is all so simple that it requires no student of economics or professor of mathematics to figure it out. Anyone can see that when Smith sends that dollar to Chicago or some other city where the mail order houses flourish, that dollar is gone so far as Smith and Jones and Green and the rest of the people in Smith's town are concerned. That dollar will never come back to pay any bills in Smith's town. And the thing that stands out most striking, is is most often overlooked, is that Smith, the man who first spends the dollar, is hurt just as much when he sends that dollar out of town as is the home grocer from whom he might have bought his groceries.

Now just multiply this one dollar by a hundred or a thousand or ten thousand. One dollar may not seem to make much difference in the average town, but a thousand dollars or even a hundred dollars does make a difference. Just as one dollar will pay a dozen or a hundred small bills, a hundred or a thousand dollars will pay a dozen or a hundred big bills. When Brown, the grocery man, owes a thousand dollars and can't pay it, he is headed for the bankruptcy courts. When Jones, the plumber, can't collect the money which is due him from Brown or maybe a dozen Browns, he is headed in the same direction as Brown. And so it goes all around the circle until it hits Smith or a dozen Smiths who have sent their money out of town to add to the fortunes of the mail order men.

Buyer One Who Is Hurt.

Thus it will be seen that this buy-at-home proposition is really a selfish one with the man who buys the goods. He is not hurting the home merchant when he sends his money out of town any more than he is hurting himself.

Every sensible man knows that his livelihood depends upon whether business in his town is good or not. If business is not good, he cannot make a good living for himself and his family, no matter how hard he may work, and business cannot be good man 'or womanR' (bY,khbJJJ— yJy if the business men in the town are not making money. This is a plain business proposition for every man and woman in the community. By spending their money at home they are helping the home merchant only incidentally. They are buttering their own bread. When they send their money to the mail order house, they are not only hurting the home merchant incidentally, but—a thing more important to them—they are likely to be taking the bread out of the mouths of their own children.

IF.

If you can keep your head when all about you
Are losing theirs and blaming it on you;
If you can trust yourself when all men doubt you,
But make allowance for their doubting, too;
If you can wait and not be tired by waiting,
Or being lied about, don't deal in lies,
Or being hated, don't give way to hating,
And yet don't look too good or talk too wise.

If you can dream and not make dreams your master,
If you can think and not make thought your aim.
If you can meet with triumph and disaster
And treat those two imposters just the same;
If you can bear to hear the truth you've spoken,
Twisted by knaves to make a trap for fools,
Or watch the things you gave your life to broken,
And stoop and build them up with worn-out tools.

If you can make one heap of all your winnings,
And risk it on one turn of pitch and toss,
And lose, and start again at your beginnings,
And never breathe a word about your loss;
If you can force your heart and nerve and sinew,
To serve your turn long after you are gone,
And so hold on when there is nothing in you,
Except the will which says to them: "Hold on."

If you can walk with crowds and keep your virtue,
Or walk with kings nor lose the common touch,
If neither foes nor loving friends can hurt you,
If all men count with you, but none too much;
If you can fill the unforgiving minute
With sixty seconds' worth of distance run,
Yours is the earth and everything that's in it,
And—which is more—you'll be a man, my son.

—Rudyard Kipling.

To Grow Hair On Bald Heads

Specialist Gives Simple Recipe That Works Fine

Thousands of people suffer from baldness, and falling hair who, having tried nearly every advertised hair tonic and hair-grower without results, have resigned themselves to baldness and its attendant discomfort. Yet their case is not hopeless, the following simple home prescription has made hair grow after years of baldness, and is also unequalled for restoring gray hair, to its original color stopping hair from falling out, and destroying hair fro mfalling outhdrl ll stroying the dandruff germ. It will not make the hair greasy, and can be put up by any druggist: Bay Rum, 6 ounces, Lavena de Composee, 2 ounces, Menthol Crystals, one-half drachm. If you wish it perfumed add 1 drachm of your favorite perfume. This preparation is highly recommended by physicians and specialists and is absolutely harmless, as it contains none of the poisonous wood alcohol so frequently found in hair tonics. Ladies using this prescription should be careful not to get it on the face or where hair is not desired.

COMPANY FORMED TO EXPLOIT THE PEACE RIVER OIL

FORTY-EIGHT THOUSAND ACRES OF ALBERTA OIL LAND CONTROLLED.

TORONTO CAPITAL

MILLION SHARES BEING ISSUED TO FINANCE SINKING OF FOUR WELLS AT VARIOUS POINTS ON PROPERTY.

With the incorporation, by a syndicate of Toronto business men, of a company capitalized at $3,000,000, to develop 48,000 acres of Peace River oil lands, comes the first definite bit of information concerning the exploitation of the Northern Alberta petroleum fields. For months past, reports have been coming from the district, telling of the activities of the Standard Oil Company's geologists, the jockeying of the Shell Transport interests for control of 30,000 square miles of Alberta land, and Government geologists have been busy exploring the country and trying to determine the best points at which to pierce the crust of what Walter Noble Burns, writing in the Magazine of Wall Street, described as the "greatest subterranean reservoir of petroleum in the world."

All these activities have been shrouded in a veil of mystery, for the biggest interests have kept their plans secret, and the smaller interests have been too busy getting leases on the best oil lands to say much That there is oil in the Peace River country is an absolute certainty; that it is there in quantities sufficiently paying to warrant development on a gigantic scale is still to be proven; but all those who have gone into the district have gone into it with a fixed determination to find out if the district can live up to what is claimed for it. Indications all point to success; the only point to be determined is at what spot the oil can best be drilled for, and this feature would seem to give the interests with the largest holdings—thousands rather than dozens of acres—the best chance to make good.

Holds 48,000 Acres.

The company which now has been organized to develop large holdings of land in the district, is the Peace River Petroleums, Ltd., and 1,000,000 shares of the capital stock are now being offered for sale. The company already owns, or controls, 48,000 acres of land in the Peace River district, and has two wells producing small quantities of oil already. The oil being produced now is from one of the upper strata. These wells will be driven to the mid-Devonian crust, where it is believed the big pool lies.

The company plans to use the proceeds of the present issue to drive four wells on various locations on their property, which is distributed in three sections near Peace River town. It is estimated that it will cost $200,000 to sink these wells, and as the stock is being offered at 35 cents a share, there will be a substantial surplus for contingencies.

John Hallam, head of the John Hallam Fur Company of Toronto, has been elected president of the company, and the other directors are also Toronto men. The flotation is being handled by W. C. Goffat & Company. Mr. Goffat was formerly mayor of Orillia, Ontario, but has spent the past four years in Peace River, and it was through his efforts that the present company was formed.

OVATION IN BERLIN TO VON MACKENSEN.

BERLIN, December 8. — The return to Berlin of Field Marshal Mackensen was the occasion for a great ovation. The Noske guard and troops of all arms waited at the station and along the incoming railway tracks, for the arrival of the field marshal's train. A number of prominent generals, including Falkenhayn, who was Mackensen's partner in the Rumanian campaign, were present.

As he emerged in the station the crowd broke through the line of guarding soldiers and shouted greetings to Mackensen, who wore his military decorations. The field marshal was pelted with flowers.

MR. OR MRS. DYSPEPTIC

Get rid of Indigestion and Stomach Worries with "Pape's Diapepsin"

"Really does" put weak, disordered stomachs in order—"really does" overcome indigestion, dyspepsia, gas, heartburn and sourness due to acid fermentation—that—just that—makes Pape's Diapepsin the largest selling stomach antacid and regulator in the world. If what you eat ferments and turns sour, you belch gas and eructate undigested food or water; head is dizzy and aches; breath foul; tongue coated, remember the moment "Pape's Diapepsin" comes in contact with the stomach all such distress vanishes. It's truly astonishing—almost marvelous, and the joy is its harmlessness. A box of Pape's Diapepsin tablets costs so little at drug store, too.

CIGARETTES GOING UP.

New York.—The high cost of smoking is going higher. Oneof the largest retailing concerns with branches in all parts of the country, announced to-day that the retail price of various poular American "blends" of cigarettes, now retailing at 18 cents a package of 20 would be advanced to 20 cents, or something over 11 per cent., about Dec. 1. The raise, it is declared, is necessaryto make up an increase of 80 cents a thousand in the wholesale price. Higher cost of cigarette tobacco is blamed for the advance.

ERMANY WAS HANDED THE ALLIES' ULTIMATUM TO-DAY

TE IS REGARDED AS CONCILIATORY IN GERMAN OFFICIAL CIRCLES —ALLIES CLAIM THE RIGHT TO INVADE GERMANY IF TREATY IS VIOLATED.

By Carl D. Groat.
(United Press.)

BERLIN, Dec. 10.— The Allied notes demanding that Germany immediately accept the protocol to the peace treaty, were received this afternoon. The tone of the notes, according to German official circles, was considered conciliatory. It was understood the Entente agrees to permit postponement of delivery of German docks and marine materials demanded as reparation for the sinking of the interned German fleet at Scapa Flow, until it can be determined whether their surrender would hopelessly cripple Germany's industries, as the Germans have contended. The Entente, however, refuses to change its stand toward German war prisoners, and holds to its rights to invade Germany if she trangresses any of the rules laid down by the peace conference and the armistice.

(Canadian Press.)

PARIS, Dec. 10. — The Allied notes, handed to Kurt Von Lersner, head of the German delegation at Versailles on Monday, have been examined by a Councilof Ministers at Berlin, and the German answer will probably be sent to Versailles to-day. According to a Berlin despatch to The Matin, Herr Petersen, of Hamburg, may be named German delegate to carry on future negotiations concerning port and harbor materials, it is said.

XPECT TO CONCLUDE THE FIRST CASE THIS SIDE OF CHRISTMAS

ENING SESSION WILL BE ELIMINATED—THE ACCUSED HAS CEASED TO TAKE VOLUMINOUS NOTES.

A LONG TRIAL

(Special to The Examiner.)

WINNIPEG, Dec. 10.— Wearied the severe strain on the daily ten urs in court, R. B. Russell, the ike leader who is being tried on a rge of seditious conspiracy, apled to Judge Metcalfe yesterday eliminate the evening session. Rusl's career of unceasing activity be months prior to the outbreak of general strike and the drain on energy is apparent. During the ire day's session he dropped in his t and appeared to view the proedings apathetically, in marked conast to his usual nervous air of in-. E. J. McMurray, one of the unsels for the defence, submitted plea to the judge, who replied r. Russell personally, it has weight with me." It has been ticeable that Rusell had abandoned constant practice of taking volumous notes of the proceedings. With assent of the Crown the jury in rn was appealed to, and the foreman stated his own and his fellowrymen's willingness to agree. A condary reason was advanced that e respite would also enable the unsel for the defence to keep apace th the developments of the case.

Effort to Speed Up.

With the term of the first session of e fall assizes exceeded by six days, ery effort is being strained at the ate trial of R. B. Russell to conude the case by Christmas. The imression is current that the Crown ll close its case by the end of this ek, when the defence will bring out witnesses. The second session of e Assizes will commence on Janry 7th with the trial of Russell's llow accused. It has not yet been cided as to whether all seven deendants will be tried simultaneously individually. In the latter event the d of the trials will be far distant. evidence will have to be repeated rough each case. A panel of two ndred jurors has been ordered to port for the January assizes, and ain will arise the question of how ny challenges the defence will be rmitted. In the Russell case four allenges only were allowed, alough the defence contended they ould be given four challenges on ch count, which would have made a tal of twenty-eight challenges for ch defendant. Were this permitted the case of all seven accused, the fence would practically exhaust the nel of available jurors, as they ould have 196 challenges. Interest in e January trials will centre mainly the cases of William Ivens, former itor of the Western Labor News, E. Pritchard, the One Big Union ilfetain from Vancouver, and R. ohns, one of the most active leaders the movement.

WORLD PROBLEMS WILL BE DISCUSSED AT ROUND TABLE CONFERENCE IN LONDON.

STRENGTHEN ENTENTE

(Canadian Press.)

PARIS, Dec. 10. — Premier Clemenceau's trip to London will be of great political importance, according to newspapers here, which say that during his stay at the British capital he will discuss Adriatic, Russian, and Turkish questions, and will seek to bring about co-operation among the Entente nations in working out solutions of world problems.

Another topic which will be discussed, according to the report, will be the exchange rates.

Uneasiness which is felt at the present time will be dissipated by M. Clemenceau's conversations in London, according to the Gaulois; while the Echo de Paris says the principal object of his trip is the strengthening of the bonds between the Entente countries, as the first step in the organisation of our alliance.

Vitterio Scialcia, the Italian Foreign Minister, who is now in London, will participate n the conferences M. Clemenceau will hold with the British Ministers, according to the Matin.

LADY BEAVERBROOK NOT A CANDIDATE

(Canadian Press.)

LONDON, Dec. 10.—Lady Beaverbrook, who before her marriage to Baron Beaverbrook, owner of the Daily Express, was Miss Drury, of Halifax, N.S., has declined the invitation of the Unionist Committee for Ashton-under-Lyne to become a candidate for a seat in the House of Commons.

FIGURES PRODUCED TO SHOW FARM LOSS

PICTURE OF LITTLE PROFIT PAINTED AT THE LAST HALBERT MEETING.

UXBRIDGE, Dec. 10.—"The farmer has not learnt how to put the shoddy in the egg," declared R. H. Halbert, president of the U.F.O. and successful U.F.O. candidate at the Federal by-election in North Ontario yesterday at his last campaign meeting he addressed the previous night. The meeting was composed entirely of farmers, and held at a county crossroads, seven miles from Uxbridge.

Discussing the tariff, Mr. Halbert declared that there would be a representation of U.F.O. members large enough in Ottawa after the general election to materially affect the tariff and that the next Federal election would be fought on this question.

Farmers Welcome Competition.

He declared there never was a warrant for price petting, and that the farmer welcomed a market under honest competition. He pointed to his record as president of the U. F. O for five years without salary, the association having grown in that time from one of 2,000 members and $63 in the treasury to one of 40,000 and $31,700 on hand from stock marketing alone. The only way to lessen the H. C. of L. was to lessen the cost of production and distribution, to take the tariff from implements and squeeze the water from railroad stocks, Mr. Halbert's only fear was that he would be contaminated by the company he would have to keep should he go to Ottawa.

J. W. Widdifield, U.F.O., M.P.P., pointed out that urban communities gave a better vote for the U.F.O. at his second election than at his first and even Toronto was undergoing some change of heart.

Mr. Cameron [illegible] Newmarket, produced an editorial from a Toronto paper which asserted farmers of North Toronto to the [illegible] was no better [illegible] than [illegible] are still 140,000,000 bushels of wheat in Western Canada, therefore because of the embargo there is $160,000,000 going into somebody's pockets that should go into the farmers'.

Although the farmer welcomed the soldier to the land, his settlement was being inefficiently and extravagantly carried out in a manner that when values dropped would lead to disaster and the soldier leaving the land.

Nothing But Losses.

The experimental farms throughout Canada were each costing from $30,000 to $40,000 a year to operate and few of them returned more than $5,000 to $8,000 a year in produce sold, a demonstration of extravagance. The farmer received 6 cents a pound for his wool and his wife paid $2.50 a pound for the same material to knit socks for soldiers. The farmer received 15 cents a pound for pork. It cost six pounds of grain at three cents a pound to make that pound of pork, so no farmer was making money on pigs at the present time, although he paid just as high a price for his bacon.

The solution was that the farmer must control his products until they reached the consuming market.

PRESENTATION TO DR. BURRITT KELLY

DR. KELLY IS LEAVING FOR BOBCAYGEON, WHERE HE WILL ESTABLISH A PRACTICE.

In view of the fact that Dr. Burritt E. Kelly of this city is leaving in the near future to practice in Bobcaygeon, the Peterboro Medical Society held a banquet in the Grill Room of the Empress Hote last night in his honour. The banquet was successful in every way.

At the conclusion of the banquet the president Dr. J. H. Eastwood proposed the toast to the King. Dr. Hargrave then called on Dr. J. V. [illegible] to propose the toast to [illegible] ing of the toast spoke of the fine qualities of Dr. Kelly. He had taught him when he went to the Old Collegiate Institute and had followed him through university and watched him win success in his chosen profession.

Dr. MacPherson spoke of Dr. Kelly's fine work overseas; how he had risen until he was second in command of a field ambulance; and won the Distinguished Service Order and the French Croix de Guere for his bravery and devotion to duty.

Dr. McPherson spoke with deep regret of Dr. Kelly's departure from the city and said he would be missed from the ranks of the physicians. Dr. McPherson on behalf of the Peterboro Medical Society then presented to Dr. Kelly a tea service and tray.

Dr. Kelly's Reply.

Dr. Kelly, although taken completely by surprise replied thanking the Society for the handsome tea service and tray and assured them that he would never forget his coworkers in the Medical Society and that he was leaving the city for Bobcaygeon believing that a smaller town offered more opportunities. Referring to Dr. McPherson's praise for his services overseas, he said that he only did his duty and did not deserve such high commendation.

Short speeches were also delivered by Dr. W. O. Scott, Dr. J. S. Mann and other medical men all of whom spoke of the good work and qualities of Dr. Kelly and regretted his leaving but united in wishing him success in his new field of labour.

MUSIC AND FUN TO REIGN SUPREME

THREE FAMOUS COMIC OPERAS TO BE PRESENTED AT GRAND, BEGINNING WITH "THE MIKADO" TO-NIGHT.

The presentation of three of the most famous comic operas ever written by one of the greatest company of artists that has ever visited this city, forms a theatrical attraction that should crowd the Grand Opera House to-night, to-morrow afternoon and evening. The comic operas of the Gilbert-Sullivan era have never been surpassed for clever fun and tuneful music. While the latter day musical comedy contains only one or two song hits, "The Miracle," "H.M.S. Pinafore" and the rest are full of catchy numbers. And with the fun in charge of such a capable organization as Jefferson De Angelis, there should be laughs galore in the three offerings of the Gaiety English Comic Opera Company. Never has Peterborough had a chance to see such a sterling cast in comic opera as this organization brings to the city with an ensemble of close to one hundred people and a splendid symphony orchestra. To-night "The Mikado" will be given, while at the matinee to-morrow, "H.M.S. Pinafore" will be the attraction. Planquette's "The Chimes of Normandy" will be heard to-morrow night. Clever comedy and fitting music will feature all three performances and there will undoubtedly be large audiences. The Japanese prima donna, Hana Shimozumi, will be heard only in "The Mikado," in which she takes the role of Yum Yum.

Paper Shortage

PAPERS WILL HAVE TO SUSPEND UNLESS SITUATION IMPROVES

PAPER FAMINE

MONTREAL, December 10. — A clear warning to newspaper publishers on this side of the Atlantic about the prodigal consumption of paper, was uttered yesterday by Mr. George F. Steele, President of the Canadian Export Paper Company, Limited, who has just returned from a visit to the Old Country that was just as brief as it could be, since he spent only two days on that side. "There is a world shortage of paper; everywhere is the same tale," he said. "There is plenty of opportunity to sell paper, but the difficulty is to meet the demand. Publishers on this side will have to face the situation: otherwise there is going to be some suspensions of papers very soon it they don't take warning."

LAY WITH BROKEN LEG UNTIL POLICE ARRIVED

While walking up George street last evening Garritt McMurray slipped on the curb at the corner of London street and broke a bone above the joint of his left ankle. Constables Boyd and Wigg were called. They found McMurray lying beside the sidewalk unable to walk and in great pain. P. C. Boyd improvised a temporary bandage and in the meantime Dr. Gallivan was called. McMurray was then taken to St. Joseph's hospital, where the fractured leg was dressed, Dr. Gallivan commending the first aid work of the policemen.

MINERS INTEND TO ABIDE BY DECISION OF LEADERS

WARRANT OUT FOR A THIRD PERSON

(United Press.)

HAMMONSTON, N.J., Dec. 10—Although county officers refused to make known the identity of the third person for whom a warrant is said to have been issued in connection with the death of Billy Dansey, Lewis White maintained to-day that it was his wife Susan upon whom the officers had sought to serve a warrant.

A BRITISH FLYER REACHES OBJECTIVE

CAPTAIN ROSS A NEST EGG OF TEN THOUSAND POUNDS.

(Special to The Examiner.)

LONDON, Dec. 10.—Captain Ross Smith, the British aviator, has completed the first flight from London to Australia, according to a message received to-day.

He landed at Port Darwin, in the northern territory of South Australia, according to the message.

"All's well," said Smith.

Smith flew a Vickers-Vimy aeroplane.

This successful flight entitles him to the prize of ten thousand pounds sterling offered for the first aviator to make the voyage.

Smith left Hounslow, London, on 12th November, reached Cairo on 18th November, Delhi, India, on 23rd November. From there he continued east until he reached Rangoon, turning southward at that city, making a number of stops along the Malay Peninsula, and in the Islands of Oceanica. He arrived at Bima, near Java, on Monday night.

Port Darwin is near the northernmost tip of Australia.

Under the conditions laid down by the Australian Government when it offered the prize for making the flight from Britain to Australia, the distance of 12,500 miles had to be covered within thirty days.

THE WEATHER

Several parties have asked how this winter compares with last year. It will be remembered that December of last year was comparatively mild, and the winter as a whole was unusually moderate. Below zero figures last December were recorded on but four mornings, and the lowest was but 6 below zero on the 27th. While there was fair sleighing from the 4th to the 9th, it did not stay. From the 15th to the 20th the weather was particularly fine and springlike. Good sleighing began the day before Christmas. December of 1917, went to the other extreme and was unusually severe. There were ten days below, the coldest days being the 29th and 30th, with 27 below There were a number of severe storms during the month.—W. P.

Some interesting spring wraps will be made of tinsel tricolettes.

CARS MOBILIZED AT THE MINES READY TO TRANSPORT COAL —MINERS AFFECTED BY THE SHORTAGE.

LATE REPORTS

(United Press.)

CHICAGO, Dec. 10.— Springfield reports indicated the miners intended to abide by the decision of the union chiefs at Indianapolis.

Cars were reported mobilized at the mines.

Miners at Coal Valley, near Rock Island, 187 in number, were to return to work to-day, regardless of the outcome of the negotiations.

Three mines with a capacity of 550 tons daily, were to open to supply urgent domestic needs of the miners themselves.

Missouri mines, recently seized by Governor Gardner, were producing coal to-day.

Fifteen strip mines in Barton county were working.

Production in Kansas, where volunteer miners who have been working in strip mines, continued to-day.

Pittsburg and Kansas bankers agreed to assume $80,000 receivers certificates to finance mine operations.

Montana volunteer miners were reported producing coal in increasing quantities to-day.

STRONG OPPOSITION.

(Canadian Press.)

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Dec. 10. —The settlement of the strike of coal miners to-day and the speedy resumption of work was strongly forecast this morning by officials of the United Mine Workers of America before the organisation's general committee resumed consideration of President Wilson's proposal for ending the tie-up.

This prediction was made in face of strong opposition, which developed yesterday, and which probably will prolong the argument for and against the President's plan.

One high in the counsels of the Miners' Union late last night, however, declared that the conservative element in the conference was in the majority, and that the agreement to end the strike was [illegible] question came up for the [illegible]

At yesterday's meeting it is understood the committee members were divided into two or more factions, one of which strongly favoured the adoption of the new proposal and another of which opposed any settlement other than that embodied in the miners' early demands.

The third division, it was said, took the position that as the general convention of miners had formulated the demands and ordered the strike in the event of the operators refusing to grant them, the general session would be required to call off the strike.

The General Committee of the United Mine Workers of America reconvened shortly before ten o'clock this morning for the further consideration of President Wilson's proposal for ending the strike of the bituminous coal miners.

It was generally expected that the proposal, providing for the immediate return to work of miners at an increase of 14 per cent. in wages and appointment of a commission of three men to adiust wages, would be accepted before the conference adjourned for the day.

PARENTS SEEK TO RECOVER THEIR CHILDREN FROM CHILDREN'S SHELTER

BOARD DECIDES TO COMPLY WITH NUMEROUS REQUESTS UNLESS CHILDREN ARE PROPERLY CARED FOR—MONTHLY MEETING CHILDREN'S AID SOCIETY.

Mr. J. P. Strickland, on behalf of a client, whose children have been taken from his care, by the Children's Aid Society, yesterday afternoon addressed the Society, and urged the members to use more haste in disposing of the children one way or another.

Mr. E. A. Peck stated that the delay had been solely for the benefit of the children, that the Society might investigate the case thoroughly in their interests. The matter of their disposal was finally left to the committee of Dr. D. C. King and Adjutant Wallace Bunton to report to Mr. Peck and Mr. Wearing, whose decision in the matter will be final.

Mr. Strickland also made an appeal for the return of another man's children to him and his wife. His client in this case, who was present, stated that the accusations made against him in the police court of his being too lazy to work, were incorrect and unproven, and urged the return of his family.

Ald. Edgar said that as the Society pays the agent, Mr. G. W. Powell, to look after the interests of neglected children, and that he had shown himself thoroughly competent to do so, he should be in a position to thoroughly advise the Board in all matters of the kind, and urged that such matters be left with him.

Acting upon Mr. Edgar's advice the second case brought up by Mr. Strickland, was left with Mr. Powell to report to the secretary and treasurer.

A third case of parents seeking to recover children was dealt with and the mother allowed the custody of her children, with a warning that they are still under the supervision of the Society.

$2100 in Victory Bonds.

Mr. Peck's action in investing $2100 of the general funds of the Society in Victory Bonds, was confirmed by the Board.

Agent's Report.

The agent reported 15 children in the Shelter during the month, 13 still there, 4 applications for children during the month, and three brought in not wards.

Members Present.

The members of the Board present at the monthly meeting of the Board which preceded the annual meeting, were Mr. E. A. Peck in the chair, Rev. C. J. Phelan, Messrs. R. H. Parsons, H. B. Cowan, S. T. Medd, John Edgar, and Mesdames Walker Stocker, W. A. Sanderson, J. Knox, W. Turner, W Evans, W. H. Gibbs, and Kimberley. Mr. J. H. Burnham, M. P., also paid a brief visit.

Few People Know This

Large doses of pills for the liver are not as efficient as small doses.

The big dose purges its way through the system fast, but does not cleanse thoroughly.

The small dose (if right) acts gently on the liver, and gives it just the slight help it needs to do its own work, and do it well.

Take one pill regularly, until you know you are all right.

DENIKIN'S ARMY FIGHTING IN SNOW

BUT VOLUNTEERS HOLD FIRM

TAGANROG—Winter has set in early, and snow is falling even in Rostov. The troops at the front are fighting in snowstorms alternating with thaws that reduce the roads to morasses.

The population in the rea is facing the prospect of a long winter with a serious shortage of fuel and clothing and with prices rapidly rising on account of the steady fall in the ruble.

In the vast area under control of Denikin there are difficulties and anxieties at every turn, economic, financial and political. It is easier to beat the Red armies at the front than to cope with the terrible aftermath of Bolshevism and brigandage. It is not a work of two or three days, but of months, perhaps years, to restore sense and a habit of order in a population which in many districts during the last two years has experienced as many as eleven changes of governments, one more fantastic and unexpected than the other, and has lost confidence in every idea of normal government and continued operation of law and justice.

All classes are more or less demoralized. The screws of impulse or habit that held society together are loosened or have fallen out. The ranks of the active and the capable are sadly thinned by murder, wide wandering and physical or moral breakdown. Denikin has worked wonders, but he is not a magician. He cannot create prosperity and happiness in a day. He has to work with the material at his disposal, and that material is very much the worse for wear.

There are many hopeful signs. The number of volunteers for the army far exceeds the capacity of the army to receive them. During the recent Bolshevist raid on Kiev the local workmen volunteered and valiantly defended the city. The Galicians seceded from Petlura and are negotiating with Denikin. The remnants of Petlura's force are beaten, his officers are coming over to the volunteer army and Petlura himself is in full flight. Maikhon's movement, that at one time looked dangerous, is now reduced to a tiny area.

True, the position at the front is trying, for the moment the Bolsheviki have not only concentrated their biggest and best force in an attempt to break Denikin's armies at the centre. They have improved their military methods. They have formed several strong forces of cavalry. They have abolished front commissars and intrusted the leadership to trained officers.

The volunteers army may temporarily retire, but it will not be beaten and will soon recover the initiative.

The Black Death of 1348 killed twenty million of Europe's inhabitants and one-third of Britain's population.

CONTRADICTORY EVIDENCE IN ALLEGED SLANDER CASE

SAYS DOGS CAUSED THE BABY'S DEATH

Mrs. Alfred A. Perrin, Burnham street, well known in Peterboro [illegible] her successes in amateur theatricals, was the defendant in the first case before Judge Huycke in the December sessions of the County Court. It was an action for $500 damages instituted by William J. Welsh for alleged slander. The plaintiff Welsh declared that the words complained of were uttered on July [illegible] at noon as the result of an epi[illegible] the details of which were more or less clouded by the contradictory evidence of the opposing parties.

Welsh alleged that in the presence of Mayor Duncan, Mrs. Maude Ferrin and Mrs. Welsh, the defendant maliciously called him a beast, a brute, a liar, sneak, common trash, a murderer and other slanderous epithets.

These were flatly denied by Mrs. Perrin who acknowledged that she had called Mr. Welsh a beast. It was brought out in the hearing that Welsh had bred dogs on his property and that Mrs. Perrin believed her baby had died a few weeks after birth from the noise the dogs made. From what time, at any rate, she had ceased to be friendly toward Mr. and Mrs. Welsh.

The evidence for the prosecution was given by Mr. and Mrs. Welsh, and for the defense by Mrs. Perrin and her mother Mrs. Alice Hollingsworth. None of the other persons mentioned in the statement of claim were called to the box. Mr. G. N. Gordon was solicitor for the plaintiff and Mr. Kerr and Mr. McElderry for Mrs. Perrin.

Plaintiff's Testimony.

W. J. Welsh stated that he was a barber, conducting a shop at 42 Hunter street. He lived next door to Mrs. Perrin. On July 25th last he was sitting on his back verandah playing with his child. His wife was also there. Mrs. Perrin, he said, in a fit of temper came out of her house and called him the names complained of, which he declared injured his standing in the community and also hurt his business.

Mr. Gordon—What had you said before that?

Mr. Welsh—Nothing.

Did you say anything to her?—No. I spoke to her mother who was standing near her and said Mrs. Perrin would be sorry for what she had said.

Mr. Gordon—How far was this from the street?—About thirty feet. There were some persons passing down the street.

Did they hear it?—Certainly. The one ahead stopped and listened. They were evidently men from the Quaker Oats. I was too dumfounded to find out who they were.

Was there any truth in her statements?—None whatever.

Do you know any of the passerby?—Yes, one. Mr. Hoperoft. He joked me about it after.

Was he a customer of yours?—Yes.

Has he quit coming to your shop?—Yes.

Do you think that is the reason?—Yes I think it is.

The Cross Examination.

Plaintiff was then cross-examined by Mr. Kerr.

You swear that you said nothing to Mrs. Perrin to give her grounds for calling you what she did?—I will swear that. We had no misunderstanding at all.

You said nothing to Mrs. Perrin after she spoke to you?—No.

Were you angry?—No.

Then why did you advance toward her?—I don't know.

Witness said he took only one step and that thirteen feet intervened between them. A wire fence divided the two properties.

Do you ever remember Mrs. Perrin objecting to you keeping and raising dogs, which she says annoyed her baby?—No, never.

Did the neighbours ever complain about the dogs?—No.

Did you ever tell Mrs. Perrin that the officials couldn't force you to get rid of the dogs?—No.

Plaintiff said that Mayor Duncan had told him Mrs. Perrin was sorry and would apologise for what she had said.

Continuing:—I said all right. If she's sorry we'll give her twenty-four hours to apologize. So I went over and saw Mr. Gordon, and I understood he wrote her a letter. The Mayor didn't quote the words. I understood from him that she had used the same words in telling him about it.

Welsh told Mr. Kerr he was 31 years old.

Mrs. Amy Edith Welsh.

Mrs. Welsh, wife of the plaintiff corroborated her husband's testimony in her examination by Mr. Gordon.

In cross-examination Mr. Kerr asked her what her husband had said in reply to Mrs. Perrin.

"He didn't say anything and neither did I. We were dumfounded."

Mr. Kerr observed his questions as to possible causes of irritation on Mrs. Perrin's part.

"There was nothing as far as I know," replied Mrs. Welsh. "You could hear her across the street. My husband said to Mrs. Hollingsworth —"You're my witness. I'll make her pay for that."

First Time in Court.

Mrs. Jennie Perrin said she lived at 272 Burnham street. Her husband is a commercial traveler. She had never been in court before, she told Mr. Kerr.

After taking her place on the stand she removed her tam shaped hat.

She presented a diagram of her property and that of Mr. Welsh, showing where the latter's dogs had been kept and where they were now, farther back on the lot.

Mr. Gordon objected that it had not been produced before, and protested when Mr. Kerr used the word "humbug" in referring to the interruption.

"I've stood for more abuse in this court than I intend to take" he asserted.

Defendant's Story.

"I heard Mr. Welsh calling my boy" Mrs. Perrin began. "I went outside. My mother went out with me. I asked my boy what he had done. He told me he had been playing with a little girl, holding a pail over the Welsh side of the fence. Then I heard Mr. Welsh say from his side—"He's a dirty little liar." He repeated it three or four times."

"I told Mr. Welsh I'd take the child's word before his on a stack of bibles.

He said "you've had it in for me for a long time."

I replied that I had good cause to have it in for him. "Your dogs killed my baby" I said.

He said to my mother "you're my witness. She said I was a murderer." I said: "Oh, no, Mr. Welch. Your dogs killed my baby."

He said "you've been to every official in the city about my dogs, but you can't do anything, they're fixed.

Judge Huycke checked this divergence, stating that it was irrevelant. He counselled Mrs. Perrin not to digress from the main happening.

"Dogs came before babies in your estimation" I said.

He said "They do. I've had a child and raised it." He looked at it from the man's standpoint he said, and I from the woman's

I said "Mr. Welsh you're a beast."

"Then I turned and went in the house."

Mr. Gordon interrupted the plaintiff in an excited response.

"This woman's giving us one of those recitations and I object" he said.

"Oh, I'm not" Mrs. Perrin replied. Mr. Kerr—Mr. Welsh was angry?

Mrs. Perrin—He was very angry and very white. He was close to me, and I was afraid he was going to strike me."

She had been on speaking terms with Mr. and Mrs. Welsh until her baby died, she swore.

Mr. Kerr—What age was your child when it died?

Judge Huycke disallowed this question.

Cross-Examination.

Cross-examined by Mr. Gordon, Mrs. Perrin said she had lived in Camden, N.J.

You were interested in theatrical matters?—Yes.

In the United States?—I took part in things in church.

Plaintiff said she had also appeared in several amateur productions in Peterboro.

After another verbal exchange between Mr. Gordon and Mr. Kerr which drew a mild rebuke from Judge Huycke, Mrs. Perrin told Mr. Gordon that she was not high tempered.

"Not like you [illegible]" remarked His Honour.

Mrs. Perrin admitted that she lost her temper.

Mr. Gordon—You fell anybody that you would rather take six months than give an apology?—Certainly not.

Did you say that it was not your practice to give apologies?

Mrs. Perrin, gesticulating, exclaimed "Do you think that I've got to apologize to ——," when Mr. Gordon interrupted with the remark—"We don't want any theatricals."

Defendant denied that she had said she wouldn't apologize.

Lasted Half An Hour.

Mr. Gordon—There was a good deal of conversation between you and Welsh that day?

Mrs. Perrin—About half an hour.

No damages were asked?—No you told me to apologize for abuse and slander.

And you deny it?—Certainly.

Mrs. Perrin said she had never used the word murderer at any time.

Mr. Gordon—You weren't on speaking terms with Mr. and Mrs. Welsh?—Not for a year.

You spoke to their boy?—Yes, every time I met him.

Mr. and Mrs. Welsh didn't speak to you?—I didn't look to see.

Do you remember swearing at Welsh?—No.

Or pulling down the blinds when they had visitors on their verandah?—Certainly not, none of these nattylike things.

Reading from the examination for discovery, Mr. Gordon read the question "You are not of a very mild disposition? Is that correct?—Yes.

"Were you in a temper that morning?—Yes.

Do you deny that you used any of the words but "beast?"—That is true.

Mrs. Perrin said that she looked the other way whenever she met Mr. Welsh. For the same reason she didn't speak to his wife.

Mr. Gordon—Mrs. Welsh is a kindly spoken woman?—I never knew there was a Mrs. Welsh till I moved here.

And you don't intend to speak to them?—Certainly not now.

Mrs. Hollingsworth.

Mrs. Alice Hollingsworth, mother of the defendant, recalled that Mr. Welsh had said about his dogs, "Here's where I want them and here's where I'm going to keep them."

She denied with resentment, that her daughter had struck her on the face the day of the altercation.

"My daughter and I are chums," she answered. "Nothing like that could happen."

Mr. Gordon, in cross-examination: "Your daughter is temperamental?"—"She's high-strung."

"That day?"—"Never."

Witness further testified that Mrs. Perrin had not used the words alleged by Mr. Welsh. She had called him a beast.

Mr. Gordon tried to score a point out of a seeming contradiction, Mrs. Perrin had sworn that her six-year-old son had not been in the drawing-room during a recent conference with Mr. Kerr, but that he had been called in to answer two questions. Mrs. Hollingsworth said the boy had been in the room all the time.

Mr. Kerr adduced an explanation from Mrs. Hollingsworth that the boy was playing in the hall off the drawing-room, practically one and the same room.

Mr. Welsh Recalled.

Recalled by Mr. Gordon, the plaintiff denied Mrs. Perrin's story practically in its entirety. He swore that he had said nothing to her that day, and that he did not shake his fist at her.

That closed the defence at six o'clock, and the Court adjourned until this morning, when counsel addressed the jury.

"Peterborough Presents Possibilities Unsurpassed."

WEDNESDAY, DEC. 10TH, 1919.

WHY NOT IN PETERBORO?

The announcement o fHon. Manning Doherty, Minister of Agriculture that his department proposes to support the Winter Fair at Guelph, in spite of rumors that the new Government was not favorable to this project, brings to the fore again the question of a similar fair at Peterboro for the benefit of the farmers and stock-raisers of Eastern Ontario. The Guelph Winter Fair admirably serves Western Ontario but is of little advantage to the residents of the eastern part of the Province. Peterboro would be an ideal location for an Eastern Ontario Fair and the attention of the new Government should be called to the fact by representations from the different local societies, such as the Peterboro Industrial Exhibition, the Board of Trade, the Farmers' Clubs and other organizations who might well get together and confer with the Government on this important matter. Eastern Ontario is not very strongly represented in the new Cabinet, from a numerical standpoint, but Premier Drury has pledged himself that the interests of all sections will be treated alike so that he will doubtless give sympathetic attention to the request of Peterboro for consideration in regard to a Winter Fair.

PLATFORMS, PLEASE.

There are two candidates in the field for the mayoralty; it is possible that there may be a third aspirant. So far the two candidates who have announced themselves, Ald. A. A. McIntyre and Ald. Wm. Taylor, have confined themselves to the mere statement that they are seekers after the Chief Magistrate's position, an announcement that is interesting of course but from which the electors can base a choice. The time seems to have arrived when the ratepayers are justified in asking of the worthy aldermen what their platform will be, what attitude they intend to take towards the problems that are already facing next year's Council, what plans they have in view for Peterboro's development? These are reasonable questions which should find the aldermanic candidates in a receptive mood. While municipal platforms, like those used by political parties are often a good deal like the brakeman's reminder to the passengers "this platform is only to get in on; not to travel on." Yet the citizens have a right to ask of those who seek the chief office in the community what their policy is to be.

Ambition to hold office is not the only attribute that people have the right to demand of Mayoralty candidates. They would like to know something of what these candidates plan for the future. And there is no reason why they should not be told about these things.

MUDDLED RECORDS.

It is a surprising announcement that comes from Ottawa, that owing to the badly muddled condition of the [illegible] records, the actual number of Canadians who served in France will probably never be known. Mistakes among the records have been frequently encountered during the war and since the Armistice was signed—Returned soldiers and their families have been the victims of clerical errors of one kind or another which resulted in such complications as the wife of a soldier still serving being cut off the separation allowance list because some other soldier of the same name had been discharged. Mistakes in handling of such a large [illegible] will of course more or less [illegible] and were regarded as such by the public, but it was not thought that the records were in such confusion that it would be impossible even to officially state the total number of members of the Canadian Expeditionary Force who served in France. The muddle must be charged to inefficiency and mismanagement and not to lack of clerical assistance for a staff of fifteen officers and three hundred and fifty other ranks was employed at General Headquarters in France. Ever since the war ended the public have been making a query from one source or another to the Militia Department asking for the exact figures as to the number of Canadians in France, revealed the fact that the records were [illegible] a staff of several hundred has been endeavoring without results to unravel the muddle but without definite result. It is a story of inefficiency and carelessness upon which those who are re-

THE RIVERSIDE PARK PURCHASE.

In putting before the ratepayers at the January elections a by-law affording an opportunity to secure for Peterboro a magnificent park and athletic grounds by the purchase of Riverside Park and the adjoining properties, the City Council has shown a commendable vision and a real interest in the public welfare upon which the aldermen are to be congratulated. The securing of this property by the city would be a long step towards the ideal of a bigger and better Peterboro. Nearly all of the land bordering the Otonabee River within the city limits has been allowed in the years gone by to get into private lands and with the exception of Inverlea Park at the North which Peterboro possesses only through the generosity of a public-spirited citizen, there has been no place along the water front that the citizens could call their own.

Riverside Park, in the centre of the city and with the river running to the west and south could be made one of the most beautiful recreation grounds in the country, the home of our Peterboro's summer sports and a breathing spot for the whole city. The possibilities offered of making this property an enjoyment centre in the years to come are so great that the by-law that is to be voted on in January should be regarded as the dawn of a new era in Peterboro—an era in which more attention will be paid to the making of this city a wonderful place in which to live. Too little attention has in the past been devoted to the feature of civic development; too much of our attention has been directed to strictly materialistic things.

Many communities have made the same mistake. For instance Walter Purcelle publicity director of the American city bureau tells of one city that found at least the value of community development in the following sermonette:

There is a city in Michigan whose citizens once raised a fund of $50,000 to be spent in what someone has described as the business of "factory grabbing." The money was so spent in three years. It did not bring a single new industry to the town. When the fund was about exhausted the organization met to wind up its affairs. The motion had been made and seconded, when a leading citizen arose.

"We have spent our money," he said, "and haven't a thing to show for it. This has set me to wondering if we were not on the wrong track. While we have been trying to bring factories here, we have overlooked our own city. The streets are out of repair. We have no parks. Our schools, fire and police departments are a joke. The city hasn't enough civic spirit to light a bonfire. Now, instead of going out of business, suppose we all chip in to another fund and spend that money trying to improve our home city. Let's try it for a year, anyway."

His enthusiasm prevailed. At the end of the year the results were such that the organization financed itself for another year, and then a third.

When the third year had run its course the same leading citizen made another little speech:

"We spent $50,000 to get new factories, and didn't get one. We have spent about the same amount to see how good a town we could make of this, and now look at the inventory: More than a dozen new industries have quietly come in and made their homes here. We have gained 40 per cent. in population. We have good streets, good schools, several parks, efficient fire and police protection, and we are all loudly and proudly telling the rest of the country that this is the best city on the continent. We not only believe it, but we show it and if called on, we can prove it."

BOLSHEVISM'S FAILURE.

It is very interesting, but very harrowing, to see how terribly Russia is suffering from the mad idea of the Bolsheviki that they can upset the civilized methods which have been evolved by the experience of man through the centuries. No doubt there have been and are evils in these methods which have required and do need drastic measures to correct, but that Bolshevism is the panacea for them has been amply disproved. The latest proofs of this have been given by Mr. Hoover, whose name is sufficient to stamp them as correct and authoritative.

He says that nearly two-thirds of the railways and three-fourths of the rolling stock that they control are out of operation. The whole population is without any normal comforts of life and plunged into the most grievous famine of centuries. Its people are dying at the rate of hundreds of thousands monthly from starvation and disease. Its capital city has diminished in population from nearly two million to less than 600,000. Prices have risen to fantastic levels. The streets of every city and village have run with the blood of executions; nor have these executions been confined to the so-called middle and upper classes, for, latterly, the opposition of the workmen and farmers to this regime has brought them also to the firing squad in appalling numbers.

If we examine the recent proclamations of this group of mixed idealists and murderers, we find a radical change in their economic and social ideas. They have abandoned the socialization of the land, for they find the farmer will not produce for payment in highflown and altruistic phrases. They have re-established a differential wage in an attempt to stimulate exertion and ambition of skilled labor. They have established a State Savings Bank, in order to stimulate production through making provision for family and old age. They are offering fabulous salaries for men capable of directing the large agencies of production. In fact, while in the midst of flowered verbal endeavor to maintain that they are still Socialists, they are not endeavoring to restore individual ownership of property and of the results of labor. The very High Priest of Socialism is today vainly endeavoring to save his people from their total destruction by summoning back the forces of production. The apologists of this debacle are telling us that it is due to the Allied blockade, and to various other oppositions, but any one with a rudimentary knowledge of Russia knows that they did have within her borders ample supplies of food, coal, oil, wool, flax, cotton and metals, and the factories with which to work them in abundance, and that their sole deficiency is human effort. What does all this mean but a confession of failure.—Kingston Standard.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

LORD LEVERHULME, at Toronto, declared that "the men who work whether with hand or brain are the men in whose lap the comforts and luxuries of the age should be poured, for they have earned them." If the average man should put the emphasis upon "WORK" and "EARNED" rather than upon "comforts" and "luxuries," the great economic and social problems would be much more simple of solution. There are comfort and luxuries for all who earn them, but there is danger that few will ever have these if a large faction used organized force to endeavor to obtain them without earning them.—Financial Post.

The problem of the present menace to civilization is simply one of getting men to work, says the Buffalo Express.

The mild weather of the past few days is a better fuel saver than any Government's Controller could possibly be.

London doctors says there is peril in moustaches of the "Old Bill" variety. The Germans found this out five years ago and have always regarded the facial adornment of the "Old Walrus" as a danger signal.

WATCH FIRE RISK IN CHRISTMAS SEASON

The Canadian Fire Underwriters Association have sent out their annual warning to policyholders respecting the use of inflammable Christmas decorations, drawing particular attention to temporary electric wiring and other lighting which they declare it is impossible to make absolutely safe, when used with cotton and other decorative materials.

They quote from the Statutory Conditions on all fire insurance policies, which shows the holders' risk in using such material.

"Any change material to the risk, but within the control or knowledge of the insured, shall avoid the policy, as to the part affected thereby, unless the change is promptly notified in writing to the company or its local agent."

Insure Better Belt Traction

The adhesion of a belt on a Dodge Wrapped Pulley is greater than the adhesion on a metal pulley of equal belt tension. The reason is that there is less belt slippage when the wooden surface runs over the metal surface.

Then there also is less weight friction because the Dodge Wrapped Pulley is so much lighter and so much better balanced. It may be run at high speeds without bearings.

The interchangeable Dodge system makes it adaptable to any standard shafting.

It is a mighty good all-around standard service pulley that will meet the demands of all ordinary—and most extraordinary—shop practice. In addition to which it costs less to buy.

Try a few Dodge Wood-Split Pulleys in your plant. They will justify your investment.

"COUSIN" HUGGED HIM

CHESTER, Pa.— Throwing her arms around Samuel Goldstein as he stood on a street corner Miss Kitty Moriarity insisted he was her cousin, whom she had not seen since he sailed for overseas a couple of years ago and whom she had been mourning as dead. Goldstein convinced her he was not her relative and left. An hour or two later he discovered that his wallet, containing $170, was missing.

PARIS.—Minoru, pet racer of King Edward, the only horse that ever won a Derby for the Royal house of Windsor, is dead. He died of a broken heart. It was the king's dying request that the horse should never be sold. Lord Beresford's stable manager, however, disregarded the wish, and sold the steed for a song. The horse's new boss was a cab driver. Minoru stood his new job just one day. Then he lay down and died.

DECEMBER SESSION COUNTY COURT

HIS HONOUR JUDGE HUYCKE IS PRESIDING—ADDRESS TO GRAND JURY.

The December sittings of the County Court opened yesterday with His Honor Judge Huycke presiding. Addressing the Grand Jury Judge Huycke outlined their duties. "The Grand Jury," said His Honor, "represented the Crown on one hand and the individual on the other. The members of the jury were also guardians of the public purse. "It will be your duty," said Judge Huycke, "to inspect the jails, hospitals, and other charitable institutions and see that the money is well spent and that such institutions are being carried on in a satisfactory manner.

"If there is anything you see that you believe could be remedied it will be your duty to report it to me, and it will receive the proper attention. Not only is it your duty to remedy anything at fault, but it is also your duty to commend anything or any person that seems to deserve commendation. That will be your duty as regards the expenditure of public money."

His Honor dwelt on the fact that there were two very old men, one 80, now in jail as vagrants, who, he thought, should be in the Home or House of Refuge. He also spoke of the deplorable case of the five unfortunate prisoners now awaiting death sentence and stated that he could not say as to whether they would be forced to pay the maximum penalty or not. Nevertheless, he said, the case is very pathetic and sad.

Your other duties will be light, as there are only two cases and both are for theft.

"You," he said, "are to protect the public on one hand and the individual on the other." His Honor also dwelt on the general procedure of the Grand Jury and outlined their work to them.

We should be thankful the war is over. We are prosperous and are singularly free from revolution and upheaval and we should all be very thankful for it, continued Judge Huycke.

War Memorials.

There is a great destiny for Canada, he said. We have the highest civilization the world has ever known and our people will not listen to agitators for one minute. This civilization is due to the gallantry and self-denial of our boys in the trenches, and the people at home.

"There is one thing," the judge said "that I do not want to see done hastily, and that is in the erection of a memorial in commemoration of the boys who died in the Great War. Every school, every church and commemorate in some fitting way the boys who laid down their lives in the great struggle and these memorials should be an inspiration and an appeal to the coming generation.

The judge concluded by saying he hoped the city council and county council, the schools and churches, would all take the matter up and see that such memorials would be erected.

The First Case.

The first case called was that of William J. Welch versus Mrs. Perrin in which the plaintiff seeks to recover from the defendant the sum of $500 for alleged defamation of character.

DR. CHAFER'S ADDRESS

"FINISHED WORK"

"The Unfinished Work of Christ" was the subject of Dr. Chafer's address Monday in St .Paul's Church. The attendance was large for a Monday evening, and the interest was intense and deep. His address was devoted to an exposition of three great words of the New Testament, Redemption, Reconciliation, and Propitiation, as these three words explain and relate themselves to Christ's finished work. Of Redemption he said that it was paying the price. The ransom of the sinner was effected by the death penalty of the innocent Substitute. As Redeemer, Christ paid the price. He took out, set free, and released all who were in the slave pen of sin ,so that they might never again be the slaves of sin. The sinner who accepts what Christ has done, who accepts his freedom, can never again be the bondslave of sin.

Reconciliation is to remove the cause of the offence which was sin. Christ as the Lamb of God has done this. He took it out of the way, nailing it to His cross. He bore it away as the scapegoat bore Israel's sin away in the day of atonement. The issue now between God and the unsaved sinner is not an issue of sin at all, but the issue of accepting or rejecting what Christ has done. God is holding the sinner accountable for refusing to accept the reconciling work of the Redeemer.

The last great word is Propitiation, and this means a divinely provided place of meeting, the place where God alone can meet the sinner. God is as infinitely holy He cannot meet a sinful man without judgment on his sin, and a sinful man cannot come into the presence of the all-holy God without being afraid of God's righteous wrath upon sin. But He has provided a meeting-place in the cross of Calvary. What the mercy seat was in the Old Testament that Jesus Christ is to the returning sinner. Christ is his propitiation. The very blood-sprinkled body of the Son of God on the cross has become the divinely provided place of meeting where now a guilty sinner can come to God without fear, and the Righteous God can receive that soul apart from all judgments and condemnation.

Dr. Chafer spoke in the afternoon on the subject "Grace," dwelling specially on grace teaching the child of God how to live. He will speak every afternoon at 3.30 o'clock, and in the evening at 8 o'clock.

A most effective duet was sung by Dr. and Mrs. Chafer at the evening service. Mrs. Chafer sang a solo in the afternoon.

ONE CASE SETTLED; ANOTHER ADJOURNS

Upon Mr. Joseph Wearing's application for the plaintiff the case of the Monarch Life Assurance Co. vs. Jim Hum was adjourned until the next sittings of the County Court by Judge Huycke yesterday. Mr. G. N. Gordon for the defendant assented.

McKay vs. Bulelgh Ranching Company.

Mr. O. A. Langley for the plaintiff, Elijah McKay, moved for judgment on the pleadings, Mr. Gordon for the defendants. The action was brought for arrears of wages and for wrongful dismissal. Defendants had not filed a defence though they had appeared. Mr. Langley stated that there was no desire to press for the damages and without further discussion judgment was granted the plaintiff as claimed in his statement of claim except as to damages and with full costs of action to the plaintiff.

PLANS FOR BABIES WELFARE WORK

A meeting composed of representatives from the Local Council of Women and other important Women's organizations, and a committee from the Peterboro Medical Society, was held to draft definite plans for the establishment of a Well Babies Clinic in our city.

Certain plans had already been made by the committee in charge of this work, and these were brought before the Medical men present and met with their approval. The work will have for its object, the Conservation of Child Life.

It is proposed to secure the registration of all children in the city under four years of age.

Suitable premises have already been secured where the mothers will be asked to meet at different times, and where the general principles of caring for children will be taught. This will be done by lectures, by actual demonstrations, and by sets of moving pictures.

Further, it is proposed to have a doctor assisted by a trained nurse in attendance to examine all children brought to the Clinic. Those in need of medical care will be referred to their family physican.

This work has already been established in nearly all cities of the size of Peterboro, and needs only to be understood by the citizens to meet with their approval and co-opeeration.

We are beginning to waken up to the value of child life, to our nation, theoretically, but very little actual work has been done to ensure to the babies of this or other cities, the best possible care that can be provided for them. The lack of proper care, comes not from lack of love, but from lack of knowledge, and this is true of mothers among all classes.

There are schools for the purpose of teaching those interested, how to successfully feed and house and care for animals and their young, but there are no schools where mothers or expectant mothers may go to learn how to best care for their young—the most helpless of all. Many mothers must depend upon indiscriminate reading or upon advice given by other women, for as a rule, the advice of a doctor is sought only when the baby becomes ill.

Further reports will be given as the work progresses.

(From the London Chroncile.)

"But who knows about Quiberon, one of the greatest sea fights?" asks Lord Fisher in the last serial chapter at his "Memories." Unfortunately, our classical history books throw little light on this remarkable sea scrap, fought in the teeth of a stiff northwesterly gale on November 20th, 1759. Perhaps its chief importance lay in the fact that Hawke came out of Tor Bay just in time to upset Conflan's plan of a raid of Scotland, and his success dispelled at a stroke the English night mare of a French invasion.

When Conflans, with 21 sail of the line on look-out for a squadron of British boats, spotted Hawke's fleet, he made a dash for Quiberon Bay, in the fond hope that his British pursuers would be stranded on the rocks. But the gallant Hawke, taking all risks, sank five of the enemy, severely crippled four, and scattered the rest in different ports, where they were easily blockaded. And Hawke's total casualties were only two boats, which ran on the rocks.

CHILDREN'S AID SOCIETY REPORTS

Mr. E. A. Peck retiring president of the Children's Aid Society in his report presented at the annual meeting yesterday said:

The report of the Secretary Treasurer and the Agent will deal substantially with the operations of the past year, and a few words from me only may be expected.

One event worthy of record was the Celebration of the Twenty-fifth Anniversary of the establishment of a Branch of this Society in Peterborough. The Society was favored with a visit from Mr. Kelso, the Provincial Superintendent, who has been connected with the work since the adoption of the Legislation under which the work is carried on, and gave a very interesting address on the subject. Peterborough was not only amongst the first to establish a Branch under the present Provincial Authority, but had, for sometime previous, been maintaining an organization for a similar purpose, which had been established mainly through the efforts of our present Federal member.

During the year certain improvements in connection with the Shelter have been discussed, but these have not yet been made, and no doubt they will receive the early attention of the new Board. I refer to the proposed additional plumbing the construction of a detention room and the matter of increased fire protection.

Trifling Matters

I note that the limited time available at our monthly meetings is often considerably encroached upon by the discussion of comparatively trifling matters. Possibly the new Board might consider the advisability of disposing of such minor matters by Committee, so as to permit the time of the monthly meetings to be devoted to the more important questions.

I cannot too highly commend the services rendered by not only the Agent and Matron, but also by the Secretary, Physicians and Ladies Committee and by Mrs. Knox, who again so kindly undertook the management of the Childrens' Tag Day.

I regret that the reports of the various societies throughout the Province have not in recent years been printed by the Government. It is very desirable that the publishing of these reports and of other matters relating to the work in the Province be resumed. It would tend to encourge and assist the Societies in their work.

E. A. Peck, President.

Auxiliary Report

Mrs. W. H. Gibbs read the following report of the activities on the Auxiliary of the Society.

We have held 44 sewing and several special meetings during the past year with an average attendance of 4 ladies to make, mend and care for the incoming and outgoing children. At times we were very much rushed with the work, but with patience and perservance we were able to overcome that difficulty largely owing to the fact that the ladies of St. Andrews and Knox Churches responded in goodly numbers, and now we are pleased to state the work is in splendid shape, as well as a nice supply of clothing made over and mended in cases of emergency, thus enabling the Auxiliary to take the Christmas holidays, to re-open again Februry 1920. Trusting that the other churches will respond when called upon by the Auxiliary.

The inventory taken of the shelter December 4th., we find it very well equipped with bed linen and quilts, bath towels, table linen, etc.

We have had to replenish the kitchen with porcelain cups for the children to save breakages, cooking utensils, etc., also refurnishing some of the windows with curtains, rods, etc.

Scrupulous House.

Under the management of our esteemed matron, Mrs. Read, the house throughout is scrupulous. The cleanly and carefully tended children. She is loved and respected by every child that comes to the shelter.

Also thanking Mrs. Read for her kindness to the Auxiliary during the past year.

With the permission of the Board we wish to extend our hearty appreciation and thanks to the following:

Dr. King for medical attendance.
Dr. Buchanan and Dr. McCullough for assistance.
Dr. Middleton for extracting and filling teeth of wards.
Mr. Lewis cutting the hair.
Dr. Stacey attending the eyes.

This done for the children all free of charge.

The report was concluded by a vote of thanks to all who had lent their service to the children at the Shelter during the past year.

To the President and Members of the Children's Aid Society of Peterborough City and County:

Ladies and Gentlemen,—I beg to submit the following report for the year ending Nov. 1 ,1919:

I will endeavour to give you some report of the work done by your agent during the year just past. It has been a heavy year, but I believe also a successful year. The wards under our care have been as a rule obedient, with the exception of a few boys who ran away from their homes, but all were returned, or placed in new homes, with the exception of one boy who left his grandmother to go to his father, and I was not notified until some six months later. Some wards have done splendidly with their schooling, but other have made little or no progress. Most of these cases are more or less defective and cannot study: in one case it seems useless to send her to school; in some cases the foster parents are to blame in having them late or kept out of school. If this is not stopped the children will certainly be removed. Our financial year has been one of the best we ever had, and we now have three separate funds, the Capital fund, $7,600, interest 5 1-2 and 6 p.c.; the General fund, $8,883.04, with interest; and Trust fund $2,273.55, with interest. A statement of these funds will be given in detail in the treasurer's report.

Work Broadening.

The work of our agent is continually broadening and some times encroaches on his beauty sleep, or interferes with his attendance at church. Still work may be what he needs. All classes of people come to his office from the man who wants to know how to get his wife back again, to the woman with the wee baby of five month sold who wants to get rid of it, and in one case the man and wife who wanted to turn their whole family over to the society. Every case has been considered on its own merits, and fair treatment given to all. For some reason a large number of cases of children stealing still continue to come before the police court, and it would seem a proper course for Peterborough to have a juvenile court. Still, until this is done, great credit must be given to Magistrate Dumble and Chief Thompson, who have to deal with these cases. Careless parents and late hours may account for most of these cases. The Superintendent of the Shelter has assisted me largely in my work and I have found her advice very valuable. Special mention should be made of the work of Dr. King, assisted by specialists, in the different operations performed, also to Dr. Middleton for free dental service, to Jas. Lewis, barber, for hair cutting needed by the boys, and others who have assisted through the year, including Dr. Lacey, who has offered his services to care for the children's eyes. In addition to increased number of cases to handle, your agent has had to travel 3,450 miles and write 523 letters in his general work. Several cases of overcrowding of houses were found, one where 10 adults and 5 children slept in an attic without a partition, and one small room downstairs .Some cases of very dirty houses still are found, and some cases of cruelty to babies were reported. Some of these people were brought before the Magistrate and punished. The savings of the children are kept in separate accounts in the Union Bank and can only be paid out by the check of the President and Agent. The sum now amounts to $3,272.45.

Through the faithful work of Mrs. J. Knox and her splendid staff of tag day workers, the results of tag day was one of the best in our history, $1,522.90.

In conclusion I would like to thank all the members of the Board, but especially the President and Secretary, for their patience and kindness in giving me advise so much needed as new problems present themselves from day to day.

GEO. W. POWELL,
Agent.

LIQUID YEAST CHOICE OF OUR GRANDMOTHERS

Many Careful Housekeepers Still Prefer to Manufacture Their Their Own Brand.

The yeasts used in bread-making are of three general kinds, liquid yeast, compressed yeast and dry yeast. Liquid yeast was made by our great-grandmoters, from different recipes, always requiring some of the former yeast to start the new supply, as a farmer must save his seed corn. Many careful housekeepers like, even now, to make their own yeast better than to use the commercial kinds. Dried yeast is used where good compressed cannot be obtained. Compressed yeast is yeast skimmed, with the froth, from the top of beer, mixed with a sufficeint amount of starchy material to shape it, and then pressed, cut and wrapped for market. Too much starchy material lessens the power of the yeast to raise the bread.

MEMORIAL YOUNG PEOPLE'S HALL FOR SALVATION ARMY

THE BUILDING PROPERTY, ALREADY OWNED BY THE ARMY, WILL BE REMODELLED.

As a fitting memorial to the boys of the Salvation Army Sunday School who made the Supreme sacrifice during the war a Memorial Young People's Hall will be completed towards the Spring on the site of the double house owned by the Salvation Army opposite the Fire Hall. It is the intention of the committee in charge of the arrangements for the new hall to make the present house into a double floored hall for the recreation of the young people of the Barracks, one floor being reserved for the boys and the other for the girls. The houses which were bought by the Salvation Army two years ago are being paid for by the Sunday School and a balance of about $1000 still remains unpaid but it is hoped that with other collections this debt will be liquidated presently.

Indoor Heat Wrinkles the Skin—the Remedy

As the skin tends to expand in a warm atmosphere, cheeks and chin to sag and wrinkles to form, a good astringent lotion should be used by the woman who keeps pretty much indoors these days. Dissolve one ounce of pure powdered saxolite in one-half pint of witch hazel. Bathe the face in this daily—particularly before receiving guests, or before going out for theatre, dance or other social affair.

The lotion, which of course is perfectly harmless, gives almost immediate results, erasing wrinkles and smoothing out the flabby skin most remarkably. The fact is wonderfully refreshed and rejuvenated in appearance. Be sure to ask the druggist for the powdered saxolite.

Give Furniture! A Life-long Testimonial of Your Good-Will

"It is something they will always have." We think furniture salesmen hear this remark more than others. We know we do. Year after year and again and again it is repeated and always we think what a sensible, commendable way it is to approach the gift problem. The endurance of a chair, table or some other small piece that will fill an awkward corner will contribute greatly to the arrangement of the room and also serve the needs of more than a generation. Let your gift be furniture.

Peck added to the present membership. Mr. Sydney Whatley was appointed to represent the Great War Veterans on the Board.

Regrets Losing President.

Rev. C. J. Phelan, in a short address, expressed on behalf of the Board, the genuine regret at Mr. E. A. Peck's retirement from the Presidency of the Society, which office he had filled so capably and well. It is he said, a calamity to lose such a man. He concluded by remarking that he felt the honor which had been conferred upon him in his election as President, and hoped that the Society would get hold of the rope and pull with him.

In replying to Father Phelan's remarks, Mr. Peck assured the Board that he had no hesitancy in handing over his office to Father Phelan and that his own interest in the society had, far from abating, much increased.

Suggested Improvements.

Mr. H. B. Cowan suggested that the exterior appearance of the Shelter be improved in a few small ways.

On motion of Mrs. J. Knox, seconded by Mrs. Evans, the auditors were thanked for their services during the past year. A letter was drafted to the Medical Association, thanking them for their kind co-operation with Dr. Court King.

Mrs. Reid, the Matron of the Shelter, asked that the kindly action of Mr. Dahn in allowing the children of the Shelter to attend a performance of Daddy Long Legs at the Grand Opera House and providing chocolate for them be referred to.

Secretary's Report.

To the Children's Aid Society of Peterborough, City and County:

Ladies and Gentlemen,— I beg to submit the following report for the year nineteen hundred and nineteen: This has been one of the best years in connection with the work of this Society since I have become connected with it. We have had continual complaints of neglect and much work has been done to remedy conditions, but we have not had many of the really sad cases that have been frequent in years before. There is no doubt that the vigilance of the Society in at once taking measures where neglect is shown does a good deal towards discouraging such neglect on the part of parents and others.

The report of the Inspector will show in detail the work that has been done and I may say that he has been indefatigable in his efforts towards promoting the welfare of children in this respect during the year and has been particularly successful in being able to remedy matters in many cases without taking the children away from their parents.

Splendid work has also been done by the Matron to children who have come to the Shelter and it has always been beneficial for the children to remain at the Shelter for a time before transferring them to foster homes on account of the very fine training received while under the Matron's care.

Most Faithful.

I wish to lay stress on the fact that a number of the ladies of the city have been most faithful in their attendances at the Shelter in the work towards providing the children at the Shelter with clothing, etc. Year after year some of the ladies of our city make very great sacrifices in this respect.

The thanks of the Society are also due to Dr. D. C. King who, throughout the year, gave unstinted medical service to the children of the Shelter free of charge and also to Dr. Buchanan and Dr. McCullogh, who have assisted Dr. King in minor operations.

Thanks are also due to Dr. J. E. Middleton for free dental service throughout the year to the children residing at the Shelter.

The Society appreciates to the very fullest extent the way in which the general public continue to support them financially. We have never failed to get their support. The citizens were particularly generous on Tag Day last.

Christmas is once more approaching and I have no doubt whatever that the children at the Shelter will be remembered as they have always been in the past. One lady in the city who has a very beautiful home has already invited the children to a dinner at her home during the Christmas season.

In closing I wish to thank the President, Mr. E. A. Peck, and Chief Thompson, for the ready co-operation that they have given to me in matters which have come before me in connection with the Society throughout the year.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

JOSEPH WEARING,
Secretary.

WILL HELP THE RETURNED MEN

ASSISTANCE PROVIDED THROUGH MEDIUM OF PATRIOTIC FUND.

Canadian Press:

OTTAWA, Dec. 9.—After a series of conferences, the Government decided to-day on a policy in regard to the distribution of forty million dollars, voted by Parliament for the re-establishment of returned men. The main problem, that of unemployment, will be handled by an organization based on the organization of the Canadian patriotic fund. Owing to the urgency of the situation in regard to unemployment, it was felt by the Government that it was absolutely necessary to entrust moneys voted by Parliament for this purpose to some national organization which had the necessary, administrative machinery largely in being. Brig.-Gen. A. E. Ross, Kingston, has been appointed administrator of the fund.

As the patriotic fund is the only organization of this kind in Canada, it was felt that if they would undertake the work, delays would be avoided.

The agreement entered into between the Government and the patriotic fund provides as follows:

1—The Government will be represented on the organization of the patriotic fund at Ottawa as well as on each Provincial organization.

2—Representatives of returned men will be attached to local committees dealing with the problem.

3—Assistance is to be given only because employment is not available. Before making any payment, the organization will secure necessary certificate in each case, showing that the applicant is unable to find employment.

Expenditure of nine million dollars for gratuity to returned men who served in the Imperial forces will be made through the Militia Department. Approximately one million dollars will also be required to repay transportation fares of soldiers' dependents who returned to Canada prior to the armistice. The Department of Immigration and Colonization has this branch of work in hand.

"SKIN THE CAT"

But if you won't exercise vigorously you must take "Cascarets."

There is nothing like bending exercises, taking long walks, or chopping wood to keep the liver and bowels active, but most folks take their exercise in an easy chair. Such folks need Cascarets, else they suffer from sick headache, sour, acid stomach, indigestion, colds and are miserable. But don't stay bilious or constipated. Feel splendid always by taking Cascarets occasionally. They act without griping or inconvenience. They never sicken you like Calomel, Salts, Oil, or nasty, harsh Pills. They cost so little too—Cascarets work while you sleep.

WAS UNABLE TO RAISE HER HAND

MRS. HARDING M'KAY WAS SO RUN DOWN SHE HAD TO REMAIN IN BED—TANLAC RESTORES HER.

"I am completely convinced now that Tanlac deserves everything good said about it," said Mrs. Freada Harding McKay, living at Burnaby, B.C., to a Tanlac representative a few days ago.

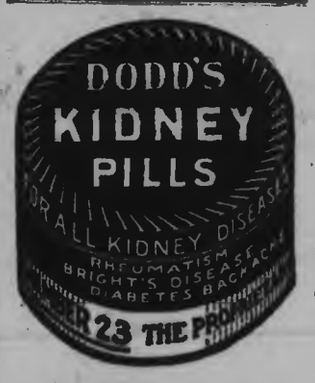
'Some time ago I began suffering from indigestion," continued Mrs. McKay, "and my troubles kept multiplying until it seemed like everything was wrong with me. I had no appetite at all and I could hardly eat a thing and what little I did manage to force down would just lie in my stomach like a lump of lead and I would bloat up so from gas that I could hardly breathe and my heart would palpitate something dreadful. I also suffered with constipation and had to be taking some kind of laxative all the time. My head would ache so that at times I was nearly crazy and I had such awful pains in the small of my back I could not bend over. Finally I became so weak and nervous I could not do my housework and had to take to my bed, and was not even able to raise my head up. Children playing around me or any other noise would nearly drives me wild.

"I had heard a lot of good things said about Tanlac, so I decided to get a bottle and try it. Well, to my surprise, it was all that others had said about it and more, for I had not taken more than half of my first bottle when I noticed a big change for the better in my condition. I only took four bottles and that was plenty, for my case as bad as it was. My appetite is good and I can eat anything I want without the least sign of indigestion. I am never troubled with gas or heart palpitation any more and the headaches and pains in my back have all stopped. I am not bothered with constipation and my nerves are in fine condition. I have regained my strength and can do my housework with the greatest ease, and my general health is fine, and Tanlac is due all the credit for my renewed health."

Tanlac is sold in Peterborough by W. B. Warne Drug Co. Ltd., in Havelock by A. C. Denike in Lakefield by Tanner Drug Co. Ltd., in Fowlers Corner by W. A. Hunter, in Gelert by A. J. Scott, in Westwood by G. Pringle & Son.

FOOTBALL DAMAGES

LONDON, Eng.—In Peterborough County Court a small boy named Sebastian Trentlein claimed compensation for a football destroyed. He was playing in his father's field when the wind blew the ball into a neighbor's garden. The man thrust his garden fork through the ball three times. The judge awarded the boy half a guinea damages.



NOT MUCH OF AN OFFICER.

Rebecca, aged eight, was very proud of her father's rank as a first lieutenant, and grew quite indignant when a neighbor's boy called him captain."

"I'll have you understand that my daddy is not captain," "Oh, it doesn't matter." "Indeed, he is not an officer," she protested.

"Yes, dear, a lieutenant is an officer," interrupted Rebecca's mother.

"Well," persisted Rebecca, still determined to maintain her daddy's dignity at all cost, "He's not much of an officer."

ROBERT SOMERS.

You Can Tell Which People Have Iron in Their Blood—Strong Healthy, Vigorous Folks—

City Physician Says Ordinary Nourishment From Will Increase the Strength of Nervous, Run-down People in Two Weeks' Time in Many Cases.

ONE glance is enough to tell which people have iron in their blood. They are the ones that do and dare. The others are in the weakling class. Sleepless nights spent worrying over supposed ailments, constant dosing with habit forming drugs and narcotics, and useless attempts to brace up with strong coffee or other stimulants are what keep them suffering and vainly longing to be strong. Their real trouble is lack of iron in the blood. Without iron the blood has no power to change food into living tissue and, therefore, nothing you eat does you good; you don't get the strength out of it. When iron is supplied it enriches the impoverished blood and gives the body greater resistance to ward off disease. Numbers of nervous, run-down people who were ailing all the while have most astonishingly increased their strength and endurance simply by taking iron in the proper form. And this, after they had in some cases been going on for months without getting benefit from anything.

If you are not strong or well you owe it to yourself to make the following test: See how long you can work or how far you can walk without becoming tired. Next take two five-grain tablets of ordinary nuxated iron three times per day after meals for two weeks. Then test your strength again and see for yourself how much you have gained. There is nothing like good old iron to help put color in your cheeks and sound, healthy flesh on your bones. But you must take iron in a form that can be easily absorbed and assimilated like nuxated iron if you want it to do you any good, otherwise it may prove worse than useless.

Nuxated Iron: Nuxated iron recommended above is one of the newer organic iron compounds. Unlike the old-fashioned inorganic iron products, it is easily assimilated, does not injure the teeth, make them black, nor upset the stomach. The manufacturers guarantee successful and entirely satisfactory results in every purchaser or they will refund your money. It is dispensed in this city by all good druggists

DR. A. W. M'PHERSON, M.O.H., TELLS THE LOCAL BOARD OF HEALTH HOW TO MAKE A CLEAN, HEALTHY CITY

BOARD MET FOR THE LAST TIME THIS YEAR—REPORTS OF THE MEDICAL OFFICER OF HEALTH AND THE SANITARY INSPECTOR—MILK TESTS FOR THE MONTH.

The last monthly meeting for the year of the Peterborough Board of Health was held last evening with Mr. William Buller in the chair.

The following milk tests were read for December 1919:

P.P. Milk Co.	3.40
H. O'Neill	3.60
F. Rooke, (Goslin's Milk)	3.20
W. J. Simpson	3.20
A. R. Lasure	4.00
E. Butler	3.60
S. E. Moncrief	3.80
J. E. Lillico, (Wright's Milk)	3.20
R. S. Patten	3.80
H. R. White	3.80
I. Hetherington	3.60
J. Wright	3.60
C. Sharpe	3.60
B. J. Brady	3.60
A. Cox	4.60
P. Kennedy	5.60
J. O'Connel	3.40
H. Manley	3.40
W. Stalker	3.20
F. Goslin	3.20
E. W. Curtis	3.00
C. A. Waller	3.40
T. Twomey	4.40

W. G. Robson	3.60
J. W. Steinkraus	3.40
P. R. Castle	3.20
S. Huston	3.00
F. Riley	3.00

Sanitary Inspector C. S. Stapleton's report for the year was now read. Mr. Stapleton said that there was a decided improvement over last year in the number of scavenger cause of the change made in the office.

The report from the Queen Isolation Hospital was read and passed.

Dr. A. W. McPherson, M. O. H., before reading his report stated that it wouldn't be very satisfactory because of th echange made in the office of Medical Officer of Health and because Dr C. H. Amy's was handicapped by not having sufficient help and that the work had not been properly organized for it was not known when the change would take place.

Contagious Diseases

Dr. McPherson dwelt on the many dangerous and contagious diseases that had been present in the city during the year. Of these he said diptheria was the most serious and four people had died from the disease all within the last few months and that these lives could have been saved if antitoxin had been administered earlier.

The same thing applies to smallpox the doctor said. Many old and middle age people believe they are immune but they are not and so the disease is spread. The doctor stated that the disease would be prevalent as long as people refuse to be vaccinated.

A Busy Year.

The Isolation Hospital has been very busy this year, he said, and one extra shack had to be built and one nurse added to the staff. Still more shacks are needed and one more assistant should be secured.

Dwelling on the work of the Sanitary Inspector he stated that there was a great deal of work to be done and a great many phases to the work. The sanitary inspector has to practically make a house-to-house inspection and not only this but all the restaurants, hotels, eating-houses, fruit stores, bakeries, butcher shops and milk vendors have to be inspected.

The Sanitary Inspector must also supervise the scavenger and garbage collection and the result is that only a small part of the city can be covered in an efficient manner.

Milk Supply

Dr. McPherson referred to the milk supply and said the Board must see that children are given pure wholesome milk and the only safe proceedure is to insist on the bottling and pasteurization of the milk.

"Death and sickness are a loss to the community and to the family and we should ask ourselves could we have prevented that death," said the doctor. The absence of the terrible diseases prevalent in other cities was accounted for by the preventative measures taken in the army.

Dr. McPherson then dwelt on the numerous ways to prevent disease, and advocated an active campaign to make this clean city. Swimming and skating facilities should be provided and clean healthy sport encouraged.

In conclusion he recommended putting the Board on a different basis by having one chief health officer with one or two assistants to do the work now carried on by the whole Board

It was now moved and carried that the meeting be adjourned.

Mr. Buller thanked the members and officers of the Board for their co-operation during the year and spoke of the goodwork that had been carried out.

Mr. Harry Morgan echoed Mr. Buller's words and said that his year with the Board would always form a pleasant memory.

Mr. Stapleton said that although he had not received any bouquets he had carried on his work to the best of his ability and would continue to do so.

The following members were present: Mr. William Buller, Mr. James Murty, Mr. Harry Morgan, Mayor G. H. Duncan, Dr. A. W. McPherson, M.O.H., and Sanitary Inspector Charles Stapleton.

ROYAL PORTER

LONDON, Eng.—A story is going the rounds about one of the volunteer porters at Paddington during the recent railway strike, who went to the porters' room to state that he was unavoidably prevented from taking his turn at duty. When the foreman, a loyal member of the staff, pressed him for his reasons, the volunteer explained that he was lord-in-waiting to the King who was shortly expected to arrive in London.

Suffered With Boils Past Five Years

Boils are simply a breaking out of bad blood and anyone who has suffered from them knows how sick and miserable they make you feel. Just when you think you are cured of one another seems ready to take its place and prolong your misery. All the poulticing and lancing you can do will not get rid of them.

While the skin appears to be the cause of the irritation the real disease is rooted in the blood and to get rid of these painful pests it is necessary to get right at the seat of the trouble.

When the blood is purified, cleansed and vitalized by Burdock Blood Bitters, the boils will quickly disappear, you misery is at an end, and health and strength come back again.

Mr. Robert Johnson, Barkway, Ont., writes:—"I have suffered very much, during the last five years from boils, having as many as five at once. I tried different remedies without any relief. I was advised to try Burdock Blood Bitters which I did and after taking just one bottle I have had no more boils."

KOWALSKI TO HANG

Hamilton's Triple Murderer Will Not Get any Respite.

OTTAWA, Dec. 8.—Kowalski, the triple murderer of Hamilton, will be executed week after next. The Government will not interfere in the sentence of death. Apart, of course, from his double murder of a week ago, when already under sentence of death, the evidence in the original trial is now under review and points so conclusively to his guilt that, under any circumstances, the law would be allowed to take its course.

On the application of the Crown authorities the execution could be deferred pending a trial for the recent crimes, but the department considers such a procedure useless, inasmuch as the man cannot be hanged twice and the job planned for 17th will be sufficient for all purposes.

John Smith, Dairy Products.

Butter, special to-day, 95c, (formerely 62c).

GERMANY WILL TAX ITS BIGGEST INCOMES

BERLIN, — Mathias Erzberger, the Minister of Finance, prefaced his battle for his great tax measures with a two-hour speech before the National Assembly to-day. He warned the Deputies that the man who was still wrapped up in prewar individualism would not find the tax assessments awaiting him to his liking.

The first thousand marks of income are not assessed in the scale named in the income tax schedule After that amount incomes will be taxed 10 per cent. For the second thousand, 1 per cent. being the graded increase for every thousand up to 15,000 marks. Incomes in excess of 500,000 marks must pay 60 per cent.

The man who had a pre-war income of 100,000 marks is expected now to turn over half that amount to the State. Local taxes are likely to consume an additional 20,000.

The German people, it is stated, have no conception of even the approximate of the war in direct taxes, while indirect taxes, which are expected to yield 11,000,000,000 marks a year, will materially add to the cost of living for the next few years.

A novel provision of the income tax law obliges an employer to deduct the income tax from the weekly wage paid, receipting for the amount by pasting tax stamps on a tax card in the possession of the employer, then redeeming the stamps when canceled.

GOVT. AUDITORS BUSY

Vast Pile of Accounts Swamps Them Says Attorney-General

That there is much more work for the auditor's office to do regarding the recent election accounts, and that there is delay in getting these accounts in, are the reasons why the Government according to Attorney-General Raney.

The auditor of criminal justice has to audit the accounts of the numerators, voters' registration and appeal board and the returning officers. As there was a referendum as well as an election on the same day, it has made more work.

"The Government has appointed additional officers to assist him, but it is impossible to do more than partially relieve the congestion," says Mr. Raney.

Mrs. Westmoreland Tells in the Following Letter.

Ever since then I have used it for any weakness and would not be without it for the world. I do all my work and am strong and healthy. I am nursing my baby, and I still take the Vegetable Compound as it keeps a woman in good health. You may publish my testimonial for the good of other women, if you choose to do so."—Mrs. C. Doctor Tells How to Detect Harmful Effects of Tobacco

Try These SIMPLE TESTS

New York.—Doctor Connor, formerly of Johns Hopkins Hospital, says: Many men who smoke, chew or snuff incessantly, and who are seemingly healthy, are suffering from progressive organic ailments. Thousands of them would never have been afflicted had it not been for the use of tobacco, and thousands would soon get well if they would only stop the use of tobacco. The chief habit-forming principle of tobacco is nicotine, a deadly poison, which when absorbed by the system slowly affects the nerves, mucous branes, tissues and vital organs of the body. The harmful effect of tobacco varies and depends on circumstances. One will be afflicted with general debility, others with catarrh of the throat, indigestion, constipation, extreme nervousness, sleeplessness, loss of memory, lack of will-power, mental confusion, etc. Others may suffer from heart disease, bronchial trouble, hardening of the arteries, tuberculosis, blindness, or even cancer or the common affliction known as tobacco heart. If you use tobacco in any form you can easily detect the harmful effects by making the following simple tests: Read aloud one full page from a book. If in the course of reading your voice becomes muffled, hoarse and indistinct, and you must frequently clear your throat, the chances are that your throat is affected by catarrh, and it may be the beginning of more serious trouble. Next, in the morning before taking your usual smoke walk up three flights of stairs at a regular pace, then stop. If you find that you are out of breath, your heart beat forced, trembling or irregular, you may be a victim of functional or organic heart trouble. If you feel that you must smoke, chew or snuff to quiet your nerves you are a slave to the tobacco habit, and are positively poisoning yourself with the deadly drug, nicotine. In either case you have just two alternatives—keep on with the self-poisoning process, irrespective of the dangers, and suffer the consequences, or give up the habit and escape the danger. You can overcome the craving and stop the habit in a very short time by using the following inexpensive formula: Go to any drug store and ask for Nicotol tablets, take one tablet after each meal, and in a comparatively short time you will have no desire for tobacco, the craving will have left you. With the nicotine poison out of your system your general health will quickly improve.

Note.—When asked about Nicotol tablets one of our leading druggists said: "It is truly a wonderful remedy for the tobacco habit; away ahead of anything we have ever sold before. We are authorized by the manufacturers to refund the money to every dissatisfied customer, and we would not permit the use of our name unless the remedy possessed unusual merit." Nicotol tablets are sold in this city under an iron-clad money-back guarantee by all up-to-date druggists. (1)

UNSAFENESS OF RAW MILK

Important Informatinn to Milk Consumers

Because the dairy cow is susceptible to a peculiar form of contamination, investigation has proved that the udder is constructed like a sponge. There is a constant shedding of waste tissues from the lining of the udder. This udder waste often includes the products of udder inflammation. Such inflammations are so common they are present in some form in practically every dairy herd. Even when there is no external evidence there is often internal inflammation discharging its product with the milk.

The fact that these impurities are present in all milk and cannot be removed by the ordinary strainer, is being pointed out to the milk consuming public by the pure milk authorities everywhere. Epidemic of various diseases have been frequently traced to the presence of udder waste in the summer time, with it swarms of flies and mosquitoes, increase the dangers.

O.H.A. PRESIDENT'S ADDRESS AT ANNUAL MEETING OF ASSOCIATION

President R. M. Glover, of the Ontario Hockey Association, delivered the following address at the annual meeting held Saturday in Toronto. This, the 30th annual meeting of your historic association, is being held under more normal conditions than any previous meeting during the past five years, and I feel that I should first express, on behalf of the officers and clubs of the O.H.A., the pleasure with which we welcome home from their gallant services overseas, the splendid men from the senior, intermediate and junior series of our association, who in the past year have returned to us.

Familiar names are reappearing in the sporting pages of the newspapers, after three or four years' absence—the names of former O.H.A. players, who fighting in France, in the North Sea with the British Navy, or in the air forces of the Empire, have helped to establish the imperishable fame of Canada.

I am sure you all rejoice with me in the home-coming of our comrades and in the fact that they will be found again this winter engaged in our great national winter sport, the horrors of warfare, we hope, fading out of their recollection. And in welcoming them home, we will not have forgotten those who will not come back, the gallant players of our association who sleep beneath the wooden crosses of France and Belgium. Their memory will be ever dear to us.

Canadian Champions.

The season of 1918-19, I am happy to be able to say, in spite of unusually mild weather, was a splendid one from all points of view. The secretary's report will cover the details of all the games, but I will take the liberty here of mentioning several of the special features. The Hamilton club, our senior winners, successfully defended the Allan Cup against all comers. Collingwood for the third time since 1910, won the intermediate series, while U.T.S. team, winners of the junior series, also captured the O.H.A. Memorial Cup, emblematic of the junior championship of Canada. All clubs in the association, I am sure, are proud of the records established by these worthy champions, and to them I extend my heartiest congratulations and assure them that the standings of our association has been enhanced greatly by the extra honors won during the season.

New Policy of O.H.A.

In some respects this is to be one of the most important meetings the Ontario Hockey Association has held for some time, as you will require to consider a determined policy outlined by the sub-committee, fully considered and accepted by the executive, which policy is to be presented to you at the annual meeting of the association, with unanimous recommendation that it be adopted. I refer now to the policy that will be given that all clubs must be, represented by clubs we regard as a bona fide and permanent amateur club or association, and that in any series proceeding about to be given to civic amateur championships. We hope that the desire to have hockey in some of the cities, towns and villages in our province, controlled by a small group, which has unfortunately too often been the case, will be checked by this amendment, which we believe, will be an important step that will benefit our game hockey, and all other forms of amateur sport.

It is to be hoped that our decision in this matter will lead to the formation of amateur athletic associations, which will control all forms of sport in their neighborhood. It is to this happy result the executive effort will be directed in all parts of the province, where clean amateur sport is asserted.

The Canada Hockey Association is pledged to championship Canada to take part in all matters that will tend to the good of hockey in Canada, and to this object the association is pledged to give its hearty support.

Of all the successful leaders during wartime there is no more conspicuous figure in the American Expedition to the Orient than that of General Pershing.

young men of the Province with a widely competitive opportunity to be first-class athletes, and a first-class athlete in any game should bear all the ear-marks of a gentleman, and if your officers, in the course of their term of office, see faults they do not rectify they are not living up to the ideals which prompted the formation of the association.

Danger in Hidden Professionalism.

A state of affairs existing that will allow of a young man posing as an amateur in sport when in reality he is a professional is not conducive to the betterment of that young men's morals or of developing a strong character, and cannot help but be an adverse factor in a business or professional career.

We have no quarrel with the open professional who conducts himself properly and plays the game fair, and there are any number of them who do, but as the recognized and most influential amateur body in Canada we must take issue with the hidden professional in our ranks, and meet the situation in such a manner as will tend to give the players whom we control the proper surroundings that will assist in guiding them in right channels, so that when their athletic career is over they will have no regrets and will have developed into men of ambition, straightforwardness, resourcefulness, honesty and other good qualities, that a proper and carfully looked-after sporting career is bound to assist materially in bringing about.

I am sorry to have to state that if application is made for certificates to play in this association by some of our most prominent players, that your executive have recommended that they be not issued. This drastic action was not taken without the most careful investigation, and there was no other course that could have been followed, consistent with our conception of what our duties as officers of your association should be. In this action we also ask your support and co-operation.

Regret Mr. Hyde's Resignation.

The resignation of Mr. Frank Hyde, of Woodstock, second vice-president of the association, is a loss to the association. His best efforts were always given to the association. His judgment was excellent, and his decisions on all questions fair and impartial. The executive regrets the circumstances which brought about Mr. Hyde's resignation, for as a future president he would have been a credit to the

We will miss greatly, for the balance of the season, the excellent services of Mr. Francis Nelson, who was a member of the sub-committee, where his careful handling of difficult problems in the course of a season's hockey made him a most valued member.

The financial statement, when presented, will prove to be a very satisfactory one. As our playing rules have been adopted by the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association, in order to provide the same style of hockey by all amateur bodies in Canada, any proposed changes in the playing rules can only be discussed and referred to the C.A.H.A. in its draft rules. FRANK HEFFERNAN TO MANAGE A PRO. TEAM

TORONTO, Dec. 9.—Frank Heffernan will wear a St. Patrick's uniform again, but, unlike last season, not in amateur company. Last night the Tecumseh N.H.L. franchise was disposed of to a new company, which will be known as the St. Patrick's Hockey Club, and Frank Heffernan was selected as Manager of the team.

The passing from amateur ranks of the great defense player will cause sorrow among the O.H.A. fans, but when all is said and done Heffernan probably pursued wisest course. He has had his fling at amateur hockey, where he always conducted himself as a gentleman and made a name for himself as one of the best defense men ever developed in the O.H.A. In joining the professional ranks he carries with him the wishes of his supporters that he will prove as successful in his new field of endeavor as he did in the Ontario Association.

The local professional club has the happy faculty of being able to change name and ownership with a speed that is amazing. The Arena Club controlled the franchise, but sold it to the Tecumsehs, and the latter name was ratified at the N.H.L. meeting in Montreal on Saturday last. Now along comes St. Patrick's with a list of capable and well-known officers, and it appears that they are in to stay.

Charles Querrie, Manager of the Arena, and who is the accredited delegate of the St. Patrick's Club to the N.H.L. stated last evening that the team would start practise not later than Monday next. He refused to divulge the names of the players expected to line up with the Irishmen, but promised some surprises. It is known that efforts have been made to induce Hiller, the former Kitchener player, to take the junto. Others in demand are: Roach, McCarthy and "Babe" Dye. Roach and McCarthy will make no move until the final decision by the new O.H.A. Executive Committee is made known.

"Ken" Randall and Corbett Denneny are in the city and will be tendered contracts.

MATHEWSON AS A LEADER NOT LIKED BY LARRY KOPF

"BIG SIX" DIDN'T RULE WITH AN IRON HAND, ACCORDING TO REDS' SHORTFIELDER.

Larry Kopf, the infielder of the Cincinnati Reds, has been telling the story of his baseball life for winter reading in one of the home town papers back in Connecticut, and judging from some of the statements he makes his brief "retirement" from the game previous to the opening of the 1919 season wasn't because he didn't want to play ball. Evidently he didn't like the way Christy Mathewson had managed the Reds— when Pat Moran was named to succeed Matty, the Kopf "retirement" faded, and more than that, he concluded he would play in Cincinnati and no where else.

In the course of one of his interviews, Kopf is asked if he thinks the Reds could have won the National league pennant with Mathewson managing them. And he answers:

"We might have, but, not to belittle Matty's ability as a manager, his methods of management were so different from those of Moran that I have my doubts about it.

"You see, Matty allowed us to go along and do as we pleased when it came to the stages of a game where the players as a general thing like to have the advice of their leader. When we would ask Matty what to do; to either lay the ball down for a bunt or hit 'er out, the manager, sitting on the bench, would lift one leg over the other and say:

AND THIS FOR AN ANSWER

"Your'e a ball player are you not? You are being paid for being one; you ought to know what to do. Now go in and let's see how you come out.

"Matty did not seem to be willing to take any responsibility and left it entirely to us to decide what to do. I am free to say though that he did not heap the blame on us if our play did not carry through successfully. Neither did he accept the blame. He just let it pass over and was apparently very little disturbed.

"Players want a leader who will advise them and direct them at critical times; to be forceful and decisive and act quickly on the spur of the moment, but Matty seldom did that. He was too easy-going. We like a manager who will give us a call once in a while. It puts pep into us and also gives us confidence.

"Well, just such a manager is Pat Moran. He is not rough spoken to his men. In fact, he is the easiest and nicest manager to get along with that I ever played under. Still he would tell us when we failed to carry out his orders and what we ought to have done. He was firm and we appreciated that he meant what he said and also knew his business.

"If we asked him what to do, he would say, 'Do you think you can hit the ball behind the runner?' and we would say 'yes.' He would reply, 'Then go to it,' and even if we did not succeed, he would not growl at us, but would say, 'Well, you tried anyhow, and it was a good gamble to take. Better luck next time.'

"At other times he would tell us what to do and we would try it, make no mistake about that. We had the greatest confidence in his judgement and followed it religiously.

"It was Pat Moran who developed our team into the splendid machine it was and we knew it. He inspired us to do our best in every game. His plans for the world's series were as perfect as they could possibly be.

"Pat Moran is a great manager—a real miracle man to his players, and we idolize him. We also give him the credit that is due, although he is so modest that he gives us all the credit. But it was Manager Moran who made us the National league leaders as well as world's champions."

HOW JAPAN'S NAVY WAS COMMENCED

The present navy of Japan, the best outside of a few of the larger nations of Europe, may be said to have had its beginning in a small yacht which was presented in 1880 by Queen Victoria to the Emperor of Japan. The Queen also detailed some British bluejackets to the duty of instructing the Japanese in the management of that class of vessel.

Since then Japan has risen to the position of one of the great naval Powers, and her progress of recent years has been nothing short of marvellous. At the time of her war with China her whole fleet displaced only about 80,000 tons; to-day the displacement runs into millions of tons.

Japan has a fishing population of about two million men, and from this section of her community she draws her seamen. Until a few years ago she has been depending upon other countries for the construction of her vessels; but she is now able to throw off the assistance of the Western world. Her shipyards are capable of building protected cruisers and torpedo craft and gun factories and armour plate factories have been established, which were of great help in the late war.

GERMAN SPIES IN ALSACE-LORRAINE.

As has been expected, the French are having their troubles in Alsace-Lorraine. The main difficulty seems to be that there are to many Germans there. Among them are agitators, who, finding fault with France and everything French, are corralling enough sympathisers to create serious difficulties. Latest and most troublesome in this agitation is the demand for an independent Alsace-Lorraine, which came into strength about two weeks ago. It looked from the first like a piece of German propaganda, and now the French Government makes the charge that it has uncovered the payment of 500,000 francs to agitators by the German Ministry of Foreign Affairs.

M. Longuet, the French Radical leader, has become tangled in the affair.

The French have arrested several hundred leading German agitators for deportation. A widespread investigation has been started, and the French press is turning great attention to the situation.

There are also propagandist troubles in Lorraine. On 22nd October last, one Hundred Germans were arrested as agitators and locked up at Metz. The French seem firm in their belief that this trouble-making propaganda is directed from Berlin.

MARRIED WRONG WOMAN

LONDON, Eng.—By an extraordinary mistake a gypsy at Nuneaton has wedded the wrong woman. He was under the impression that he could marry by proxy, so that, instead of the bride-elect appearing at the parish church, her sister deputised. Singularly enough she bears the same Christian name as the other girl, which had appeared in the banns, and the discovery of the bridegroom's error was not made until too late. When informed of the legality of the marriage with his sweetheart's sister, the man was greatly astonished, and there was consternation in the local gypsy fraternity. The husband absolved the curate from blame.

JUDGE DEPLORES HIS NEIGHBOURS' TRIAL OF DISPUTE

SAID HE WAS GLAD THE RESPONSIBILITY OF DECIDING CASE RESTED WITH JURY.

Addressing the jury in the Welsh vs. Perrin case this morning, Judge Huycke stated that he was glad that the decision had to be made by the jury instead of by himself. It relieved him of a very painful duty. One of the lawyers had referred to Ashburnham as an isolated community where everybody knew each other.

"I live there," remarked His Honour, "and both these parties are close neighbours of mine. I am glad, therefore, that the responsibility of adjudicating has been taken from me and it devolves upon you." He regretted that the dispute had ever been brought to trial. It appeared a silly, foolish quarrel between neighbours. No doubt many things were said that should have been left unsaid, but the whole affairs seemed so absolutely purposeless. It was very deplorable but could not be helped. Not only was there ill-feeling, but it didn't stop in Ashburnham. It was brought into the court and retailed there yesterday.

Judge Huycke pointed out that it made no difference whether the defendant was a lady or a man, whether American or Canadian. He charged the jury to eliminate all such immaterial thoughts from their minds. He deprecated some of the reflections that had been made during the trial. The plaintiff was a respectable barber so far as was known. There was no disgrace in being a barber, or in selling tobacco or in keeping a pool table either in one's house or in another place. The same consideration applied to the defendant. She was a perfectly reputable lady so far as the court knew. Something was said that she was an American. There was altogether too much of that silly feeling against Americans. They were good people and cousins of ours, if not brothers and sisters. Americans who come to live in this country should be treated just as well as the Canadian born.

Greatly to Her Credit.

It was suggested that Mrs. Perrin was an actress, His Honour continued. He regarded the profession of the actor as one of the greatest the world had developed. "It turns out that she was not an actress in the ordinary sense of the word. She had been taking part in different entertainments for church and patriotic purposes, and this has been greatly to her credit rather than otherwise."

His Honour said that it was all the greater pity these parties had gone to court. "Mrs. Perrin fancied that the dogs had worried her baby by their barking. Perhaps they did. A man may keep dogs so long as they do not become a nuisance. There has been no suggestion of that. Mr. Welsh had three dogs. But Mrs. Perrin was super-sensitive, and having lost her baby you can understand it. That has very little to do with the affair. If you believe the plaintiff and his wife you should give a verdict for them, if not you should give the verdict in favour of the defendant."

Judge Huycke explained the elements of slnde and slander and left the decision to the jury, who went out at twelve o'clock.

W. J. Hancock, a member of the jury, asked for information as to the extent of the priority of the death of the baby before the altercation took place. Mr. Kerr's question on this point yesterday was disallowed and His Honour informed Mr. Hancock that it should not enter into the consideration of the jury.

In putting the question, Mr. Hancock said it might help him to reach a decision if he knew what frame of mind Mrs. Perrin was in when she went out of her house on the day in question. He wished to know whether the death had been recent or had been some considerable time previous to the quarrel.

Mr. Kerr remarked that something had been said that it happened a year ago, but Mr. Gordon objected to any reply to Mr. Hancock's question for the very reason Judge Huycke had rejected it.

The Quick Way to Stop a Cough

You might be surprised to know that the best thing you can use for a severe cough, is a remedy which is easily prepared at home in just a few moments. It stops, just for prompt results it beats anything else you ever tried. Usually stops the ordinary cough or chest cold in 24 hours. Tastes pleasant, too—children like it—and it is pure and good. Just the mixing of Pinex (30 parts) in a 16-oz. bottle; then fill up with plain granulated sugar syrup. Or use strained molasses, honey, or corn syrup, instead of sugar syrup, if desired. Thus you make 16 ounces—a family supply—at a cost of about 65 cents. Just as a cough medicine, there is really nothing better to be had at any price. It goes right to the spot and gives quick, lasting relief. It promptly loosens the inflamed membranes that line the throat and air passages, stops the annoying throat tickle, loosens the phlegm, and soon your cough stops entirely. Splendid for bronchitis, croup, hoarseness and bronchial asthma.

Pinex is a highly concentrated compound of Norway pine extract, famous for its healing effect on the membranes. To avoid disappointment ask your druggist for "2½ ounces of Pinex" with directions and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money refunded. THE AMALGAMATION IS PROGRESSING

NUMBER OF CHEESE FACTORIES JOIN NEW ORGANIZATION.

An indication that the proposed amalgamation of cheese factories in Peterboro, Hastings and Prince Edward Counties is progressing was furnished on Monday afternoon when at a largely attended meeting the shareholders and patrons of the Alexandra Cheese Factory in Hastings County near Madoc a resolution was passed unanimously expressing the belief that the proposed large central co-operative dairy company should be in the best interests of the dairy farmers and dairy industry. The shareholders of the factory also expressed their approval of the appointment, when the times comes for further action to be taken, of arbitrators with the object of ascertaining the value of the factory and its equipment with a view to the amalgamation of the factory with the proposed company. The resolution was moved by Mr. J. A. Cagley and seconded by Mr. A. Forest, both of Madoc.

Objects of Company

The objects of the proposed company were explained to the meeting by Mr. H. B. Cowan, Editor-in-Chief of Farm and Dairy, Peterboro, who after outlining the proposal at length answered a considerable number of questions that were asked by the shareholders. Emphasis was laid on the fact that what is proposed is an amalgamation of the small cheese factories into a large central company in which the present shareholders of the small companies will therefore, will continue to share not only the operations of their own local factories but of the large company as well. It was pointed out that it is not proposed to buy the factories from the present shareholders but to ask the present shareholders to unite with shareholders in other small companies in conducting their present business on a larger and more profitable basis.

Mr. Cowan pointed out that shareholders of factories will not be asked to commit themselves definitely to the proposal until after arbitrators, [illegible] their appointment have placed a valuation on their factories [illegible] valuation on will then have to be approved of by the shareholders of the local factories as well as by the officers of the proposed central company. If the valuation is acceptable to both then the shareholders of the local factories will be asked if they are prepared to take the necessary steps to have their factories united with the other co-operative factories in the amalgamation. Mr. John McCaffrey the president of the Alexandra Cheese Factory, has been elected as a provisional director of the central company.

VERDICT IN FAVOUR OF MRS. PERRIN THE DEFENDANT—QUESTION OF COSTS DEFERRED.

A verdict in favor of Mrs. A. A. Perrin, dismissing the cation of Wm. J. Welsh, in his claim for $500 damages for alleged slander, was brought in by the jury at two o'clock this afternoon, after deliberating nearly two hours. Judge Huycke accordingly entered judgment in favor of the defendant, dismissing Mr. Welsh's action, and on application by Mr. Gordon, deferred his decision as to costs until after hearing argument of counsel at a later date.

CLIMBING THE CANADIAN ALPS

The rapid advancement of mountaineering in Canada has several contributary causes. Chief is the increasing accessibility of regions formerly remote. The C. P. R. brings you to such wonderlands as Banff, Lake Louise, Yoho Park, and Glacier which have become familiar haunts of pleasure-seeking Canadians as well as many thousands of foreign visitors annually.

One factor that has exerted much influence on the development of mountaineering in this Dominion has been and is the Alpine Club of Canada, formed in 1906 for the promotion of public interest in all that concerns the mountains. Although the club has now an active membership exceeding six hundred and in the past decade has been the means of enabling thousands to enjoy to the full this most inspiring sport, it is still less known than it deserves to be, particularly as its aims and methods are in certain respects unique, or were at the Club's inception. It should be matter of pride to all Canadian lovers of the great outdoors that this country has taken the lead in mountaineering as in so many other movements of New World development. Mountaineering has always held the glamour of romance for those whose lives are necessarily inactive, so that a glimpse at the field life of the A. C. C. should be of interest, and more especially now when the climbing season is closing and the annual camp of 1918 is of the quite recent past.

The Alpine Club of Canada is a daughter of the famous Alpine Club of England with which it is closely affiliated, but differs from the parent organization in this important regard: In order to qualify for membership in the English Club, one must already be an experienced climber—the Canadian Club is primarily a school for budding mountaineers. Each season a camp is held for the exclusive purpose of inculcating the principles of rock and snow climbing. Swiss guides are employed so that, by their example, the best and safest methods may be learned. The uncanny skill of these men is a revelation to those who have never seen the Swiss in his native habitat; and the wisdom of this policy is fully demonstrated in the fact that, although there are now very many Canadians whose training in the hills has advanced until they are quite independent of professional guides, there has never been an avoidable accident at any of the Club camps and even unavoidable accidents have been so few as to be counted negligible. This is in gratifying contrast with the record of the Swiss Alps, where many lives are lost yearly, almost entirely through inexperience or lack of proper instruction.

But it is, after all, the mountaineer and his craft that most appeal to the Great Public, and it may aid conception of this part of the Club life and work if we take seats on the magic carpet and are whisked by it away to one of the annual "Camps"—by preference the great Victory Camp held only a few weeks since in the marvellous Yoho Valley.

On reaching Field it is only seven miles to Camp, and good trail all the way. We start out in good spirits, and cross by bridge the turbulent Kicking Horse River. The trail winds back and forth to make a possible grade up the steep mountainside. We do not strike water and thirst grows apace. We are convinced that half an hour will amply suffice to reach the summit, but after two hours of very real work we learn that we are now "nearly half-way there." For hours we have been toiling upward through forest so dense as to obscure all scenery. Now we stand on a bare ridge so narrow there is scarce room for the trail to pass. On right and left tower great sentinels, Mounts Field and Burgess, the latter a sheer precipice of black rock, while between the two is framed a wonderland panorama of clifin ivory crags, hanging glaciers and foaming waterfall ribbons. At our feet lies a vast valley green with spruce and pine, and in its heart is set a perfect turquoise lake, milky blue-green shading into true emerald where cloud shadows drift across its placid surface.

But afternoon advances and we push on along the rugged sides of Mount Field and Mount Wapta until there is the glimmer of white tents among the trees and Camp at last receives us. Centred is the great campfire, with its circle of logs for seats. In the open space beyond the campfire are bell tents for the men, and in the other direction the ladies' quarters, pitched in the seclusion of the glades. Near at hand is the Dining Tent, a hundred feet square and open on all sides to the winds of heaven. Conveniently contiguous are the Administration and Commissary Tents; and, last but not least, the Tea Tent—where fair hands (under the sunburn) dispense nectar and rare ambrosia and biscuits to ravenous returning climbers.

It is dark when the camping ground is reached, with tents pitched on the very edge of a hustling mountain stream.

By earliest morning, up and away on the little Yoho Trail. We travel thirty strong, but only six are to make the ascent of Marpole, the others being bound for Mount Vice-President, theirs being a qualifying climb, the accomplishment of which entitles newcomers to active membership.

At last is reached the foot of the mountain proper, where are left the pemmicans, for Marpole is to be conquered with no appliances. Now comes the climb. And so, cliff after cliff is conquered until we stand on the summit and feast eyes on the sea of peaks opened to gaze. Chief among these, is that of Edward Whymper, the conquerer of the Matterhorn; and we discover that we have made our climb on the eighteenth anniversary of that grand climber's ascent.

The Alpine Club of Canada is all things to all people. To the strenuous it offers exercise unsurpassed for excitement and interest, unselfish gratification and satisfaction in successful accomplishment. See Canada First. And there is no grander part of Canadians' commonheritage than the great mountain ranges of our farthest West. And therefore be advised: Next summer, you who have vacations to spend and love the great Outdoors, pack up and go west to the camps of the Alpine Club and you will surely return therefrom larger-visioned, clearer-eyed, surer-nerved, with greater faith and health and energy and power.

OBITUARY

MRS. ANDREW KNOX.

One of the last and oldest of the pioneer settlers of North Verulam, in the person of Sarah Anne McClelland relict of the late Andrew Knox, has gone to her well-earned rest. Mrs. A. Knox passed away at the home of her son, John, at the old homestead, Town of Verulam. Her husband, Andrew Knox, predeceased her sixteen years ago.

Mrs. Knox was born in the County of Derry, Ireland, in 1829. She came to Canada in 1842, arriving in Peterborough, which was a very small village at that date, and staying with her sister, Mrs. John Stinson, until her marriage to Mr. A. Knox, in 1848. The couple lived on a small farm in Smith Town Hill, remaining there until 1856 when they moved to a larger farm in North Verulam Township, which is the site of the present homestead.

There were eleven in the family, eight of whom are living: Mrs. Wm. Wray and Mrs. Wm. Elia, of the Township of North Verulam, are daughters; Samuel and John Knox, of Verulam, are sons; James, of New Liskeard; Joseph, of Peterborough; George, of Fenelon Falls, are also sons; Mrs. James Ellis, of Port Moody, B.C., is another daughter.

Mrs. Know was a life-long Methodist and in the early days all church meetings were held in her home where all received a cordial welcome. The first Methodist church in that vicinity was built on a corner of her farm. Of this church she was a devoted and active member. A loyal friend and a true one, her works of charity will long be remembered.

The funeral took place from the homestead to Fenelon Falls Cemetery, where many mourners bade farewell to a true and kind friend.

INFANT SON.

The infant son of Joseph Winn whose mother died on Saturday, died last evening, aged 8 days.

The funeral will take place at three o'clock to-day from the family residence, 841 Water street, to St. Peter's cemetery.

PROFITABLE ARREST

PHILADELPHIA, Pa.—Being arrested was a profitable venture for Louis Baymack, a former soldier, with three gold stripes on his sleeve. Baymack who lives in Wilkes-Barre, was arrested while selling toys on Market street without a peddler's license. He was released by Magistrate Pennock after promising not to sell in uniform, and that he would get a license. Sympathetic spectators in the court bought out his stock of toys when he reached the corridor.

BEATING SWORDS INTO PLOWSHARES

(United Press.)

ESSEN, Germany, Dec. 12. — The greatest demonstration in history of actually "beating the sword into a plowshare" is being enacted in this city. Krupps, formerly synonymous with war, and but a few short months ago the largest manufacturers of armaments in the world, to-day are not only giving over their enormous plant to production of peace time implements, but are breaking up cannon and other munitions to provide the material for this. Men and machinery that formerly turned out siege guns, small arms, ammunition and armor plate, are now constructing locomotives, cars, automobile parts and farm machinery.

NOTICE TO ADVERTISERS IN THE EXAMINER

REQUEST FOR COPY IS AGAIN MADE TO BE IN THE DAY BEFORE PUBLICATION.

The Examiner is going to press to-day with four pages of advertising matter omitted, just for the reason that the copy has been sent to the office too late for it to be set, and get the paper on the press at 4.15 o'clock. We have all the facilities for getting out a paper of any size, up to 24 pages, without difficulty, if the advertisers will only have their copy sent to the office the day before it is wanted for insertion. We do not like disappointing our advertisers, but we have been asked to accomplish lately what is a physical impossibility in offices even larger than The Examiner.

The kindly co-operation of the advertisers with our advertising and news-room departments, will result in better service all round.

...LD'S DROWNING IN CISTERN WAS CHIEF ISSUE IN A $500 DAMAGE SUIT

...L. WHATMAN BROUGHT AC-...ON AGAINST MRS. DUPRAU, AL-...ING THAT SHE HAD BEEN ...ILTY OF CARELESSNESS IN LEAV-...G SHED DOOR OPEN.

...d Whatman's claim for $500 ...st Mrs. Margaret Duprau ...ged carelessness, resulting in ...rowning of his three-year-old ... July 15th last, was heard by a ... in the County Court yesterday ...noon and this morning. About ... that day, while Mrs. Duprau was ... to Mrs. Whatman, the little ...strayed from the shed where he ...ying, and, while his mother's ...tion was diverted, wandered into ...ning section of the outbuild-...fell through the decayed flooring ...cistern, and was drowned in ...four feet of water.

...Duprau tenanted the house at 177 ...th Street, owned by Mrs. Duprau ...Mrs. Margaret Latimer, both old-...women who lived next door at ... who came into possession of ...perty after the death of Mrs. ... died in February.

...Joseph Wearing appeared for ...ntiff and Mr. F. D. Kerr for ...fendant.

...parties agreed that the house ...rumbled down and in need of ...ive repairs. Mrs. Duprau tes-...that she had urged the What-...to get another house in order ...she could call in a carpenter. She ...particularly anxious about the ... floor, which had sagged six ... and threatened to fall beneath ... The purpose of her visit on ... was to find out whether Mr. ... had arranged to move.

...Whatman stated that Mrs. ... came in through the back door in the shed and was asking about overdue rent. This door was kept closed, she averred, because of the cistern nearby. She said she was crying at the time, and didn't notice her little son Fred pass out of the shed. When she suddenly became aware of his absence a few minutes later, she rushed into the cistern shed and saw a hole in the covering of the cistern. She rushed out and called for help. The dead body of the boy was taken from the water shortly afterward.

P. C. Wigg and Wm. Leggett gave evidence as to the unsoundness of the covering of the cistern. Pieces of the rotted flooring were produced as exhibits.

Mrs. Duprau stated that lumber had been provided for recovering the cistern, and neither she nor Mrs. Latimer had taken it away from the Whatman premises. Defendant said that she was not conscious of the dangerous condition of the cistern top when she called on Mrs. Whatman, and also that the door was not locked when she entered.

Did you know that the cistern was in a dangerous condition?" Mr. Kerr asked.

"No more than the rest of the old house," Mrs. Duprau replied.

Mr. Whatman and his nine-year-old daughter Irene testified that the shed door was kept locked, and that the children never went through it unless with one or other of the parents.

Much of the evidence centred upon this point as to whether the door was locked or not. Irene Whatman, a bright and intelligent child, who surprised the court by the clearness of her evidence, stated that she was playing in the shed with her brother when Mrs. Duprau opened the door by forcing the bar. This was denied by defendant, who also said that Irene was in the kitchen with her mother.

OTTAWA LIBERTY LEAGUE AFTER MR. GUISE-BAGLEY

Special to The Examiner.

OTTAWA, December 12th. — That the arrest of J. GuiseBagley, a Peterboro barrister, who was head of the Peterboro Branch of the Citizens' Liberty League, has attracted wide-spread attention, is shown by the comment which it has aroused in this city, where the League numbers many distinguished citizens among its membership. Mr. A. H. Walsh, a prominent citizen here, after quoting the news despatch which was sent out by the Canadian Press, relating the facts surrounding the arrest and charge against Mr. Bagley, of having an illicit still in his possession, writes to the local newspapers as follows:

"It may be interesting to some of those opposed to the principles of the Citizens' Liberty League, to know that just at this time, when the Honorary President of the League is distributing pamphlets introducing the objects of the League, there are also agencies at work which should help to neutralize the fine effects, hopeless though they may be, anticipated by the Citizens' Liberty League. I should like to be advised by the Honorary Treasurer of the Citizens' Liberty League as to whether this illicit manufacturer is still a member of, or has been repudiated by the Citizens' Liberty League."

TRUE SPORTSMANSHIP REVEALED BY WITNESS

SERGT.-MAJOR COPPINS, V.C., WAS INJURED DURING THE STRIKE RIOTS IN WINNIPEG.

GIVES EVIDENCE

(Special to the Examiner)

WINNIPEG, Dec. 12.— True sportsmanship was revealed by Sergeant Major George Coppins V.C., one of the Winnipeg's famous heroes as he testified at the trial of R. B. Russell. Coppin's was so seriously injured during the riots of June 10th that he was confined to the hospital for two weeks. Despite the rough-handling he received at the hands of the mob. The V. C. now displays the happy disposition that he was able to take a licking and hold no ill feeling. When asked to give an account of the riot, he merely smiled and said that it had been a pretty fair fracas. When a newspaper item was submitted to him in which it was claimed that he had been trampled by the strikers, he emphatically stated it was incorrect. His chief aim on the stand appeared to be a desire to be fair to the strikers.

A RESOLUTION OF GREAT REGRET

As a meeting of the Utilities Commission held Wednesday and before entering upon the business of the day, the members of the Commission engaged for a short period in a reminiscence of their service in office. Mr. T. F. Matthews had served continuously for eighteen years and had been Chairman during all that time as Water and Utilities Commissioner and Mr. Moore for sixteen years and Mr. Hicks for six years. In that time vast improvement has been made in all matters pertaining to the plant and water service; and a resolution was passed expressive of deep regret at the retirement of Mr. Matthews, who had been a most efficient and devoted officer, and whose absence will be deeply regretted by the other Commissioners and also by the city at large. It will indeed, be extremely difficult to find a Commissioner with the business capacity to fill Mr. Matthews' place and be prepared to sacrifice so much of valuable time and give such splendid administration and service to the city.

Mr. W. H. Moore was appointed secretary.

NEVER HEARD OF THE NEW DISEASE

(Special to The Examiner.)

TORONTO, Dec. 12.—"I never heard of such a thing, either in Toronto or anywhere else," said Dr. J.A. Campbell when approached in reference to a disease referred to in a despatch, as "Hydatid Cyst."

Dr. Campbell was questioned concerning a report from Southwark, London, England, which stated that a woman had contracted the disease by allowing her pet dog to kiss her and had subsequently died.

The doctor was highly amused at the story, which he appeared to regard as ridiculous.

ADDITIONAL ARRESTS IN THE "DANSEY" CASE

WARRANTS ISSUED FOR WHITE AND MRS. JONES—ACCUSED STILL AT LIBERTY.

LATE DEVELOPMENTS

(United Press.)

HAMMONDTON, New Jersey, Dec. 12.—Two and possibly more, arrests will be made in connection with the death of Billy Dansey, according to Edmund C. Gaskill, prosecuting attorney. One of the persons to be arrested is Mrs. Susan White, wife of Louis White, a brother of the man charged with the murder.

Magistrate Strouse, of Hammondton, who issued the warrants for White and Mrs. Jones, admitted today he has signed a warrant for Mrs. White. He explained it had not been served because she is ill and is nursing two sick children.

Application for a writ of habeas corpus, which has been deferred from day to day, was expected to be made to-day by counsel for White and Mrs. Jones.

PREMIERS HAVE A CONFERENCE

(Canadian Press.)

PARIS, Dec. 12.— Premiers Clemenceau and Lloyd George have a clear understanding as to the situation resulting from the present German attitude, according to French newspapers, which speak with satisfactory opinion of the conference in London by the two statesmen. Many newspapers express the desire that the conference should end in the conclusion, if not an alliance, at least of an entente or agreement equivalent to a real alliance between Great Britain, France, Italy and Belgium.

MUST HAVE BEEN A TURKEY SHOW

MAN FOUND DEAD IN A BOX OF ST. CATHARINES THEATRE.

ST. CATHARINES, Dec. 12.—This morning a woman who sweeps out at the Grand Theatre found a man, James J. Pattison, of Toronto, who had fallen off his chair in a box.

He had been dead some time. He probably died of heart failure, but whether during the show last night or in some way managed to get into the theatre after the police are trying to discover. He was reported seen in his room at his hotel at 9.45 last night.

PREPARING FOR THE CONVENTION

PETERBORO IS READY TO TAKE CARE OF VISITING DELEGATES.

TORONTO, Dec. 12.—Once more rumours and predictions that a Dominion Convention of the G. W. V. A. will be held at an early date are echoing about the corridors of the G. W. V. A. offices in the Kent Building. It is no coincidence that the Provincial president, the Rev. C. E. Jeakins, and the Dominion secretary, Comrade C. G. MacNeil, are in the city to-day, and will in all probability confer.

"There is no doubt that a convention will be held all right," Mr. Jeakins said yesterday. "As regards the alternative proposal that had been advanced for the holding of a conference of the Provincial executives merely, that would be a waste of time and money, for they would not have the authority to adopt any definite course of action with regard to our fight on the re-establishment question. Every decision of such a conference would have to be referred to a convention later on."

Mr. Jeakins intimated that not only were the Ontario Provincial Command eagerly awaiting the official announcement of the Dominion Command on the convention question, but that the announcement might be expected soon.

"And when it is made, we in Ontario can act quickly as regards the holding of our Provincial Convention," he added. Accommodation in Peterborough has been arranged, and at an instant the wires can be set in action, and the delegates from every branch summoned. Most of the Ontario branches have already chosen their delegates, and are quietly awaiting developments.

Mr. Jeakins asserted that when the convention takes place he will no longer be a candidate for the presidency. Having spent nearly four years in the service of the G. W. V. A., he feels that he has done his duty and should make way for new blood.

"I also feel," said he, "that there might be a disposition on the part of some of the G. W. V. A. boys to regard the tenure of such an office any longer by a person as uncalled for; and shall be glad to make way for a new man."

ANNUAL MEETING OF L.O.L. 2440

Despite the inclement weather of Tuesday evening, there was a large number of members and visitors at the annual meeting of the Lord Nelson, L.O.L., 2440, which was held in the lodge room near May's schoolhouse, North Monaghan. Amongst the visitors present were County Master J. H. Spence, Past County Masters J. C. Waldie and A. Robinson, District Master J. Gratton and several other well known members of the order. After the regular routine business was finished, County Master Spence treated the assembled members to a lengthy speech on the aims and objects of the Orange Order He was followed by well chosen remarks from Messrs. Councillor T. Henry, P.C.M.'s J. C. Waldie, A. Robinson and several others.

The election of officers for the year 1920 then took place and resulted as follows: W. M., Bro. N. Porter; DM., Bro. W. Lockie; Chaplain, Bro E. Fry; Rec.-Sec.—Bro. L. Young; Fin.-Sec., Bro. G. Land; Treas., Bro. T. Arnott; D. of C., Bro. G. Sexsmith; 1st Lect., Bro. L. Thompson; 2nd Lect., Bro. H. Forster; Committee, Brothers E. Davey, H. Welbourne, E. Adamson, G. Bullied, and G. Webb.

After the newly-elected officers had been installed by County Master Spence, light refreshments were served, after which the members rose and sang the National Anthem, which brought to a close one of the most enthusiastic and best meetings held in this district for years.

WAR GUILT INQUIRY TO GO ON

But Reichstag Committees Will Curb the License of Witnesses.

BERLIN, Dec. 12.—Rumors current abroad that the committees investigating the war guilt of German leaders in 1914 have discontinued their meetings are entirely wrong, according to a semi-official parliamentary political news agency, which issued a statement here to-day.

"On the contrary" the statement says, "it is intended ot conduct the investigations with every energy to a conclusion, but new methods will be adopted which will make it impossible for witnesses to misuse the accommodating spirit shown them for party political purposes. The investigating committee intends to conclude its inquiry into the manner in which President Wilson's peace efforts were received as soon as possible, so that the peace possibilities of the Spring and early Summer of 1917 can be subjected to scrutiny."

Germany's Reply Is Conciliatory

HEAVY ATTACKS BY BOLSHEVIKI

(Canadian Press.)

LONDON, Dec. 12.—Bolshevik forces have again heavily attacked the left flank of General Denikine's army and driven the latter's volunteers back to a depth of nearly forty miles along a front from three to four hundred miles long. The Reds are within fifty miles of Kharkov and Poltava, and are swinging around to the south-east of Kiev, which is also threatened from the north-west, according to news from South Russia, and the situation gives rise to anxiety. On the Caucasus front, however, the Bolsheviki have been repulsed before Tzaritzan with heavy losses. Don Cossacks have also been successful in pushing back the Reds.

THREE NEW CASES REPORTED IN CITY

TWO SCHOOL CHILDREN ARE STRICKEN WITH SMALLPOX.

Three new cases of smallpox developed this week. Dr. A. W. McPherson, M.O.H., said it is of a light type. The cases are located in the north end and two of the new cases are school children. In spite of the doctor's repeated advice to all to become vaccinated the citizens are following his advice very slowly.

THE EXCEPTIONS

Canadian Press.

BERLIN, December 12. — Germany's reply to the last notes from the Supreme Council has been sent to Versailles. Nothing has been given out relative to its contents aside from hints that its general tenor reciprocates the conciliatory tone of the last communication from the entente.

The reports state that the reply renews the government's disclaimer of responsibility for the sinking of the interned German warships at Scapa Flow, and sets forth exceptions to the Supreme Council's insistence upon compensation for the scuttled vessels. It is said to claim that the objectionable passage from a letter from Admiral Von Trotsk, head of the German Admiral, to Admiral Von Reuter, commander of the German ships, was not translated properly, and that it was out of context with the rest of the letter.

On the proposition that Germany sign the protocol to the peace treaty, and permit the issue involving the selection of the indemnity tonnage to be adjusted later, it is reported that the note proposes that the latter be forthwith submitted to a body of experts.

This stand is taken because of the importance of the matter to German harbor facilities. It is hoped to obtain concessions on the Scapa Flow issues, and it is believed the note indicates a measure of obstinacy over yielding on this point.

Health and Happiness

Women of today seem to listen to every call of duty except the supreme one that tells them to guard their health. Home duties, church duties, war activities, and the hundred-and-one calls for charitable enterprises soon lead women to overdo. Nervousness, headaches, backaches and female troubles are the inevitable result.

Philadelphia, Pa.—"I was very weak, always tired, my back ached, and I felt sickly most of the time. I went to a doctor and he said I had nervous indigestion, which, added to my weak condition, kept me worrying most of the time—and he said if I could not stop that, I could not get well. I heard so much about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound my husband wanted me to try it. I took it for a week and felt a little better. I kept it up for three months, and I feel fine and can eat anything now without distress or nervousness. Health and happiness? Yes, I have both now."—Mrs. J. WEINSTEIN, 2043 North Taylor Street, Philadelphia, Pa.

The majority of women nowadays overdo, there are so many demands upon their time and strength; the result is invariably a weakened, run-down nervous condition with headaches, backache, irritability and depression—and soon more serious ailments develop. Avoid them by taking in time

GOVERNMENT SHIPS QUANTITY OF GOLD

Canadian Press:

NEW YORK, Dec. 12.—The Canadian Government is shipping ten million dollars in gold to this city, it was announced to-day. The shipment, which is purely a Canadian Government matter, is said to be for the purpose of meeting some obligations here and also to check the depreciation in the Montreal Exchange. The Canadian Exchange yesterday underwent a sensational decline of $3.75 per thousand dollars, which carried the rate to $115, or a premium of eleven per cent. on the dollar in Montreal. The sale of Canadian grain bills is believed to have accentuated the weakness in the exchange rates.

ISOLATE PROVINCE.

(Canadian Press.)

OTTAWA, Dec. 12.— "It may become necessary in the near future for adjoining provinces to isolate the Province of Ontario, and the United States may act even more promptly," said Dr. J. A. Amott, Deputy Minister of Federal Health Department, this morning, when interviewed regarding the smallpox epidemic. If all were vaccinated, the epidemic would be at an end in two weeks, but with so many centres now existing, it is likely that it will continue until most of the unvaccinated are picked out by it.

Fat That Shows Soon Disappears

Prominent fat that comes and stays where it is not needed is a burden; a hindrance to activity, a curb upon pleasure. You can take off the fat where it shows by taking after each meal and at bedtime, one Marmola Prescription Tablet. These little tablets are as effective and harmless as the famous prescription from which they take their name. Buy and try a case to-day. Your druggist sells them at $1, or if you prefer you might write direct to the Marmola Company, 864 Woodward Ave., Detroit, Mich. You can thus say good-bye to dieting, exercise and fat.

Heart Disease and Nerve Troubles Sweep the Country

Probably at no period in the world's history have heart and nerve troubles been so prevalent as they are to-day.

The heart can't stand the stress and strain of this busy, bustling age, and the care and worry, the anxiety and activity of business life constitute a constant drain on the nervous system.

The business of this work-a-day world goes with such a rush that the stoutest hearts and strongest nerves break down under the strain.

On the first approach of any breakdown of the system Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills should be taken. The reconstructive power of these pills on the heart and nerve system is simply marvellous.

Mr. W. A. Wright, Hopewell Ave., Ottawa, Ont., writes:—"After suffering for some time with my heart, I consulted a number of doctors, but got no relief. However, I read what Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills had done for others, who had the same symptoms and thought I would give them a trial. Believe me, six boxes cured me completely. I am feeling fine now, and can attend to my work every day. I can recommend your pills to any one suffering as I did."

Price 50c. a box at all dealers or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

NOT TEACHING FRENCH HERE

M'GILL COLLEGE PROFESSOR SAYS PRESIDENT OF FRANCE WOULD FAIL TO PASS LANGUAGE EXAMINATION IN ONTARIO.

"It requires no little hardihood in these days to lift up one's voice in criticism of the sinless province of Ontario," says Prof. Stephen Leacock, of McGill University, in commencing an article in the Canadian Bookman for January on "Un-Teaching French in Ontario." The article, he says, "has no other purpose than to discuss why it is that the people in Ontario cannot talk French. The essential aspect of the problem is this. In Ontario most educated people have tried to learn French. None of them have succeeded. There are in the province over 150 High schools and collegiate institutes all busily engaged in teaching French. Not a single pupil in any of them learns a single word of it—in any real sense.

Passed—But Failed.

"The University of Toronto examined at its last matriculation some 1,000 students in what was called an examination in French and declared that they had passed the examination. In reality not a single one of these matriculants knew anything about French whatever— in the real sense. The matriculant could, that is to say, if one gave him time, mechanically translate with a pen and ink some written English words into some written French words. But this has but little connection with knowing French. On the contrary —it is a first-class way and method of making certain never to know it."

"No criticism is here offered against the efficiency and the industry of the many hundred people who teach French in the schools of Ontario. They do what they are compelled to do to meet the strange and disastrous kind of test applied to their pupils.

Poincare would be Floored.

"And the most amazing thing about the situation is that if Anatole France and Monsieur Poincare were sent up to write of an Ontario matriculation examination in French there is not the slightest chance that either of them would head the list—they would be beaten right and left by girls from Seaforth High School, who never saw the red wings of the Moulin Rouge, and by boys from the Hamilton Collegiate Institute who wouldn't know enough real French to buy a cup of tea in the Cafe de la Paix. Indeed it is doubtful if Anatole France and Poincare would pass at all. The whole examination being a test in English, they would probably be ploughed and have to be put under the care of an Ontario special teacher for six months.

The Wrong Way.

"The point that I am endeavoring to make and reinforce with all the emphasis of which I am capable is this: The ability to translate into English in writing is not a knowledge of French. More than this, it is the very opposite of it. It involves, if exercised persistently and industriously, a complete inability ever to have a knowledge of French. The English gets in the way. The French words are for ever prevented from acquiring a real meaning in connection with the objects and actions indicated because the mind has been trained always and forever and hopelessly to associate them with English words instead of with things. The process is fatal. And the whole system is not only worthless, but it is a fraud and an imposition practised upon all those who learn French in the schools of the province of Ontario.

What's the Use.

"But of what use is criticism or protest?" concludes Prof. Leacock. "The immaculate province of Ontario is so encased in the conviction of its own righteousness that if it fails to learn French, it will merely pass a law prohibiting the use of French by those who are fortunate enough to appreciate it.

WONDERFUL WARDROBES.

Some "Swell Dressers" Buy Suits by the Hundred.

A lady film star has confessed to owning over 400 different costumes, many of which she has worn once only, says Pearson's Weekly.

No lady of fashion would dream of possessing 100, let alone 400, dresses. She would not have time to wear half of them before the fashion had changd and they were out of date.

The only rivals to the film lady in respect of giant wardrobes are, it must be confessed, men. The most wonderful dressers of recent years were the late Lord Anglesey and the great Italian dramatist and flying man, Gabriele d'Annunzio.

Just before the war d'Annunzio confessed to possessing seventy-two pairs of gloves, a hundred and fifty ties, forty-eight nightshirts and seventy-two day shirts, twenty dozen handkerchiefs, about forty pairs of shoes, and between sixty and seventy suits of clothes.

Big as this list is, it is nothing compared to the wardrobe of Lord Anglesey, whose clothes after his death were auctioned in 900 different lots. Among them were thirty bath gowns and over forty dressing gowns. There were a dozen smoking suits, the jacket of one being made entirely of Persian lamb.

The waistcoats were numbered by the score, and were of silk, leather, wool and costly furs.

As for boots and shoes, they were innumerable, and ranged from snow and skating boots and patent leather jack boots down to shoes of white crocodile leather. Incidentally there were 200 overcoats.

But even Lord Anglesey's wardrobe failed in several respects to match that of the late Baron de Reuter. He left 100 dress suits and 150 pairs of spats.

For sheer value the clothes of George IV. hold a record. They were disposed of after his death for £15,000. Among them were all the coats which he had purchased during a period of very nearly half a century.

Matching the stones in the shoe buckles, the back combs and the ornamentation of evening gowns is a fad of the moment.

THIRTY RAT POISONED DOG AND ARE KILLED

LONDON, Eng.—A tragic occurrence, resulting in the death of 30 Chinese is reported in the North China Herald.

It appears that a dog owned by a wealthy Canton merchant was bitten by a poisonous snake and died a few hours later. Its master gave orders to a coolie to remove the body for burial, but the man, after pretending to obey the order, sold the body to a Chinese hawker. The latter, being unaware that the dog had died from poisoning, prevared a delectable dish from its remains and sold it in the street.

Over 40 coolies bought the food and ate it, and a few hours later several fell dead in the street. Thirty of the 40 have, it is reported, since died while the remaining ten are undergoing hospital treatment.

The man who sold the dog and the hawker have both been arrested by the Canton police on the charge of murder.

COLD STORAGE EGGS FOR FRESH

BRANTFORD, Dec. 12.—It has been reported to the authorities that on Saturday a market attendant and his wife, having sold out of eggs, adjourned for a few minutes to a local store, where they replenished their stock with cold storage eggs, which they purchased at from 75 to 80 cents ped dozen.

On their return to the market these eggs were retailed out as the strictly fresh variety, at from 90 to 95 cents per dozen.

The same thing has been previously reported, but this is the first time that the name of the eyewitness has been available for the authorities.

"Peterborough Presents Possibilities Unsurpassed."

FRIDAY, DECEMBER 12TH, 1919.

THE POLICE DEPARTMENT.

The Review is opposed to the police department being placed under the control of the City Council it would be nothing short of a misfortune to have the police affairs of the city mixed up in civic politics and made an issue at every municipal election declares our contemporary and with that statement we heartily agree. But the Review does favour the election by the people of a commission to handle the police department, isn't that mixing the police affairs in civic politics. And wouldn't it mean that police affairs would be an issue at every municipal election? An elected commission would, it is admitted, be much superior to a committee of the Council, but a permanent commission, not dependant upon popular clamour and the whims of the electorate, such as has control of the department at present, is better still.

A NEW POLITICAL PARTY.

To the multiplicity of political parties already in the field must be added a new organization the Citizens' Liberty League. The association, born at the opposition of many people to the Ontario Temperance Act was formed to fight for the repeal of that measure and the decisive majority registered in favour of temperance on all four questions of the referendum was thought to have crushed the existence out of the Liberty League. Apparently however there is still some life left in the organization and at a convention in Toronto it has been decided that the League is to become a political party for the purpose of running candidates in municipal, Provincial and Federal elections. So the Liberty League party will contest with Liberals, Conservatives, Unionists, United Farmers, Independent Labour party and soldier candidates for public favour in future elections. If all the branches of the League are not in better condition than is the Peterboro branch, there is little likelihood of the new party making much progress in the carrying out its aims.

MUST SAVE FUEL YET.

The announcement of the termination of the United States coal strike gratifying as it is must not be taken as a sign than the fuel shortage is at an end and that rigid economy is not needed any longer. On the other hand people should understand that the settlement of the strike will not result in an immediate improvement in the situation. In many parts of the United States there has been a fuel famine for some weeks, and in some cases people have had to burn some of their furniture to keep warm. On view of such conditions it is natural that when coal begins to move, those sections which have suffered the most will be the first taken care and it may be several months before the shipments to Canada will bring the supply in this country to normal. Dominion Fuel Controller Magrath and Mr. H. A. Harrington the Provincial Fuel Administrator both continue to warn the people that the situation is serious and may remain so for some time. "Utmost conservation is absolutely essential on the part of all consumers" Mr. Harrington declares and in Peterboro as elsewhere his warning should be received as an official intimation that for some time at least fuel shall be used as economically as possible.

MR. CALDER'S POSITION.

The congratulations offered by the Toronto Globe to the Liberals of North Oxford on giving Mr. Calder M.P.P., a free hand in regard to supporting measures which appear to him to be in the best interests of the Province seem to the Woodstock Sentinel-Review as rather unnecessary.

Mr. Calder in asserting the right to use his own judgment is but following the example of notable men who have gone before, points out our Woodstock contemporary, and the Liberals of North Oxford, in confirming him in that right, are but honouring a splendid tradition. Indeed the idea that the candidate of a political party becomes, when elected, a pledged delegate, restricted in his duties to registering the will of the party that nominated him, has no place in the doctrine or practice of Liberalism. Naturally a Liberal member will be expected to adhere to Liberal policies and principles; but it is of the very essence of Liberalism that the Liberal representative shall be free at all times to serve the best interests of all the people.

Perhaps in these days of class consciousness and of organized efforts for class representation it is necessary to assert the broad principles of Liberalism; but there is nothing very new about this theory of representation which the Globe so cordially and properly commends.

THE VETERANS' CONVENTION

There seems no doubt that in the very near future Peterboro will be called upon to accommodate some four hundred delegates to the Provincial convention of the Great War Veterans' Association, one of the largest gatherings of its kind that has been held here. The choosing of Peterboro as a meeting place for this important conference is a honour that the citizens should appreciate and the local branch of the Association should be given every assistance in the task of entertaining the representatives of Ontario's fighting men. In the first place accommodation will have to be found for the delegates. Obviously the hotels can only take care of a fraction of the visitors so that the majority will have to be billeted in private houses. A number of citizens have already placed their homes at the disposal of the Veterans and their kind offer has been most gratefully received but there is need of many more billets to house all the delegates who will be here. Their accommodation will be paid for, it is not therefore a question of securing free billets but of finding accommodation that will be paid for. Those citizens who are in a position to help are asked to communicate with the Secretary of the Association.

Whether or not the City Council has been officially notified of the fact that the convention will be held here in the near future, the Examiner does not know. At any rate the Council, it is supposed, is ready to co-operate with the G.W.V.A. and assist the Association in entertaining the visiting veterans. At the last convention in Windsor, civic representatives extended a cordial invitation to the Association to hold its next gathering in Peterboro and that invitation should be backed up now by a civic programme of entertainments for the delegates who will come from all parts of the Province. The matter will have to be discussed immediately as there is little time to spare.

ANTI-VACCINATION CLAMOR.

Toronto is likely to find herself isolated from the rest of the province soon by reason of the unreasonable attitude of the civic authorities against compulsory vaccination. Of course there are many people in Toronto with a prejudice against vaccination, and the near approach of election time makes the civic authorities sensitive to popular clamor if it be loud enough—and anti-vaccination clamor is always loud. But if many people refuse to be vaccinated in a time of smallpox epidemic, it is hard for the health authorities to combat the epidemic, the disease is sure to spread, and other places in self-protection are likely to adopt quarantine measures against the infected town. Montreal has put up the bars against people arriving there from Toronto unless they can show that they have been recently vaccinated. And all Ontario is under the ban of the American immigration authorities because of Toronto's epidemic of smallpox. Unless the situation mends Hamilton will be obliged to take precautions similar to those taken by Montreal.

Realizing the seriousness of the situation, the provincial health authorities have threatened to shut Toronto off from the rest of the province—to put the whole city under quarantine unless the civic government adopts the necessary precautions. In this matter the provincial health board has full power to act, and it would be justified in carrying out its threat if civic officialdom in Toronto continues to think more of catering to anti-vaccination sentiment than of the public health.

The anti-vaccination principle and spirit are revealed in the following declaration by that crank paper the Ottawa Citizen: "The people of Ontario cannot intelligently submit to the control of a medical hierarchy any more than they should submit to control by a state church." What arrant nonsense! The "medical hierarchy" meant are the medical officers of health and the boards of health. Their mandates cannot be submitted to, says the Citizen. If that is so, then the medical health officers and the boards might as well be sent about their business. When a health officer tells a householder that he must clean up his filthy premises, that householder, if he prefers to have his premises filthy rather than clean, should not "submit to the control" of the meddling official, and should dare to disobey. If the householder is punished for his disobedience, then the "medical hierarchy" is guilty of presecution and the incident becomes material for shrill protest and invective.

But the anti-vaccinationists will say, "We are not in favor of filthy premises; we think householders should be compelled to keep their premises clean." Very well. But what about the householder who is persecuted? He prefers dirt. Should his preference not be respected? If not, why not? Because it is necessary in the interest of public health to compel him to clean up? Very well; but who says it is in the interest of the public health that he should clean up? Why, the health authorities. But the health authorities say also that it is in the interest of public health that in a time of smallpox epidemic compulsory vaccination should be enforced. If the anti-vaccinationists say that it is persecution to enforce a vaccination order, they put themselves in the same class with the householder who claims the right to keep filthy premises.—Hamilton Herald.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

Canadians will be glad that the honour of completing the first flight from England to Australia has been won by a British flyer. The exploit of Capt. Smith, Australian aviator is a note worthy one even in these days of wonderful achievements in the air.

The entrance of Controller McBride into the field may be regarded by Toronto voters as a good reason for giving Mayor Church another term.

LAKEFIELD NEWS

LAKEFIELD, Dec. 11.—Messrs. John Blanco and Richard Graham of Sandford, Man., are guests of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Graham on Clementi St.

Mr. Dan Whetung Sr., of Curve Lake, was a visitor to the village on Tuesday.

The bale contained many warm and comfortable garments, quilts and also a number of donated articles and things intended to convey Christmas cheer to Mr. Fuller and his staff who labor there.

With the Poets

On Monday evening the A.Y.P.A. had an evening with the poets in the Sunday School room. The committee in charge had decided to have selections from various poets and in addition to papers on the life and works of Robert Browning and Elizabeth Barrett Browning and Francis Thompson, selections were read from their works and also selections from some of the modern Canadian poets including Canon Scott, Service, Drummond and Auld. Special mention may be given to the splendid work of Miss Wood on Browning and Miss Hilliard on Francis Thompson.

CATARRHAL DEAFNESS MAY BE OVERCOME

If you have Catarrhal Deafness or head or ear noises or are growing hard of hearing go to your druggist and get 1 ounce of Parmint (double strength), and add to it ¼ pint of hot water and a little granulated sugar. Take 1 tablespoonful four times a day.

This will often bring quick relief from the distressing head noises. Clogged nostrils should open, breathing become easy and the mucus stop dropping into the throat. It is easy to prepare, costs little and is pleasant to take. Anyone who has Catarrhal Deafness or head noises should give this prescription a trial.

TODAY'S WATCHWORD
—Sickness Prevention

The guiding inspiration of modern medical science is Sickness Prevention. As this idea has worked itself out, smallpox, cholera, yellow fever and other infectious diseases already have given way. And science has finally developed an effective agent against the plague which is the originating point of over 90% of disease.

That plague is constipation, and that agent Nujol.

The dangers of constipation are so widespread because by reducing the body's power of resistance through self-poisoning it makes it easier for any disease to develop. Nujol by relieving constipation prevents the absorption of the poisons which otherwise would be taken into the blood and infect the whole system.

Leading medical authorities agree that pills, salts, castor oil, etc., simply force and weaken the system.

Nujol softens the food waste and encourages the intestinal muscles to act naturally.

Nujol helps Nature establish easy, thorough bowel evacuation at regular intervals—the healthiest habit in the world. Get a bottle from your druggist today.

For valuable health booklet—"Thirty Feet of Danger"—free, write Nujol Laboratories, Standard Oil Co. (New Jersey), 50 Broadway, New York.

Warning: Nujol is sold only in sealed bottles bearing the Nujol Trade Mark, as shown here. Beware of products represented to be "the same as Nujol". You may suffer from substitution.

FATAL DISASTER LIFEBOAT CAPSIZES

The most fatal lifeboat accident that has ever occurred on the Norfolk coast took place on November 14, 1901 at Caistor, near Yarmouth, when the lifeboat "Beauchamp" capsized while returning to the shore, and nine of her crew were drowned. In answer to signals of distress from a Lowestoft fishing boat that was drifting on to the Barber Sands, the boat was in readiness to go off at eleven o'clock on the Wednesday night. A tremendous sea was running at the time, and the task of launching the boat proved almost impossible. She was got off once, but heavy rolls caught her and drove her back, and it was only after three hours' continuous struggling in the teeth of a hurricane of wind and blinding rain that the "Beauchamp" was got clear away on her errand. Nothing more was seen of her until four o'clock in the morning, when the watchers in the lifeboat shed caught a faint glimpse of her, keel upwards, driving up the beach before the waves. Thirty boatmen plunged into the water to render assistance, but could do very little. As the boat was rocked by the waves they could see the faces of some of their comrades imprisoned beneath her. Straining every nerve they succeeded, with the utmost difficulty in dragging out three of the lifeboat men as the "Beauchamp" rose and fell. A few hours later, when the tide went down, the capsized boat was righted with the assistance of a large crowd, and more bodies were recovered.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON FOR WEEK

Dec. 14th, 1919.

At the trial and crucifixion of Jesus. John 18:15-27; 19:25-27.

Golden Text God so loved the world that he gave his only begotten Son that whosoever believeth in him should not perish but have everlasting life. John 3:16.

1. Verses 15-18 Why would it or not have been better for John and better if they like the balance of the disciples, had remained away from the trial of Jesus?

2. Which and why, acter the more ignoble part, Peter, or those disciples that fled from Jesus in his hour of trial?

3. What is the infallible rule for not denying Jesus?

4. Verses 15-18. How do you account for Peter denying to this maid that he was a follower of Jesus?

5 If Peter instead of denying being a follower of Jesus had preached Christ unto this young woman, what would probably have happened?

6. Verses 19-23. Why would you say or not, that the answer of Jesus to the high priest was in no way disrespectful?

7. Why did the high priest ask this question when he already knew the teaching of Jesus?

8. Verses 19-23. Why would Jesus not answer the question of the high priest direct?

9. Verses 24-27. From the other accounts we learn that they sought for witnesses against Jesus; what would have been the result if Peter had pressed his way forward and volunteered his testimony?

10. At what point in this story did Peter's downfall commence?

11. Verses 24-27. Can you think of any instance when a lie has been told when it was not necessary to tell one or more lies to back it up?

12. What in an emergency, is always the best thing for a follower of Jesus to do in order to keep from denying him?

13. What would you say is the radical difference between the sin of Judas and this sin of Peter?

14. When we lie or commit any other sin through excitement or our nerves getting beyond our control, and the moment after it is done we are sorry and make up our minds not to do that again, does that in any case disrupt our relations with God?

15. Verses 24-27. If Peter's denial of Jesus was a contingent event how did Jesus know in advance that the cock would crow after Peter had denied him thrice?

16. John 19: 25-27 What was the one great passion which dominated Jesus, alike in life and in death?

17. Is there any thing in death which changes the quality of the soul, or is the ruling passion in life strong in death?

18. What is the measure of the obligation of grown up sons to take care of their mothers, providing them with a home and its comforts?

PROTESTING ELECTION OF G. HOWARD FERGUSON.

OTTAWA, Dec. 3.—The provincial election of the county of Grenville, in which the recount gave Hon. G. Howard Ferguson a majority of 31, is being protested, the petition being filed in the supreme court Saturday by Gordon Waldron, acting for the defeated United Farmers' candidate, George Arthur Payne, of Cardinal. The petition makes the usual charges and in addition says that every illegal and corrupt act, short of force, was exerted in the Grenville election, in effect that George Howard Ferguson was, by himself, by his agents and by other persons in his behalf, before, during and after the election, guilty of bribery, treating, personation and undue influence, as defined by the Ontario Election Act, or recognized as such by the common law of parliament. Howard Ferguson's majority is, therefore, alleged to be colorable and fictitious.

SPECIAL SERVICE IN ST. PAUL'S CHURCH

REV. DR. CHAFER WILL SPEAK AT PREPARATORY SERVICE THIS EVENING.

Rev. Dr. Chafer will speak this evening at the preparatory service in St. Paul's Church. Great interest is being shown in the addresses of this remarkable teacher. The subject of his address last evening was "The Eternal Security of the Believer." It was a message of great comfort to those who were already Christians and it offered great encouragement to those who were not to commit themselves to the keeping power of Christ. He based his message specially on Paul's great passage in the 8th chapter of the Epistle to the Romans. In answer to the question of verse 34, "Who is he that condemneth?" he pointed out four reasons as given in that same verse why no power in either heaven or hell can lay a charge against God's Elect. The first of these is the death of Christ. "It is Jesus Christ that died," says the apostle. Christ's death was not the death of a man or an angel; it was the atoning death of the Christ of God. Christ died that the sinner should not be condemned, and when he accepts what Christ has done, there is no condemnation for him. But Christ has not only died, He has risen again, and this is the second reason for the eternal security of the saved sinner. The moment one believes in Christ, he is incorporated into Christ; he becomes a member of his body. As such, he was identified with Christ in His resurrection life. The words of Paul, "If ye then be risen with Christ," prove the identification of the saved with Christ in His resurrection. The third reason for the eternal security of the believer is that he has an advocate in Christ at the Father's right hand, who presents constantly before the Father the merit of His own saving work. Satan is the great accuser of the brethren, and it would seem that he is permitted to appear in the presence of God in that capacity. But when he brings the accusation against any of God's children, Christ is there as the advocate of such, and to point to His own wounds as the evidence of His having died for the very guilt of which the evil one accuses him. The last reason for his eternal security is that he has an Intercessor—"who also maketh intercession for us." No child of God will ever know before reaching heaven from what dangers and testings he has been saved by the faithful and never-failing intercession of his Lord. Peter's case is typical of all the children of God. And the Lord said, "Simon, Simon, behold Satan hath desired to have you, that he might sift you as wheat! But I have prayed for thee that thy faith fail not. Satan has desired to sift everyone who trusts in Christ. He never ceases to tempt and to get into his power the one who, through faith in Christ, has been delivered out of his hands. But through the continued intercession of Christ he is never permitted to get into his power again a soul who has believed in Christ.

The last of Dr. Chafer's addresses on the subject of Grace will be given on Saturday afternoon at 3.30. He will preach at both services on the Lord's Day. The minister of the church makes a personal appeal to the members to turn out in large numbers to the preparatory service this evening, as well as to the two services on the Lord's Day.

WORK ON THE NEW BRIDGE

The digging of the eastern abutment at the new Hunter street bridge was well under way to-day. Some 20 men are engaged in this work. Some of them are digging; others are drawing the material away, and others are running the derrick. The hole which is about twenty-five feet square, has already been excavated to a depth of twenty feet, and will need to be dug sixteen feet deeper. It is now a little below the level of the river, and the water soaks in very quickly. A steam pump is at work pumping it out as it runs in. The men are now working in about a foot of water and have to wear long rubber boots.

A large steam derrick is used to lift the material out and it is then dumped into waggons to be hauled away.

This hole has considerably weakened the eastern pier and timber supports have been built at the end of the old bridge.

The old iron bridge is being taken down little by little. This morning the men were engaged in taking off the hand railings and the iron work at the top.

Inflammatory Rheumatism Cured by B.B.B.

Rheumatism is a constitutional disease, caused by the uric acid in the blood. It manifests itself by pain and lameness attacking the muscles and joints of the body, which often swell and become hot and inflamed.

Anyone who has suffered months after months, and perhaps year after year, with rheumatism, and who has tried remedy after remedy in the hope of relief, and without success, should not give up hope.

Burdock Blood Bitters, by invigorating the digestive organs and eliminating the uric acid from the system, will give prompt and permanent relief.

Mrs. D. Barry, Purlbrook, Ont., writes:—"I feel it my duty to let you know of the great benefit my husband derived from using your Burdock Blood Bitters. He had been suffering for the past two years with inflammatory rehumatism. He tried many medicines but got no better. A friend advised him to take B. B. B. He did so, and after taking five bottles he felt like a new man, and was able to go to work the same as ever."

LAW AND GRACE BY THE REV. DR. CHAFER

INTERESTING THEME DISCUSSED AT ST. PAUL'S CHURCH.

At the afternoon service in St. Paul's Church on Wednesday, Rev. Dr. Chafer continued his study of the subject of Grace, dealing specially with the difference between law and grace. Those who attended the meeting were greatly helped by his lucid exposition of this subject, many saying that a subject had been clarified for them which they had always great difficulty in understanding.

In a word, it may be said that the difference between law and grace is that the law said "do and live," while grace says, "because you are living, do." Grace introduces the sinner to a new law of life. It is the law of life in Christ Jesus. It gives him a new motive for service. He serves not in the hope that he may be saved, but because he is saved. He said that the most difficult part of the New Testament to interpret is the Gospels, and that for the reason that they are midway between law and grace. Christ himself came under the law, and spoke to the men of his time as those who were under law. While grace and truth came by Jesus Christ grace did not begin until the death of Christ. Christ was a minister of the circumcision for the truth of God to confirm the promises unto the fathers. His ministry, therefore, began and almost to the close proceeded within Jewish and legal limits. He said, "I am not sent but unto the lost sheep of the house of Israel." It will save the Bible student much confusion if he will remember this. When reading the Gospels, therefore, it should be borne in mind that the dispensation in which Christ lived was still legal. Hence all positional and ethical truth in the first three Gospels up to the cross is in accord with the principles of merit by works. Jesus Christ Himself was "full of grace," and grace governs all his actions. It is only in the epistles, therefore, that the meaning of grace is explained. And it is in the epistles that those who live to-day find the conditioners of their salvation, their blessings and their privileges.

Dr. Chafer, in the evening, spoke on—what it is that God does for the sinner the moment He saves him. A brief paragraph such as this cannot do justice to a theme which took the speaker over an hour to expound. It may be said that the substance of this address is found in Dr. Chafer's great work on Salvation. He is the author of five other books, namely "Satan," "Evangelism," "The Kingdom in History and Prophecy," and "He that is Spiritual."

The service preparatory to Communion will be held this (Friday) evening, when new members will be received into the church. It is expected there will be a large addition on this occasion.

Dr. Chafer will speak on Saturday afternoon, and then will be present at both services on the Lord's Day.

Those who miss these services miss hearing one of the greatest Bible teachers on this continent. God has given some apostles, some prophets, some evangelists, some pastors, some teachers. Dr. Chafer is pre-eminently a teacher. The public are invited to these services.

PROTEST MORMON CHURCH ACTIVITIES IN ENGLAND

LONDON, Eng.—A wave of protest is sweeping over England against the renewal of Mormon activities in this country. One correspondent of the Daily Mail who has been investigating the effects of the Mormon propaganda and the work of Mormon agents among English women and girls writes:

"Men wearing the uniform of American soldiers met young women and induced them to join the sect. No reflection is cast upon the American army and, so far as I can learn, these recruiting agents for emigration to the United States were Mormons who had joined and come over here with their respective regiments."

GENTLENESS.

Gentleness is a natural element. To train, restrain or subdue the character so that it will manifest this virtue is not to give to that character the element of gentleness. The result will be to tame, but not to control by watchfulness his actions, so that they result in gentleness, he possesses something less than gentleness. Gentleness must be natural to be truly genuine. Where love, latent nad fervent, abounds, that is the sort of soul that possesses gentleness. It is out of the abundance of the heart that the mouth should speak. It is from the abundance of the regenerate siprit that the soul shall unveil the grace of gentleness in myriad relations. Disposition, temper, and manner are in the province of this virtue. They must possess it.

CITY LEAGUE BASKETBALL

Cressman 38; Cubs 36.

By winning Monday night's game against Quaker Oats 36 to 18 and taking Wednesday night's games from the Cubs 38 to 36—Cressman's finished the first half of the Senior City League schedule with an unbroken string of victories. Wednesday night's game was most exciting and closely contested all the way. The Cubs were leading at half time 17-16 and retained their one point advantages until two minutes of full time. From a spectators viewpoint the game was a treat. The closeness of the score keeping the excitement at the fever heat. For the Cubs the Pogue brothers were especially good and for the Winners. LONDON AND COBALT MEN ARE APPOINTED

TO THE O.H.A. EXECUTIVE—CLUBS TO BE GROUPED AT TO-NIGHT'S MEETING.

President R. M. Glover, of Peterborough, has appointed H. H. Ferguson, of London, and Angus D. Campbell, of Cobalt to be members of the O.H.A. Executive committee. This completes the committee for 1919 20, which is as follows:

President—R. M. Glover, Peterborough.

1st Vice-President—A. E. Copeland, Midland.

2nd Vice-President—W. A. Fry, Dunnville.

Past President and Treasurer—Sheriff J. F. Paxton, Whitby.

A. A. U. of C. Governor—Francis Nelson, Toronto.

Secretary—W. A. Hewitt, Toronto.

Executive Committee —R. Butler, Lindsay; Geo. B. McKay, Kingston; W. W. Davidson, Toronto; Wm. Easson, Stratford; H. H. Ferguson, London; Angus D. Campbell, Cobalt.

The first meeting of the new exetive will be held at the Evening Telegram Building to-morrow night, when the clubs will be grouped and arrangements made for the opening of the championship season.

The Toronto Star says of the new appointments:

Mr. Campbell is president of the Northern Amateur Hockey Association and an outstanding figure in sport in the north country, while Mr. Ferguson has had considerable executive experience in London ,Toronto, and Kingston. Both were good hockey players in their day and know the game thoroughly. The O.H.A. executive now embraces every part of the Province and is one of the most representative athletic bodies in Canada.

HOCKEY

(Lindsay Post).

Mr. Howard, ex-Fire Chief, of Peterboro, did not get elected to the O.H.A. Executive, despite the fight that he was going at full pressure. He was the hardest-working electioneer at the annual meeting, even making a speech as to who he was, where he had worked and what he would do. In this case it did not pay to advertise.

No, Dear Reader, the rink has not been enlarged this year. Same old band box.

"Rolly" Glover was given a second term as President of the O.H.A. by acclamation. He's a fine scout, and Lindsay fans will remember the time when he was one of the Whitcroft-Crowley-Armstrong-Graham crew from Peterboro that could almost lick their weight in wildcats. But we have fond recollections of the time when Rolly played with the Printers' team and were beaten by the Lindsay ink slingers.—Lindsay Post

(Lindsay Warder.)

Below will be found a list of players in Lindsay who are still eligible to play junior O.H.A. hockey:

Norris Green, John McClay, William G. Garnett, F. Ross Kelly, Delmer R. HcElroy, George F. E. Gell, John Killen, Cline Walters Lyons, H. D. Wilford, Patrick J. Hogan, Charles Stoddard, G. M. Williamson, Claude Oliver, R. Sutton, H. Sutton, Chambers, Hutton, Reeves, Powers, Bissette, McDonald, Mills, Balfour, Goodhand, Hall ,Armstrong, McWatters, Wetherup.

Lindsay Checker Club seems rather slow in registering dates for outside matches. They challenged the world. Whose move is it, anyway? Perhaps "Doc" Annis could tell us, or is it "Judge" Trew? It's so long since we followed this game we really do not know.

Peterborough curlers made a shift in their selections of Tankard and District Cup skips. Nothing like passing the honors around, but as long as Lindsay has a "Georgie" Little and a "Larry" O'Connor, the honors do not need to be showed on other shoulders. They are the "boys," and should bring home the bacon this year.

Orange and black will be the colors of the Lindsay intermediates this year (if they can get them.) Some body mentioned an all black color, but "Silk" O'Loughlin thought that savored too much of the famous "Death Battalion of Russia." The colors will be distinctive. The juniors will wear blue and white as usual.

PASTIMES WON TWO FROM THE CENTRALS

SPORTING COMMENT

It's getting to be quite the thing for Chicago and Toledo scholastic football teams to meet New England high school gridders in post-season games.

'Tis said that Hugo Bezdek can pilot the Pittsburg Pirates again next season, if he resigns as coach of the Penn State football team.

Two National commissions are to be organized in the near future, one to govern boxing exhibitions and the other to keep the wrestling game right side up.

The Yale club of New York is leading the Metropolitan Squash Tennis league, if that is any consolation to the Elis at New Haven.

Walter Cruise of the St. Louis-Boston Nationals, and at one time a mighty slugger, had an off season with the bat in 1919, hitting for .206 in 68 games.

Manager Fred Mitchell of the Chicago Cubs predicts a great season for Pitcher Grover Alexander next year. Accidents and illness put a crimp in the great twirler's work last season.

Capt. Rogers, of West Virginia, was the one college football star whom all the professional gridiron promoters were axious to sign up. But so far he has refused all offers to become a pro.

INSPECTED THE LOCAL FACTORIES

LOCAL MEMBER OF PARLIAMENT ACCOMPANIED THE INSPECTOR

For three days this week Mr. Thomas Tooms, M.P.P., accompanied Mr. H. J. Tutt, Ontario Factory Inspector on a trip of inspection of local factory conditions. This inspection covers all phases of factory inspection including sanitation and safety. Mr. Tooms was impressed with the satisfactory conditions revealed in the inspection and believes that local employers of labour are making an honest effort to provide for the welfare of their employees. The lunch rooms in the Canadian General Electric Company, the Quaker Oats, the Canadian Woollens and other local plants are well patronized and serve a very essential need.

MORE GIRLS THAN BOYS REACH MARRIAGEABLE AGE

The United States Census Bureau has taken the trouble to inquire into the subject of longevity and has reached the conclusion that the age of 106 is possible for a human being, but that no man or woman has ever seen his or her 107th birthday, all stories to the contrary notwithstanding.

In point of longevity women are far ahead of men, generally speaking. They are more resistant to diseases and they live longer.

Out of 1,000 girls born into the world, 750 live to reach the marriageable age of 18. Out of 1,000 boys, only 700 survive that long—an excess of 50 male deaths. Of the boys, 250 will live to be 60 years old, but 350 of the girls will safely pass their 72nd birthday.

Five boys (nearly) die for every four girls in the first month of life. Out of 1,000 males born during the present year, half will be dead in 1971. Out of 1,000 female babies born in this year, half will be living in 1976.

And yet women are called the "weaker sex." So they are, muscularly, but it is manifest that they are the stronger sex constitutionally. They possess what biologists term greater "viability"—a superior ability to survive.

Why nature so arranges matters is beyond explaining. Apparently she tries to make up for it to some extent by bringing into the world 1,048 boy babies to every 1,000 girl babies. But it is not enough. So much more hardy are the girl babies that they are actually a majority before the second year of life is reached.

To Properly Treat Obstinate Wrinkles

Particularly where wrinkles are long and deep, the massage devotee is apt to rub too hard and too frequently. This loosens the skin, causes muscles to sag, aggravates the wrinkled condition—just the opposite result from that sought.

Better than massage, or anything else, for the most obstinate wrinkles, as well as the finest lines, is a remarkable formula which you may readily avail yourself of, as you will have no difficulty in procuring the constituents from your druggist. It is this: One ounce of powdered saxolite, dissolved in one-half pint witch hazel. Bathe face, neck and hands in this. The effect is really marvelous, not only as to wrinkles, but also in cases of baggy cheeks and chin. The application is refreshing and soothing, tending to relieve fatigue. Both the witch hazel and the saxolite are, of course, entirely harmless to the skin.

The eternal fitness of things comes out when the boy who "sassed" his parents grows up and marries a woman who won't stand for any back talk.

SWITCH TO "CASCARETS" THEY DON'T SHAKE YOU UP!

Regulate Your Liver and Bowels Without Being Griped, Sickened or Inconvenienced

Cascarets end biliousness, headache, colds, and constipation so gently you're never even inconvenienced. There is no griping and none of the explosive after-effects of cathartics like Calomel, Salts, sickening Oil or cramping Pills. Tonight take Cascarets and get rid of the bowel and liver poison which is keeping you miserable and sick. Cascarets cost little and work while you sleep.

A PENSION AND BENEFIT PLAN

Amid all the labor disputes which have characterized the present year, it is pleasant to note that many employers by wise policies of enlightened self-interest have attained a gratifying degree of harmony with their employees. The results in these cases have been not only to avoid strikes, but to build up a more or less friendly and agreeable relation between the workers and those who employ them.

A conspicious example is the Bell Telephone Company which about three years ago voluntarily established a pension and benefit plan, under which last year the company disability benefits and death benefits, a sum of no less than $147,265.00. In addition to this, the company bears the total expense of operating the plan, which amounts to several thousand dollars per year.

This plan requires no cash contribution from the employees. The only requirement for participation in its benefits is continuous service. As soon as an employee has worked for the company continuously for two years, he or she is in a position to receive certain benefits from the plan, and the longer the continuous service exists, the more substantial are the benefits that accrue.

In the matter of sickness disability, for instance, there is a sliding scale. Employees with two years service, who are unfortunate enough to be unable to work on account of illness, receive four weeks full pay and nine weeks half pay; and the amount of full and half pay increases with length of service until an employee whose term of employment is ten years or more, will receive full pay for thirteen weeks and half pay for thirty-nine weeks. Over $100,000.00 was paid out by the company under this heading alone in 1918.

The plan includes a pension, equal to one per cent. of the average pay for the last ten years of service, multiplied by the total years of service, and this pension may be enjoyed at the age of 60 by any employee whose term of employment has been twenty years or more.

The company also pays a death benefits, and the amount of anxiety thereby has left a wholly dependent relative.

During 1918 no less than 2188 employees received sickness disability benefits, and the amount of anxiety and privation which was obviated by this provision on the part of the company is difficult to estimate.

An indirect benefit has also accrued to the employee through the company's supervision of health conditions, and there are already evidences that the general health of the staff has been improved, owing to the insistence of the benefit fund committee that in all cases of illness proper and adequate means must be taken to effect a permanent cure, and that no employee shall return to work until he has thoroughly convalesced.

The company considers that this expenditure will return a very handsome divident, if, as is expected, it results in the building up of an experienced staff, trained in the particular business of the company and bound to it by the same ties of enlightened self-interest which induces the company to make the outlay.

Voice Of The People

Dear Examiner,—I am mightly glad to see from the letters about the new waterside park that the town has got new glasses and can see better than it use to. And the aldermen deserve our hearty thanks.

We used to fall for almost everything advocated by the landed gentry which landed gentry hoged all they could grab and did little or nothing for the town.

They howled about the Bridge 'cause that taxed 'em but not about the new school in an aristocratic suburb, because don't you see, the school boosts land values and puts money in their pockets.

This new park won't profit the set that has private parks but it will be a mighty good thing for the workers, their wives and children.

With its fine shore line, its nest of little islands and a little planting this park will double and triple the value of Peterboro as a place to work and live in.

Instead of throwing away the damage money the city votes the difference of say $16,000 and gets the park, otherwise it will be forever lost.

Those of us who were in England and France got ideas of what Peterboro might become. This park scheme is the best thing I've heard of since we returned home.

Yours truly,
"VET."

PRESENTATION TO MRS. F. REYNOLDS

A very enjoyable evening was spent on Friday, Nov. 25th when about fifty friends gathered at the home of Mr. Charles Franklin, Douro, to bid farewell to Mrs. F. Reynolds upon the eve of her departure to her new home in Otonabee and to present her with two handsome chairs as a remembrance of their love and esteem.

The address was read by Mrs. Jas. Moore and the presentation was made by Mrs. W. Garbutt and Mrs. R. W. Payne.

Mrs. Reynolds, although taken by surprise made a very suitable reply.

Dainty refreshments were served and the evening was spent in games and music.

The address follows:—

Douro, Nov. 25th, 1919.

Dear Mrs. Reynolds and daughters,—We, your friends and neighbors have gathered here this evening to spend a social evening with you and having heard of your intended departure we embrace this opportunity to wish you every success in your new home and we assure you that you will be sadly missed in the Sunday School also the neighborhood. You have always been a kind neighbour and a true friend. We now ask you to accept these chairs and as you sit and we trust, pass many restful moments in them, your thoughts may turn back to your old Douro and Bethel friends, who one and all wish you all the happiness and blessings of the coming Christmas season.

Signed on behalf of the community:
MRS. J. H. MOORE,
MRS. R. W. PAYNE.
MRS. C. W. GARBUTT.

EASE UP WHEN FIRE IS WET.

Wet rubber cuts much easier than dry rubber. For this reason fast travel over rough road surfaces, particularly broken stones, will be very destructive to the tires when they are wet. This is especially true as regards solids on a heavy truck.

A pessimist always looks as though he were afraid it would cost him a few cents to look pleasant.

KEEP OFF CAR TRACKS.

With many new drivers on the roads this year we may be excused for reiterating the suggestion that running on car tracks is a deadly habit as regards the tires. The small sharp pieces of steel that flake off from the tracks cut the rubber and tear the tread, and cost the motorists of Canada many miles of honest tire wear every year. Keep off the car tracks as much as possible.

Try Magnesia For Stomach Troubles

It Neutralizes Stomach Acidity, Prevents Food Fermentation, Sour Gassy Stomachs and Acid Indigestion.

Doubtless, if you are a sufferer from indigestion, you have already tried pepsin, bismuth, soda, charcoal, drugs and various digestive aids and you know these things will not cure your trouble—in some cases do not even give relief.

But before giving up hope and deciding you are a chronic dyspeptic just try the effect of a little bisurated magnesia—not the ordinary commercial carbonate, citrate, oxide or milk, but the pure bisurated magnesia which you can obtain from practically any druggist in either powdered or tablet form. Take a teaspoonful of the powder or two compressed tablets with a little water after your next meal, and see what a difference this makes. It will instantly neutralize the dangerous, harmful acid in the stomach, which now causes your food to ferment and sour, making gas, wind, flatulence, heartburn, and the bloated or heavy lumpy feeling that seems to follow most everything you eat.

You will find that, provided you take a little bisurated magnesia immediately after a meal, you can eat almost anything and enjoy it without any disagreeable pain or discomfort to follow and moreover the continued use of the bisurated magnesia cannot injure the stomach in any way so long as there are any symptoms of acid indigestion.

HOUSEHOLD HINTS

To remove a scorch from linen, cut an onion in half and rub the scorched part with it, and then soak it in cold water. The mark will then disappear.

To clean a copper boiler effectively, it must be cleaned while it is hot. Moisten a cloth with kerosene and rub it carefully over the outside of the boiler. All stains and smoke will disappear and a clean surface is then before you—to be polished if you wish.

Nail an old skate upside down outside the back or front door, or on the verandah, and you have a good shoe scraper, which will save lots of dirt from being carried into the house.

Set the rolls of the wringer tight for cotton materials, loose for linen, or squeeze linen in the hands; hard wringing creases it badly. Fold buttons flat on the inside to prevent tearing out.

Soap, washing powders, dishwashing, grease, won't hurt hands if you keep a lemon on the sink and use it. When the dishes are finished simply rub the lemon over the hands. The lemon juice removes the grease stains, cuts the alkali in the soap, and leaves the skin soft, smooth and white.

The perfect cup of tea—that is, one which contains the maximum amount of caffeine and aroma with a minimu mamount of tannin — is brewed as follows: Bring freshly drawn water to a boil; pour it on one even teaspoonful of tea for each cup, in an earthenware or china pot which has been previously scalded, and let it remain covered for not more than three minutes; then decant or strain into another receptacle. The spent leaves should not be used again, because practcially all the stimulating and aromatic constituents have been removed and that which is left might be injurious to health. (This recipe was furnished by a supervising tea examiner.)

There is no reason why the modern kitchen should not be comfortable. See that your floor is covered with linoleum. You will be surprised how much less tired your feet will be at the end of the day. Have a table in the centre of the room, rather than at the side. This saves steps, as your distance to each part of the room is reduced.

TRACING FOR LEAK.

Many times a troublesome skip in a cylinder is due to an unsuspected leak in high tension wire. When hunting for such trouble go over the wires carefully, raising them slightly from any place where there might be a leak. When found, the place must be covered with tape, unless a new wire is installed.

NATURE'S MIRROR

When a woman is well and healthy—there's a sparkle in her eyes, a rose tint in her cheeks and she has rich red blood. There's elasticity in every movement and a spring in her step. Love comes to every woman who has bounding health—but when she is pallid, dull eyed, languid, she has no magnetism nor does she appeal to any man.

Such a change in feelings and looks!

After suffering pain, feeling nervous, dizzy, weak and dragged down by weaknesses of her sex—with eyes sunken, black circles and pale cheeks—such a woman is quickly restored to health by the Favorite Prescription of Dr. Pierce. Changed, too, in looks, for after taking Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription the skin becomes clear, the eyes brighter, the cheeks plump. It is purely vegetable, contains no alcohol.

LUCKY DAYS FOR SHOPPERS

ZACKS' STORE---NOW CHESLER'S--- BRIMMING-OVER WITH BARGAINS THAT BECKON THRIFTY SHOPPERS.

The H. J. Zack's store — now Chesler's is bulging with bargains for holiday shoppers these days. The great price list which appears today on another page gives some idea of the many and wide selection of goods, and the surprising low prices at which they are selling.

It is well to bear in mind that Christmas giving needs tact and common sense to prevent it becoming a burden. Not only is there splendid chances for shoppers to cover their numerous wants in practical and useful way, but the low-cut range of prices are inducements that cannot fail to keep the store busy.

Christmas giving should not be allowed to become a source of unnecessary expense or a heavy tax upon the pockets of the givers. For that reason a strict regard to economy should regulate purchases; and this winding-up sale at the Zack's Store should attract many economical buyers.

Demand Sterling.

NEW YORK, Dec. 12. — Demand sterling on the foreign exchange opened at $3.69.25, up two cents, to-day. After firming up to $3.70 3-4, from the opening at $3.69.25, demand sterling declined to a new low record at $3.68 on the foreign exchange to-day. MARTIN VS. SLOAN CASE WAS SETTLED

AMOUNT OF DAMAGES ACCEPTED BY PLAINTIFF NOT DISCLOSED— CITY'S CASE POSTPONED.

MR. WIDDIFIELD ILL

Two cases were withdrawn from Court docket this afternoon. James Martin's claim for $4,000.00 damages from George Sloan was settled out of Court. Mr. Martin, a market gardener, and his wife were injured on 10th June last when Mr. Sloan's automobile, driven by his daughter, collided with their buggy.

Plaintiff was incapacitated from his work, and his wife was also injured. He had appeared in the Court-room walking with crutches, waiting for his case to be called.

Mr. Kerr was solicitor for Mr. Martin, and Mr. G. N. Gordon for the defendant.

Another Case Adjourned.

Mr. John Feeley's action to recover $500.00 damages from the city for injuries sustained by his son Amos at the Lake Street Bathing Beach on 15th July was adjourned indefinitely, to be brought on at five days' notice.

Mr. R. R. Hall, representing City Solicitor Widdifield, asked that this case be set over on account of Mr. Widdifield's illness preventing him from attending the present Court.

Judge Huycke acceded, stating that he had been informed that Mr. Widdifield had been ordered by Dr. Eastwood to go away from Peterborough for some time in order that he might recover from a recurrence of the after effects of war gas.

LOCAL DELEGATES AT THE CONFERENCE

CONFIDENCE IN THE HYDRO-ELECTRIC COMMISSION.

TORONTO, Dec. 12.—Thorough sympathy with the projects of the Hydro-Electric Commission and confidence in Sir Adam Beck, coupled with some fears that the proposed radial lines might possibly duplicate existing lines. All this was expressed by Premier Drury this morning, in an interview with three hundred representatives of Hydro municipalities in various parts of the Province. The deputation submitted a resolution that the term of office of Sir Adam Beck as chairman be six years, and that the Commission consist of five members for such terms as would ensure the continuity of the Board. Secretary Hannington presented arguments and J. W. Lyon, of Guelph, urged that Sir Adam should not have a shorter term than the chairman of the Dominion Railway Board, who is appointed for ten years.

Premier Drury, in reply, characterized himself as an outstanding believer in Ontario's water powers and their development. He regarded Sir Adam as like Niagara Falls: a great force, but declined to make any promises just at present. The Legislature must consider the Hydro radial project. In view of the coming nationalization of railways, it would not be to go ahead with railways that were duplicating. Mr. Lyons replied that the Hydro radial project did not propose to duplicate but to electrify steam lines. He mentioned the projected lines from Galt, Brantford and Guelph, and from Brantford to London, as apparently duplicating existing lines. He wanted to be assured that they were not.

Jump from Bed in Morning and Drink Hot Water

To see the healthy bloom in your face, to see your skin get clearer and clearer, to wake up without a headache, backache, coated tongue or a nasty breath, in fact to feel your best, day in and day out, just try inside bathing every morning for a week.

Before breakfast each day, drink a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it as a harmless means of washing from the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels the previous day's indigestible waste, sour bile and toxins, thus cleansing sweetening and purifying the entire alimentary canal before putting more food into the stomach. The action of hot water and limestone phosphate on an empty stomach is wonderfully invigorating. It cleans out all the sour fermentations, gases and acidity and gives one a fine appetite for breakfast.

A quarter pound of limestone phosphate will cost very little at the drug store, but is sufficient to demonstrate that those who are subject to constipation, bilious attacks, acid stomach, rheumatic twinges or whose skin is sallow or pallid, that one week of inside bathing will have them looking and feeling better every way.

LOCAL WINNERS IN SHOOTING MATCH

At the shooting match at Mr. A. E. Deck's home, Douro, the winners of the ducks were Messrs. Blade 9, Fitzgerald 2, Goodfellow 2, Meek 1, Selkirk 1 and King 1. At the match commenced later than expected the ducks alone were contested for.

At the conclusion of the shoot aobut one hundred people gathered at the home of Mr. Deck, where a most enjoyable surprise party was held and the evening spent in dancing and cards. The music was supplied by Messrs. J. Freeman and Stan McCabe.

BARNYARD RAID BY ALEX. GORDON

HE BUYS ABOUT TWO TONS OF TURKEYS, GEESE AND CHICKENS FOR THE CHRISTMAS MARKET.

Mr. Alex. Gordon, the hustling meat and poultry merchant of 461 George street, has been out "ganing" all week for thoroughbred poultry for the Christmas trade, and got back into town safely with about two tons of the pick and choice of the barnyards of Peterborough district.

Mr. Gordon shipped out about a solid ton of his products this morning, and has displayed in his shop today scores of the very choicest birds for his city trade for to-morow's and next week's business. The collection consists of turkeys, geese and chickens, fed on scientific principles. See them and see them quick, and make sure of having the choicest of tender fowl for your Christmas table.

In addition to his poultry display, Mr. Gordon has on his shambles great rows of prime beef, lamb and pork, of a quality fit for the "king's taste." Prices for sirloin, porterhouse and round is down to 35c. per pound, and boiling and other dainty cuts down in proportion. Sausages and lard and fancy meats and suet to delight the epicure, and crates of new-laid eggs for those who can pay the price.

ALEX. GORDON'S,
1d. 461 George Street.

NEWS DESPATCHES

PRELIMINARY CANTER.

(Canadian Press.)

OTTAWA, Dec. 12.—Advice given by Hon. Mackenzie King to his party to place candidates in the field at an early date wherever possible is not taken even in Liberal circles here as indicating an early dissolution of Parliament and a general election. It is regarded merely as a preliminary statement of the policy to be followed by Liberals preceding inauguration of a plan calling for more activity in preparation for a Federal contest whenever it may become.

CHIEF FEATURE.

(Canadian Press.)

OTTAWA, Dec. 12.— In a statement issued to-day, Sir Edward Kemp, overseas Minister of Militia, sets forth the chief features of the policy adopted by the government soon after signing of the armistice in regard to discharge in British Isles of soldiers on the strength of the Canadian forces.

NOT BROAD ENOUGH.

Canadian Press.

WINNIPEG, December 12. — That he did not consider the soldier re-establishment scheme broad enough in its proportions, that it should include a housing scheme and assistance to the man with a small business, was the statement made by Lt.-General Sir Richard Turner, V. C., here. Sir Richard is returning to the east and said that he would submit several important recommendations to the government for consideration.

Canadian Press.

NEW YORK, Dec. 12. — The foreign Exchange rates whcih had been declining steadily for several days, showed a slight improvement at the opening of to-day's market. Demand bills on pound sterling rose two cents above yesterday's close, to $3.69¼. Franc and Lire checks also stiffened slightly.

KHARKOV CAPTURED.

LONDON, Dec. 12. — The capture of Kharkov, in Southern Russia, one of the bases of General Denikin, is announced in Moscow, official despatches received by wireless to-day state. The Bolsheviki also claim the occupation of Valki, two miles south of Kharkov.

STABILIZE EXCHANGE

Canadian Press.

OTTAWA, December 12. — Twenty million dolars in gold are being shipped from Ottawa to New York in an endeavour to stabilize Canadian exchange in New York. Part of the gold has arrived and the remainder is on the way. The recent heavy slump in the rate is already reflected in the serious interference with business between the two countries.

GRAY HAIR BECOMES DARK AND BEAUTIFUL

Try Grandmother's Old Favorite Recipe of Sage Tea and Sulphur

Almost everyone knows that Sage Tea and Sulphur, properly compounded, brings back the natural color and lustre to the hair when faded, streaked with gray. Years ago the only way to get this mixture was to make it at home, which is mussy and troublesome.

Nowadays we simply ask at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound." You will get a large bottle of this old-time recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients, at very little cost. Everybody uses this preparation now, because no one can possibly tell that you darkened your hair, as it does it so naturally and evenly. You dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, thick and glossy and you look years younger.

WHOLE FAMILY IS REJOICING

CLARE SAYS TANLAC HELPED HIM MORE THAN ANYTHING HE EVER TOOK IN HIS LIFE.

"I honestly believe I would be flat on my back in bed today, unable to do a bit of work if it hadn't been for Tanlac," said Jesse Clare, living at 139 St. John's Road, West Toronto, Ont.

"I suffered from stomach trouble and a general run down condition for two years," he continued, "my food soured on my stomach and formed gas that bloated me up so I could hardly get my breath. I would get so dizzy at times that I was in danger of falling down in the street. I did not rest well and in the morning I could hardly drag myself out of bed and go to work. My head ached all the time, and I was blue and melancholy and found little pleasure in life.

"I thought I was going to have a breakdown when one day I was too sick to work. My wife sent for a bottle of Tanlac and I was down in bed when I started taking it. Before the end of the week I was up again and at work, and I haven't had a touch of that tired, worn out feeling since. My appetite is fine, my food agrees with me, gas has stopped forming and those dizzy spells have disappeared and I feel as sound as a dollar. I get up in the mornings full of life and energy and my whole family is rejoicing over the great change Tanlac has made in me, and I can truthfully say nothing I ever took in my while life before ever did me as much good as Tanlac."

Tanlac is sold in Peterborough by W. B. Warne Drug Co. Ltd., in Havelock by A. C. Denike in Lakefield by Tanner Drug Co. Ltd., in Fowlers Corner by W. A. Hunter, in Gelert by A. J. Scott, in Westwood by G. Pringle & Son.

After the presentation, which was fittingly replied to by Mr. McMillan, the evening was spent most enjoyably in games of all kinds, followed by a generous repast, supplied by the ladies.

ARM CHAIRS FOR TARS USHER IN MILLENIUM IN BRITISH NAVY

LONDON, Dec. 12. — At last the British naval millenium has come. The Admiralty has just announced that, as a Christmas present to the British navy, every battleship and cruiser will be furnished with a supply of cosey armchairs, so the jack tars will be thoroughly comfortable. Thus will the term "armchair admiral" cease to be an epithet and will become, if anything, an epaulet.

The press has some good fun over the announcement, one writer declaring:

"Nelson, when interviewed in Trafalgar Square this morning, said he regarded this as a deplorable sign of luxury, which was eating its way into national life."

The Best Place To Buy Your Christmas Presents for Men and Boys

The Brunswick Method of Reproduction

When you own a Brunswick you get full beauty out of all records

IF ITS TO BE A
BRUNSWICK
Santa Claus must hurry

THERE are many ways to test a Phonograph before you buy. The choice is now distinct—NEW or OLD.

Before you buy any Phonograph, find out the shape of the "tone chamber," or horn. What is it made of—cast-iron, tin or wood? Which do you think is best?

Find out how many records are available for the one you want to buy. Remember, you buy a Phonograph not to look at, not on account of its name, but TO PLAY. See if your favourite selection can be played or sung just the way you like it. Ask the salesman to play YOUR favourite record—one that you are familiar with and can judge.

Can you understand every word of a song that you have never heard before? Can it say "S?"

What about the soprano's high notes? Does a Brass Band sound like a Brass Band or like an Orchestra? Can you tell a harp from a piano?

Does the scratching of the stylus or jewel point distract your attention from the music? Does it annoy you?

Does it play every record with the correct needle, the correct position, the correct weight? Can these things be adjusted? Do you have to take something off or put something on in order to play other records? Will it play a 14-inch Pathe record? What about the price? Are you asked to help pay for experiments?

Why the Brunswick Method

Reproduction excels with all records

The Brunswick Phonograph is the creation of the highest type of phonograph-building genius. It is a combination of the good features of all makes. Old-time crudities are discarded.

Added to that is its famous Method of Reproduction.

Making possible the Method are two patented exclusive features. By them all record music is played finer, sweeter, richer.

They are the ULTONA and the TONE AMPLIFIER.

THE ULTONA

Plays All Records Correctly

The ULTONA—a scientific Brunswick creation—is universal in adaptation and simple in construction.

It plays all records infinitely better. It is not a makeshift contrivance nor so-called combination attachment, but a patent that involves genuine fundamental principles of sound.

With but a slight turn of the hand it presents the proper needle and diaphragm to any make of record. Every artist, every band, every selection, no matter where or by whom made, can be played at its best on The Brunswick.

THE ALL-WOOD OVAL HORN

Restores Tones Hitherto Lost

The TONE AMPLIFIER is part of the Brunswick Method of Reproduction. It solves an old problem of acoustics. It is oval in shape, and moulded of rare holly-wood. Like the sounding-board of a piano or a fine violin, it is built entirely of wood. It is absolutely free from metal.

By this method of projecting sound, tone waves are unrestricted and allowed to unfold into full, rounded tones that are rich, mellow, and, above all, natural.

Investigate! Find out! Use your own ears, your own judgment. Before you buy any Phonograph you might as well be SURE. See your nearest Brunswick dealer NOW, because there will be a shortage of Brunswick's this Christmas.

YALE'S TRIP TO ONTARIO.

Yale has arranged four games in Ontario for the New Year's trip, as follows: Hamilton Tigers on December 30, Queen's University on January 1, St. Michael's College on January 5, and Port Colborne Hockey Club on January 8. The Yale team have been in communication with Father O'Gorman relative to a game in Peterborough, but no definite arrangements have yet been made.

THE GRAND JURY FOUND THE PUBLIC INSTITUTIONS IN GOOD CONDITION

ADDITIONAL FIRE PROTECTION RECOMMENDED FOR THE CHILDREN'S SHELTER—COPY OF REPORT.

Following is a copy of the Grand Jury's report to His Honour Judge Hoyeke who is presiding at the December sittings of the County Court. To His Honour E. C. S. Huycke, Judge of the County of Peterborough

In accordance with your Honour's instructions we have visited the different Public Institutions and found all in first class condition, commendably clean, and sanitary arrangements all that could be desired.

There are at present eleven women, twenty-six men inmates at the House of Refuge. Seventeen at the Children's Shelter, fifty-two at the House of Providence, forty-seven at St. Vincent's Orphanage, six at Barnardo Home.

In our inspection we paid particular attention to fire protection and fire escapes and take pleasure in stating that all plants are well equipped and particularly well protected with the exception at the Shelter where owing to the nature of the building a fire escape would not be of much benefit but we emphatically recommend the placing of two if not three chemical fire extinguishers in the building, feeling confident they would be of great service and benefit in case of fire.

In the institutions where people are confined there was not a single complaint from any inmate or inmates on the contrary nothing but deep satisfaction and thanks for the benefits received and attention given. In our opinion the County of Peterborough has something to be proud of both in conditions etc., of the several buildings and in their splendid management by the individual superintendents. Second to none in the Province of Ontario.

F. C. CURTIS,
Foreman.

MUSIC AND DRAMA

ELKS' ENTERTAINER

Yesterday afternoon the Gallo Company gave a [illegible] performance of the "Chimes of Normandy" to an audience [illegible]. The lilting [illegible] of Planquette's immortal [illegible] of comedy [illegible] ever find [illegible] interpreted by both principals and chorus. Daniel Denton as Henri Rochefort handled his vocal numbers in excellent fashion and Miss Marie Rogers was an ideal Jeanette [illegible] a pleasing soprano that was used to best advantage. Jefferson De Angelis scored a hit as Sir Joseph Porter and Louis Casavant as [illegible] Dunlop contributed a musical performance. Annie Parr as Germaine Corcoran, Miss Grace [illegible] and Louis Ramsay and Frank Ridsdale as Bill Bobstay all contributed to the success of the occasion. The chorus added to the laurels it won in "The Mikado", being specially effective in the stirring "For He's an Englishman" the solo being excellently taken by Frank Ridsdale. The whole production was a great.

"THE CHIMES OF NORMANDY"

The Gallo English Opera Company furnished its local engagement last night with a remarkable presentation of Robert Planquette's sparkling comic opera "The Chimes of Normandy" heard for the first time in Peterboro since it was sung a score of years ago in the Old Bradburn Opera House. The laurels won by the organization in "The Mikado" and "Pinafore" were augmented by the artistic manner in which the tuneful music of Planquette's masterpiece was interpreted. "The Chimes of Normandy" is rich in vocal gems a regular feast of melody and the Gallo Company succeeded last night thus bringing out the full charm of the score. Principals and chorus shared equally in the credit for a superlative performance.

The production was notable [illegible] that it gave an opportunity to see Jefferson De Angelis in a serious role, that of the miser Gaspard, which was presented by the veteran comedian in a surprisingly effective fashion. His work in the second act when the sudden chiming of the bells sends the miser insane was a fine exhibition of dramatic art and Mr. De Angelis had to respond to several curtain-calls at the end of the act. "The Chimes of Normandy" also served to give Miss Rosamund Whiteside, a daughter of the famous actor Walter Whiteside, an opportunity to show her ability both as an actress and as a singer and as Serpolette, she scored a splendid success singing her numbers with an engaging buoyancy and acting with a saucy vivacity and nerve that made her work delightful. Albert Parr sang the role of the Marquis in splendid voice and Daniel Denton's tenor voice was used to good effect as Jean Grenicheux. Miss Ada Louise Armstrong was a charming Germaine and Louis Casavant announced the Bailiff. The Gallo Company has the finest singing chorus heard here in a long time and it was at its best last night. Planquette's splendid score gives a splendid opportunity to the chorus

WEDDING BELLS

LEHMAN—AVERY

A very pretty wedding was solemnized at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Avery, 175 Park street, at 2 o'clock Wednesday, December 10th., when Rev. F. E. Malott united in the bonds of matrimony, Mr. David Lehman of Riverhurst, Saskatchewan, to Miss Alice Avery of this city. The bride was given away by her father and was attired in a charming dress of cream nun's veiling and carried a bouquet of white carnations.

The young couple were attended by the bride's sister Miss Olive Avery, who wore a dress of pink crepe-de-chene and carried a bouquet of pink carnations and Mr. Charlie Avery cousin of the bride. The gift given the bridesmaid was a gold brooch and to the groomsman a pair of gold cuff links. Mr. and Mrs. Lehman were the recipients of many beautiful and useful presents.

After the ceremony a dainty breakfast was served to about sixty guests The bride's travelling suit was blue serge with hat to match, Mr. and Mrs. Lehman left on the 5.40 train for a honeymoon trip to Orillia and other points. The guests spent a very pleasant evening in games, music and dancing.

On their return Mr. and Mrs. Lehman will reside at the bride's home for a few weeks and will then go to their future home, Riverhurst, Saskatchewan.

Germany Yields

A NEW NOTE WILL BE FORWARDED BY THE ALLIES.

GERMANY'S REPLY

(Canadian Press.)

PARIS, Dec. 13.—Germany's reply to the Entente notes relative to the signing of the protocol of the peace treaty does not constitute an acceptance, although couched in conciliatory terms, according to the "Echo De Paris." It is said the Allies will have to send a new note, but the belief is expressed that the Berlin government will yield and that the protocol will be signed about Christmas.

PERFECTLY RIGHT SAYS DE CHAMP OF STEPHEN LEACOCK

TORONTO, Dec. 13.—"This is extremely amusing," chuckled Prof. St. E. De Champ, associate professor of French at University College, when confronted by Leacock's pointed references to the French language as taught in the schools and colleges of Ontario. "But there is a good deal of truth in it," he added quickly. "In fact, he's perfectly right.

"It's not our fault, however," the professor declared. "It's the fault of the system. The matriculation programme is wrong as far as the teaching of modern languages is concerned. It's this continual, everlasting translation. We have to teach according to the old methods of reading and translation, instead of teaching the 'live' language, as it were.

"Of course the criticism does not apply to the specialists," he explained. "There are about 5 students each year who really know French. The average students in the honor course when graduating speak French with some ease, and can understand most of what is said to them, though when they enter the University only about one out of ten can write simple dictation correctly, including the grammar by heart, but unable to apply it."

Champion Teachers.

"We have good teachers in Ontario especially in Toronto," asserted the big Frenchman. "There are splendid teachers in the High schools who know French very well. But they have no time to give to the so necessary practice of the language. And it must be practised orally.

"Until the moment when we have oral tests for matriculation we will make no progress at all.

Need to Think in French.

"We should have the direct method such as is used in England, France and Germany," Prof. De Champ pointed out. "In this direct method teaching, instructors who know the language speak always to the students in that language.

"Prof. Leacock's criticism is not new. The same thing has been said before by Prof. Squair and others. We must get some grammar, but we must also have constant practice in the language. We really must have much more oral practice in the schools."

EXCHANGE RATE AFFECTS THE PRICE OF COAL IN WINNIPEG

EXCHANGE RATE ON MONEY TRANSACTIONS FOR COAL EXCEEDS TEN PER CENT—SOME DEALERS ACCOUNTS RUN CLOSE TO HALF A MILLION DOLLARS.

(Special to Examiner)

WINNIPEG, Dec. 12.—Prices on American coal were boosted fifty cents per ton to-day. This action was not caused by coal strike or by shortage of coal, but by high rate of American exchange. Coal dealers who previous to this season never paid any higher than 2%, on American exchange, found themselves called upon today for over ten percent, to settle up their accounts with American coal dealers. This is over one dollar a ton and the boost in price was decided upon. Dealers here are trying to stave off payment of all coal accounts until the exchange rate becomes more favorable but they are also faced with prospects of the rate going even higher. Some dealers accounts run close to the half million dollar mark which would mean an extra fifty thousand dollars that they will have to put up for exchange if the rate does not improve.

GENERAL VACCINATION TO DE MADE COMPULSORY

TORONTO CITY COUNCIL WILL BE FORCED TO ADOPT MEASURE —SITUATION SERIOUS.

TRAVEL RESTRICTED

(Special to The Examiner.)

MONTREAL, Dec. 13.—There's no chance for a Toronto man in these parts unless he is vaccinated. It is easier for a camel to pass through the eye of a needle than for an unvaccinated Torontonian to arrive in Montreal, say City Hall Health officials. The thing can't be done, that's all. Here is the system: The passenger on showing his certificate on the train to the conductor is given a little slip which he surrenders on reaching his destination. These slips vary in color. Now there is a special color to represent Toronto. The innocent wayfarer from that at present afflicted city is often vastly astonished to be accosted at Coteau or Vaudreiul by a stranger who seems to know a lot of things about him. For instance, that he comes from Toronto. He marvels at the perspicacity of the vaccination inspector, and perhaps believes him gifted with second sight, but it is very simple ,after all. It's the slip of a little slip in a certain color, and the color announces to the world that the holder of the slip is from Toronto. The inspector can go through an entire train and without any difficulty pick out all those who come from the smallpox area. The particular color for the purpose is not for publication. Toronto might not like it. Some twenty-five people were vaccinated at stations yesterday.

Situation in Toronto.

(Special to The Examiner.)

TORONTO, Dec. 13.—Any lurking idea that the aldermen and controllers may have that the Drury government is not behind the Provincial Board of Health in its demand that Toronto enforce general vaccination against smallpox should be no longer entertained. It was learned this morning that the Provincial Health authorities have the most complete endorsation of the government. If the City Council on Monday does not pass the order making vaccination compulsory, the courts will be asked for a mandamus forcing the Council's hand on Tuesday. All the legal machinery is ready for that move, but there is no intention at present to quarantine the whole city of Toronto. The position of the Ontario Health Department is that the situation in Toronto is very dangerous, that smallpox has been an epidemic for more than a month, that more than 1,200 cases have developed, and that there is no sign of the epidemic abating, and unless the city carries out the law it will become liable for damages and bring on itself a multitude of law suits.

TURKEY SELLING AT 60c POUND

EGGS SOLD UP TO $1.25 IN TORONTO THIS MORNING.

(Special to The Examiner.)

TORONTO, Dec. 13.—The Christmas turkey again established himself as the aristocrat of the birds at the St. Lawrence Market this morning. He demonstrated his superiority by placing his statue at a height which the average householder will probably consider beyond reach.

This morning the finest were going at 60 cents a pound. One vendor who brought in an exceptionally handsome bird, was asking just $6.60 for it! It weighed about 11 pounds.

Although the farmers reported that egg production was on the increase, still they were asking as high as $1.25 for a dozen.

They complain that at that figure they are still losing money; but with greater production the prices are sure to decline.

USED DICTAPHONE IN DANSEY CASE

CLEVER WORK OF POLICE OFFICIALS IN MURDER CASE.

(United Press.)

HAMMONDTON, N.J., Dec. 13.—E .A. Burdick, chief of police and friend of the accused man declared to-day that country officials employed a dictograph to eavesdrop on conversations of relatives and friends with Charles White and Mrs. Edith Jones, held in connection with the death of Billy Dansey in the Mays Landing Jail late yesterday. The visitors were admitted one at a time to a room in a wing of the jail to see White, and then the performance was repeated when they conversed with Mrs. Jones.

PROTECT YOURSELF

The majority of people eat too much, and while they may do so occasionally with out any bad results it is very bad to continue this practice.

With a constant supply of food to look after, the kidneys are unable to carry away the inert material, and they become inflamed and irritated and a general feeling of depression throughout the whole system.

To correct this condition, go at once to Lynch's Drug Store, and get a box of Dr. Banta's K. & R. Pills.

Another Mystery

MOTHER FAINTED

(United Press.)

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J., Dec. 13.—While Atlantic City police are still puzzled by the death of Billy Dansey—long believed to have been kidnapped—it is confronted with another mystery in the kidnapping of James Blake, the five-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. James Blake, Philadelphia.

The boy was seized by two negroes last night as he was walking along the street at Ventnor, near this city, with his mother. The negroes emerged from some bushes—one sprang for Mrs. Blake, seizing her by the throat, the other taking the child.

Mrs. Blake fainted, and remained unconscious for several minutes. She then crawled to the home of Benjamin Fox, where she had been visiting, and again fainted after telling what happened.

"WILDERNESS TRAIL" SHOWN AT GRAND

Here are some interesting extracts from Frank Williams' great novel. "The Wilderness Trail" basis of the photoplay in which Tom Mix is to appear here. They indicate clearly the forceful romance of the screen production:

"Better to fight and die alone in the deep woods than to live out one's life as a jellyfish," was the bovine fashion in which he (Donald Mactavish) summed the matter up.

What a woman she was! What a woman! Innocent, [illegible] vigorous, virile, with [illegible] feminine aristocracy, of perfect [illegible]! Ah, she was no wife for [illegible] young millionaire who won her [illegible]—fight like a slave for [illegible] even the girl herself. [illegible] her primitive nature was all the [illegible] resistance to surrender that belongs to a wild creature of the dim trails.

Then the greater woman awakened in her—the woman who has drawn man's head on her breast to comfort him since the world began; the woman that has borne the sons and daughters of the earth amid pain and fear and ingratitude; the woman that has ever stood aside, alike in right and wrong, that the man might achieve his destiny.

Donald admitted the chances were against him, and the outlook was dark indeed. But, even in these desperate straits, there was a buoyancy in his spirits that he had seldom enjoyed. Life seemed good while he was yet alive to fight for it; he had youth, strength and the spur of deeds to be done, all of which rowelled his faith whenever it faltered. Even this morning, he felt unaccountably like flinging his arms into the air and shouting to the desolation: "Come on, old wilderness, we'll fight it out, and by heaven! I'll break you, too!"

FORMIDABLE BALLOT FOR ELECTORS WILL PROVIDE NEW YEAR'S DAY WORK

THIRTEEN ELECTIVE POSITIONS TO BE FILLED AND TWO BY-LAWS THROWN IN FOR GOOD MEASURE —TWO UTILITIES COMMISSIONERS TO BE ELECTED.

MUST VOTE FOR FOUR ALDERMEN

A Prospect of the Elections.

Six different ballots.

Thirteen elective positions to be filled.

Two money by-laws.

Candidates unknown, but perhaps not innumerable.

Experienced electors will not be bewildered by the six ballots that will be handed to them in the polling booths on New Year's day, but their civic duty becomes somewhat involved by this sheaf of slips offering a total of fifteen votes beginning with the mayoralty contest and extending down the lengthy list to the two added money by-laws. Those ratepayers who begin the new decade with a high sense of duty are liable to an attack of writers cramp that may lay them up for the morrow.

Something of the inviting aspect of a ballot should attract the electors to the polls, unless acclamations lower the interest that is expected to generate in the next two weeks.

At the top of the list in the Ben Adhem position is the mayoralty contest with Aldermen McIntyre and Taylor as the present and probably final contenders.

Must Vote For Four.

For the Aldermanic Board five citizens will be elected for two years. Ratepayers may vote for five of the candidates, and they should remember that they must vote for four, otherwise their ballots will be thrown out. The aldermen whose terms expire this year are Aldermen McIntyre, Taylor, Phelan, Edgar and Garside. The remaining five were elected for two years.

There will be five vacancies to be filled on the Board of Education. The present members who will have to go before the electors if they desire re-election are Dr. Nesbitt, J. M. Greene, R. J. Patterson, G. O. Cameron and J. W. Wood.

In the Utilities Commission Mr. Robert Hicks' term expires and Mr. T. F. Matthews has resigned. As a result there will be two openings, one Commissioner to be elected for three years and the other for one year as successor to Mr. Matthews.

The Two By-laws.

The two by-laws to be submitted to the ratepayers were recently explained in the press. One will authorize the issuance of debentures for $32,000 for the purchase of the Riverside Park and adjoining properties comprising the Rapid Time company's building and lot, the J. H. Bettes property and that belonging to James Ellis.

The other by-law is to aid the Canadian Aladdin Company, Limited, by granting them a free site and fixed assessment of $[illegible] for ten years, the company to pay school and local improvement taxes.

The Turks Repulsed

SEVERAL CASUALTIES AS RESULT OF SKIRMISH BETWEEN GREEKS AND TURKS.

WAR MATERIAL

(Canadian Press.)

SALONIKI, Dec. 13.—Greek soldiers and Turkish irregular troops have engaged in scattering skirmishes during the past couple of days in Western Asia Minor according to an official statement issued at Army Headquarters here. Turkish forces numbering 150 men attacked Greek positions about nine miles northwest of Soma yesterday and three hundred other irregulars made an attack on Greek positions on road from Kinik to Soma. After three hour fight the Turks withdrew leaving in the hands of Greece a large amount of war material. One Greek soldier was killed and three wounded while the bodies of four Turks were found on the field. A Greek detachment has ousted the party of Turks which had occupied the heights north of Aidine and which had for couple of days maintained an artillery fire upon the city. When the Greeks advanced the Turks retired in disorder. Greek losses were limited to three wounded soldiers while the Turks lost several men and in addition were forced to leave behind war material.

MR. G. A. GILLESPIE WAS ELECTED DIRECTOR AT MEETING OF DAIRYMEN

MR. C. C. PUBLOW WAS THE CHIEF SPEAKER OF THE EVENING—INTERESTING MEETING WAS HELD AT KEENE.

MORE PRODUCTION

The annual meeting of the Eastern Ontario Dairymen's Association was held in Keene last night.

The purpose of the meeting was two fold. First, to elect a director from the Peterboro district to the Association, and secondly to hear Mr. R. W. Ward, instructor on the Peterboro and Lindsay districts; and Mr. George G. Publow, the chief Dairy Instructor for Eastern Ontario.

Mr. G. A. Gillespie as Chairman, spoke briefly on the reasons for holding the meeting, and introduced Mr. Ward to the audience.

Mr. Ward said that he regretted that there were not more present in order to hear Mr. Publow. Briefly reviewing the years' work Mr. Ward said that the farmers were in general well satisfied and had been getting good prices for their products during the year.

Mr. Ward's report was thoroughly enjoyed and Mr. Gillespie said that he was sorry that so few had heard it.

"Now, that the war is over," said Mr. Gillespie, "we must go on with the work." More butter, cheese and dairy products must be exported and this will adjust the adverse exchange. The farmer must do his part and produce more and the only way we can bring back pre-war conditions is to work together.

Mr. Publow.

In introducing Mr. Publow, Mr. Gillespie said, "We can never repay Mr. Publow what we owe him." To his work is due the fine quality of the cheese being manufactured in Eastern Ontario. Mr. Gillespie spoke of the good work being carried on by the inspectors and instructors and in conclusion he said that though production had fallen off one third this year they all looked forward to it being materially increased next year.

Mr. Publow said that he was pleased to be with them to-night and discuss their problems.

Mr. Publow dwelt on the purpose for holding the meeting and said he himself was here to discuss methods of getting better average production per cow and also to discuss other improvements relative to dairying.

Increased Production.

Mr. Publow incidentally has been an instructor in dairying for thirty years and therefore knows the whole problem. Mr. Publow said that the production of milk per cow should be raised from 3000 lbs. in a 6 months season to between 6 and 7000 lbs.

Mr. Publow said that if cows kept up the same production for the rest of the season as they do in June the yield would be twice as great. Professor Grisdale tried this out, said Mr. Publow, and by providing the right kind of feed he actually did double the production.

Lots of Water

Cattle must get an abundance of water. Milk is composed of 87½% of water and as there is generally more moisture in the ground in June than in any other month this is why the cows give more milk in June. Another great point in production is to quickly fill a cow up by feeding it better feed and more of it. The longer it takes to fill up your cows the less milk you will get.

Referring to the investigation at Dundas Mr. Publow said that a man near there had a herd of cattle giving from 3000 to 7000 lbs. He increased the production and found that as the production increased the cost of production decreased.

You must consider the proper feed and see that the cow has enough of it.

Dwelling on the variations in fat in the milk, Mr. Publow stated that he knew a man whose milk tested 2.5% but would not believe the dealer, and when he did find out that the dealer was telling him the truth he was astonished and disappointed.

Mr. Publow spoke of the great consumption of dairy products, how formerly Toronto could be supplied from the neighboring counties, but year by year had gone farther, and was now shipping in from 100 miles away. Our milk and cream is going to the States in vast quantities also. In the cities there is a standard of 3.25% and hundreds of herds do not measure up to it, said Mr. Publow. If you had herds like that you see the position you would be in. I hope to see the day when every boy and girl at school will be expert to test the milk and then you will be able to

SUGGESTION FROM A FARMER'S WIFE

ONE WAY OF GETTING BACK AT FARMER WHO SELLS DISEASED FOWL.

"Ordering the fowl brought into the market to be dressed and the insides trussed to the carcas, won't do the public any good," a farmer's wife told the Examiner this morning.

"There is nothing to prevent us from eating the healthy fowl and attaching the healthy insides to the diseased fowl for the market," she added. She said that the only solution she could see to the difficulty was for the city council to pass a bylaw that every fowl sold on the market should have the name and the address of the vendor appended, and in the event of the consumer finding the fowl unhealthy the vendor be compelled to refund the money paid for it. Several of the farmers' wives agreed that dressing a fowl prevented it from keeping for any length of time.

TREATMENT FOR INFLUENZA CASES

SIMPLE HOME TREATMENT TO WARD OFF ATTACKS IN EARLY STAGES.

The experience in last year's epidemic of influenza taught us that the disease should be fought in its early stages. Here the symptoms are similar to a cold in the head and the same treatment should be used, usually with effective results.

Any physician will tell you that the drugs to use in such cases are Aspirin, Phenacetine, Quinine, Salol, Caffein Citrate and Camphor Monobromate. The action of these is to quickly break up the cold and even conquer the advanced stage of Grippe.

These drugs are offered the public in Grip Fix, a preparation for use in the home. It has been on the market for ten years and did wonderful work during the epidemic of last year. It comes in capsule form, convenient to take and giving quick action. It relieves a cold in a night and usually breaks up an attack of grippe in 48 hours. There is nothing in Grip Fix which works injury to the system. On the contrary, it has a general toning up effect.

Grip Fix is for sale by all druggists. Get a box today and have it in the house. Prompt treatment of colds is half the battle. When asking your druggist for it be sure to get Reid's Grip Fix as there is no preparation "just as good" for colds. It sells at 35 cents per box or three boxes for $1.00.

TURKEY FAIR.

At the turkey fair held at Lyndburst, Leeds county, last week the sum of $80,000 was paid to farmers in that district for turkeys and other fowl by the buyers. A shortage of money existed and $10,000 cash was brought from Gananoque to assist in paying the owners of the birds.

HALIBUT TAKES ON BALLAST

The gray cods are famous all the world over for taking into their stomachs what the fisherman term "ballast," in the shape of stones of various sizes, writes "W.F.T." in "California Fish and Game." These are considered necessary to enable the cod to maintain an even keel during the storms which rage on the surface of the sea above them. But it is not as generally known that the halibut (Hippoglossus) does the same thing. Due to the kindness of Dr. F. Kermode, director of the Provincial Museum at Victoria, B.C., the following letter from a prominent fisherman at Vancouver, B.C., is herewith reproduced:

"Mr. Walter White, for many years employed as a halibut fisherman on the vessels of this company, and latterly as a mate on our steamship Kingsway, brought to the office a rock weighing about two and a half pounds. White states that he personally took this rock from the stomach of a halibut weighing about 60 pounds during August, 1918. The steamship Kingsway was fishing off Bonilla Island at the time in 36 fathoms of water."

The explanation lies in the fact that the halibut are famous eaters of small as well as large things, and they pick up from the ground and from the rocks, and keep all sorts of animals, including sea anemones, clams, siphons, worms, etc., and in the process of doing so they frequently take in things which are not intended to find a lodging in the stomach of a fish. It is due to reckless eating, not to foresight in taking in "ballast."—N.Y. Fishing Gazette.

MANY PRELATES WILL CELEBRATE

LIST OF EVENTS DURING THE COMING YEAR.

NEW YORK, Dec. 12. — During the coming year many prelates of the Roman Catholic Church in the United States, including cardinals, archbishops, bishops, and those of lesser rank, will celebrate their sacerdotal or episcopal jubilees and other milestones marking their career in the church.

Heading the list of celebrants will be the venerable Cardinal Gibbons of Baltimore, who on 30th June will enter upon his sixtieth year in the priesthood, and on the same day will begin his thirtieth year as a wearer of the crimson robe and insignia of a member of the Sacred College of Cardinals.

Only a few years behind the venerable Baltimore prelate in point of service in the priesthood is the Right Rev. Thomas O'Gorman, bishop of Sioux Falls, who on 8th November will reach the fifty-fifth anniversary of his ordination as a priest. Two bishops of the church will celebrate their sacerdotal golden jubilee during the year. They are Bishop Schwebach of La Crosse and Bishop Eis of Marquette, both of whom were ordained half a century ago. Bishop Koudelka of Superior, Bishop Beaven of Springfield, Mass., and Bishop Burke of St. Joseph, Mo., will celebrate their forty-fifth anniversary in the priesthood.

On 22nd May Right Rev. John P. Farrelly, bishop of Cleveland, and Right Rev. Michael J. Hoban, bishop of Scranton, will complete forty years in the priesthood. Later in the year a similar anniversary will be observed by Right Rev. John J. Monaghan, head of the Wilmington, Del., diocese.

Among the prelates who will celebrate their thirty-fifth ordination anniversary during the year are Archbishop Hanna of San Francisco, and Bishops Donahue of Wheeling, Lillis of Kansas City, McDevitt of Harrisburg, and Lawler of Lead, S. Dak. The thirtieth anniversary of their ordination will be celebrated by Most Rev. Dennis J. Dougherty, archbishop of Philadelphia Right Rev. Cornelius Van de Ven, bishop of Alexandria, La., and Right Rev. John E. Gunn, bishop of Natchez.

The Most Rev. George W. Mundelein, archbishop of Chicago, will celebrate the twenty-fifth anniversary of his ordination on 8th June. Other prelates who will observe their silver jubilee in the priesthood are Bishop McGovern of Cheyenne and Bishop McGrath of Baker City. Bishop Lynch of Dallas and Bishop Walsh of Trenton will celebrate the twentieth anniversary of their ordination. In June the Right Rev. Benjamin J. Keiley will celebrate his twentieth anniversary as bishop of Savannah, and in November the Rt. Rev. Herman J. Alerding will complete his second decade of service as head of the diocese of Fort Wayne. During the year the following prelates will round out ten years of service at the head of their respective dioceses: Bishops O'Donoghue of Louisville, Heffron of Winona, Corbett of Crookston, O'Reilly of Fargo, Nilan of Hartford, Rice of Burlington, Vt., and Wehrle of Bismarck, N. Dak.

Archbishop Mundelein of Chicago, whose name has been frequently mentioned of late in connection with the cardinalate, will complete five years as head of the Chicago archdiocese on 9th December.

In October the Right Rev. Anthony J. Schuler will round out five years of service as bishop of the El Paso diocese.

KINGSTON, Dec. 12. — "In our opinion the present allowance to jurors of $2.50 per day is not sufficient owing to the high cost of living and we recommend that it be increased to at least $4 per day." This was the report made here b ythe grand jury presiding at the sessions of the county court before Judge Lavell.

GERMANS GET NOTHING FOR 100 SEIZED SHIPS

VESSELS' VALUE MORE THAN OFFSET BY AMERICAN CLAIMS FOR WAR DAMAGES.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 12.—America's claims against Germany growing out of the sinking of the Lusitania and other vessels by submarines and on account of other war damages will more than offset the amount which will be due from the United States on account of the 100 German steamers seized in American ports when the United States entered the war, Shipping Board officials said to-day.

Another item against the German account is the damage inflicted on the vessels just prior to their being taken over by the United States. Many of the ships, moreover, it was pointed out, were old and in poor condition, making their value low at the time American seized them.

The Imperator and the six other German steamers allocated to the United States since the signing of the armistice are not included in the group of ships concerned in the war damage settlement.

The Imperator already has been handed over to Great Britain, and the disposition of the others awaits action on the proposal made by John Barton Payne, Chairman of the Shipping Board, that American be given the use of the American tankers in the Firth of Forth.

WATER-PROOF PAPER

(New York Herald.)

For years inventors have been trying to make untearable or reinforced paper, some patents dating back to 1875, but the manufacturing costs were always too high. There was one, however, that looked right, and research proved it was. You can punch holes in it, but, being reinforced with twine, the hole doesn't travel. And it was a neat turn to make it waterproof. It is, in short, a cotton reinforced, waterproofed, kraft paper. It can be made stiff and hard or creped and soft and thick or thin, just as you please.

Its principal use is to take the place of burlap, which is difficult to get at any price now. With burlap they had to protect the fabrics first with one or more layers of paper to keep out dust, oil and water, and then wrap to keep it with burlap for strength. This does all.

And it has many other uses. Packing house people cover the ends of barrels of provisions with it, which require a special strong variety. Automobile tire makers wind tires with two-inch strips of it for shipment and storage. A Western maker of baggies also uses strips for winding his shafts to protect them during shipment. A soft and very warm vest for soldiers, and large quantities for wrapping surgical dressings have also been made for the Red Cross. Some further developments are full of promise.

THE LIBERTY LEAGUE'S COMPLAINT.

The Citizens' Liberty League continues to clamour that the referendum ballot in Ontario was a "trick" ballot. It is hard to follow the reasoning that leads to such a charge. Each question on the ballot stood alone; each was complete in itself. The people had a chance to express their opinion on all four propositions separately. They did so in such emphatic fashion that there should be no uncertainty as to the opinion of the majority of the electors. And now the Liberty League comes along and says that only those ballots that were marked "no" on all four questions should be counted as votes in favour of prohibition. The Liberty League surely does not believe that if only the original question "Are you in favour of the repeal of the Ontario Temperance Act" had been submitted that Ontario would have given a different answer than the verdict of last October. The alternative questions were not inserted in the ballot at the request of any of the temperance organizations, that may be taken for granted.

THE MUNICIPAL ELECTIONS

While aldermanic candidates are so far in Peterborough conspicuous by their absence, it is interesting to note that in other cities there is no lack of material, and the municipal elections are producing an unusual interest. In Kingston, for instance, there is already a host of candidates in the field for the various offices. The returned soldiers have been successful in inducing a number of well-known citizens to offer their services. Organized labour is represented by a municipal slate. The Retail Merchants' Association proposes to enter a number of business men in the contest for the Council and Utilities Commission. The result is, as the Kingston Whig remarks, that "there is no dearth this year of good material, and that already enough good men have been placed in nomination by the several organizations to ensure the return of a splendid Council for the year 1920." This very healthy interest in municipal affairs is something upon which Kingston is to be congratulated. With such a field of candidates, it is reasonable to suppose that there will be a much bigger vote polled than usual, and the Limestone City will have a much better chance to secure a really representative civic government than has been the case for some time. It is regrettable that in Peterborough there is not a similar arousing from the inertia that has distinguished municipal elections.

THE PARK PURCHASE.

The purchase of Riverside Park and the conversion of it and the adjoining property into a public park is a step that closely follows the suggestions of the Medical Health Officer for a cleaner and healthier city. Dr. McPherson, knowing the value to the community of ample facilities for healthful recreation, in his annual report, impresses upon the Board of Health the necessity of backing the City Council in this enterprise and in providing opportunities for skating and swimming. All these things are necessary to make Peterborough a healthier and, therefore, a happier and more successful community, and the Medical Officer of Health does well to give them prominence in his report. The purchase of Riverside Park is an investment that will earn dividends for the city; dividends that more than counter-balance the financial outlay that the carrying out of this plan will entail. There will be opposition to the park purchase, of course, for, unfortunately, Peterborough, like other communities, has men of narrow vision, who see nothing in any proposition but its effect upon the tax-rate. However, it is encouraging to know that this project is being endorsed by many well-known citizens, who hail it as an evidence that Peterborough has awakened to a realization of the fact that something more than strictly business and material things are needed to make a city great.

DR. McPHERSON'S REPORT.

The annual report of Dr. A. W. McPherson, Medical Officer of Health, to the Board of Health, a summary of which was published the other day, and the full text of which will be found in today's issue, contains a number of suggestions that should be seriously considered, not only by the Board of Health, but by citizens generally. It is unfortunately too true that but little attention has been paid to health matters in Peterborough. The appropriation for the Health Department, which should be one of the most important, if not the most important feature, of civic activity, is much smaller than for any other municipal department. The matter of health and sanitation has been left almost to take care of itself. The Sanitary Inspector, as the Medical Officer points out in his report, cannot possibly, under the present conditions, carry out all the work that comes under his jurisdiction. Mr. Stapleton has been a faithful official, but it is manifestly impossible for him to attend to all the details of his position In fact, the following up of complaints is a task which precludes the possibility of a systematic attention to other duties.

Dr. McPherson urges the re-organization of the Health Department, with sufficient funds and help alloted to it to enable it to properly look after health conditions.

"The time has come," declares the Medical Officer of Health," when there should be a full time health officer with an assistant. Under his supervision could be carried on all the work that is being carried on by the various organizations in the city. By this means both economy and efficiency can be secured."

Dr. McPherson's campaign for a clean city is one that should receive enthusiastic support. Too long has Peterobrough been content to let matters drift along; too long has the question of health been neglected. There has been indifference and carelessness, a parsimonious attitude towards the Health Department that makes one wonder how the city has escaped outbreaks of diseases as well as it fortunately has.

Dr. McPherson's effort, it is hoped, will lead to action along the lines he has suggested.

POLICE ADMINISTRATION.

The Hamilton Board of Control, after discussing the resolution of the Peterborough City Council, advocating that the Municipal Act be amended regarding the appointment of police commissions so that they should consist of the Mayor and two other elected members, decided upon an amendment to the Peterborough resolution. The Hamilton Board approved a motion that the police commission shall consist of the Mayor, the Police Magistrate and one elected member. This would mean that two-thirds of the commission would be elective instead of the whole commission, as proposed by the Peterborough aldermen. The Hamilton Herald, taking the same position in the matter as the Examiner, is strongly opposed to the principle of the resolution, calling it "a symptom of the itch for change—the restless feeling that whatever is is wrong."

"It is agreed on all hands," says the Herald, "that the Hamilton police department is well administered by the present police commission. The Herald has heard of no complaints against local police administration. It is efficient; the public welfare is carefully safeguarded by the commission, and due consideration is given to the interests of the members of the force.

But the board of control wants a change in the composition of the board of police commissioners. It wants the county judge put off the commission and be replaced by a citizen to be elected by the popular vote. And the board will ask the city council to petition the legislature asking that this change be made.

It is merely a symptom of the itch for change—the restless feeling that whatever is is wrong.

The mayor, as the elected member of the police commission, is directly responsible to the people for his action as commissioner. If two of the three commissioners were elected by general vote, police administration would be under popular control, and a very active share in that control would be exerted by the lawless element of the population. It might be claimed that democratic principle demands that the people should be in direct control of all public services. This is true as a general rule; but there are necessary exceptions to the rule. Army and navy administration is one exception. It would be absurd and dangerous to have matters of military and naval policy, or the details of military and naval administration depend upon the popular vote; and so democratic nations entrust such matters to skilled specialists. Police administration also should be an exception. A police force is a semi-military organization, dependent for efficiency largely upon the strict enforcement of discipline; and it is a fact established by experience that good discipline cannot be maintained in any force under a system which is under popular control.

When the present system of police administration is proven to the inefficient, careless of the police welfare, or harsh or unjust to the members of the force, it will be time to petition for a change in the constitution of the commission. But the only classes of the community that would eagerly welcome such a change is the criminal class and the class which aims at a general social upheaval."

HOW TO USE DRIPPINGS.

"Cakes made of dripping always taste of it," complained a friend of me. They won't, however, if the dripping is used like this: Beat it to a cream, and gradually add a teaspoonful of vinegar, a drop at a time. This quite destroys that "fatty" flavor so very noticeable in some cases made of dripping.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

The detailed statement of the election expenses of Mr. Thomas Tooms, M.P.P., for West Peterboro shows that Mr. Tooms won his election at a minimum of expense. The total was $363 of which about $200 was for printing and advertising. It was probably the most cheaply conducted campaign, as far as Mr. Tooms candidature was concerned that West Peterboro had ever known.

Buy less abroad and produce more in Canada for export seems to be the lesson to be learned from the present exchange crisis.

An Unknown Language.

The revival of the Gilbert and Sullivan operas at the Prince's Theatre, London, reminds me of an amusing story which that popular Savoyard, Mr. Rutland Barrington, once told me.

When "The Mikado" was first produced at the Savoy, he went into a music shop one day and asked, somewhat abruptly, for "The 'Mikado' libretto."

"I beg your pardon?" stammered the salesman.

"'Mikado' libretto," repeated Mr. Barrington.

The salesman gulped, then: "Me no speakee Italiano!" he replied.

180 MILLION HENS SHY

LONDON, Eng.—As a result of the war there are 180 million fewer hens in Europe than existed in 1913.

Great areas are war a...ect. In 1913 60 per cent. of imported eggs came into the United Kingdom from Russia, Germany, and Austria-Hungary, and 61.3 per cent. of poultry was imported from Russia and Austria-Hungary. These countries have ceased to produce nearly enough for their own needs, much less a surplus for export.

The poultry population of Belgium has decreased by 80 per cent., of Holland by 75 per cent., of Denmark and France by 50 per cent.

The United Kingdom has been more fortunate. Probably our poultry stocks are within 10 per cent. of those of 1913.

In 1913 the total consumption of eggs in the United Kingdom was more than 5,200 millions, weighing, with packages upwards of 368,000 tons—say about 113 eggs per head of the population per annum, or 2.13 per person per week. About half of these were imported almost entirely from foreign countries.

In 1918 the total consumption had decreased to 2,600 millions, weighing with packages, 182,000 tons, say, 64 per head of the population per annum or 1.23 egg per person each week of the year. Of these only 318 millions were imported or about 22,000 tons.

PATENT YOUR INVENTIONS

An interesting and encouraging thing about these fortune producing inventions is that most of them are of ordinary or minor values in themselves. If you have a notion that you must invent a big thing to make money, get rid of it at once. Many of the Patents that have made their inventors millionaires are those which contained very few entirely new ideas.

The simplest ideas have earned fortunes for their patentees. The safety razor, the sanitary drinking cup, the humble hairpin, the demountable tire rim—any of these could have been invented by a man of average ability. In your every day life, at home, at your office, in your shop you handle any number of articles that are subject to improvement. If you can think of a way of improving some article or process already in use, or if you can invent a new useful device or process or article of manufacture, you are on the road to fortune. Dennison made a fortune from a simple shipping-tag. Prepare now to meet the demands of Industry in All Fields for New Ideas and New Inventions. Before sending your invention to any attorney or manufacturer or disclosing your invention, write for our free blank form PROOF OF CONCEPTION in order to protect your invention and secure your rights.

WE ADVERTISE our Clients Inventions Free in INDUSTRIAL CANADA, which is the official Magazine of the Canadian Manufacturers Association. It pays to have Shipman's Service. Ask for our new Booklet "Patent Protection"

Send Model, Sketch and description of any new inventions you have for Free Opinion as to Patentability. This Certificate of Patentability together with our blank form "Proof of Conception" will protect the Inventor and serve as proof of the invention until the case can be filed in The Patent Office. UNDESIRABLE FEATURES OF BIG, ROUND SPECTACLES

Big, round spectacle lenses were condemned at a recent meeting of the American Medical Association on the grounds that they are too large and too widely separated, and that they turn in their frames.

The New York Medical Journal says the latter is the really serious defect. The reason is that the majority of spectacles are made to correct a certain degree of astigmatism. The occulist carefully and accurately measures the amount and axis of this and prescribes glasses accordingly. His prescription may call for a lens for the right eye that is more powerful in the upper half than it is in the lower. The optician makes the glasses accordingly and springs them into their frames. They are held only by friction. Sometimes cement is put in, but this soon loses its power. Both occulist and optician warn the wearer to be careful not to turn the lens in its frame when wiping grease and dust from it. But the person is careless, and sooner or later the lens is sure to be turned a little.

"Suppose they are rotated 15 degrees, when placed in front of the eyes, the wearer has his own astigmatism uncorrected and has in addition an equal amount of artificially produced astigmatism at another axis. If the rotation is exactly 90 degrees his astigmatism is practically doubled."

The remedy is either oval lenses or a key inside the frame that will fit into a slot in the lens. Several societies have ordered such glasses, but they say that no optician will make them.

A Philadelphia optician, however, enables his customers to keep the lenses of their round spectacles in the correct position by a simple expedient. He makes a tiny scratch on the edge of that part of each lense nearest to the hinge in the rim of the frame and instructs the wearer always to see that the mark is kept in that position.

The Hacking Cough Strains the Lungs

The terrible, hacking, lung-wracking cough that sticks to you in spite of everything you have done to get rid of it is a great source of danger to your health, and the longer it is allowed to stick the more serious the menace becomes.

You can easily get rid of the cough or cold at its inception by using Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup, a remedy that has been universally used throughout Canada for the past 30 years.

Mrs. Samuel Matthews, Portage, P. E.I., writes:—"Last winter I caught a heavy cold, and was laid up for sometime. I had such a hacking cough I could not sleep at night and did not think I would ever get over it. One day a friend dropped in to see me and was surprised to see how bad my cough was. She advised me to use Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup, so the next day I sent for a bottle and soon got relief and by time I had taken two bottles my cough was all gone. I doubt there is anything to equal it."

Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup is put up in a yellow wrapper; 3 pine trees the trade mark; price 25c and 50c. Manufactured only by the T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

M. P. PRISON-BREAKERS GAG AND ESCAPE BY LADDERS

Six Sinn Fein prisoners, two of them members of Parliament, made a daring escape from Strangeways Prison, Manchester, at 5.20 p.m. on Saturday. By means of a rope ladder weighed with a stone and thrown over the prison walls they scaled a 35 ft. wall and descended on the other side down a telescopic wooden ladder. Accomplices were waiting outside and assisted them to get away.

The prisoners had previously bound gagged and handcuffed a warden named Lilley in charge of them and thrown him into a cell. The warden is not, however, injured. The fugitives are:

Pierce Beasley, age 36, M.P. for East Kerry and Sinn Fein journalist; was sentenced to penal servitude for his part in the Easter rebellion of 1916 but released; rearrested on May 21 last for seditious speech; was returned unopposed for East Kerry in December 1918.

Austin Stace, 30, M.P. for West Kerry, being returned unopposed last year; was imprisoned in Belfast Gaol last year for his Sinn Fein activities.

John Dolan, 30; Cornelius Connolly, 33; Daniel P. Walsh, 37; Patrick McCarthy, 22.

The men were all dressed in civilian clothes. Shortly after five o'clock on Saturday they were being taken for exercise in the prison yard in charge of a warden. Suddenly one of them sprang upon him and knocked him down. The other five helped to bind, gag, and handcuff him with handcuffs, not a police pattern, and place him in a cell. The six men then hurried across the exercise pard to the wall abutting on Sherbourne-street, over which a rope ladder with a stone attached had been flung. Up this ladder ther hurriedly clambered.

Meanwhile an Irieshman prevented people from passing up Sherbourne-street. Other men placed a wooden telescope ladder against the wall where it's 35 ft. high. Others patrolled a brickcroft opposite. The prisoners clambered down the ladder and ran off in various directions, several of them across the crickcroft. No arrests had been made up to late last night.

Major FitzClarence, governor of the prison, told a representative of The Daily Mail recently that the warden Lilley was shaken but not hurt. "I cannot tell you if the escaped men had any visitors. We have the ladder. I cannot say anything as to the measure of liberty the men were allowed. They had previously been well behaved, and had been in the prison some time.

Woman Gives Alarm.

A woman who lives in Sherbourne Street and who saw the men escape, said that on Saturday the street was almost deserted. "When I walked up the street a man insisted on my return. I told him I was a warden's wife, but he replied very quietly and firmly, 'You cannot go along here.' All this happened within two or three minutes. Many wardens live in the street, but most of them were at tea. My little girl and I ran from house to house and gave the alarm. The wardens were in the street in a few seconds, but the prison-breakers had disappeared."

The warden, John Henry Lilley, has been in the prison service for 20 years.—Daily Mail, 27th October.

THE BIGGEST ANIMALS

So far the biggest animals, says Sir Ray Lankester, of which we have any knowledge are the various kinds of whales still flourishing in the sea. A mechanical limit is to set to the size of land-walking animals and that limit has been reached by the elephants. 'Flesh and blood," and we may add "bone," cannot carry on dry land a greater bulk than his. He is always in danger of sinking by his own weight into soft marsh land. His feet have to be much thicker in proportion than those of smaller animals—made of the same material — or they would bend and snap. His feet have to be padded withh uge discs of fat and fibre to ease the local pressure, not bent at the joints, when he stands (a fact to which Shakespear made Ulysses refer), so that the vast weight of his body shall be supported by the stiff column formed by the upper and lower half of the limb-bones kept upright in one straight line. A well-grown elephant weighs five tons. Compare his weight and shape with that of a big whalebone-whale—no extinct animal approaches the existing big whale in bulk and weight. He is eighty to ninety feet long, and has no neck nor any length of tail. His outline is egg-like, narrower at the hinder end. He weighs 200 tons—forty times as much as a big elephant —and is perfectly supported without any strain on his structure by the water in which he floats. There is no such limit to his possible size, as there is in the case of land-walking animals. But it seems probable that he, too, is limited in size by mechasical conditions of another kind. Probably he cannot exceed some ninety feet in length, and 200 tons of bulk on account of the relatively gerat increase of proportionate size and power in the heart required in order to propel the blood through such a vast mass of living tissue and keep him "going" as a warm-blooded mammal. The original pattern —the small dog-like ancestor of the whale— cannot be indefinitely expanded as an efficient working machine ,though its limits is not determined by the same mechanical causes as those which limit the bulk of the terrestrial quadruped.

FOR THE SOUL'S HEALTH

By J. E. MIDDLETON

Sanitation has grown in a few years from a fad to a science. Precautions that are common to-day in every civilised home used to be considered generally as the absurd requirements of foolish old men. The compound microscope has assembled the facts concerning preventable disease. The practical test given to modern medicine by the Japanese in the war with Russia was impressive. The abolition of yellow fever in Panama was corroborative. The testimony of sanitary practice in the Great War was convincing. Enteric and tetanus, the former terrors of warfare, are definitely conquered. Experiment has proved in both war and peace that life in the open-air is salutary and wholesome. The hygiene of the body his become of commanding importance.

There is also a hygiene of the mind. Educationists have discovered by experiment and observation that some forms of teaching are unwholesome. The rise of cold intellectualism to a position of dominance was a disaster for Germany and a curse to the world. Much learning, in conjunction with lack of character, has been proved more dangerous than the typhoid-bearing fly or the poisonous mosquito. On the other hand, the superficial education that makes a sentimental unreal novel the book of the year is causing real alarm to the leaders of the people. Some day our educational system may be revised in the light of scientific mental hygiene.

There is a hygiene of the Soul. Just as physical sanitation has one object, to adjust the human body to harmonise with the laws of life, so physical sanitation must seek to adjust the Soul to the spiritual laws of God. The world has abundant proof of the dangers of unsanitary soul-life. The man who knowingly chooses to perform a wrong action, or to accept a low ideal, is destroying himself and endangering the Soul, as surely as the man who drinks sewage-laden water or who denies the existence of the ptomaines. The unsanitary Soul is even worse than the unsanitary mind. Ignorance is less mischievous than crime. Sentimentality is less dangerous than irreverence.

Thousands of folk who are deeply concerned about their bodily health live continually in the fetid atmosphere of moral corruption. Some learned persons talk very lightly of national and individual sin. They even question the existence of sin. Perhaps, also squinting personages may yet be found who deny the existence of typhoid fever or the efficacy of serum treatment for its prevention.

The Christian Church preaches the Gospel of Soul-sanitation. It is time for the people of Canada to consider if they can afford to overlook the health of the personality. Is it wise to care for the mortal body and neglect the morsel of immortality that dwells within them?

It requires no more time to make a useful gift than one which will be of no practical value, so why not decide, before beginning this season's gifts, what will be appropriate for those whom you wish to remember?

Calendar-Board and Pen-Rack.

Of the smaller gifts, nothing would be better appreciated than this article for one's desk. Fig. 2 shows a pattern for the board. If you haven't hardwood, go to a carpenter. He will let you pick a scrap from his waste pile, or will sell you a piece for a few cents. Wood three-eighths-inch thick is just right. Both sides must be cut alike, and the surest way to get them so is to draw a center-line, first, then lay off the measurements each side of this. The notches in the bottom edge receive the base blocks (Fig. 3). Bore a small hole in the beveled portion of one end of each base block, glue a peg in it to form the front of the pen-rack, and fasten the blocks in the notches cut for them.

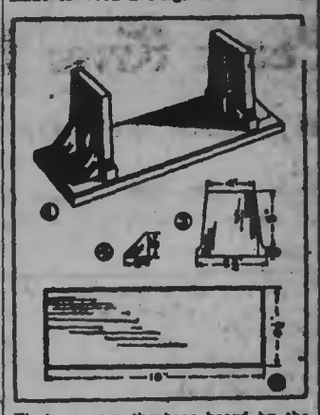
Sandpaper all surfaces, then apply some wood stain and wax. A small calendar-pad tacked to the center of the board, and felt glued to the under-side of the base blocks, will complete the gift.

Postcard Rack.

The same pattern that was used for the calendar-board (Fig. 2) is required for the ends of the postcard-rack in Fig. 4, and Fig. 5 shows a pattern for the base strips, which fasten in the notches in the bottom of the end pieces. Finish the wood with stain and wax.

Book-Rack.

The book-rack in the illustration is made of wood five-eighths inch thick.



First, prepare the base board by the pattern of Fig. 2, then the pair of ends by the pattern of Fig. 3, then two pairs of brackets like the one in Fig. 4. These seven pieces are all that the rack requires. Be careful to get the sides of the end pieces symmetrical. Bevel the edges of the base-board.

Use round-headed blued screws for assembling the parts, and place these in the positions indicated in Fig. 1. A coat of stain, then one of wax, and a button of felt glued to the under-side of the base at each corner, will complete the bookrack.

Waste-Basket.

An 8 by 8 inch board, for a base (Fig. 2), four strips cut of which to make a frame of the same size as the baseboard (Fig. 3), eight laths to cut in half for side strips, a few finishing nails, and 32 round-head blued screws, are all that you need for the pretty waste-basket shown in Fig. 1.

Plane the laths smooth, trim off their ends and bore holes a trifle larger than the screws, near the ends. Screw the side strips to the base edges, four to a side, then prepare the top frame of the form shown in Fig. 3, and screw the upper ends of the strips to it.

Wood stain and wax, or two coats of paint or white enamel may be applied, to finish the woodwork.

Voice Of The People

To the Editor of The Examiner:

Sir,—The great struggle to-day is the struggle between the old theory of individualism and the new theory of mass. The individual is to have no rights whatever. The mass decides everything. Shall the individuals set at naught the wishes of the mass? This modern doctrine has caught the world up in a flame of enthusiasm. It is called Bolshevism in Russia and by various other names in other countries. It is the basis of modern economics, modern religion and modern social reform. It is the principle upon which railways and natural resources are nationalized, and upon which the prohibitionist records his triumph over alcohol and the minority. It is a very far-reaching principle. The abolition of individualism means the abolition not only of individual rights but of the individual. In Russia a woman is a common property. Marriage has been prohibited. All women must register and they are taken out by men just as a book is taken out of the Public Library. Sentiment is abolished. Love is abolished. The rights of minorities and of individuals are abolished. We do the same thing here to a more limited extent, but the principle is spreading. Learn to ignore the right of the individual and that moment you become a Bolshevist who is simply one who "throws" to the winds all restraint of individual right. Even a majority does not rule. It is Force that rules. When Reason and Rights are ignored Force is in the saddle. The so-called "good" people in America have tried to force their ideas on a people and now will have to face force in turn. Thousands will adopt, and are adopting, Bolshevism as a means of self protection against ignorant reformers and the "unco guid."

MODERNIST.

Dear Mr. Editor,—Mr. J. M. Greene is so obviously seeking to influence the people against the proposed Riverside park it is only fair that a protest against his views should have equal publicity.

In the humble opinion of many impartial, sincere people the City Council acted wisely in submitting this question to the people and they exercised good judgment in checkmating a legal claim for damages.

Mr. Greene knows and admits that the city must pay these damages, and he knows and should admit that the people would get absolutely no benefit from such outlay. He should also see that this park will, as a consequence, actually cost the people but $10,500 or thereabouts. If Mr. Greene as an individual were confronted with a similar situation he would, in sheer self-preservation, buy the property if he had to borrow the money. Why should not the city be as prudent as the business man?

Mr. Greene talks of sinking a lot of money—putting it into the melting pot—as if this little item was of serious consequence compared with the colossal sums called for this year, reaching almost a million dollars, if the disposal plant be added. That is something to protest against, but the item to buy this little park for the use of our whole people will cost no more than one-tenth of one per cent. of the assessed valuation of the city; besides, it will be paid for out of a sinking fund which, with interest, will not exceed $2,000 a year. In truth we shall hardly feel it.

Peterborough is far more attractive to industries and much more beautiful than any of the cities Mr. Greene praises and holds up as examples of enterprise. It may be that some of us do not know these things. But we have substantial reasons for being proud of our city.

Money invested in parks adds to the city's assets, to its business and labour attractiveness and there is no doubt money invested in this particular case will be well spent money.

Our larger parks are all in the north end. Each was the gift of Mrs. Nicholls. This is, I believe, the first time in the history of Peterborough the city has proposed to buy land for a park. This will make a real central park worthy of Peterborough. It will be our people's great playground. Mr. Greene's vote and influence may be against the by-law. Mine will be for it. I hope the outcome will not be influenced by private opinions publicly expressed, but by the serious thought and common sense of all of us together. The people themselves are to decide this question on New Year's Day and if they purchase this land Peterborough will have the best New Year's gift in its whole history.

Very truly yours,
E. E. HARVEY, M.D.

"COUGH DROPS" ARE MEDICINE.

Therefore They Must Bear the Government War Tax Stamps.

Canadian Press:

OTTAWA, Dec. 12. — "Cough drops" tablets sold for the relief of coughs, sore throats, etc., are a medicine, despite the fact that they are sometimes sold in bulk the same as candy, according to the ruling of the Inland Revenue Department, and as such must bear the correct amount of war-tax stamps upon each package sold. Other articles, such as camphorated chalk, come under a similar ruling.

The attention of several Ottawa druggists was called to this ruling by a commercial traveller during the week, and in some cases they are said to have expressed surprise, as some of them had been treating the "cough drops" sold in bulk as more of a candy than a medicine.

Mr. George W. Taylor, Assistant Deputy Minister of Inland Revenue, stated that this was not a new ruling of the Department. On November 1, 1917, twenty thousand copies of a pamphlet were distributed among all the known druggists in Canada, and on page six of that pamphlet it was stated that "cough drops" and other similar medicated articles were classed as patent medicines, and as such were subject to the war tax.

KILLED HIMSELF IN TRYING TO GIVE ACTION TO STORY

FREEPORT, N.Y., Dec. 12.— Attempting to inject "action" into a story he was composing, Stanley Simon, a young magazine writer, accidentally killed himself with a revolver at his uncle's home here, it developed at an inquest yesterday. The uncle testified that the author, while pondering over a scene in his story in which a revolver figured, but which his publishers had informed him lacked action, experimented with a pistol which, his uncle said, he did not know was loaded.

LOCAL DOCTORS RECEIVE CIRCULAR

Peterboro doctors have received a circular from Dr. J. N. S. McCullough, Head of the Provincial Board of Health advising them to be on the look-out for the so-called sleeping sickness which has been prevalent in Winnipeg and to promptly advise the Board if it is found. A description of the symptoms and advice, as to where fuller information may be got, is given.

Bad Breath IS CAUSED BY CATARRH

Canadians suffer more from Catarrh than from any other disease. On this account Catarrh is dangerous and should be checked at the outset.

It isn't necessary to take internal medicine to cure Catarrh. There is a far better method.

Doctors now treat Catarrh by sending a purifying, healing vapor through the breathing organs. In this way the germs of Catarrh are destroyed.

The only successful vapor treatment is CATARRHOZONE, which the patient breathes through a special inhaler to the real seat of the trouble. The rich, piney essences of Catarrhozone heal and soothe all inflamed surfaces. They effectively treat the nose, throat and lungs with a powerful antiseptic that destroys irritation at once.

Catarrhozone brings into the system the balmy air of the pine forest. It cures completely colds, coughs, catarrh, weak throat, and bronchitis.

Once tried, Catarrhozone is always used. Breathing so pleasant, so simple, so quick to relieve, so absolutely sure to permanently cure. Accept no substitute. Large size lasts two months, and costs $1.00; small size 50c.; sample trial size 25c.; at all dealers.

PEACE RIVER

(From an Actual Photograph)

The World's Greatest Oil Pools

A wonderful wealth is in store in the Peace River District where eminent Geologist and Oil Experts from all over the world, who have made careful and thorough investigations, report that they believe and state with full confidence that THE WORLD'S GREATEST OIL RESERVOIR will be found there.

Here is your opportunity to share in this wonderful wealth possibility.

Oil has already been struck in two wells now being drilled on the Company's properties—Both wells will be drilled deeper to the BIG OIL POOL.

What Eminent Geologists and Oil Experts Say

SIR GEORGE DAWSON.

Acknowledged one of the World's foremost Geologists.

1877 - 1878 Sir George Dawson submitted to a select committee of the Canadian Senate a report on the oil possibilities in the Peace River valley and the Mackenzie Basin.

This report sets out the possibility of a large accumulation of oil between the Smoky River Junction and White Mud River, which intersects the Peace River about 30 miles below Peace River Town.

Since that date a score of prominent geologists have visited this field and every one has endorsed Dr. Dawson's opinion.

Eight wells have been drilled in this very district. Every one has discovered oil, proving beyond question that the geologists' opinion was correct.

MR. JOS. OWEN JAMES, Geologist, London, England.

In 1914 Mr. James, acting on behalf of the British Government, stated that "the junction of the Big and Smoky Rivers were one of the finest prospects for oil he had ever seen in this or any other country."

Mr. James' report on the Reno Articline, which crosses the Big Smoky and the Peace Rivers, and the formation below Tar Island, shows prospects of large accumulations of oil.

PROF. R. D. McLAREN, University of Saskatchewan.

Reports that the asphaltic outcroppings in Northern Alberta, especially in the Peace and Athabasca country, are greater in quantity than all other asphaltic showings in the world. The showings are so tremendous that there must be enormous oil pools underneath. It is estimated that there is sufficient oil in the sands of Alberta to supply the world's demands for 300 years.

Prof. McLaren, over his own signature in the Saskatoon Star, practically demanded the Government of Canada to make the greatest effort possible to locate all oil pools in Northern Alberta so that Canada could have her own oil supplies.

MR. A. M. SLACK.

Manager, Peace River Oil Company, recently stated that he is convinced the structure at Peace River is favourable for big oil production, which will be secured when the drills reach the lower formation, which confirms what other oil experts and geologists have repeatedly stated.

Mr. Slack, who is at present in the East purchasing machinery and equipment for further drilling of the wells of the Peace iver Oil Company, is a well-known oil expert of wide experience. He has done considerable drilling work in Borneo, Egypt, California and Canada, and is considered an authority on oil structure.

Let Canada's Wealth be Enjoyed By The Canadian People

Here is an opportunity for Canadians to invest in Peace River Petroleums, Limited, a Canadian Corporation, controlled by successful Canadian business men, who intend in all sincerity and earnestness to develop the marvellous oil fields in Peace River.

The Corporation, as will be seen by this announcement, controls over 48,000 acres of the best oil lands in

THIS VAST AND NEW OIL FIELD

The names of the directors, all of whom are well-known Canadian business men, are alone a guarantee that development work will be aggressively proceeded with, and the funds of the company expended with economy and wise judgment.

In the past the cream of Canada's mineral resources has been exploited by foreign capital, but here we have a genuine Canadian enterprise, which deserves and should have the support of every Canadian who is interested in the development of Canada's vast oil resources.

There is no gainsaying the fact that oil is there, the rock formation of the country, the abundance of natural gas, the constant seepage of oil and many other surface indications lead to the logical conclusion that deep in the lower strata of the country lies untold wealth that will eclipse and surpass all discoveries of oil in the past.

The "Financier" of London, England, one of the oldest and most reliable financial papers in Great Britain, in a recent article practically demanded that the public are entitled to participate in the share of oil companies, and that shares should not be offered to a favoured few.

Here is an extract from their editorial regarding a recent issue of oil shares in England:

> Instead of permitting the investing public to participate in the financing of the project, they have arranged to offer the shares for sale only to their personal clients and friends, and to ignore the great investing public outside that favoured circle. We cannot help thinking that it would have been fairer to allow the great body of British investors . . . to apply for shares. . . . Undertakings of national importance in their scope and objects ought not to be the possession of the privileged few, but should rather be in the beneficial ownership of investors generally.

Every investor, large or small, has an opportunity to invest in Peace River Petroleums, Limited—a project of national importance to Canada.

Royal Commission Investigates

The Royal Commission, which investigated the natural resources of the British Empire, said, in reference to the Peace River District, that it "Evidently was one of the largest oil-bearing countries yet unexplored on the face of the earth, and that on the North American Continent there is no other part which ever gave such evidence of rich oil fields."

To the Canadian Public

During the four years I spent in the Peace River country I watched the oil development in all its stages.

Eight wells have already been drilled in and near Peace River Town. Every well has brought in oil—not one well has been drilled dry.

Pay oil has been discovered in at least five of the wells drilled, a record seldom attained in any new oil field on this continent.

That oil would be discovered in Peace River was predicted by Sir George Dawson, Canada's most eminent geologist, over thirty years ago. During the past five years a score of the world's best known geologists and oil experts have visited Peace River, and in every instance these men of science endorsed the prophecy of Sir George Dawson of long ago.

A valuable by-product of the oil fields of Peace River is wet gas, from which, by simple process, gasoline is extracted. From three to five million feet of wet gas belches from the wells already drilled into the gas stratum.

Every man who has visited the wells at Peace River knows that oil is there, because he has seen it; but the wealth of the earth, be it gold, silver or oil, is of no value unless money is efficiently spent for its development.

I believed the geologists and oil experts of this continent when they said that by drilling deeper into the oil sands at Peace River the BIG OIL POOL would be discovered.

Because of this belief and my personal knowledge of the actual discovery of oil in the wells drilled at Peace River I feel I am acting in the best interests of Canada when I recommend the Canadian people to join with Peace River Petroleums, Limited, and help to secure the big production of oil for our industries.

DR. A. W. M'PHERSON, M.O.H, DEALS WITH MATTERS OF PUBLIC INTEREST

ANNUAL REPORT TO THE BOARD OF HEALTH CONTAINS MANY SUGGESTIONS—WAYS AND MEANS OF PROLONGING LIFE AND ELIMINATING DISEASE.

At the annual meeting of the local Board of Health, Dr. A. W. McPherson, Medical Officer of Health, presented the following report:

Peterborough, Ontario,
1st December, 1919.

To the Chairman and Members of the Peterborough Board of Health.

Gentlemen,

I beg to submit for your consideration the annual report of the Medical Officer of Health.

Infectious Diseases.

The following communicable diseases have been present during the year: Diphtheria, scarlet fever, measles, smallpox, whooping cough, chickenpox, typhoid fever, and infantile paralysis. Of these the following have been reported:

Smallpox—26.
Diphtheria—21.
Scarlet fever—19.
Measles—3.
Typhoid fever—1.
Infantile paralysis—1.

The most serious has been diphtheria from which there have been four deaths, and in this connection I would like to draw attention to the following points:

The importance of early recognition by the doctors of all such cases and the necessity of taking steps to clear up all doubtful cases by a laboratory examination.

The importance of early treatment by antitoxin of those affected and those who have been exposed, both young and old.

The necessity for inspection of the school children for any signs of inflamed nose or throat.

The need of a laboratory in the city where microscopic examinations can be made and an early diagnosis given.

With regard to the smallpox that prevails at the present time, I would say that a great many of the cases are very mild in type, and for that reason in some cases they have been treated as chickenpox. On this account the disease is difficult to control, and is found in all parts of the city, and will in all probability continue through the winter unless the citizens co-operate by insisting on vaccination in the family and in their business concerns. Recent vaccination is an absolute preventative, and the only known preventative. Those who will not avail themselves of the protection must put up with the consequences if they should be unfortunate enough to develop it or be exposed to it.

The Isolation Hospital.

Owing to the fact that the more severe infectious diseases have been present throughout the year, the hospital has seldom been closed, and on account of two frequently occurring together, it has necessitated the employment of an extra nurse.

The use of the sheds for smallpox has further increased the expenditure, as they have been in almost constant use since June.

The matter of painting and repairs to the main building and the altering and equipping of the shacks so as to make them more serviceable for hot and cold weather, and from other standpoints, should be taken up at an early date. Also the advisability of securing another assistant in nursing work might be considered.

The Sanitary Work.

For various reasons this work is not being carried on as thoroughly as I hope it will be in the coming season. The magnitude of the work is not realised by any except those who are actively engaged in it. It means the examination of all residential premises, with inquiries and reports regarding the general sanitary condition of the buildings and grounds, the sewage disposal, water supply, habitable condition of the house, number of occupants, sickness during the past year, animals kept, and condition of their quarters. This means a systematic house-to-house visit by the sanitary inspector, so that the Health authorities will have a first-hand knowledge of the actual conditions in all the various details that prevail in every part of the city.

Then comes the systematic examination of the public quarters for the protection of the patrons and employees. This means the hotels, restaurants, boarding and lodging houses, the stores where food or refreshments are manufactured or sold. This includes the bake shops, butcher shops, fish stores, confectionery stores, ice cream booths, milk dairies, the market, etc., to see that food is produced, handled, kept and delivered in such a way as not to be a menace to health. This means a thorough inspection to ensure the health and cleanliness of those who handle the food, the cleanliness of the premises, the freedom from anything that would tend to communicate disease to the consumer.

Then there are the factories, the offices and stores, to see that the employees are working under such hygienic conditions that will be most conducive to good health.

To this is added the following up of complaints of all kinds, the abatement of nuisances, the supervision of the work of scavengers or night soil men, of the garbage collection and the incinerator.

To anyone who is in the slightest conversant with such work it will be evident that this work cannot be carried on by one Sanitary Inspector, who has other multigenerous duties.

This part of the work is drawn to your attention in order to secure your co-operation in the proper organization of a health department with sufficient help and funds to do it properly.

This only practically all that has been possible was the following up of complaints and the inspection of small sections in connection with such complaints.

The danger of the filthy, improperly kept outside closet, and of the uncovered privy vaults and the unsanitary surroundings in connection with the keeping of horses, cows, pigs, chickens and other animals has been recognized for a long time and it is the intention to see that the innocent are protected from the careless owner by insisting in a very firm manner that the City By-laws and The Health Act be complied with.

The Milk Supply.

One of the most important problems of this Board is to see that pure milk is being supplied to children of the city. This is the most common article in a child's diet list and as it is the best medium for the growth and development of disease producing germs, it therefore results that unless proper precautons are taken it may become a great menace to the health of the children of the community. On this accounn the premises of the milk producers are being regularly visited in order to ensure that the milk By-law is being complied with. However, on account of the number of farms from which milk is obtained it has become a big task to inspect them sufficiently often to secure proper results. We are further handicapped by the fact that in some cases the milk producers are on a rented farm and it is impossible to secure all the conditions deemed necessary.

In my opinion therefore, the only safe procedure to take is to insist on the pasteurizing and bottling of all milk sold in the city, and I would advise that this Board recommend to the Council a By-law to this effect.

Before closing I would like to draw your attention very forcibly to the duties and powers given this Board by the Provincial Health Act and the City By-laws. The health of the citizens of Peterborough is in our hands and all ways and means by which this may be maintained and improved should receive our careful consideration and whole hearted support.

Every illness is a financial loss to the family and to the community and every death is a serious financial loss to the community and, to the family a loss that cannot be estimated in the coin of the realm. Every time a sickness or death occurs it would be quite fitting that the Board of Health should individually ask himself the question "Have I any responsibility in this loss—could this have been prevented by the adoption of proper health measures?"

The importance of these preventative measures is being recognized by those who have been studying health problems and already a great deal of progress has been made. This was forcibly demonstrated during the late war by the absence of Typhoid, Paratyphoid, Smallpox, Tetanus, as a result of the preventative measures that had been taken by the military authorities.

Throughout the country Boards of Health are organizing their forces for the prevention of disease. Some of the main points that are being considered are—

Greater attention to the sanitation of the community in general and the individual premises in particular;

Pure water supply;

Proper sewage disposal plant;

Thorough supervision of the food supply;

Pure air supply by—

1. Prevention of pullition by dust, smoke and foul odor;

2. Creation of open air spaces, parks, playgrounds, etc.;

Encouraging healthy exercises—summer and winter—and providing facilities for same, for all ages and classes;

Dissemination of knowledge of the loss of health to all and especially to those having the care of children;

Instruction to expectant mothers;

Care of the babies;

Inspection of children under school age;

Medical inspection of schools;

Segregation of those who are infected with communicable diseases or who are mentally defective and the application of proper treatment to them and contacts;

Taking active measures to remedy any defects found in those who are inspected;

Active support of all organizations whose aim is the improvement of the health of the citizens;

In this connection we should begin next year an active campaign for a clean city. Support the Water Commissioners in their endeavour for the installation of a proper purification plant; and support the Council in their efforts to secure a proper sewage disposal plant. We should further support the Council in the line of action they are taking for the securing of grounds for recreation and sports, for the securing of playgrounds and facilities for swimming and skating. We should encourage the Health Association in their endeavours to care for those who would otherwise receive no help, and we should lend a hand to the new organization which is planning to care for the babies and children.

In conclusion I would like to recommend that the City should take steps to organize the Health Department on a different basis. The time has come when there should be a full time Health Officer with an assistant. Under his supervision could be carried on all the work that is being carried on by the various organizations in the City. By this means both economy and efficiency can be secured.

I have the honour to be, Gentlemen,
Your obedient servant,
(Sgd.) A. W. McPHERSON,
Medical Officer of Health.

MRS. DUPRAU NEGLIGENT; ASSESSED $300 BY JURY

DELIVERED VERDICT IN FORM OF ANSWERS TO SET OF QUESTIONS DEALING WITH POINTS OF FACT—DECIDED THAT THE PLAINTIFF, RUSSELL WHATMAN, HAD NOT CONTRIBUTED NEGLIGENCE—CASE GREW OUT OF DROWNING OF SON.

THE LAST JURY CASE

Damages to the amount of $300 were awarded Russell Whatman in his action against Mrs. Margaret Duprau which was wound up in the County Court last night after eight o'clock when the jury brought in their verdict finding that negligence on the part of the defendant had led to the drowning of the plaintiff's three-year-old son. Whatman had entered suit for $500 claiming that Mrs. Duprau had left open a door leading from the shed to the cistern in the house at 177 London street which he had rented from her, that the baby boy had made his way through this door while Mrs. Whatman's attention was engaged by Mrs. Duprau, and straying into the cistern room nearby had fallen through the decayed wooden covering and drowned before his mother missed him.

To assist the jury in their deliberations Judge Huycke submitted to them a list of questions which he requested them to answer in setting forth their conclusions as to the facts in the case. These questions and the jury's answers were as follows:—

1. Was the death by drowning of the child Frederick Leonard Whatman caused by any negligence of the defendant?—Ans—Yes.
2. If so, wherein did such negligence consist. State fully? Ans—In not shutting the door after her as she found it.
3. Could the plaintiff by use of ordinary and reasonable care have avoided the accident?—Ans—No.
4. Could the wife of plaintiff, mother of the child, by use of ordinary and reasonable care have avoided the accident?—Ans—No.
5. Could or should the infant child Frederick Leonard Whatman, having regard to his age, by reasonable care on his part have avoided the accident?—Ans—No.
6. If you answers "Yes" to question number 5 nevertheless could the defendant by exercise of proper, reasonable and ordinary care have avoided the accident?—Ans—Yes.
7. If you answer "Yes" to questions numbers 5 and 6 or either of them, nevertheless could the defendant by exercise of proper and reasonable care have avoided the accident?—Ans.—Yes.
8. At what sum do you assess the damages, if any?—Ans—$300.

THE LAST JURY CASE.

The Whatman-Duprau case was the last of the jury list for this court. It was begun early Thursday afternoon and was closed shortly after six o'clock. Yesterday morning Mr. F. D. Kerr who appeared for the defendant addressed the jury, and Mr. Joseph Wearing followed in behalf of the plaintiff Whatman in the afternoon. Judge Huycke then instructed and charged the jury who retired at four o'clock. At 6.20 o'clock they returned with a verdict identical with the final one with the exception of clause three on which they divided evenly, six for an affirmative and six for a negative answer.

This question as shown above sought the jury's opinion as to whether there had been contributory negligence on Whatman's side. Judge Huycke pressed them to reconsider this question and to try to give it a definite answer one way or the other.

Had Disagreed.

The foreman of the jury informed him that six of the jurors held that had they been in plaintiff's position they would have fixed up the danger spot at their own expense.

His Honour urged that in order to avoid a retrial this point be decided by the jury. They went back to their chamber and Judge Huycke had supper ordered for them in order that they would have ample time to reach their final verdict. When the Court resumed at eight o'clock the third clause carried a negative answer. The jurors were dismissed shortly afterward having spent four days in court.

TUSKLESS ELEPHANTS.

(Philadelphia Ledger).

An elephant without tusks seems almost impossible, yet in Ceylon the male elephants have no tusks at all; they have miserable little grubbers projecting two or three inches from the upper jaw and inclining downward.

Nothing produces either ivory or horn in fine specimens throughout Ceylon. Although some of the buffaloes have tolerably fine heads, they will not bear a comparison with those of other countries. The horns of the native cattle are not above four inches in length.

The elk and the spotted deer's antlers are small compared with deer of their size in India. This is the more singular, as it is evident from the geological formation that at some remote period Ceylon was not an island, but formed a portion of the mainland. It is thought that there must be elements wanting in the Ceylon pasturage for the formation of ivory.

TWO SPEAKERS FOR PETERBORO

There are two names in connection with the Baptist denomination in Canada that will insure full houses whenever they are announced—One of these is Dr. T. T. Shields of Jarvis Street Baptist church, and the other that of Dr. John MacNeill of Walmer Road Baptist church, Toronto.

On the evening of Thursday next 18th both of these distinguished speakers will be heard in Murray Street Baptist church on the subject of the Forward Movement. The public will be welcomed at this service, but as the church will accommodate only eight hundred persons it will be advisable that those desiring seats should be present in good time.

Dr. Shields will be remembered by his lecture on "The Fall of Lucifer" delivered in our city and his sermons in Murray Street on the occasion of the 70 th anniversary.

Dr. John MacNeill is the President of the Baptist Convention of Ontario and Quebec and an orator of more than Continental reputation.

UNSAFENESS OF RAW MILK

Important Informatinn to Milk Consumers

Because the dairy cow is susceptible to a peculiar form of contamination, investigation has proved that the udder is constructed like a sponge. There is a constant shedding of waste tissues from the lining of the udder. This udder waste often includes the products of udder inflammation. Such inflammations are so common they are present in some form in practically every dairy herd. Even when there is no external evidence there is often internal inflammation discharging its product with the milk.

The fact that these impurities are present in all milk and cannot be removed by the ordinary strainer, is being pointed out to the milk consuming public by the pure milk authorities everywhere. Epidemic of various diseases have been frequently traced to the presence of udder waste in the summer time, with it swarms of flies and mosquitoes, increase the dangers.

OLIVES IN GOLDEN STATE

(Philadelphia Ledger)

The ancient scrap between Minerva, who gave the olive, and Apollo, who bestowed the horse upon mankind, was decided, as will be remembered, in favor of the lady—the dispute being as to which of the two gifts was the more valuable.

To understand the reason for this decision, one sought to live in the Mediterranean region, where the oli.. is a vital factor in the lives of the people. They could much more easily spare the equine quadruped.

Olive culture has already assumed great importance in our own country. In 1916 (the latest year for which figures are available) there were in California 834,038 olive trees in bearing, and 515,221 not yet old enough to yield fruit. The state's production in that year was 2,000,000 gallons of olive oil and 1,800,000 gallons of pickled olives.

The olive tree was introduced in California by Spanish priests, the first grove being planted in San Diego in 1760. From these trees is descended what is to-day the most popular variety, the mammoth Mission olive.

We have been advised by the White Sewing Machine Company that they will allow us to offer 10 of their Famous Rotary and Electric Machines, to be sold on the "CHRISTMAS CLUB PLAN" during our CHRISTMAS CLUB CAMPAIGN. They are also co-operating with us by sending Mrs. Kemp, who will be here for a Week, commencing MONDAY, 15TH DECEMBER—when she will give Instructions to all Purchasers of the Machine. What better Xmas Gift for a Home than a "WHITE ROTARY," or even better, a "WHITE ELECTRIC SEWING MACHINE?" The Electric Machine does away with all labour of Sewing. Electricity does the work—not the User of the Machine.

Should you wish not to let the Recipient of the Gift know anything about it until Xmas, we will send the Machine home any time you wish, and you can make arrangements for instructions to be given after the Holiday, if desired. Join the "WHITE CLUB" To-day.

Positively Only 10 Machines to be Sold for this "Christmas Home Club"

GOLDEN WEDDING CELEBRATED BY MR. AND MRS. ROBERTSON

NOTABLE EVENT PARTICIPATED IN BY MANY FRIENDS AND RELATIVES.

(The "Wenatchee Daily World," Washington, U.S.A.)

Over fifty years ago in the pioneer village of Norwood, County of Peterborough, Ont., Canada, there started a romance which culminated in Wenatchee last evening, when over one hundred relatives and friends of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Robertson met at their suburban home, Rose Cottage, North Wenatchee avenue, to congratulate them on the fiftieth anniversary of an event which had taken place in Peterborough on Dec. 1st, of 1869, when Nancy Stewart, of Norwood, Ont., became the wife of Jesse L. Roberison of the same place.

For this happw anniversary the home had been made beautiful by their loving children who had lavished time and money in making this the Golden day in their parents' lives. Many friends joined with them in the desire to make this a memorable event. All day long gifts and flowers with many letters and wires from different parts of Canada and the U. S. continued to arrive at their home, and after a family re-union when eighteen sat down to dinner, arriving guests found the happy bride and groom of fifty years ago radiantly happy waiting to greet them as they entered the door.

Following an informal reception, preceded by flowers, Mr. and Mrs. Robertson took their places under a beautiful white bell suspended from the ceiling with gold strain ribbon in the midst of a ceiling decoration of evergreen and golden chrysanthemums.

Their pastor, Rev. Frank E. Beatty, of the First Presbyterian church, awaited the couple and performed a very unique Golden Wedding ceremony, heartily congratulating them on their past useful years of married life and expressing the hope of all present that they would be spared for many more years of usefulness.

The bride was indeed pretty in a beautiful gown of black satin with touches of white and carried a shower bouquet of golden chrysanthemums. Mr. and Mrs. Stewart P. Robertson acting as best man and matron of honor for the ceremony. Immediately after the wedding, the bride cut the beautiful 5 story wedding cake and the guests were invited to the dining room where the table was presided over by Mrs. Arthur Bousquet and Mrs. Charles Flannigan, Miss Elsie Gussman and Miss Georgia Begg assisting in the dining room. The bride of fifty years ago had reason to be proud of this bridal table for the quantity of wonderful cakes and delicious bon bons were all the work of her own daughters and daughter-in-laws. Before leaving the dining room, each guest was presented with a piece of wedding cake daintily tied with bows of gold ribbon.

For this happy occasion, seven of Mr. and Mrs. Robertson's children with their families, were present: Stewart Robertson, of Seattle William T., of Cashmere; James M. of Whitefish, Mont.; Jesse L., of Chelan; Mrs. Wm. Leonardy of Wenatchee; Mrs. J. H. Metcalf of Soap Lake; Miss Nellie Robertson of Wenatchee, their daughter; Mrs. Berg of Wabash, Minn., being unable to be present. Each of the children as their Golden Wedding gift presented their parents with a spoon of the gold 'Mary Jane" design, each spoon bearing the name of the giver.

J. L. Robertson was born in Norwood on Christmas Day, December 25th, 1843, Mrs. Robertson being born in Norwood, August 9th, 1845. Following their marriage, December 1, 1869, they remained in Ontario until June the first, 1892, when the Robertsons became pioneers at Marshall county, Minnesota, where Mr. Robertson commenced raising wheat in the Red River Valley known as the "bread basket of the world." There the Robertsons lived a very active life, Mr. Robertson taking an active part in all municipal matters and doing much active church work. On Dec. 1, 1902, he and his family came to Wenatchee, where he soon learned the greatest business on earth, that of raising big Wenatchee Red Apples. To-day he owns one of the most desirable five acre orchards in the valley and with his wife rejoice that they have cast their lot in Wenatchee.

Among the out of town guests present last night were Mrs. Janet Robertson and her son, J. Fred Robertson of Avon Lea, Sask., Can.

Mr. Robertson is a brother of Mrs. R. W. Esson, Otonabee.

HAD TO GO TO BED HEADACHES SO BAD

MILBURN'S LAXA-LIVER PILLS MADE HER WELL

When your liver gets sluggish and inactive, your whole health suffers. Your bowels become constipated, your head aches, your tongue is coated, breath bad, specks float before the eyes, you are bilious, have heartburn, water-brash, pain under the right shoulder, muddy and brown spotted complexion, etc.

Help the liver to resume its proper function by removing the bile that is circulating in the blood and poisoning the system.

Mrs. E. Bainbridge, 30 Maple Ave., Amherst, N.S., writes: "I take pleasure in writing you of the good I received by using Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills for headaches. I was so bad I had to go to bed, and could not sit up. A friend told me about your wonderful medicine, and two vials have made me as well as I can be."

Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills are small and easy to take, do not gripe, weaken or sicken, do not leave any bad after-effects. Price 25c. a vial at all dealers, or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

MAY BE CREATED A CARDINAL

(Special to The Examiner.)

WINNIPEG, Man., Dec. 13.—There is great excitment in Winnipeg tonight over the intimation from Rome and Ottawa that at the forthcoming consistory at Rome, Archbishop Sinnott, of Winnipeg, may be created a Cardinal of the Church of Rome. Archbishop Sinnott's name has been approved by two former papal delegates to the Dominion, Cardinal Mercy De Val and Cardinal S. Barretti. Dr. Sinnot was secretary to the latter during his regime of seven years at Ottawa. He is now returning from a visit to Rome.

He is at Peace with the world because his eyes are at peace with him.

The glasses he has just had fitted are correct and therefore comfortable. The irritation of improperly fitted glasses is gone and he sees life from a new and pleasurable angle.

There can be no comfort, no peace to the mind and nerves of anyone who wears incorrect glasses.

GIVE HER A REO

Just think of it! You don't have to send it by mail or express— it will come direct to her home from the Moore's Garage, 195 Simcoe street, and can be promptly delivered the day jolly Santa Claus is on his rounds, or before.

That's why you are urged to order a Reo for her. It's the only safe way to be sure that you have made the selection that comes nearest to her "most sanguine expectations." The Moore Garage is all ready to fill your order, and as there is hardly two weeks more before Christmas, you should book your order promptly. What a Christmas it will be should you "cap the climax" in gift-giving with a Reo, just in from the factory!

A number of used cars may be seen at this Garage, which are well worth careful examination—not for Christmas presents, of course—but for commercial and business purposes, and for those who want to learn motoring before they buy a new car. They have been ticketed at bargain figures.

Moore's Garage carries some of the most useful motor car specialties of the day, such as Ford Chains that have proved so valuable on tires; also, Also Anti-Freeze, for the radiators, which prevents the laying up of your car for the winter; it will pay you to learn more about it. Call at Moore's Garage, and, remember, to make her dreams come true.

Mr. Publow spoke on the benefits of improved breeding for greater production.

"The national debt of this country must be paid from the first six inches of ground." Keep more cows, and there will be a great future in Canada for dairying.

He now spoke of the great demand for dairy products; how Europe is deplete of cattle, which has brought about an unprecedented demand for condensed and powdered milk. "One great trouble has been that we have not done enough advertising. What effort have we put forth to show cheese as a food? He outlined and asked for their support in a national advertising campaign, to advertise dairy products as food.

Home Consumption.

Our home consumption must be increased We should not depend on England for a market and we must hope that the cheese sent to other countries will be so well liked that we may get many other orders.

A great appeal is being made to improve conditions and get clean milk and to educate the careless worker. Mr. Publow said that Ontario could take a few pointers from Quebec. A more careful grading in Quebec has raised the standard of the cheese. "You must find out how much it costs to produce your milk so that you can produce figures to show that you are not charging excessive prices and you must also try to produce it as economically as possible. You must also see that conditions at the factories are what they should be and that the men are skilled cheesemakers, and also encourage the boys to take it up, for it is a good business.

You people who produce the milk should look closely into all these questions. See that the consumer gets his milk in good condition, and see that the factories are clean and if you do this you need have no fear about the demand or the price. You need not fear over-production for dairying is the safest line of agriculture.

In conclusion Mr. Publow hoped that they would give all these matters their deepest consideration and thanked them for their attention.

The Election

Mr. Gillespie now asked Mr. Publow to take charge of the election of the director.

Mr. Publow thought the office should be filled by a progressive man with a good general knowledge of agriculture and dairying and as Mr. Gilelspie was still eligible for office he thought Mr. Gillespie might accept it again.

Mr. Gillespie's nomination was moved and seconded. Mr. W. A. Anderson was nominated but declined to stand and Mr. Gillespie was elected.

Mr. Gillespie thanked them for the honour they had done him and , promised to give his best services to the Association.

Mr. Publow said that there was one phase he had neglected to speak on and that was winter milking. He dwelt on the great demand and easy shipping and high prices of milk in the winter months and urged all the farmers to equip for this.

The meeting adjourned shortly after 10 p.m.

POLICE RECOVER A STOLEN OUTFIT

Yesterday morning the local police recovered the horse and buggy at the Windsor Hotel, which was stolen from a Lindsay livery stable some days ago. G. A. Shire, who is accused of the theft, has not yet been apprehended. He is also charged with stealing a horse and rig in Napanee.

This morning the Police Department received a letter from Chief Short of Lindsay thanking them for their efficient work in recovering the stolen property and commenting on the fact that this is the second time within a short while that the Peterborough police have recovered property stolen from Lindsay.

MORMON PRESIDENT THINKS A MAN CAN LOVE THREE WIVES

HERBERT J. GRANT HAS HAD THREE; TWO DIED.

NEW YORK.—A man can live happily with three wives and can have perfect love for each, in the opinion of Herbert J. Grant, president of the Mormon Church, who has done it.

President Grant has had 13 children and has 25 grandchildren living. He is the seventh head of the Mormon Church, is strongly opposed to coffee, tea and tobacco, is a staunch believer in prohibition, and is a man of affairs in Utah. His father had six wives, and President Grant wooed and won his three wives when polygamy was practiced and countenanced by the Mormon Church. Two of his wives are dead. His second wife is living.

Newly-Chosen Church Head.

President Grant is tall, has a white beard, is half bald, wears gold-rimmed glasses, possesses an enlivening personality and a rollicking laugh and speaks with incisive firmness. He is a product of latter day Mormonism, was born in Salt Lake City, and became head of the Mormon Church last November.

As a result of a manifesto issued by the Mormon Church in 1890 the present head of the Mormon Church became strongly opposed to plural marriages. It is against the creed of present-day Mormonism, and, he says, is not tolerated. Any person who is a member of the Mormon Church, and who takes more than one wife is promptly excommunicated, he declared.

"You see," said President Grant, "plural marriages are no more. They used to be in good form. I myself am a product of plural marriage. Eight of the apostles of the Mormon Church are the result of plural marriages, but to-day polygamy is condemned absolutely, and is not practiced. Of course, the rules of the Church and the laws of the State are violated in some instances. There are still some who believe in it, and who attempt to practice it, but it goes hard with them when they are discovered.

"When it was common, polygamy was not contrary to the laws of God or the physical organization of man. I was married three times. I had 13 children, and I was happy—very. So were my wives. It is true that occasional jealousies occur, but that happens in all families.

Church Rules Were Strict.

"The laws of the Morman Church were such that a man was required to get a written endorsement before he could enter into plural marriage, and his character had to be of the best. Even when the practice was common, the number of such marriages was insignificant compared with the population.

The Mormon Churchman has ten daughters, all of whom are married—and happy. He said that tobacco, whiskey, tea and coffee were barred from the homes of all his daughters.

President Grant said that he was indicted at one time for having more than one wife, and to save himself from prosecution it was necessary to send one of his wives to England. While there a baby was born.

The report that girls were to be shipped from Europe to Utah to become wives of Mormons was characterized by Mr. Grant was "absurd."

"It's silly rot," he declared. "I've heard of stories about women being sent to Utah to become wives of Mormons, but there is nothing to it. One would think that we traded women like cattle."

Appendicitis Prevented Life Lengthened Health Maintained

Thousands Finding Wonderful Benefit in a Simple Home Remedy That Costs But a Quarter.

Doctors says if people kept their bowels in proper order there would be no such disease on record as appendicitis. It is due solely to neglect, and is therefore preventable.

If you have constipation, bad breath or headache you need medicine right away.

The moment you suspect your bowels are clogged you should take Dr. Hamilton's Pills the smoothest regulator of them all. They move the bowels and cleanse the liver so smoothly you scarcely notice the effect. But you can get the action just the same. Taken at night you wake up next morning, clear-headed, hungry, rested, energetic, feeling like a different man.

Why don't you spend a quarter today and try Dr. Hamilton's Pills. They work so easy, just as nature would order, never gripe or cause headache. Finest thing for folks that are out of sorts, depressed, lacking in color and spirits.

Folks that use Dr. Hamilton's Pills are never sick, never an ache or a pain—feel good all the time simply because their system is clean, regulated and healthy. This you can easily prove yourself.

Gifts for the Baby

Narrow ribbons and small white celluloid rings help fashion many pretty gifts for baby as may be seen in the picture above. Fleecelike balls of ribbon in which safety pins simulate stamens hang at the end of narrow ribbons, that are suspended from a small ring under a little bow. Another pincushion for baby has the hours of the day painted on it and hangs by narrow ribbons from a ring. Bows, loops and rings decorate the cushion at the bottom, making place for several sizes of safety pins. A bow and long end conceal a common pin that is thrust into one of the numbers on the clock—to indicate the hour when baby is to be fed. Below this pretty gift is a strand of very gayly colored beads and at the right a band crocheted of silk floss, edged and trimmed with ribbon, to be used on the carriage to hold the baby safely in it.

Dainty Ribbon Garters

Ribbons and laces that set off the faces of fair women, do not end their usefulness in this way. Here they appear in Christmas garters of a daintiness and beauty that will bring joy to the recipient. Ribbon, shirred over flat elastic and ornamented with tiny chiffon pleats, makes the pair shown with wide flounces of lace falling from one edge of them. The garters at the right are made of wide satin ribbon shirred over flat elastic, with narrow frills of val lace set on them and finished with rosettes made of the same ribbon. Each rosette has a bow of narrower ribbon at the center and three little blossoms of the narrow ribbon, pinched at the edge. The rosettes and flowers are shown separately.

Hospital for Sick Children TORONTO

Upkeep of Big Charity Requires Fifty Cents a Minute.

Dear Mr. Editor:

The 44th annual report of the Hospital for Sick Children, Toronto, shows a notable advance in every department of its service to the suffering and crippled youngsters of this province. The ward accommodation has been taxed to its capacity, and the summer annex, the Lakeside Home, was opened for the first time since the outbreak of war.

The daily average of out patients has increased during the year from 192 to 223, including children from practically every county in Ontario. Even had the cost of supplies and labor remained stationary, the substantial increase in the number of patients would alone account for the addition to the charity's debt, which at the close of the fiscal year was $100,000. This debt has become an embarrassing burden. Further increase must threaten impairment of an enviable efficiency.

The Hospital is in the forefront of all institutions upon this continent devoted to the cure of sick children. It cost $325,000 to maintain last year. This great sum not only puts at the service of the children of Ontario all the resources of medical science, but, in addition, provides for a training school for 120 nurses and for unsurpassed clinical facilities for the University students who are preparing to engage in their profession throughout the province.

The income which must be forthcoming to finance this absolutely essential work figures out at seven hundred dollars a day; and, as there is no endowment fund, all but a fraction of that amount has to be derived from individual benevolence. Therefore the Trustees are making a Christmas appeal to every lover of children to foot the bills for some period of time, no matter how short it may be. A minute of mercy costs fifty cents.

For churches, societies, lodges, etc., who have more ample funds wherewith to assist the youngsters to a fair start in life, the naming of cots is suggested. A number of memorial cots have been thus dedicated in honor of the overseas service of fellow-members. This privilege is extended in recognition of gifts of $2,000 to the Main Hospital or $500 to the Lakeside Home, which can be paid in annual instalments if so desired.

Literature, illustrative of all branches of the past year's work, together with any other information desired, will be gladly furnished on application to the Secretary, the Hospital for Sick Children, College street, Toronto. Contributions should also be addressed to the secretary.

KAISER WAS MAD BEFORE WAR BROKE

BERLIN, Dec. 13.—Commenting on a four-volume compilation of documentary proofs of history, The Vossische says: "Whoever reads the former Emperor's marginal remarks will have no doubt that Germany before the war was ruled by next to a mad-man." The newspaper characterizes the books as "four stones on the tomb of the German Monarchy."

HYDRO SERVICE FOR HAVELOCK

Hydro Representative Explains Power and Light Proposition at Special Meeting

HAVELOCK, Dec. 12—Mr. Iler, a representative of the Hydro Electric Power Commission, met the Town Council at a special meeting here and explained the details of the proposed Hydro service for Havelock.

The total cost of the reconstruction of the local distribution plant, including its purchase from the local Electric Light Co., for $4000, and the installation of meters in all the houses of present customers, number ing some 287, has been placed by the estimators of the Hydro, at $28,900 That amount will have to be raised by thirty-year debentures, and if the By-law passes, and the work is proceeded with as soon as possible, it will be early fall before the system is in full operation.

The rate of $36 per h.p. assessed against Havelock, as compared with the price of $30 quoted Norwood, came in for severe condemnation, but it is hoped that some adjustment in prices may yet be arranged.

In the meantime the Council decided to submit the By-law to the ratepayers for their approval at the January elections, and to endeavour at once to get figures on the cost of a direct line from Healy Falls, or a revision of the power figures as at present quoted.

A public meeting to discuss the situation in all its details, will be held in the town hall on the evening of Friday of next week, 19th inst., when a representative of the Hydro will be present with figures regarding the proposed direct line.

Home-Made Ornaments for the Christmas Tree

By A. NEELY HALL

(Copyright, by A. Neely Hall.)

Suppose that you prepare some homemade Christmas-tree ornaments like those in the illustrations, to go with the ornaments which you have for this year's tree. They will help to cover the tree, and, not only that, they will make your tree more interesting because they will be different from anything you can buy.

The pretty spear top ornament in Fig. 1 is made of a sheet of letter-paper rolled into a cornucopia, with a thread glued in the open end (Figs. 2 and 3), and a small silk-spool slipped over the small end (Figs. 3 and 4); then all is covered with tinfoil, and a tassel made of pieces of red, white and blue paper, stacked into fringe (Fig. 5), is fastened in the spot. Tinfoil can be obtained from a florist.

Unless you can have electric lights, it is better not to light the tree at all, than to run the risk of its catching fire. But unlit candles make pretty ornaments, so I have shown a holder for them in Fig. 6. This is made by wrapping a clothespin with tinfoil so the upper edge of the tinfoil projects to form a cup for the candle (Fig. 8). Wrap the end of the candle with tinfoil to make it fit the cup (Fig. 7). The clothespin sets down over the tip of a branch, as shown in Fig. 6, and the weight made of a marble or piece of clay, wrapped in

Little Santa Claus dolls like that shown in Fig. 10, to straddle the tree branches, are pretty and easily made. The bodies are clothespins, with trouser legs of red paper (A, Fig. 11) slipped over the ends (Fig. 12), a red paper coat (B and C, Fig. 11), glued close to the head of the pin (Fig. 13), cotton whiskers (D, Fig. 11), a red paper pointed hat (E), and eyes marked with ink upon the clothespin head.

The airship in Fig. 14 has a balloon with ends made of the halves of an egg-shell (A, Figs. 15 and 16). The ends are connected by a cylindrical piece (B) rolled out of cardboard, to which they are glued; and a strip of cardboard (C) is glued along each side. The car is a small box, and the propeller (D) is pivoted to its end with a pin. Threads suspend the car from the balloon, and others suspend the balloon from the Christmas tree. Paint the balloon red and the car yellow.

Probably miniature-wrapped colored popcorn strings, but I wonder if you have made strings of cranberries and glass beads? Fig. 17 suggests a way to alternate the beads and cranberries so they will present the form of glass ball strings. To make the cranberries sparkle like glass balls, coat some with glue and sprinkle with the powdered mica sold for imitation snow, and gild others with gold bronze—the kind sold for decorating radiators, or wrap in tinfoil.

What Does Health Mean to You?

HAVE you ever waited to think out the answer to that question?

Or are you like the great majority, who only appreciate good health after it is lost?

Slowly, but certainly, we are getting round to the idea of preserving health so as to avoid serious disease.

The old way of waiting until you are seriously ill before sending for the doctor is all wrong.

We all know the old saying, "an ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure," but we neglect to carry it out in actual practice.

If you are familiar with Dr. Chase's Receipt Book you know that "Dr. Chase's Plan of Health" is built up on this idea of preventing disease, and the same applies to his well-known medicines.

Take Dr. Chase's Nerve Food for example. This food cure has established a wonderful record as a cure for nervous prostration, nervous exhaustion, nervous headaches and indigestion, and all forms of nervous disorders. And yet above all it is recommended as a means of keeping the blood rich, the nervous system in good condition and thereby preventing serious nervous disorders.

To most of us our health is our working capital.

We cannot afford time or money for rest cure in a sanitarium or expensive trips down South. For this reason we must seek other means of keeping the health up to high water mark.

So long as the blood is kept rich and pure the nervous system is well nourished, and it is by this means that Dr. Chase's Nerve Food effects such splendid results in the building up of the system when there are signs of exhaustion.

When you cannot sleep and begin to feel tired and irritable it is time to call in the aid of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. You may also find your appetite failing and your digestion slow, for as the nerves become exhausted every organ of the human body is bound to lag in its work.

Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, 50 cents a box, 6 for $2.75, all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Limited, Toronto. Every box of the genuine bears the portrait and signature of A. W. Chase, M.D., the famous Receipt Book author.

MEDICINAL VALUE OF YELLOW JESSAMINE

The yellow Jessamine is a slender climbing or trailing plant with lanceolate, opposite evergreen leaves and bright yellow flowers about an inch long. It is decidedly southern in its range, being found near the coast of Florida, Texas and southwards, and occasionally reaching as far north as Virginia. The long subterranean root stocks are used in medicine in the preparation of tonics and stimulants. They are collected just after the plant flowers.

Laundry Soap (does not shrink).—One can lye, three pints water, three tablespoons turpentine, five pounds grease. Put water in porcelain pan; add lye and turpentine. Have grease melted and pour in slow and stir for eight or ten minutes. Let stand over night and cut in cakes. Have used this recipe for years. None better. Put gloves on before making soap, as lye is hard on the hands.

RIVALLED CRUSOE.

On Desert Island For Three Days.

For three days marooned on an uninhabited island without food, shelter, or fire in a piercing cold wind was the experience of the crew of the motor schr. Ferm, commanded by Chesley Murrell. The schooner was on her way from Botwood to Exploits and meeting the storm became a total wreck, and had to be abandoned. The crew took to an open boat, and after a terrible struggle succeeded in making land. For three days they signalled the people on the mainland and when about to give up in despair their signals of distress were seen, and rescuers put off through a raging sea and successfully saved the, by then, exhausted mariners.

PUT CREAM IN NOSE AND STOP CATARRH

Tells How To Open Clogged Nostrils and End Head-Colds.

You feel fine in a few moments. Your cold in head or catarrh will be gone. Your clogged nostrils will open. The air passages of your head will clear and you can breathe freely. No more dullness, headache; no hawking, snuffling, mucous discharges or dryness; no struggling for breath at night.

Tell your druggist you want a small bottle of Ely's Cream Balm. Apply a little of this fragrant, antiseptic cream in your nostrils, let it penetrate through every air passage of the head; soothe and heal the swollen, inflamed mucous membrane, and relief comes instantly.

It is just what every cold and catarrh sufferer needs. Don't stay stuffed-up and miserable.

IN POACHING EGGS.

Instead of using poacher or dropping eggs in skillet, take a small pan of boiling water, set a cup in same and drop egg in cup. When egg is cooked to suit taste it is ready for table in the cup it was cooked in. Easy and sanitary.

PLAIN LINEN SUITS POPULAR

Generally Seen in Combination With Coats That Are Plainly Tailored and Rather Short.

Plain linen suits, with coats a trifle longer than the regulation three-quarter length and skirts plainly tailored and rather short, are quite the vogue, with all white in the lead. The long lapels, with one large pearl button at the end, are the only fastening and only trimming.

Black patent leather and black satin slippers, pump style, equaling white kid pumps in popularity, are worn with these suits. Many wear the stiff-brim, regulation sailor hat, a few the black ribbon hats, to go with these suits.

Some of the sweaters that are knitted loosely have the full ruffle that begins at the waist and extends below the hips, and these ruffles resemble the rainbow, the colors are so varied. This is quite a new idea noted recently. These loosely knitted sweaters are well liked now, and the pastel shades are the leading colors, with all white. Usually narrow pleated ribbon is used around the waist, and occasionally a narrow white kid belt is worn.

Sport sleeveless jackets are made in various materials. Barvaette satin, georgette crepe, fan-tad, panne velvet and pongee are being much worn lately. These usually are without any trimming, and are cut severely plain, only the velvet ones having beads as a finish. They are all about the same length of the regulation sweater.

Japanese Far From Democracy.

To achieve democratic control of the state is a goal out of the reach of the Japanese until new lines of endeavor are adopted. Constitutional reform must be accomplished. So long as all the parties put maintenance of the constitution at the head of their statements of principles, projects for the amendment of the fundamental law are out of the question as practical political measures. Without new constitutional provisions the Diet cannot obtain substantive powers in legislation, and it cannot enforce responsibility upon the Cabinet. The rules of the Privy Council must likewise be amended so that the Ministerial posts of the army and navy may be on the same footing as the others. To support such a series of changes the franchise must be greatly extended so as to include all adult males. The old lines of progress toward democracy have been followed as far as they lead. New lines must now be constructed.—Walter Weston Willcock in "Asia."

Gingerbread.

Two cups flour ½ teaspoon soda, 1½ teaspoon ginger, ½ teaspoon salt, ½ cup walnuts, chopped, 1 cup raisins, ¾ cup molasses, ½ cup of boiling water, 4 tablespoons melted fat.

Mix and sift flour, soda, ginger, and salt and add nuts and raisins Mix molasses and hot water and add to dry ingredients; add melted fat, beat vigorously and pour into greased pan. Bake forty minutes in a moderate oven.

Raisin Cake Filling.

Three-quarter cup sugar, ¼ cup flour, 1½ cups hot water, 1 cup raisins, 4 egg yolks, 1 teaspoon butter, 1 tablespoon lemon juice.

Mix the sugar and flour and add the hot water slowly. Add the raisins, chopped, and cook in a double boiler until thick. Pour on to the beaten egg yolks, cook five minutes, add butter and lemon juice and cool slightly before spreading between the layers of the cake.

Continuing she gave a graphic description of the work carried on by the missionaries in Korea and of the wonderful results of their endeavours.

At the conclusion of her address a hearty vote of thanks was moved by Miss Lancaster and seconded by Mrs. W. R. Harstone.

Secretary's Report:

To the President and Members of St. Paul's W.M.S., the forty-third annual report of this Auxiliary is submitted:

In reviewing the work of the year now drawing to a close we do so with hearts filled with gratitude to our Heavenly Father, whose hand has guided us, permitting us to contribute our share in the great work of giving to the world the Gospel of the Prince of Peace.

A year is so short a time in the history of a society, it is difficult to state in definite terms what advance has been made. Looking backward to the beginning of this year of labor, the first year of peace, we are faced with the clarion call of the Forward Movement, a vision of unparalleled opportunity, being summed up in these two words. The Assembly's Forward committee, with the co-operation of the W.M.S., issued this call, realizing the vast responsibilities confronting the church and feeling that the great arousal of world patriotism must not fade away, the call of peace being even more arresting than the call of war. The aim is a five fold increase in prayer, service workers and gifts putting the emphasis on essentials rather than on things of secondary importance, therefore prayer, the primary need, is put first. During the winter, on behalf of the Provincial committee, a strong presentation of the aims and needs of this movement was given by Mrs. Hall, of Sterling, using the story of the chart.

I shall briefly summarize the routine work during the year. Meetings have been regularly on the second Friday of the month, with the exception of August.

The membership is 121, showing a slight increase.

The study book, "Women of the Orient" has proved most helpful in preparing the monthly programmes.

The Supply committee reports a bale sent to "Elle Hill's boarding school," valued at $43.80, also a money contribution of $7.00. Our efforts along this line are worth while helping to relieve the heavy burden of the mission workers in their struggle to make ends meet, and we owe a good deal to the committee in charge, as the strenuous duties of preparing, packing and shipping is no small task.

Home Helpers secretary reports 26 members. Six of this number take the Messeger, five take Messenger and Mite-box and 17 take the Mite-box. Amount received $31.26. This department is steadily fulfilling its mission of linking up the women of the church with the organized missionary work.

As the real worth of the Strangers' Department becomes understood we realize its worth in giving a welcome to all strangers coming into our congregation and visiting the lonely ones in the hospitals. The secretary reports 52 visits made to new families and individuals, a number attending the Auxiliary meetings and a quantity of literature distributed.

The amount of Thank offering given at October meeting was $1,012, an evidence of the spirit of giving as well as serving. While all our gifts to God should partake of the spirit of gratitude, the Thank offering is the gift over and above the usual measure of liberality and given in recognition of mercies and blessings received. We are deeply indebted to the missionaries home on furlough, who have visited us during the year.

Mrs. McGillvray was present at our last annual meeting.

Mr. and Mrs. Macdonald of Korea (our own missionaries) addressed the February meeting, and Miss Dickson of South China, was present at the Thank offering meeting, each bringing first hand knowledge of the work and workers in their respective fields.

We are pleased to report that Miss Ackison of our congregation has been designated to Formosa for missionary work. Before taking her departure she gave a farewell talk at the September meeting, the members presenting her with a gift of money as a slight token of their appreciation.

During the month of May a mass meeting of the women of the congregation was called, at which the delegates to the General Council of Provincial Societies, Miss M. Dickson, Mrs. Nelson and Mrs. Ellis, presented their reports, and the Forward Movement was discussed.

It is with profound sorrow we again record our deep sense of loss sustained in the removal by death of a number of our faithful members since we last met in annual meeting. Mrs. Rishor, Miss Montgomery and but a few days ago Mrs. R. D. Hamilton and Mrs. R. E. Wood, also Mrs. Spence and Mrs. Thompson, who have been laid aside from active work for some time owing to failing health. To the bereaved friends and all those who have suffered bereavement we tender our deepest [illegible]

Day of Prayer [illegible] the most important [illegible] the year. The first meeting [illegible] year, held in January, [illegible] as a special prayer [illegible] we unitedly ask for Divine [illegible] in planning and carrying on the work. The stress and strain of war has taught us anew the value of prayer, and a new consciousness of our dependance on God.

Let us again take a brief survey of the work, asking wherein lies our weakness as well as our strength, as statistics, important though they be, do not always convey much. Our strength is due to the unswerving loyalty of the members who have not failed in carrying on the work entrusted to them. But have we measured up? While we are only a small part of the great missionary effort we must not be found wanting. The work already done must not only be sustained, but we must adopt more aggressive tactics, aiming at expansion in all departments in order to go forward.

As we enter a New Year, facing the challenge of the "Forward Movement," let us arouse ourselves and awaken to the [illegible] that to-day in our day. We must take more from this meeting than the mere echoes of the reports, so that our plans of campaign may be bigger than ever before and may we be seized with the thought of personal responsibility. For as God has the supreme place in the life of the individual, He will have His place in the family, the church and the nation.

All of which is respectfully submitted,

PHOEBE HARSTONE,
Sec. St. Paul's W.M.S.

Famous Old Recipe for Cough Syrup

Easily and cheaply made at home, but is more than the ordinary cough syrup.

Thousands of housewives have found that they can save two-thirds of the money usually spent for cough preparations, by using the well-known old recipe for making cough syrup at home. It is simple and cheap but it has no equal for prompt results. It takes right hold of a cough and gives immediate relief, usually stopping an ordinary cough in 24 hours or less.

Get 2½ ounces of Pinex (50 cents worth) from any druggist, pour it into a 16-oz bottle and add plain granulated sugar syrup to make 16 ounces. If you prefer, use clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup, instead of sugar syrup. Either way, it tastes good, keeps perfectly, and lasts a family a long time.

It's truly astonishing how quickly it acts, penetrating through every air passage of the throat and lungs—loosens and raises the phlegm, soothes and heals the membranes, and gradually but surely the annoying throat tickle and dreaded cough disappear entirely. Nothing better for bronchitis, spasmodic croup, hoarseness or bronchial asthma.

Pinex is a special and highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, known the world over for its healing effect on the membranes.

Avoid disappointment by asking your druggist for "2½ ounces of Pinex" with full directions and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money promptly refunded. The Pinex Co., Toronto, Ont.

A FAITHFUL EMPLOYEE

Forty-one years of continuous service as a locomotive engineer without one accident to mar his work is the remarkable record established by Mr. Law Patrick of Kerrisdale, formerly of Revelstoke, B. C., and previous to October 31, 1918 an engineer operating trains out of Revelstoke on the mountain division of the Canadian Pacific Railway main line.

Mr. Patrick'S record is one that it will be hard to duplicate. He is a man still hale and hearty and in full enjoyment of his strength and faculties but has decided to take a rest from the long strain of his railroad duties.

He is one of the pioneers who came west with the railroad and developed as it developed. Starting with the Canadian Pacific at St. Boniface, Manitoba, when a young man of twenty-five years of age he passed successively through the configurations of brakeman, conductor, fireman, and engineer during the first year of his service. His first engine was one of the old, wood-burner type and he has seen railway motive power develop from that thing through coal burners of various grades to the latest type of oil-burning mogul. As engines developed Mr. Patrick kept pace and operated them as fast as they came.

He was working on construction trains in British Columbia, and was present at the summit when Lord Strathcona drove the last spike that linked the Atlantic with the Pacific ocean. Since then Mr. Patrick has been driving engines on the mountain sections. From June, 1896 to the spring of 1918 he was driver on the fast Imperial limited passenger trains. On those already he has carried tens of thousands of passengers in safety. Perhaps no one man in the service of the great railway company has carried more people than he [illegible] retired from active service his reputation as the safest engineer of the whole country had gone abroad People liked to know they were to be drawn by Law Patrick, because it meant that the chances of accident had been reduced to the minimum. Though the Canadian Pacific Railway Company points with pride to its wonderful record in protecting the lives of its passengers, and its own reputation in this regard has always been very high among railroad men and the travelling public, yet to know that Law Patrick was at the throttle was added assurance to those who knew.

Mr. Patrick is an example of the splendid type developed by the railroad service. His duty to his company and his passengers was his governing influence. The Canadian Pacific Railway Company through the whole gamut of officials and [illegible] from president to the newest [illegible] feels proud in the record of this veteran engineer.

Mr. Patrick, the Veteran of 41 Years' Service to the Public.

Mr. Patrick was born in South Durham, 95 miles east of Montreal, 66 years ago. His parents were farmers and he followed the same occupation until he went west to railroad. He was married in 1886 and has three children. Miss Jean; Mr. John Patrick of Vancouver, and Mrs. E. Hope of Calgary, Alberta.

Enjoyable Dance.

At the conclusion of the programme dainty refreshments were served and dancing indulged in. A feature of the evening was the challenge of the ladies to the gentlemen to a game of carpet balls which proved most interesting both to the players and the spectators.

RESULT OF CONFERENCES

(Canadian Press.)

PARIS, Dec. 13.—As a result of the conferences being held in London by Premiers Clemenceau and Lloyd-George, the United States will be notified that in order to facilitate a compromise between adverse parties in the American Senate, the Allies are willing to accept to as great an extent as possible, some of the reservations to the Treaty made by the Foreign Relations Committee, according to the Matin.

It is said the Allies will do everything in order that America may participate in future conferences.

Important problems, the newspaper says, shall henceforth be settled by a council of the Premiers of Great Britain, France, and Italy, which will meet sometimes in Paris and sometimes in London, and will examine principally Russian and Turkish problems.

In the presence of the United States Ambassador Davis, it is said, Lloyd-George and Clemenceau, the Italian representative said that there was necessity for an early settlement of the Fiume problem, and indicated that Great Britain would intercede with the United States for Italy.

FIUME IS EVACUATED

ITALIAN REGULAR ARMY WILL ASSUME CONTROL—GREAT BRITAIN, ITALY AND FRANCE IN AGREEMENT.

U.S.A. LEFT OUT

Canadian Press.

FIUME, December 15. — Preparations are under way for the evacuation of Fiume by Gabriele D'Annunzio and his forces and the occupation of this town will be made by a contingent of the regular Italian army, headed by General Caviglia, the former Minister of War.

Italy is to have complete sovereignty over Fiume and all the provisions of the Treaty of London are to be carried out, under the terms of the compact signed by Premier Nitti and D'Annunzio ,according to the statement by the latter's press representative.

Great Britain, France, Italy are in agreement that Italy shall annex Fiume, it was asserted.

D'Annunzio is declared to have said that all his ambitions have been attained and that the agreement signed fully guarantees their realization.

General Caviglia has arrived in Trieste on his way to Fiume while it is said D'Annunzio will probably go to Rome to-morrow to confer with Premier Nitti.

COUNCIL WANTS SIX MORE DAYS' WORK ON HUNTER ST. BRIDGE

WOULD ENABLE CONTRACTOR TO REMOVE THE FORMS TO THE WEST SIDE.

The cessation of work on the Hunter Street Bridge will be the subject of discussion at a special meeting of Council to-night at eight o'clock, preceded by a brief meeting of the Board of Works.

Mayor Duncan stated that the work on the east side could be completed in another six days, and that it is considered desirable that this demand should be finished now in order that the forms could be used on the west side of the river, and be set up preparatory to the recommencement of operations next spring.

By this plan, it is stated, a considerable sum of money could be saved, and the Council will discuss the advisability of demanding that this remainder of the east side construction be completed.

Since Mr. Barber's action last week, there have been several fine days that could have been used to advantage, it is contended, and the weather apart, members of the Council are convinced that the east side of the job should be cleaned up if only six days' work remaining.

Many Foreigners Are Awaiting the Death Sentence

FIVE MEN IN PETERBORO JAIL ARE ONLY PART OF A BIG LIST OF EXECUTIONS TO BE CARRIED OUT WITHIN NEXT FEW WEEKS.

LARGEST IN HISTORY

OTTAWA, Dec. 15.—Never in the history of Canada have so many men been in jail as now awaiting execution for crime of murder. Three men have lately been hanged in western Canada; five Toronto foreigners now in Peterboro jail will expiate on the scaffold on January 14 the crime of robbing and killing a fellow-countryman unless clemency is granted; two convicted murderers, called Ivan Petcoff and Stockyo Boyeff, who are in Kitchener jail because they were connected with the robbery and murder of a man whose body was found in a sandpit, are condemned to die on January 23 and January 24, respectively; Patrick Delorme, alias Jean Baptiste Lemoy, Murdock Allen and Romeo Lacoste are condemned to die at Montreal on January 23, 1920, for the robbery and murder of an old farmer, although their cases are still under consideration, and Paul Kowalski, who recently killed two guards in a Hamilton prison, will die on December 19 for the first murder of which he was convicted, no further consideration being given to his case in view of the later crime.

New Trial For Him

Fred Walter Fountain, who was to have been hanged on December 17 for the murder of his wife and two children, has been granted a new trial, as information bearing on his sanity has come into the possession of the government. Fountain is an East Indian, somewhat dusky in complexion, and no motive for his crime was ever given. He pleaded guilty to the crime and seemed anxious to die in order that he might [illegible]. Owing to the feeling that important evidence was not before the court on the first trial, the retrial has been granted.

Sentences Commuted

August Frank Sweradowsky, who was to have been hanged on November 18, had his sentence changed to life imprisonment, as the body of the rancher whom he murdered was never found. To the police men, however, he has confessed that he took the body on a wheelbarrow from the scene of the murder near Fort Saskatchewan and dumped it into the river. The body will probably never be found, and may have been carried out to the Arctic ocean by this time.

Joseph Grenier, 75 years old, who was to have been hanged on December 16 at Andover, N.B., for a murder committed while in a passion, has been reprieved on the ground of senility bordering on insanity. His sentence has been commuted to life imprisonment.

Viola or Lovica Thompson, a married woman who was under sentence to be hanged on December 17 for killing her baby, has as a Christmas present, a reprieve. She was not living with her husband at the time of the murder. She will spend her life in prison.

John Kitzuld was sentenced at Winyard, Sask., on December 7, to be hanged in January for murder; his case is now before the department of justice, and he is the fifteenth of those now under the shadow of the gallows.

SPECIAL SERVICE LAKEFIELD CHURCH

REV. DR. ARCHBOLD SPOKE ON THE FORWARD MOVEMENT.

LAKEFIELD, Dec. 15.—Mr. H. F. Strickland, of Toronto, played the violin at both services in St. John's Church on Sunday. At the morning service he played "The Lost Chord" while the offertory was taken up, and "Land of Hope and Glory" as a recessional. He was accompanied by Miss Atwood on the pipe organ.

At the evening service he played "The Lost Chord" during the taking of the offertory, and "A Military March" as a recessional.

Mr. Strickland is a finished performer, and his playing is a great treat to the people of St. John's Church, who are always ready to welcome his visits.

At the evening service Dr. Archbold spoke on the Forward Movement, and in a clear cut address he applied the parable of the ten virgins, told by our Lord to His chosen apostles as a warning against the sin of negligence of their Christian duty. It is as full of meaning to-day as when our Lord spoke the words hundreds of years ago. When the news came of the [illegible] turned up their lamps, and while the lamps of the five wise ones burned brightly, those of the five foolish ones burned dimly, and for lack of oil were going out. The oil in our spiritual lamps is the oil of grace, which we can obtain freely through our holy mother—the Church of the Living God. We receive that oil of grace at our baptism and it is renewed at the weekly services of the Church, and especially so at the Holy Communion service, which is the greatest preparation of all.

The foolish virgins, when they found their lamps going out, asked the wise virgins for some of theirs, but they were refused, as there would not be enough for all. The wise virgins recommended that they go and buy more oil, which they did, but when they returned they found that the bridegroom had come, and that the wise virgins, with their lamps trimmed and burning, had gone in with Him to the feast, and when they knocked and asked admission, they were told by the Bridegroom, "I know you not." Let us prepare for the coming of the Bridegroom. Let us keep our supply of the oil of grace by attendance at church and at the Lord's table, and when the Bridegroom comes He will not find us unprepared for His coming, but, like the wise virgins, ready with our lamps full of oil and burning brightly.

Dr. Archbold expressed pleasure at the ever-increasing attendance at the evening services, and the attendance of so many young men, among whom he noticed a good many returned soldiers.

SUCCESSOR TO PREMIER.

(Canadian Press.)

OTTAWA, Dec. 15.—The date of the Ministerial caucus, at which a successor to the Premier will be chosen, has been left in hands of Sir Robert himself. It is thought that a caucus may be summoned of Ministerial members of Parliament or a general convention of the Unionist party may be called.

A NEW NOTE FOR ALLIES

GERMAN REPRESENTATIVES WILL NOT BE PERMITTED TO DISCUSS THE NOTE ORALLY.

A FINAL REPLY

Canadian Press.

PARIS, December 15. — The German peace delegation this morning handed Germany's reply to the Entente note to Paul Dutasta, secretary of the Peace Conference.

The German representatives here will not be permitted to discuss the note orally.

It is understood, after considering the German note, the allies will send a final reply, fixing the exact date when the protocol must be signed.

Wants Treaty Ratified.

(United Press.)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 15.—A great popular demand for ratification of the peace treaty is developing throughout the country, it was believed to-day at the White House.

President Wilson is still "watchfully waiting" for this demand to become strong enough felt by Opposition Senators, depending upon the voters to force unqualified ratification, it was said.

THE WEATHER

A strong north west wind has been blowing both yesterday and to-day, and while the temperature has not dropped lower than 9 degrees above zero, it has been quite cold. Some anxiety has been expressed by different people regarding some dire events that are expected to happen next Wednesday, the 17th inst. It should hardly be necessary to reassure our readers that there is nothing in the alarmist reports, and the following from the Scientific American, the leading paper of its class, should set at rest the minds of the timid: "Here we [illegible] an example of newspaper [illegible] is utterly without foundation [illegible] case—the [illegible] given to the prognostications of a Californian prophet who predicts that on or about December 17th there will be a huge sunspot, accompanied by terrific disturbances on the earth. The alleged reason is that, on this date, six planets will be in conjunction on one side of the sun, with Uranus directly opposite. There should be no need to speak of such a thing at all in these columns, if it were not that wide publicity has been given the alarmist statement so that many people have been disquieted. It is hardly necessary to say that there is not the slightest reason for such fancies. It is true that about the middle of December, six of the planets will be in conjunction—if we interpret this term very broadly, since they will be scattered over an arc of longitude of 30 degrees, or one-twelfth of the whole circumference. It is likewise true that Uranus is in a longitude opposite a point on this arc, which includes the other planets. But there is no reason at all to believe that this chance grouping of the planets, which is rather of a curiosity but not otherwise notable, should have any influence in producing sunspots. Moreover should a sunspot however large appear at this date, or at any other, there is the strongest reason, based on hundreds of previous cases, to believe that it will not have any effect at all on the weather or other earthly phenomena—barring the aurora borealis, or the northern lights."—W. THE PREMIER IS RETIRING

HON. ARTHUR MEIGHEN IS SLATED TO ASSUME THE LEADERSHIP —WILL HOLD A CAUCUS

CABINET CHANGES

(Canadian Press.)

OTTAWA, Dec. 15.—The Ottawa Journal, which is published by P. D. Ross, always regarded as a close personal friend of Sir Robert Borden, says this morning:

"Sir Robert Borden is retiring from Canadian public life. His resignation from the Premiership will be officially announced immediately after the New Year, and a caucus of the Unionist Parliamentary Party is summoned in Ottawa to select his successor. The Prime Minister's decision to retire, made known to colleagues last week, is due to his impaired health."

The paper speaks of the Premier's work during the war and at the Peace Conference, stating that it was expected a few months' rest in the South on his return would completely restore his health.

The same journal continues: "This expectation, unfortunately, has not been fulfilled. Last week, while in Montreal, he consulted the best available medical advice, and his decision to retire has been taken as a direct result. It may be well to make it clear that Sir Robert's condition is in no wav critical, nor even serious. It is simply that he is not in position to continue the heavy duties and responsibilities of office without incurring grave danger."

In conclusion, reference is made to the holding of a caucus to appoint a successor, and mentions the .Hon. Arthur Meighen as the probable new Premier.

WILL NOT WAIT TO FACE THE ELECTORS.

(Canadian Press.)

OTTAWA, Dec. 15.—The Morning Journal this morning says:

"The reorganisation of the Cabinet, which has been under consideration by the Premier is now likely to [illegible].

"It is understood that at least two Ministers—Sir George Foster, Sir Edward Kemp, Hon. A. L. Sifton, C. J. Doherty, and Martin Burrell—are likely to retire.

"It is understood Sifton's resignation was given to the Premier some days ago."

NOTES AND GOSSIP ON CIVIC ELECTIONS

Although the Trades Council decided at their last meeting to defer the announcement of their municipal candidates until Wednesday night of this week, it is reported that they may withhold the names on their slate until nomination day next week.

At any rate, several members have intimated that there is some opinion that this is the wisest course, and that there would be plenty of time for campaign purposes before election day. The decision, of course, depends upon the wishes of the entire Labour Council.

Mr. C. P. Lloyd Will Enter.

Mr. Charles Perkins Lloyd, an employee of the Canadian Packing Co., informed the Examiner that he had decided to be a candidate for the Council as an independent Labour man. He would accept the platform of the Independent Labour Party, of which he has been an energetic member, even though not endorsed by the Party, and would otherwise hold himself free and open-minded if elected.

It is assumed that Mr. Lloyd has the property qualifications required for his candidature.

It has been learned that the I. L. P. will not propose any candidates except with the endorsation of the Trades Council.

A meeting will be held to-night, at which the Party will decide its course and survey their membership for municipal candidates who will be submitted to the Trades and Labour Council on Wednesday night in order that there will be no conflict of effort.

Warming Up.

The two vacancies on the Utilities Commission is proving a magnet, and to-day's election gossip mentions as prospective candidates Messrs. Robert Hicks, who has had three years' experience on the Commission, Vincent Eastwood, W. H. Bradburn, J. J. Duffus, and Mayor Duncan.

There is considerable curiosity as to the Labour Council's intentions on this front in the municipal campaign.

Mr. Sisson's name was suggested to them by a deputation of engineers from the C. G. E., and there is some speculation as to whether they will bring out candidates from their own ranks or support some other citizens including Mr. Sisson.

BAGLEY COMMITTED TO TRIAL ON FIVE CHARGES

WAS FINED $600 AFTER PLEADING GUILTY TO HAVING AN ILLICIT STILL AND THE USING OF IT—NO EVIDENCE TAKEN IN CRIMINAL CASES.

AN ADDED CHARGE OF THEFT

The preliminary hearing of the accumulated charges against Mr. James G. Guise-Bagley was resumed in Police Court this morning. His counsel, Mr. F. D. Kerr, waived the taking of evidence on the five criminal charges in order to facilitate the procedure of reaching the County Court. Four of these cases were for the misappropriation and theft of monies entrusted to him for purposes of investment. The other was an indictment of having performed a criminal operation. Magistrate Dumble had no option but to commit Mr. Bagley for trial in the next court of competent jurisdiction.

The prisoner pleaded guilty to two other combined charges of having had in his possession an illicit still and of having used the still in contravention of the Inland Revenue Act. After considerable discussion as to the interpretation of the law between Mr. Kerr, Magistrate Dumble and Mr. G. W. Hatton, Crown Attorney, Mr. Bagley was fined $500 and costs, amounting to $594.10, on the one count and $100 or six months in jail on the other.

Bagley was previously fined $500 for having liquor in his possession contrary to the Ontario Temperance Act.

The total amount of the money involved in the charges of theft is $3781. Three of those whose money Bagley is alleged to have appropriated to his own uses are sisters, two of whom placed $1000 each in his hands and the other $1200. The fourth is J. J. Clifford, whose name appeared for the first time this morning. His sum was $581.

FOREIGN SHIPS CAN SECURE COAL

WASHINGTON, Dec. 15.—Restrictions against supplying coal to foreign ships were relaxed today by the Railroad Administration to permit the departure of hundreds of foreign vessels, which have been held in the Atlantic and other ports since the coal shortage became acute.

RESTRICTIONS ON TOURIST TRAVEL

"MAKE OUR DOLLAR STAY AT HOME AND CIRCULATE IN CANADIAN CITIES."

(Special to The Examiner.)

WINNIPEG, Man., Dec. 15. — A further rate of discount on Canadian money has brought considerable pressure to bear on tourist travel in the United States, according to information received at railway offices.

Tourists to California and Florida feel disinclined to accept a big increase on exchange and as a result Canadian cities on the Pacific Coast, as well as Bermuda and other British possessions are getting the volume of travel instead of American Coast cities.

It is stated that the action of New York in increasing discount rates will have considerable effect in carrying out the principle that has been advocated for some time, of 'make our dollar stay at home and circulate in Canadian cities."

What Some Automobile Owners Do Not Know

1. That I specialize in Storage Batteries only, and if you do not send your Battery to take care of for the Winter, there will be a good man out of a job.
2. Remember the Storage Battery is the very heart of your car, and I am the heart specialist.
3. All Batteries stored by me are fully covered by Insurance, and you are thereby safeguarded from any loss by fire.

STORY OF THE AVERAGE MAN

By Donald Hankey.

The average man is not an athiest. He has a religion of a sort, but he does not go to church. He does not pray. He does not believe in the creeds. He would be hard set to if he had to explain his religion. Even his code of morals and conduct is an unwritten one. For one to formulate it is not easy. Religion as nebulous as his does not rule a man's life.

The clue is rather to be found in the qualities which he admires, despises or detests in other people. He has an ideal. Himself he does not judge—chiefly because he has never learned to pray.

The average man admires courage, generosity, practical kindness, single minded honesty, persistence in trying to do the right thing.

The average man despises meanness, physical fear, moral cowardice, unstability, equivocation, narrowmindness, subservience to mere rank or wealth or power.

These are the kind of thing that the average man admires, despises or hates. His ideal is a man who possesses all the qualities that he admires, and is free from all the defects that he despises or hates. Strangely enough so far as it goes, his ideal is very much like the ideal of the gospels. Moreover it is the possession of this ideal that is the average man's religion, in so far as he has one; so that one would expect him to be some sort of a Christian. So he is in a rather ineffective way. But is the average man's ideal really much like the ideal of the gospels? He admires courage. Is courage a Christian virtue? Surely. The only fear that Christ entertained was the fear of those who have power to kill the soul. The faith which Christ preached made fear an impossibility. The disciples feared the storm because they had not faith Christ did not fear the storm.

The disciples were afraid of the Pharisees, the priests, Herod, public opinion, Jesus was not. He had faith. They had it not. The disciples were anxious that ways and means might be provided. They feared starvation and nakedness. Jesus did not. He had faith. They had it not. Jesus Christ feared absolutely nothing, because he had faith in the love and power of God, the Father, and he felt certain that so long as he loved and obeyed his Father no real harm could happen to him.

The faith of Jesus was a perfect love of the good God, and perfect love casteth out fear. Courage is a fundamental Christian virtue. Fear is the first false God from whose power the gospel frees us.

Generosity and practical kindness—are these Christian virtues? It is hardly necessary to answer. Jesus "went about doing good."

Be willing to give anything — even your life. This is all in the gospels.

What about single minded honesty? Let your yea be yea, and your nay, nay. Seek first the kingdom of God and let other things follow. Seeking for the kingdom means seeking for the things of God — justice, mercy, love, truth.

Dishonesty and equivocation are always the fruit of fear or selfishness. The man who has the courage of faith and who loves his neighbor as himself will never be guilty of either.

Persistance? Be not weary in well-doing. Instability is incompatible with either real faith or real love.

Was ever any one less narrow-minded than Christ? He feasted with publicans and sinners. He healed the lepers. He forgave the harlots. He foretold the conversion of the Gentiles. He ridiculed narrow laws and prejudices at every turn. You cannot be narrow if you have once known and loved the Heavenly Father.

As for "Swank" and cant and snobbish subservience to rank and wealth. They were the very thing that Christ loathed and fought against most of all.

When the disciples boasted He set a child in the midst as an example of humility. He told the Pharisees that their self-satisfied righteousness was nothing but cant and that it set them far further from the Kingdom of Heaven than downright sin.

No, there is not a single feature of the average man's ideal which is not part and parcel of the ideal which Jesus Christ taught and embodied.

Now, you average man, how is it, since Christ fulfills and embodies and explains your ideals, you are not enrolled under his banner? Why not range yourself under the standard of the cross with the rest who are trying to embody him?

"Why quarrel about the name," you say, "if I am following the same ideal?"

But what I complain about is that though you have an ideal you don't make any real attempt to follow it out.

Don't you realise that your talk of courage is all humbug, and that you are actually living the life of a toady—a toady to convention and class prejudice and public opinion? Don't you realize that your talk of generosity is all cant, and that you are actually living the most selfish life imaginable—thinking of nothing so much as of your own comfort, and position and reputation? Don't you see that your pleasures are bestial, and that your morals are dragging down the whole race? Pull yourself together. If you believe in your ideal, for goodness sake try to follow it out.

What! You don't want to set up to be good? You know you can't succeed, do you?

Ah! My friend, what you need is religion after all. It is no good having an ideal unless you are an optomist, and you cannot be a rational optomist without believing in God.

Stomach Disorder

ONLY 6 MONTHS TO LIVE

READ WHAT B.B.B. DID FOR HIM

Mr. Hans Kehki, Magnolia, Alta., writes:— "Some time ago I became very sick from stomach disorder, which the doctor told me had started from drinking bad water. I tried local doctors, but finding I got worse from day to day I went to a doctor in Edmonton. He told me that I must have an operation, and that if I didn't I couldn't live any longer than six months. I told him I had better die after six months than be cut to pieces. I did not have the operation, but returned home. No one was there to meet me at the station, because they did not know I was coming. I felt so bad I couldn't walk further than 10 yards without resting. It took me 6 hours to walk 2 miles; the distance from the station to my home.

Some weeks later I read an advertisement about your Burdock Blood Bitters. After I had used one bottle I felt much better, and after I had used three bottles I was completely cured; therefore you see your B.B.B. has saved my life, and I cannot praise it too highly."

BAD WEEK IN THE EXCHANGE MARKET

CALL LOANS ROSE TO FIFTEEN PER CENT.

(Canadian Press.)

NEW YORK, Dec. 13.—Another all-round decline in the foreign exchange, especially on London, and renewed stringency in the domestic money market, due primarily to the Federal Reserve Bank, were the outstanding features of this week's stock market.

Further unsettlement was created by the revival of liquidation from foreign sources, heavy selling of high-grade issues, especially rails, accompanying the demoralisation in the exchange.

Call loans rose to 15 per cent. in the local money market, and time funds were scarcer than at any time since last month's violent decline, out of town banks using most of their reserves for the purchase of mercantile paper.

Although the foreign exchange has shown a steady depreciation for many months, it was not until this week that the situation gave rise to the general appearance.

The announcement by the British Government that it would not resort to artificial means to stabilise the market caused bills on London to drop to a new discount of $3.65½.

This represents a discount of fully 75 per cent., or more than one-quarter of its normal value.

Bankers and leaders of commerce are agreed that unless steps to readjust the British rate are speedily taken, a sharp reduction of this country's exports must ensue.

Reports received during the week indicate a new record thus far this year for the American foreign trade, but much of the increase is due to a higher commodity price.

BUSINESS LOANS.

A returned soldier, anxious to get a start in a small business, asks the Examiner why the government will not assist him with a loan as it does help the veteran who wants to settle on the land. He cannot see, he says, any reason why the man who does not want to take up farming, should not be treated as generously as his comrade who favours the land settlement scheme. However, the question of security enters into the matter. In extending a loan to a soldier farmer, the government is protected. If he does not make a success of his enterprise the land and stock are there to recompense the government. On the other hand, a loan to a soldier launching out in business has no such safeguard. If the business fails the loan is gone. And this is probably the reason why business loans have not been included in the government re-establishment scheme, coupled with the fact that the more new farmers that can be successfully launched into a career on the land, the better it will be for the general prosperity of the country.

THE PARK BY-LAW.

From a certain element of Peterborough's population whose vision does not extend past the annual assessment notice, there is to be expected opposition to the Riverside Park purchase. The certainty that such opposition is bound to develop should serve as a spur to all public-spirited citizens who realize that by the expenditure of $80,000 Peterborough will secure a magnificent asset, instead of paying out $10,000 in land damages and getting no return. They should resolve to work for the carrying out of this measure as a progressive step, as a distinct advance towards that better Peterborough that we have heard so much about. For years at public meetings and in the press the people of Peterborough have heard referred to a better and bigger city. In the proposition that the ratepayers are asked to pronounce upon on New Year's day we have something tangible at last, something that means that the goal is drawing nearer. The men who have talked about a better city in which to live, and their fellow citizens who applauded such sentiments when they were expressed, should be a unit behind the by-law. Peterborough has let nearly all her water front get away from her; the present measure presents the last opportunity to salvage a portion of it for the use of the people. Friends of Peterborough should see that the chance is not thrown away.

RE-ESTABLISHMENT PROBLEMS

The Provincial Convention of the Great War Veterans' Association, which is to be held in Peterboro in the near future, will, like the Dominion Convention, that will immediately follow it, deal largely with matters affecting the re-establishment of Canada's soldiers. The general public, while greatly concerned in this matter, is puzzled to know just what to think about the whole matter, and unable to come to any definite conclusion, so varied are the expressions of opinion as to the extent to which Canada has met her responsibility in regard to the men who fought. That there is dissatisfaction among the returned men, the hurriedly called provincial and Dominion Conventions of the G. W. V. A. testify even more eloquently than the "grousing" of Sergt. Flynn, and his band of extremists. Yet the Ottawa Journal makes the emphatic statement that "the cold fact is that Canada has done and is doing infinitely more for the returned soldiers than any other country in the world. The only other country that at all approaches what Canada has done is Australia, and even Australia is far behind. An Australia public man recently here made the remark that he was "amazed" at what Canada was doing for her returned men."

And the Journal follows up this statement by giving the figures as to the re-establishment work in Canada. Up to March 31, 1920, the total expenditures for pensions and other forms of re-establishment, will amount aproximately to $314,568,726, made up as follows:

Pensions	$ 53,536,498.74
Gratuities	153,686,557 98
Dependents' transportation	1,916,578.00
Department soldiers civil re-establishment	57.045,664.26
Soldier settlement	48,228.103.12
Labour Department	155,324.52

To complete the different re-establishment features a further sum will have to be provided after March 31st next, of $176.971,896.88, consisting of the following appropriations:

Soldier settlement	$126,771,896.88
Department S.C.R.	50,000,000.00
Labour Department	200,000.00

These figures do not include a sum of approximately $30,000,000.00, which must be expended annually on pensions.

"In short," says the Journal, "this country has already paid or pledged close on to five hundred millions to returned soldiers, to say nothing of at least five hundred millions which will have to be paid in pensions during the next twenty years."

The figures quoted by our Ottawa contemporary are impressive but the fact still remains that the organized bodies of returned soldiers are not satisfied with what has been done, and what is planned for the future. And their complaints have been endorsed by no less a personage than Lieut.-General Sir Richard Turner, V.C., K.C.M.G., who, after a trip to the western provinces, declares that the re-establishment scheme is not broad enough in its scope, that a housing scheme should be included, as well as a system for providing assistance to the veterans with a small business, and that Canada will have to face serious and important problems if immediate action is not taken.

Confronted by so much directly conflicting evidence it is no wonder that the average Canadian is unable to size up the situation.

ROUMANIA SEES THE LIGHT.

After considerable delay, and under pressure, Roumania has signed the Peace Treaties drawn between the Entente Powers, Austria nad Bulgaria, and in so doing has written "finis" to a chapter that reflects little credit on her. It is more than six months since the terms of the Austrian Treaty were published, and during that time Roumania's objections have not only been vigorously urged, but they have been backed with a display of physical force and emphasized by an open contempt for the Allies' authority.

It is unfortunate that the territorial objections raised by Roumania have brought her into conflict with the new kingdom of Jugo-Slavia, for the Serbs and Roumanians have lived in harmony for close upon a thousand years, and history has not yet chronicled a single blow being struck in anger. Sympathy for Roumania's national aspirations must be felt strongly in Serbia, for their aims are identical, and no petty quarrels over a few villages in the Banat should obscure the clear vision of their mutual interests.

Yet Roumania gets Bukowina under the new treaty, and the acquisition of this territory carries with it responsibilities with regard to the rights of minorities which have been the stumbling block in the international negotiations. Roumania to-day is perhaps the most backward country in Europe, with an appalling percentage of illiteracy amounting to nine-tenths of her population, a low political morality and a lack of leadership. The Roumania debt must be staggering. Except for a little oil, Roumania is exporting nothing, a condition which has been made more difficult through the action of the Government in levying taxes on all exports, especially grain. The country needs enormous quantities of manufactured goods, for practically everything has to be imported. It cannot be long before Roumania has to borrow money in the United States or elsewhere.

What Roumania needs to-day is a new type of leader and an overhauling of her finances. Her obvious destiny in the future lies in a loose economic and defensive alliance composed of Bohemia, Hungary, Roumania and Jugo-Slavia. They are mutually dependent upon one another, and for this reason ought the sooner to develop an international sociability.

Some years must elapse before the changes that are now looming on the horizon are effective, and time will heal many of the existing animosities that have been born of ignorance and political selfishness. From Julius Caesar to Wilhelm Hohenzollern many a conqueror attempted to weld South-Western Europe into a homogeneous state of force. The living forces of her nationalities that claimed freedom and self-determination destroyed all these schemes. The signing of the peace with Austria, and more especially the implied determination of Roumania to guarantee the rights of minorities, marks a new era in this cockpit of Europe—an era that is full of promise and redolent of a newly-created tolerance.—Montreal Star.

OUR SHRINKING DOLLAR

Facing a situation in which the Canadian dollar is worth less than ninety cents across the border, Canada has reached a stage at which it is necessary to stop and take stock. It is humiliating to our national pride to say the least that the present situation should have arisen, but after all if the depreciation in the exchange value of our currency serves as a brake upon buying outside of Canada, and as encouragement to greater production at home, and a development in our export trade, then the decline in the value of the Canadian dollar may eventually resolve itself into a benefit. The Federal Government proposes to conduct a buy-at-home campaign, an effort in which it should have the support and co-operation of every patriotic Canadian. The setting up of an adverse trade balance with the United States is of course the principal reason for the fact that our dollar is being discounted by our neighbors. The remedy therefore lies in wiping out that balance as speedily as possible by selling more and buying less from the United States. There are many things, such as coal, that must be secured from Uncle Sam, but many other purchases might be eliminated. At the same time every Canadian producer, farmer and manufacturer alike, should endeavour to increase his production so that there shall be a large surplus available for export.

The Ford Motor Company, in a "Trade in Canada" edition of their Ford News, effectively points out the necessity for greater production:

"During the coming fiscal year," says the News, "the interest payable on Canada's Federal debt will be at least $115,000,000 and in addition for many years to come, an annual charge of $30,000,000 to $40,000,000 will have to be provided for her soldiers, and the dependents of those who have fallen. To meet these extra charges and at the same time provide for carrying on the ordinary administration of public affairs, demands the whole energy of the people of the Dominion. An adverse balance of trade is a condition which it is imperative to guard against. Instead of importing Canada must export. Her factories must run full time every week in the year; the farmer must continue to speed up his production; he is the backbone of Canada, and must not fail her. The vast mineral resources of the Dominion must be exploited to the utmost and the unprofitable conflict between Capital and Labor must give way to a broad spirit of understanding and cooperation. The responsibility for the commercial success of the country rests with the individual man, woman and child. No matter how small or menial the task, its conscientious execution by the worker adds just that much to the total effort which must be made by the people to place the country on a sound and prosperous footing.

"Everyone must do his bit and do it well. To sit back and rely upon the other fellow to do the work is to invite disaster. Each must bend his or her energy to the task in hand. Your success depends upon the prosperity of the country and vice versa the prosperity of the country depends upon your success. There is and can be no time or place for the slacker in the strenuous years that lie ahead. Set the good example yourself individually. In the new era that is opening up men are getting to realize that they are indeed their brother's keeper and that the time has now come when each one is in duty bound to shoulder his due share of responsibility for the success of the community."

DOG'S CHARACTER CLEARED

LONDON, Eng.—A dog which did not appreciate the "music" played on Peace Day by some boys on kettles and old tins was mentioned at Southwark County Court.

The boys, it is stated, played and sang patriotic songs outside the Three Cocks public house, Drake street, Blackfriars, "creating a terrific din." Suddenly the door of the public house opened and a dog ran out and bit one of the boys, Cecil Cook. Yesterday through his father, he sued Maud Slaughter, the owner of the dog, for damages.

Slaughter said he had just been demobilized when the incident occurred, and was suffering from malaria. His wife said that when a police sergeant visited the house to get particulars of the assault the dog sat upon its haunches and shook hands with the officer. (Laughter.)

The Judge: It was evidently anxious to make friends with law and order.

His Honor, refusing to give damages, said there was no evidence that the dog was other than of gentle disposition and there was not one word against its character.

COLUMBUS' VOYAGE AN IMPERTINENCE

SO CONSIDERED BY THE PEOPLE OF BARCELONA IN 1492.

"Barcelona is the chameleon city of Spain. In some quarters streets are narrow and more crooked than those of old London; in others are avenues, boulevards, shops and cafes, which vie with those of Paris. The city has an aristocracy which lives so far in the past that its scions still deplore the discovery of America. These gentle patricions are disturbed by the agitators for all sorts of political and economic novelties," says a bulletin issued by the U. S. National Georgraphic Society.

"Until 1492 Barcelona was the New York of the Mediterranean. Its position in the northeastern coast of Spain, actually at about the same latitude as New York city, relatively is to the Mediteranean world what the western city is to Atlantic trade routes. Columbus' voyage was considered a bit of impertinence on the part of the Castillian Government to upset the balance of trade in favor of cities in Western and Soutehrn Spain.

"Soon a movement swept the Catalan Provinces, of which Barcelona is the centre, for annexation to France. In 1616 Catalonia did rebel against Philip IV., gave itself over to French protection ,but its old allegiance was renewed in 1652, and cemented by the peace of Ryswick before the close of the seventh century

Columbus Unpopular

"In four centuries this resentment had ameliorated enough to permit the placing of a statue of Christopher Columbus in the Rambla, Fifth Avenue of Barcelona. After the Spanish-American War mobs of Barcelona citizens stoned and egged the explorer's statue 'as punishment for his having ventured to find so troublesome a new world for Spain.'

"Despite its commercial subsidence when the Atlantic replaced the Mediterranean as the major water route of civilization, Barcelona flourished. A year after the late war between George Dewey and Spain, as O. Henry put it, Barcelona paid more than a tenth of the kingdom's entire revenue from industrial taxation. Before the world war some twoscore important shipping companies has made it a port of regular call, and to-day the city has a population exceeding five hundred thousand.

"In respect to publicity Barcelona has hardly put its best foot forward, since it is heard of most often as a centre of riots, strikes and rebellions. Though one traveller found the citizens pleasantly surprised that King Alfonso, who had just visited there, had escaped with his life, he concluded after staying a time that, 'with all her reputation for turbulence, Barcelona seemed an enlightened and thoroughly progressive city.' Havelock Ellis paid a more glowing tribute, after admitting the city's faults, by saying, 'Barcelona is a revelation of what a great commercial city may be when humanely and harmoniously organized. In a beautiful and exquisitely tempered climate, a robustly independent and clear eyed population has here freely expanded itself, loving work and loving play ,and combining these two fundamental human impulses more completely and more admirably than in any other equally great city.'

Don Quixote's Land.

"Despite its disorders and its modernism, Barcelona retains many relics of those mellow times when Cervantes made it the setting for Don Quixote's later adventures. There still are church processions, lottery ticket sellers, policemen with red coats and helmets ,flower stalls and caged bird veadors. Folk lore embellishes the story of the girlish martyr, Saint Eularia, whose ashes lie in the Barcelona Cathedral, perhaps the darkest of all great churches and among the most beautiful in Spain. Cool fountains play in the cloister garden, among oleanders, and orange and lemon trees, and pools disclose geese, not violators of the mediaeval sanctity, but contributory to it, when one learns they are descended from the birds formerly used for augury.

"Many of Barcelona's political disturbances may be attributed to a difference of temperament between the Catalan and the southern Spaniard; a difference akin to that between the Yankee and the Dixie plantation owner before the Civil War welded our common interests [illegible] more [illegible] entertaining, practical French neighbor than the courtly, dreamy Castilian. Moreover, the Catalan emphasizes this difference by speaking and writing in his own dialect, called the harshest of Romance tongues."

MAN OF 70 TEETHING FOR THE FOURTH TIME

KNOXVILLE, Pa.—It's a cold day when Sidney Hall, of this village, is not engaged in growing a new set of nature's teeth. None of the store brand made by the sacrilegious hand of man in his.

He has during this year been growing his third set and they are now coming out to make room for the fourth set.

When a man gets to be 70 or thereabouts he ought to be immune from teething rings and such, but not so with Uncle Sid. "Three times and out" may be the maximum of some, but not with him. Mr. Hall is growing his fourth crop, and what there is back of it no one knows.

USE FOR SKIRT BOARD

A skirt board will be found to be a great help when cleaning a woollen skirt. Slip the skirt on the board, hooking the band around the smaller end. Stand in a good light, and clean in the usual way.

It may be also used to great advantage in hanging a skirt.

Put the unfinished one with one of the desired length on the board together, and it is easy to find the line at which the new hem may be turned.

ONE-ARMED COURTSHIP ONLY A MEMORY

When the key to the livery stable door was thrown away, the old-fashioned one-armed courtship also passed out of existence. The old buggy and faithful Ned who pulled it are memories. The moon doesn't shine any more as it used to, and as for the row of cottonwoods that lined the road near the four corners, that's only a resting place for hoot owls, whose hoot is drowned out by the chug-chug of the motor car. Only in the very rural communities does old-fashioned love-making still flourish.

Who doesn't remember his "settin' out" days when keeping company with the prettiest girl in town caused sleepless nights and days of torment and fear? asks a writer in the Tulsa World.

Yes, after all, those were the days, instead of telephoning Mabel: "Want to take a little spin to-night?" It was understood on the way home from prayer meeting Thursday night that on the following night you and Mabel were going out driving. And you made arrangements at the livery stable to get the big bay that stepped out lively and that buggy with the red wheels and rubber tires.

At 7.30 the next night the "man" drove around to your house and you pretended you weren't at all nervous and made him wait a minute while you took one last look at yourself in the mirror to see that your tie was on straight.

Then you went out, seized the "ribbons," shouted, a "giddap" and started off right straight through town where the fellers could see you and nudge each other and say, "Some gal's goin' to get a look at the moon to-night." And after it got good and dark and you got out into the country a way, didn't Mabel do the driving and —O, boy! as they say nowadays.

The younger generation doesn't know a thing in the world about it. Gasoline has ruined romance for them. A horse is human for the purpose of youth, but who ever heard of an engine that would take the right road and pull out for passing teams when two pairs of eyes were fixed on each other instead of on mundane things and all that? Nobody.

Whoever heard of a horse refusing to take a hill in low, high, or intermediate? Nobody. Who ever heard a girl scream when an engine jumped at a shadow? Nobody. Who ever paid any attention to a boy and a girl driving by in a motor car? Nobody. There's class to a horse and "rig." But it's all over now. Gasoline has ruined the one-armed courtship.

Children Cry for Fletcher's

CASTORIA

Fletcher's Castoria is strictly a remedy for Infants and Children. Foods are specially prepared for babies. A baby's medicine is even more essential for Baby. Remedies primarily prepared for grown-ups are not interchangeable. It was the need of a remedy for the common ailments of Infants and Children that brought Castoria before the public after years of research, and no claim has been made for it that its use for over 30 years has not proven.

What is CASTORIA?

Castoria is a harmless substitute for Castor Oil, Paregoric, Drops and Soothing Syrups. It is pleasant. It contains neither Opium, Morphine nor other narcotic substance. Its age is its guarantee. For more than thirty years it has been in constant use for the relief of Constipation, Flatulency, Wind Colic and Diarrhoea; allaying Feverishness arising therefrom, and by regulating the Stomach and Bowels, aids the assimilation of Food; giving healthy and natural sleep. DAIRY INSTRUCTOR WARD'S REPORT AT ANNUAL MEETING OF DAIRYMEN

Gentlemen,—With your pleasure I will now give a report of work and conditions for season 1919, as well as requirements needed before starting operations in 1920.

Cheese factory operations began this season as usual about the first of May. A few factories made some April's and realized good prices for them.

The supervision of the work was conducted along very much the same lines as in former seasons. There were 32 factories under my charge—four less than for season 1918. Maple Leaf (Victoria County), North Ops, Mount Pleasant and Missing Link were not operated.

These 32 factories have 1,414 patrons, supplying milk from 9,900 cows. The cheese made from this milk sold for $652,000.00. This is an average of about 29 cents per pound, or $461.00 per patron, or $65.00 per cow.

Now, I wish to specially emphasize the fact that the average return from each cow is not by any means what it should be. At the price received for cheese this past season an average of $65.00 per cow represents milk production of less than on Standard (6,000 lbs.) per cow. This average is away too low. A cow that is giving a proper return should produce at least two Standard (6,000 lbs.) during the cheese-making season. If only such cows were kept the farmers of this section would have received during the past season an average return of not $65.00, but $130.00 at least from each cow, or nearly $1,500,000.

This surely is a great object lesson to the dairymen of this country and shows as nothing can the need for improvement along this line if the business is to be made a more profitable one. It has been said if a man was able to make two blades of grass grow where only one had formerly grown he could never hope to be a greater benefactor to his country.

There was received in this section during the season just closed over $20,000.00 for whey-butter and whey-cream, while about $13,000.00 was spent on factory equipment and improvements.

In performance of my duties I paid 228 visits to the factories under my supervision and tested 220 samples of milk. Am pleased to be able to say none were found adulterated, but am sorry to say the average per cent. of fat in the milk shows signs of growing less from year to year. The average loss of fat, however, in whey this season was .21, which is quite satisfactory.

There are about 20 milking machines being used by the patrons of this section and 20 new silos have been erected this season. Of the 32 factories under my charge 21 pay for milk by the scoring system, 6 by straight test and 5 by test plus 2. I would strongly advise that all milk be paid for by test.

Our season opened with very wet, cold weather and continued so until the 26th of May. It then turned dry and very warm, which condition prevailed day and night for weeks. This resulted in a large percentage of the milk being delivered in very bad condition, causing serious loss, both in quantity and quality, of the cheese produced. The summer has been dry, but a good growth in the latter part of the season helped out, and on the whole, there has been a very good production in this section as compared with other years.

At opening of season's work most of the factories were in very good condition, and for the most part, this state of affairs was maintained throughout the season.

Some of the makers have not been as careful and painstaking as they should have been and, to my mind, this is a natural sequence as a result of the high prices, strong demand and careless, lax inspection of the cheese. I would strongly recommend that all cheese be graded and sold on their merits for I believe that we will never obtain the results that we should, as regards improving the quality of the cheese, until this is done.

In concluding this report let me strongly urge every patron to make a careful and intelligent effort to try and increase his production of milk per cow. If he has not already done so, he should also make arrangements to provide himself with ice or some cold-water arrangement for cooling the milk, as it is highly important that the milk be delivered at the factory in the best condition possible. Early delivery is also an important factor in improving the quality of the product, and the more strictly these rules are observed the more profitable will be the business to the producer, as in this way only, can more and a better quality be obtained.

In the way of advise to the owners of factories and makers, I would suggest that all boilers, fixtures, machinery and factory equipment be overhauled and put in perfect order. Furthermore, all factories and surroundings should be in perfect sanitary condition, and in such shape and repair that they can be kept in that condition throughout the entire season. Flies should be excluded from the make and curing rooms, and there should be available a sufficient and pure water supply. The law, in regard to perfect sanitation and a pure water supply, is very strict, and the Government expects factory owners and managers to comply with same. If the provisions of the Act are not complied with it is necessary to enforce them, as the consumer who buys our dairy products is entitled to protection in this regard.

At present there is a strong demand for milk for condensing purposes, but am very pleased at the way it is being secured in this section. The factories are being left intact, and are being used, also makers' services are being retained and used in connection with the business. If conditions and prices should change and warrant going back to cheese making, you are in a position to do so. But in whatever way you may dispose of your milk I would strongly advise retaining the dairy cows, for the benefit derived from them have been many. The fat, milk, cheese, cream and butter cheques are not the only consideration, for mixed farming is the best method of retaining soil fertility, which is the great underlying principle of successful agriculture.

I desire to thank and express my gratitude to each and every one who has assisted me in any way in performance of my duties, which have been carried out to the best of my ability and with the sole object in view of trying to improve the dairy industry.

NAPOLEON'S NECKLACE

PARIS. — The $1,000,000 diamond necklace presented by Napoleon to the Empress Marie Louise, forming part of the Crown jewels of Austria is now the object of judical investigation in Paris.

In 1912 the Court of Austria was desirous of helping the Royalist Party in Portugal and being short of funds decided to sell certain Crown jewels among which was the famous necklace. A special envoy was sent to France and the jewels were entrusted to the lady for her to arrange a sale No receipts were given or asked for. The war began while this sale was not yet complete, and now the lady is bringing an action against the diamond merchant and the latter in his counter-claim asks for $6,000 commission.

IS ICE-COLD WATER BAD FOR RHEUMATISM?

A BRITISH SEAMAN'S EXPERIENCE

This story of Wm. Rogers, a seaman in the Mine Sweeping Branch of the Royal Navy, is absolutely true and can be readily verified.

At Niagara Camp, in 1914, Rogers contracted Rheumatism. He was sent to the Toronto General Hospital, where for over 19 months he was a patient, finally being discharged as incurable. In despair he took a friend's advice and tried Templeton's Rheumatic Capsules. The results were astounding—in a short time he was able to pass the stiff examination set by the Navy, and became an A.B. in the Mine Sweeping Branch.

For 17½ months he did service in the North Sea. On three occasions he was blown into the sea and remained in the ice-cold water as long as eleven hours at a stretch. Despite these hardships Rogers had no return of his previous trouble. Think about it. If T.R.C.'s did so much for Rogers—will they not do the same for you?

Ask your Druggist or write us for our new booklet; it is interesting and costs you nothing (Templetons, 142 King West, Toronto). We mail T.R.C.'s anywhere on receipt of $1.00.

HAD SUFFERED FOR 25 YEARS

FERGUSON FEELS LIKE HE HAS NEW LEASE ON LIFE SINCE TANLAC BUILT HIM UP.

"No sir, I don't believe there has been a day during the past twenty-five years that my stomach hasn't bothered me, but now since I have taken Tanlac my troubles have been overcome entirely and I feel like I have a new lease on life,' said Robert Ferguson, who lives at 87 Willow street., Halifax, N.S.

Continuing Mr. Ferguson said: "From morning till night I had a dull aching pain right in the pit of my stomach, and many a time just had to leave my job and go lie down before I could get relief. Nearly everything I ate disagreed with me and I was in misery just about all the time with gas or indigestion, and a great deal of the time I suffered from a chronic case of constipation and had to be taking laxative every few days. I could hardly retain anything on my stomach, and all day long I went around with such a heavy dizzy feeling that I could not half do my work, and when I went home at night I would be so utterly exhausted I would have to lie down as quick as I got there. Now, this was my condition for just the last few years, why, fifteen years ago my stomach was in such an awful fix that I had to give up my trade as a blacksmith and as far back as twenty-five years ago I suffered no end of misery. I finally got so weak I would actually stagger when I walked and as I am sixty-three years old I was beginning to think my age had about gotten the best of me, and I became so discouraged over my condition that at times I felt life was a burden.

"I had tried so many treatments and medicines and got no relief that when I first heard of Tanlac I wouldn't try it for I thought it would be just like the other things I had taken and would do me no good. But finally I made up my mind to try Tanlac. I felt so much better after I had finished my first bottle —and now since I have taken six I want to tell you that I am actually astonished at the remarkable change that has come over me. My stomach is in such fine condition that it never gives me one particle of trouble. I eat three square meals every day and I don't have a sign of indigestion or gas and the pains in the pit of my stomach have left me completely. My constipated condition has been relieved and I don't have that tired, draggy feeling any more. When I get up in the mornings I just simply feel fine, and I can't remember the time when I felt better than I do now. Tanlac came to my rescue after everything else had failed and I feel so grateful for what it has done for me that I want to tell the world how it has restored me to full health."

Tanlac is sold in Peterborough by W. B. Warne Drug Co. Ltd., in Havelock by A. C. Denike in Lakefield by Tanner Drug Co. Ltd., in Bowlers Corner by W. A. Hunter, in Gelert by A. J. Scott, in Westwood by G. Pringle & Son.

MILLION UNFIT CHILDREN

LONDON, Eng.—"No fewer than a million children are physically unfit to gain full results from their education," said Dr. Leonard Hill in a lecture at King's College Strand.

The death-rate he said, varies with density of population. In some parts of Finsbury the death rate of infants is only 41 per 1000, while in others it amounts to 375. It is the environment that is of most importance.

Sugar, he added is not a natural food aid, "if we take away the people's beer they may take to eating too much sugar, as the Americans do." Raw food should form part of evry child's diet. There is much sense in the good old proverb

An apple a day

SUSPICIOUS SHIPPING

Hunting Gun Runners.

As our enemies are by this time aware, we have a pretty useful Secret Service in this country, and one of their most important jobs just now is to make sure that arms and ammunition—of which gigantic stores exist everywhere—are not being shipped to places where they may be used against us.

The fact is that gun-running, so popular and profitable a form of trade in the old days, has never become extinct, and so long as rifles can be bought for a pound apiece and sold for twenty there will always be adventurous spirits ready to risk their liberty for the sake of their pockets.

By international law any ship carrying contraband of war may be seized, and although there have been endless disputes as to what is or is not contraband, there can be no doubt about it when the cargo consists of guns and ammunitions.

In 1862—during the American Civil War—we allowed a mystery ship to slip softly out of Liverpool.

A little steamer she was, of only 900 tons, but her expedition cost the British Government the tidy sum of three millions sterling.

She, of course, was the Alabama, the most famous of privateers in the world.

Since that date we have been more careful, and that is the reason why, just recently ,the steamer Hampshire Coast was put under arrest, merely under the suspicion that she was carrying arms to the Sinn Feiners in Ireland.

In the year 1870 there was built on the Clyde a stout steamer of 981 tons called the Ban-Righ, and for thirty years or so she traded comfortably between London and Aberdeen.

Then quite suddenly she changed hands, and from a commonplace trader became a mystery ship and the centre of all sorts of international complications.

The rumour was that she was being fitted for the West Indies fruit trade, but "from information received" our people kept a very sharp eye on her. When on the point of sailing down swooped the officials and found in her hold four field guns, a search-light, and all sorts of arms and ammunition. That was in 1901, when the Boer War was still going on, and it was taken for granted that her purchasers had meant to run the stuff to Delagoa Bay for the Boers.

Exercises will be held at Dartmouth College to-day in celebration of the granting of the College charter.

Momentous issues, involving labour and other problems following in the wake of the war, are at stake in the general elections to be held in the Australian Commonwealth to-day.

General Pershing and his staff are scheduled to pay a visit of inspection to-day to the great Muscle Shoals Nitric Acid plants built by the Government near Sheffield, Ala.

Chiefs of the National and International Unions affiliated with the American Federation of Labour have been summoned to meet in Washington to-day "to formulate such action as may be essential to safeguard and promote the rights, interests, and freedom of the wage-earners."

Many Lines in Fancy Boxes For Xmas Presentation

The Store of the Christmas Spirit

In Our George Street Window is a Huge Assortment of Lamps that Reached Us the Other Day

WE have been expecting these lamps for many days and on Friday they arrived, but the order was only partially filled. Nevertheless, the manufacturer selected the best patterns, and for genuine elegance they are unrivalled. There are all sizes, great and small, and shades to harmonize with or match any color scheme that you have to consider. In spite of the scarcity and the fact that we have received only a portion of our order you will agree that the assortment is comprehensive.

FLOOR LAMPS

There are Eighteen in all, and without exception the stems are solid Mahogany, and follow the William and Mary and Queen Anne designs, or fluted effects that hint at one of the Louis periods. The Shades are of richly coloured Silks, some patterned and others plain, stretched over shapely frames, and in many cases Fringe or Chenille is effectively used. Several are lined with contrasting coloured Silk, with the result that when lit, a soft, pleasing light filters through. To illustrate—One of Blue is lined with Rose, and when lit, the effect is a pleasing subdued Plum colour. The prices are from $24.25 to $62.50.

TABLE LAMPS

Like the Floor Lamps, they have solid Mahogany stems, and the Shades are of Silk. They are really miniatures of the ones mentioned above, and the prices are correspondingly small. Priced from $13.00 to $20.00.

BOUDOIR LAMPS

These are the real little fellows, and are much on the order of the above-mentioned, and are from the same reliable maker, who has such good taste, and finishes his articles so thoroughly. Priced from $5.0 oto $12.00.

LIBRARY LAMPS

They differ from the others, in so much that the stems are Fumed Oak—some round, some square—and the Shades are of Opalescent Glass, inset in Fumed Oak or Metal Frames. The Shapes are varied—some have four sides, others six; a number have open tops, and the sides of several form a peak. Priced from $10.50 to $23.75.

Glazed Pottery for She Who Adorns Her Home with Flowers

These pieces of pottery are not relics of the stone age, although you might think so for their rough surface suggests the achievements of primitive workmen, but the glazed conventional patterns in brown and green are decidedly the result of modern skill. They are on display in our George Street window for your inspection.

DR. CHAFER MAKES POWERFUL APPEAL

LAST ADDRESS OF SERIES WILL BE GIVEN THIS EVENING.

"What takes place at the coming of the Lord?" is to be the subject of Dr. Chafer's address to-night in St. Paul's church. This is to be his last address. He and Mrs. Chafer return to-morrow to their home in New York. His preaching throughout the week has been largely cast in the mould of teaching. He was for a number of years a teacher and lecturer in the Philadelphia School of the Bible, an institution a good deal after the patern of our Toronto Bible Training College.

His address last night was a powerful evangelistic appeal. He took as his subject, "How may one know that he is a child of God?" At the close of the service a number pressed into the after meeting and definitely decided to accept Christ as their personal Saviour. The subject to-night is naturally one that interests every true believer. He will want to know what takes place in his experience in that moment spoken of by the apostle in the Epistle to the Thessalonians: "For the Lord himself shall descend from heaven with a shout, with the voice of the archangel, and with the trump of God; and the dead in Christ shall rise first, then we that are alive that are left shall together with them be caught up in the clouds to meet the Lord in the air, and so shall we ever be with the Lord." Each one will want to know just where he is to be in the events here described. A cordial invitation is given to the public to attend. A thank offering will be received at the evening's service.

To Have Complexion That Men Admire

"A man may admit, with great sophistication, that powder and rouge are necessary aids to beauty," says a well-known writer, "but deep in his heart he dreams of the woman whose loveliness needs no artificial touching up. Women who appreciate this, who give consideration to the masculine viewpoint, avoid using anything that might indicate their beauty is not all their own.

"Such women in increasing number are acquiring the mercolized wax habit. By applying the wax at night as they would cold cream, washing it off in the morning, they secure, and maintain, entirely natural complexions. Their faces exhibit no evidence of having been 'beautified.' Nothing is added to the old complexion—the latter, instead, is discarded. Mercolized wax, procurable at any drug store (an ounce is sufficient), absorbs the devitalized outer skin, gradually, almost imperceptibly. The fresh, clear, satin under skin which appears, bears a healthy, youthful bloom not comparable with the fixed artificial colour."

Voice Of The People

To the Editor of the Examiner:

Sir: I would like to call your attention to the following advice about diet written by Eustace Miles, M.A., the celebrated health and physical training exponent. He says:

"One of the simplest rules is to avoid excess, and as I pointed out it is not merely excess of meat and flesh foods that most people suffer from, nor excess of alcoholic drinks, against which there have been so many crusades of late years. There is also a still more terrible excess of starchy and sugary elements, such as we get from large amounts of potatoes, puddings, bread, cakes, jam and sugar itself. And there is also terrible excess of tea, coffee and cocoa, which are stimulants and narcotics, and do not contain, in their usual form, any appreciable amount of nutriment."

In view of the above, don't you think that the W. C. T. U. and other prohibition fanatics (who unfortunately seem to rule this country) will take the logical if such a word could be applied to any of their actions) course, and prohibit all these deadly, dangerous articles of diet.

Yours truly,
"In Anticipation."

...Y VICTORIA COUNTY COUNCIL FAILED THE FARMERS OF EMILY

...e Lindsay "Warder" gives the ...wing explanation of the indifference ... of Victoria County Council to ...needs and desires of Emily township ... farmers for a new bridge at ...on Creek:

...he history of Pigeon Creek bridge as briefly as possible, is as follows: It was erected many years ago by Peterborough County and Peterborough Town with a view of diverting more traffic from Victoria County to Peterborough City. However, it has been used a great deal by people in Peterborough County coming to Lindsay, and by residents in Emily going to Peterborough. Of late years, however, very little repairs have been made on the bridge. Last June Victoria County Council received a communication from Emily Council regarding the bridge and a motion was passed instructing the County Clerk to communicate with the Minister of Railways and Canals asking the Government to take over the bridge. Following the last session of Victoria County Council for the year (in November) a number of farmers in Emily accompanied Reeve Wilson to Peterborough and requested that Peterborough County Council take up the matter with the Government and send a petition to Ottawa to press the claim that the government build a new bridge. Evidently Peterborough County Council fell in line with the idea and decided to send a deputation to Otawa. Victoria County Council, however, could not send a deputation this week, as the Council had adjourned.

As a matter of fact, Victoria County has experienced trouble with Peterborough County before in connection with the Bobcaygeon bridge and a new Act was introduced whereby both Counties pay their share of the up-keep of Bobcaygeon bridge and Pigeon Creek Bridge. Peterborough's share of the Pigeon Creek bridge (which was built by Peterborough) being much larger than Victoria County's share.

NO DOMESTICS FOR PETERBORO

THIRTY-FIVE DOLLARS A MONTH OFFERED IN TORONTO.

Many of the would be employers of domestics in the city were doomed to disappointment in their hopes of obtaining one of the English girls who recently arrived in the country as a domestic as the reply received at the local Labor Bureau to a communication concerning the probability of Peterboro obtaining a share of the girls was far from promising. The Director of the Domestic Department of the Ontario Government Employment Bureau in Toronto, replied to the communication that of the girls who arrived only five reported for employment the balance of them having secured employment on arriving in Toronto independent of the Bureau. The five placed by the Bureau secured $35 a month and refused to go out of the city with the exception of two who will be willing to work on farms in the summer. The Director further stated that in Toronto there are hundreds of employers in Toronto waiting for maids and willing to pay the higehst wages.

Week's Record

The record at the Employment Bureau in the city showed 46 applicants for positions, 44 vacancies, 38 placed 2 sent to the bush and one to Oshawa.

BEWARE OF TENDER, INFLAMED GUMS

Pyorrhea, with a premature loss o teeth, is almost inevitable if you do no properly care for your gums. Here the explanation:

As you age, the body tissues naturally relax. You see this tissue lengthening in the neck. It goes on in your gums too. As you grow older, your gums shrink below the normal gum line. Through lack of care they become spongy and inflamed. Then a host Pyorrhea (Riggs' Disease). Four out of five people over forty have Pyorrhea. And many under forty, also.

Don't let a tender gum spot de velop. These tender spots breed disease germs which enter the system through tiny openings—infecting the joints or tonsils—or causing other ailments. Immediately get Forhan's which positively prevents Pyorrhea if used in time and used consistently. Forhan's tones the gums and hardens them. They in turn keep the teeth healthy. Brush your teeth with Forhan's. It cleans them scientifically—keeps them white and clean.

If gum-shrinkage has already set in, start using Forhan's and consult a dentist immediately for special treatment. 35c and 60c tubes. All Druggists.

NO DOMESTICS FOR PETERBORO

THIRTY-FIVE DOLLARS A MONTH OFFERED IN TORONTO.

Many of the would be employers of domestics in the city were doomed to disappointment in their hopes of obtaining one of the English girls who recently arrived in the country as a domestic as the reply received at the local Labor Bureau to a communication concerning the probability of Peterboro obtaining a share of the girls was far from promising. The Director of the Domestic Department of the Ontario Government Employment Bureau in Toronto, replied to the communication that of the girls who arrived only five reported for employment the balance of them having secured employment on arriving in Toronto independent of the Bureau. The five placed by the Bureau secured $35 a month and refused to go out of the city with the exception of two who will be willing to work on farms in the summer. The Director further stated that in Toronto there are hundreds of employers in Toronto waiting for maids and willing to pay the higehst wages.

Week's Record

The record at the Employment Bureau in the city showed 46 applicants for positions, 44 vacancies, 38 placed 2 sent to the bush and one to Oshawa.

SQUIRE, NICHOLLS OR GRIFFITH MAY BE WARDEN IN 1920

SMITH'S REEVE HAS MADE A GOOD IMPRESSION, BUT EAST END HAS STRONG REPRESENTATIVES.

The County elections will be held on Monday, January 5th, with nominations on December 29th. This applies to all the municipalities except North Monaghan which has followed the city's example by opening their polls on New Year's.

Reports from Smith indicate that there will be no opposition to Reeve George Nicholls, who has been mentioned as the Warden for 1920. Reeve Nicholls has made a fine impression among the County Councillors. At the same time Reeve W. Griffith of Belmont, must be reckoned with. He has been prominent in the affairs of the county, is aggressive, and has had considerable experience.

From some of the Councillors it was learned that the Wardenship will go either to Mr. Griffith or Mr. Nicholls. Both of them are young men who are interested in municipal administration and in the progress and welfare of Peterboro county.

Herb Forster in the Field.

Herb Forster of North Monaghan, who has to his credit experience as Councillor and Deputy Reeve, will be a candidate for the Reeveship. He will remain in the field whether Warden McIntosh decides to stand for election again or not.

County gossip says Reeve Anderson will be opposed in Otonabee because of his dissent to the entry of the U.F.O. into politics. It will be remembered that at one of G. A. Gillespie's meetings in this city, Mr. Anderson spoke disapprovingly of sectional political parties. Little credence is placed in this report that he will have to fight for re-election as reeve. He has given his municipality faithful and valuable services and it seems unlikely that the farmers will pillory him for his opinion on a political question that has no apparent issue in township affairs. Without Reeve Anderson the County Council would present a conspicuous vacancy.

Referring to the Wardenship, none of the council have a better claim based on length of service and experience, than Reeve Squire of Norwood. Reeve Brown of Asphodel defeated him by a narrow majority in the council several years ago, and it may be that opportunity will nod to him again.

INTERMEDIATES TO PRACTICE TO-NIGHT

The Peterboro Intermediates O.H.A., team will have their first practice of the season to-night at Brock street Rink at 8 o'clock. There is a good sheet of ice available as a result of the drop in temperature.

O.H.A. GROUPS FOR PETERBORO TEAMS

The groups arranged by the O.H.A. for the two Peterboro Clubs were probably the best that could be drawn up under the circumstances, although the grouping is not of a nature that will be particularly pleasing to fans or players. The intermediates are grouped with Lindsay and Cannington the latter village being a new comer of the O.H.A. ranks, while the juniors all in one section of a group with Lindsay. The winners of the two sections will play off at the end of January to decide the group championship. Rev. Father Gorman of Peterboro is convener of both groups and the schedules will be drawn up in the near future.

NEW UNIFORMS FOR HOCKEY TEAM

The new uniforms of the Peterboro intermediate O.H.A. team are on display in the window of Thornton Bros., store and the 1919-20 toggery of the Petes has attracted considerable attention and admiration. The sweaters are green with a large white letter "P" on the breast with "A.A.A." in smaller letters. The stockings are a solid green and the outfit is distinctive and classy. Like the team the uniforms are "home grown" having been manufactured by the Albion Knitting Company while the monograms were made by J. J. Turner and Sons.

INTERMEDIATES OUT TO PRACTICE.

Assistant Manager Dedman was at the Lindsay Street Rink Friday night, and had a number of the Intermediates out for a gruelling. The players included Garnett, Flavelle, O'Loughlin, Coombs, Lipsett, Sandercock and McElroy. They showed a desire to get into condition, and a few more nights' training will make them fit for the opening game, no matter when it comes.

Others desirous of catching a place on the Intermediate team should turn out to practice.—Lindsay Warder.

Big Bill Garnett, the sturdy defence man of last year's junior team, who is still eligible to play Junior O.H.A., according to Secretary Hewitt, it is understood, has decided to play in the intermediate ranks this year.

Garnett and Flavelle, both of them six-footers, and built in proportion, will make a husky defence for the Intermediates this year. — Lindsay Warder.

WHITBY HAS HOCKEY SPIRIT.

The Whitby Amateur Athletic Association has grown up from infancy rapidly. It has now one hundred and fifteen members and more are being secured every day. This fact alone should indicate what an important influence such an organization may have among the young men of the town, for good, clean sport. Two hockey teams in the O.H.A. will give Whitby an unlimited amount of advertising.—Gazette.

CHRISTMAS MAIL FROM PETERBORO

PARCELS LEAVING THE CITY AT RATE OF TWO THOUSAND A DAY.

Christmas parcels are being shipped from the local Post Office at the rate of two thousand a day, notwithstanding the fact that those bound for the Old Country have practically all gone.

While the overseas mail was not nearly so heavy this year as last, when most of the Canadian soldiers were still in England and in France, the Canadian mail is about the same as last year. What few parcels went to England contained the ordinary variety of articles, mostly edibles.

No parcels, so far, have been sent through to Russia and Mesopotamia as was the case last year.

Well Wrapped.

The postage on the Christmas mail varies from one to twenty-five and thirty cents a pound, and the parcels themselves are wrapped this year with extraordinary care, a big improvement on those which were carelessly dropped in in former years.

An unusually large number of money orders are being bought at the Post Office to send as Christmas presents.

Many Letters.

To-day began the heavy letter mail, and letters for all parts of the world commenced to arrive in unusually large numbers during the morning. One difficulty experienced by the Post Office staff is the habit some of the senders have on placing — for sentimental reasons or from ignorance of the Post Office regulations— the stamps on letters on the left-hand corner. This makes it necessary for the clerks to use the hand stamp, which results in retarding the progress of the letters.

The senders of letters could greatly facilitate mailing by using the upper right-hand corner for stamps.

Grove's O-Pen-Trate Salve.

Opens the Pores and Penetrates the Skin. Its stimulating, Soothing and Healing effect soon relieves Chest Colds, Head Colds, Colds in the Back, Spasmodic Croup, and any Congestion, inflammation or pains caused from colds. 35c per box. If your druggist hasn't any, send 35c in postage stamps to Paris Medicine Company, 193 Spadina Avenue, Toronto, and a full sized box will be mailed to you promptly.

ANNUAL BAZAAR WAS HELD IN LAKEFIELD

THOSE IN CHARGE OF THE VARIOUS BOOTHS.

LAKEFIELD, Dec. 15.—The Ladies' Aid of the Methodist Church held their annual Christmas bazaar and afternoon tea in the basement of the church on Thursday afternoon. The affair was, as usual, a great success, both from the point of financial returns, which amounted to over $80, and in the sociable spirit which is always present at the functions of the Ladies' Aid. The reception committee were Mrs. (Rev.) S. F. Dixon, Mrs. S. S. Spence, Miss Nellie Webster, and Mrs. Azor. Northey.

A novel feature of this year's bazaar was "The Lady of the Pockets," in charge of Mrs. D. H. McMillan and Mrs. Grace Burke. The home cooking booth was well looked after by Mrs. A. D. Payne and Mrs. H. Ingram. Mrs. Fred Erskine and Mrs. Robert Little had the fruit, pickles, and vegetable stall, while Mrs. Clysdale and Mrs. Garbutt dispensed the store of delicious home-made candy. Mrs. Theodore Crawford, Mrs. Geo. Spence, and Mrs. Dunsford were in charge of the fancy goods booth.

Mrs. William Stabler and Mrs. Simpson took charge of marking the goods.

Afternoon tea was dispensed by a capable committee of ladies, who saw to the wants of the inner man, or properly, woman, for as usual the fair sex were strongly in the majority. Those who had tea tables were: Mrs. W. A. Nixon and Mrs. Andrew Jory, Mrs. Northey and Mrs. Pearson, Mrs. Hamlin and Mrs. Bottrell, Mrs. McConkey and Mrs. Walter Nugent, Mrs. Fred Webdale and Mrs. Moore.

The Ladies' Aid have once more proved themselves a strong bulwark of the Methodist Church.

Don't wait until it begins to sprinkle before starting to day in something for a rainy day.

It's a great pity that the average man cannot draw a cheque as easily as he can draw an inference.

It is time to buy a Pathephone

THERE is just nice TIME before Christmas for you to plan to have this gift that overshadows all others in your home on Christmas morning.

There is a TIME, gladly arranged by your dealer to suit your convenience, in the matter of extended payments.

And, surely, the TIME has arrived when the buyer of a phonograph should only be satisfied with the up-to-date instrument possessing the very latest improvements in the phonographic art —a TIME when the scratchy needle of other makes must give place to the smooth-gliding jewelled sapphire ball by which all Pathe' records are played

There is TIME expressed in the Pathe' Cabinets, for they are of Period design, being faithful copies of beautiful old masterpieces.

There is, in the great Pathe' library of Music, a tune to satisfy every TIME and mood.

There is TIME unlimited in the life of Pathé records, which, by reason of the Pathé Sapphire Ball may be played at least a thousand times without any sign of wear.

The undying music of old times by the old world artists, and the seasonable hits of modern times, are available to the owners of the Pathephone through the library of Pathé Records.

It is TIME now to go to your nearest Pathe' dealer and see—hear—and compare the Pathephone — to judge absolutely for yourself its tone, construction and beauty, and prove that from every angle, the Pathephone is a logical choice.

SEVEN BALLOTS IN MUNICIPAL ELECTIONS

Seven, not six, is the probable number of ballots in the volume that will be handed to each elector on New Year's Day. City Clerk Armstrong called attention to-day to the likelihood that two ballots will be required for the election of Utilities Commissioners, one for three years and the other for one years, as successor to Mr. T. F. Matthews.

Announcement of the incorporation of the Peterborough Paper Box Company, capitalized at $50,000, was made in the Canada Gazette on Saturday. Previous reference to the organization of this company appeared in the Examiner some weeks ago. Mr G. N. Gordon has been handling the incorporation proceedings. He refused to give any of the particulars in regard to the location of the industry and the names of the promoters.

NO CHANCE FOR DRY BRITAIN

Committee Says State Purchase of Liquor Trade Would cost $1,500,000,000.

LONDON, — State purchase of Great Britain's liquor trade would involve an outlay of $1,500,000,000, according to the committee which has been preparing the labor campaign for the nationalization of the business.

Extensive inquiry has indicated that organized labor is solidly in favor of the nationalization scheme it is claimed. Prohibition, the committee asserts, does not stand a chance, but the British public wants an improvement in the standard of public houses. Such improvement, it is contended, would be made general through State purchas and control of the trade.

AIR IS FULL OF RUMOURS

PREMIER BORDEN'S RETIREMENT THREATENS TO SWALLOW UP UNIONISTS.

(Canadian Press.)

OTTAWA, Dec. 15.—It is frankly admitted in government circles that the change in the Prime Ministership at the present time is a matter beset with many complications. If the retirement of a number of ministers results from the re-organization, their successors in office will have to seek re-election. Under the provisions of the By-Elections Act, passed at last winter's session of Parliament, it takes at least forty days to prepare new lists in constituencies where contests would be held. Should there be several new ministers awaiting the verdict of constituents, the new government would in all probability not be prepared to meet in Parliament and the session of Parliament would be detained until the spring months. The decision to leave the matter of choice of successor to Sir Robert Borden to a Unionist caucus makes speculation at this time more or less full. Should Sir Thomas White be in the running, however, it is believed that his chances would be good, as it is believed that his leadership of the Unionists during the absence of Sir Robert gave general satisafction to the rank and file.

The Ottawa Journal expresses the opinion, however, that western Unionists would not favour Sir Thomas, because they think he looks upon all questions "through Toronto glasses."

(Canadian Press.)

OTTAWA, Dec. 15.— In political circles at the capital to-day nearly half the members of the cabinet are mentioned for the leadership. They include Sir Henry Drayton, Minister of Finance, Hon. N. W. Rowell, Hon. J. A. Calder, Sir George Foster and Sir James Lougheed. The first named has been regarded by many of his friends as a prospective Premier, but the retirement of Borden, coming before he has had oportunity to gain Parliamentary experience, may militate his chances. There is considerable tendency to speculate on the effect the coming resignation ... the Unionist party and the government. Many are inclined to the view that the retirement of the man who organized the Unionist government will put everything in the political melting pot. The caucus quite conceivably will settle the question permanency or otherwise of the Unionist party. The general impression is that the cabinet may remain in or practically so until the new leader is chosen and Sir Robert's resignation is in the hands of the Governor General.

BIG DEVELOPMENT AT PEACE RIVER

OIL DISCOVERIES THERE AND FURTHER NORTH AWAKEN GREAT INTEREST.

PEACE RIVER, Alta., Dec. 1.—Everything points to tremendous activities in this country during the coming year. Lady Macworth, who is now the directing head of the Lord Rhondda interests in the Peace River country, has given instructions to build a fast river boat to ply between Peace River town and Hudson's Hope, which is 280 miles up the river in British Columbia.

Hudson's Hope will be the centre of considerable oil drilling during the combing year. The Imperial Oil Co., Anglo-Canadian Oil Co., Peace River Petroleums Limited, a Toronto organization, and the Shell Transport Co. will be operating in this district, and on account of the large amount of freight that must be moved up the river, this boat will be specially built for the purpose.

The Lord Rhondda interests will also drill for oil in the Peace River country, and develop their vast interests, which include oil lands, coal lands, steam boat shipping lines, and a chain of trading stores.

During this season the Union Oil Company of California had their geologist look over the Peace River country and as a result they purchased a large block of oil leases, and will be developing them in a large way during the year 1920. This company has as its representative, Mr. Talpey, a well-known California expert. Mr. Talpey drilled for his company two wells in the Athabasca tar sands during 1918 and 1919. The drilling rigs in Athabasca have been dismantled and are being moved to Peace River to commence operations in the coming year.

Word has been received from Petrolea, Ont., that a group of old-time oil men have secured a large block of leases in the Peace River country, near Peace River town, and close to some of the wells now being drilled. The Petrolea syndicate will commence drilling operations at an early date. Their representative from Petrolea visited the field recently, and was well satisfied with the oil showings already discovered in the wells now drilling.

A remarkable showing of oil has been discovered at the Victory Oil Company's well. This well has been drilled to 980 feet, with 13 in. casing set tight on bottom. Two splendid discoveries of oil were made at 720 and 775 feet. During the past few weeks, the oil has been gradually working over the top of the casing. As a result the drilling pit is full of oil of a much higher grade than has yet been discovered in the wells farther down the river. The Victory Oil Company are drilling under a sub-lease from the Consolidated Company, which is now controlled by Peace River Petroleums Limited.

It is estimated at least 20 new drilling outfits will be operating in the territory next season.

HAWKERS FLOCK TO TORN YPRES TO SELL WARES

ADVENTURERS CATER TO TOURIST CROWDS AMID HISTORIC RUINS OF WAR.

GOVERNMENT IS CONSIDERING PROPOSALS TO CONSERVE HISTORIC SPOTS.

LONDON, Dec. 12.—Ypres, sacred soil of Canada, is being defiled, according to a correspondent who writes to The Times as follows:

The future of Ypres is still uncertain. No one knows at present to what extent the town will be rebuilt as it was. All that is certain is that the former population of about 18,000 souls is now for the most part at Paris-Plage and Blankenberghe, and the most of them are anxious to return "home." There are more than a thousand people living in Ypres today, but these are mainly adventurers from Brussels, who have been attracted by the chance to make money out of the visitors. A new Ypres is rising from the ruins of the old, but it is a wooden Ypres, of a character altogether too repulsive to all who realise that a quarter of a million lives were given to defend the salient which takes its name from the town.

The new Ypres is a place of estaminets, of mobs, of picture-postcard hawkers, of char-a-bancs and pleasure omnibuses, of souvenir hunters, and noise. There is a so-called British Tavern in the Grand Place itself, and the road to Menin Gate is lined with places of refreshment. In the town and its vicinity there are 135 cafes and estaminets, and everywhere among the tumbled heaps of bricks and plaster, stone and girders, men are eagerly hammering and building to increase the number.

Not Same Appreciation.

It must be remembered that the Belgian people, as a whole, do not in the least realise what Ypres means to the dominions and the British. If they heard of Ypres during the enemy occupation of their country, it was only to hear that the Germans had the town. Of the mighty struggle in the salient and of the tenacity and valour and sacrifice that enabled us to hold it they know little or nothing.

Ypres to them is a Belgian town destroyed in the war, just as Dixmude and Nieuport were destroyed, and Thourout, Roulers, and Furnes were partly destroyed. To them it seems nothing indecent to carry something of the debris as a souvenir, and still less in picnicking joyously among the ruins.

I crossed the battlefields from Elverdinghe to Passchendaele by way of Boesinghe, Langemarck, Poelcappelle, and Westroosebeke, on foot the other day. Except for working parties of British troops, German prisoners, or Chinese, and the motorists on the Ypres road between Poelcappelle and Westroosebeke, I met nobody but a British officer, who was showing his wife where trenches were once held by his battalion. After the noise of the guns, the click of glasses and the laughter of the throng in Ypres it seemed good to be alone among the desolation of the ridges, where tall rushes in the shell holes and rank grasses and a few hardy flowers covering the torn earth only partially veiled the convulsions of the year's conflict. Up there, at any rate, the wounds of war were something more than a spectacle to be casually appraised between an apertif and lunch.

To Consider Proposals.

The Belgian Government has shown itself very willing to consider all reasonable proposals in the way of conserving the ruins and of erecting memorials. It has declared that the remains of the Cloth Hall, Cathedral, and adjacent buildings would be left as they are. Even so, a considerable amount of attention will be needed if the walls and tower are to be rendered proof against the weather. It has agreed that a museum shall be erected on the spot where General Mercier fell.

It has allotted to the Canadians certain sites by the Menin Gate. It has promised a site for the erection of an English Church. There has been talk of preserving the whole of the remains of the town as a memorial. But those who have made this suggestion have taken little account of the conservation of the Belgian freeholder, or of the cost of appropriating him. It is to be presumed that, locally, expropriation on any large scale would be a highly unpopular proceeding.

If nothing is due to intervene, it is probable that a year or two will see the private houses rebuilt practically as they were before the war. Nothing is more remarkable — nor more characteristic of the Belgian people—than the way in which all over the country they appear to have been satisfied with their old houses. While to the foreign observer it would seem that Belgium has at the present time an exceptional opportunity to effect an improvement in housing. It must be remembered that in Belgium local autonomy and the sense of private liberty are peculiarly strong, and there exists very little legislation to prevent a freeholder from building any kind of a house, however ugly or insanitary, that suits him. One can only hope that enlightened Belgian opinion will prevent the erection of "atrocities" on the sites surrounding the central area which is to be left intact. Meanwhile, steps should be taken.

PROFESSOR WON OVER THE ARABS FOR ALLIES.

Lieutenant-Colonel Laurence, who by most astute propaganda, won the Arabs over to the allied side, has slipped out of his picturesque role, and has gone back to teaching at Oxford University. Laurence was a most picturesque figure in the eastern theatre of the war. To get into touch with the Arabs he adopted their kit and their tongue. So secret were his doings that the newspapers were forbidden to publish his photographs even when many of his exploits were known. Now, since the excitement is over, his Asia Minor mysteries are like the Arabian Night tales.

The Scout displays, which included signallin gto music, and first aid, showing the uses of uniform, were much appreciated, also a sleight of hand performance by Mr. H. Carte, and an unusually splendid assortment of lantern slides.

The performance was concluded by the Scouts gathering on the platform and the the singing of the National Anthem.

HYDRO-ELECTIC FOR LAKEFIELD

COUNCIL MET TO HEAR HYDRO REPRESENTATIVE DISCUSS ISSUE.

LAKEFIELD, Dec. 15.—A special meeting of the Village Council was held on Wednesday evening last, at which Mr. Ireland, representing the Hydro-Electric Commission, was present, and made arrangements with the Council to submit a Hydro-Electric by-law to the freeholders of Lakefield at the January election.

The total cost of installing the Hydro power in the village will be $33,500, which includes the reconstruction of the present distribution plant and its purchase from the local Electric Light Co., the installation of meters in the homes and business places of the consumers.

This amount will have to be raised by the issuing of thirty-year debentures.

The estimated revenue received from the system would be sufficient to provide for the retirement of the debentures, interest charges, depreciation and maintenance, etc., and at the end of thirty years the village would own the plant. A commission of three citizens would handle the utility. The cost per h. p. is fixed at $36.00, which is the same as Havelock will pay. As Norwood is more favourably situated than either Lakefield or Havelock, their rate will be $30.00 per h. p.

FREE VACCINATION IN PUBLIC SCHOOLS

DOCTORS WILL VISIT EACH OF THE PUBLIC SCHOOLS TO-MORROW.

To the Editor of the Examiner,—

Vaccination in the Public Schools

The Board of Health of the city has decided upon voluntary and free vaccination in order to avoid the danger of a small-pox epidemic.

The Principals of the Public Schools have received notice that doctors will visit each of the schools to-morrow (Wednesday) at 3.30 p.m. to vaccinate all children whose parents desire it.

The voluntary and free nature of the matter has been fully explained to the pupils .In order to avoid misunderstanding, the Kindergarten, Primer, and Book 1 pupils have been instructed to bring notes from their parents. None of these pupils will be vaccinated unless their parents' notes signify their desire or willingness to have it done.

The older pupils will also be required to bring notes as they are quite capable of carrying out the instructions of their parents.

The above precautions have been taken to avoid all possible misunderstanding.

Parents are to instruct their children what course to pursue and in the case of the younger pupils to send notes with them, if they desire to have them vaccinated.

IS PETERBORO BANKRUPT?

CITY CARRIES A HEAVY DEBENTURE DEBT—NO INDUSTRIAL CONDITIONS—PAP FED INDUSTRIES.

This is the first of a series of articles in which Mr. G. N. Gordon was requested to write for The Examiner. Mr. Gordon has had many years experience as an Alderman, City Solicitor and member of the Board of Education, and has always been an advocate of public ownership—Editor.

Peterborough's population of approximately twenty-two thousand people carries a heavy debenture debt for the present time of $2,124,664.33, which is a mortgage on every home in this city, and is a liability required to be paid before any other encumbranec and amounts to $97 per head.

In addition to that, three per cent. of the assessed value of land and buildings is paid annually to meet the general rate for municipal and school purposes. The landlord requires to obtain a return of six to seven per cent. upon his investment in addition to the three per cent. for taxes, five per cent. for depreciation, and this the tenant is called upon to pay, as well as such expenses as insurance and extraordinary repairs.

For the man who owns his own home his expenses are the same. He must meet all cost of maintenancy and upkeep, and if his property does increase in value his investment has been valuable, and it has been an encouragement for him to have some stake in the community.

To induce the growth of the City, this City must be made attractive to labour, because labour is the great backbone of a city's growth and development. To make this City attractive for the workingman it must be healthful; and on account of Peterborough's location among the hills from the standpoint of health it is exceptionally inviting.

To induce labour to come to Peterborough industrial concerns must be sound economiaclly, capable of employing, not so much, large numbers of employees, as those more highly skilled. Where there is a steady demand for highly skilled labour, and an encouragement for the apprentices to train themselves to become specialized experts, this means the development of the best class of labour.

THE INDUSTRIAL CONDITIONS.

The industrial conditions require not only to be sound but to be on a basis that such labor is required which may not be highly skilled, must be paid a living wage, and a "living wage" has been defined to me "such remuneration as is sufficient to enable a man, earning it, to maintain himself and his family in comfort and happiness, with the fruits of his industry."

One of Peterborough's troubles has been that it has been known as a poor "winter town," which may be defined as being a community where in winter certain classes of employment cease to exist, and men are in the position of being compelled to seek other positions, and finding in many cases that these are unavailable. For that reason the seasonal concerns continuous in operation in all seasons, with a steady output, is essential, and we should avoid obtaining those industries which are operated at high speed for certain periods and other periods are running at low pressure.

Bonuses and gifts to corporations should in the city are highly objectionable, and, as a general motion sugests, are a burden to the ratepayers, and should be avoided. However, it has been found, that with some municipalities instituting aggressive campaigns for industries that the city which does not participate in the game is handicapped in the race; and while these conditions exist this system will continue, and the only relief there will be from that is when a company with this encouragement continues its operations for a period of years, it may then be of great industrial value in the community, and may repay the price paid by the ratepayers for its location among them.

There should however be legislation preventing an industry which has once obtained concessions from a municipality, such as fixed assessment, or bonus, from moving away from that municipality without the consent of the Railway Board, or of some independent body. This would prevent adventurous promoters from getting from the city ten years fixed assessment, or bonus, and then attempting to hold up the city again for the continuance of such concessions.

PAP FED INDUSTRIES.

A company which has once been pap fed to this extent would require to stand on its own feet, and not flit around from one city to another.

In order to produce homes for the workmen who would come to the city as a result of increased industrial activity, the late Ontario Government's scheme could well be considered. One advantage is that one and a half per cent. interest is saved on the proposition every year by the man who has a house built for him under this plan. If he borrowed money from a mortgagee it would cost him one and a half per cent. more than it does under this scheme, and in some cases it would be two per cent. more. In addition to that he is paying for his home by instalments, and has the advantage of having developed the spirit of thrift. It is much less difficult for a man to pay for anything he has purchased by uniform instalments which he is taking from his monthly income, rather than to accumulate a large amount, and pay it all in a lump sum. Moreover, a man who has purchased his own home has a stake in the community which makes him a careful citizen, makes him take an active interest in community affairs, compels him to insist upon constitutional methods, economical civic government, and legislation for the benefit of the community at large, and assists him to resist habits of extravagance in himself or members of his family.

MORE HOUSING IS NEEDED.

More housing is needed, and badly needed, if more factories are to come to Peterborough.

More factories are likely to come to Peterborough because it is recognized that in the United States competition has reached a price cutting stage which forces manufacturing concerns to look for new fields for the sale of their products.

Briefly, the conclusion I would suggest, is that an active campaign and canvass of British and American corporations, which are not represented in Canada, be made to induce them to establish Canadian plants, and to care for the increasing population coming with them, a proper Housing Scheme be developed to meet such requirements, but not sufficiently extensive to leave any vacant houses or to depreciate the value of the property which a man who has already purchased for his own home, at present values.

By thus adding to the city's population many others will share our burden so that it will rest lightly upon the shoulders of all and be forgotten as a burden to any.

A CATCHY CHRISTMAS WINDOW

White Bros., of the popular Bicycle and skate shop, 174 Hunter Street, have put in a very catchy and effective Christmas window, which is attracting attention. The decorations are quite timely and cutely conceived. The background shows Kris Kringle effects in the rear of the window, with a red brick wall separating a palm garden and evergreen grotto, in quite a realistic manner. The window has a display of automobile skates, bicycles and bicycle supplies, hockey sticks, flashlights, etc., and the trim is filled up with sporty bulletins, with a humorous verse of poetry, which reads as follows:

When a Feller Needs a Friend.

I want to rite to Santa Claws,
But I'm verry scared because
I cannot spel the thing I need.
And folks say he pays awful heed
As to how a feller's letter looks,
So I will have to rite for books,
And Oh, my hart is awful sad,
I want a Massey bisickle so bad.

PRICES ARE ATTRACTIVE

TRADE RESTRICTED

(Special to The Examiner.)

WINNIPEG, Dec. 16.— As far as can be gathered here yesterday, no increase in volume of wheat leaving Canada will be permitted; that is, car lots will not be allowed to cross the border. The only parties anxious to sell to Americans are farmers located in areas where crops were abundant this season, and brokers who have customers in the States and who have not been allowed to trade with them this year owing to the Wheat Board taking over all sales.

The Grain Growers as an organized body in Saskatchewan and Manitoba, are dead against it. The Saskatchewan Co-operative Elevators Co. last week passed a resolution against the proposal. Millers are certainly against it, as are live stock interests and also farmers who live in poor crop districts and need seed badly for next spring.

But all along the border from the eastern boundary of Manitoba up to districts in Saskatchewan, where there was no crop failure, farmers are hauling wheat by the load to U. S. points and realizing $40 a load more than they would be able to get in Canada, the difference in exchange, higher fixed price on the other side, higher grading of Canada wheat in the U.S. and keenness of U. S. millers to secure these loads all tending to make prices very attractive.

ST. LUKE'S HELD AN ENTERTAINMENT

...ONGREGATION ...ARDS TO AID... ...ARY WORKERS.

The Junior Auxiliary of St. Luke's church, Ashburnham, held their annual entertainment in the schoolroom last evening. The audience, though not large, were enthusiastic and enjoyed each number, judging from the applause.

The platform was very nicely decorated and a very diminuative Santa Claus warming his hands by the fireplace in the background, gave a Christmassy touch to the whole. The children all did well, and the members of St. Luke's felt very proud, when the "Song of the Silent Army" by Mrs. E. A. Peck was very sympathetically rendered by Miss Mildred Green.

Aong those who took part were: Helen Lipsett, Madeline Wheeler, Verna Moffatt, J.W.A., Mary Lipsett, Clara Connors, Vera Kenned, Muriel Davies, Alice Grierson, Margaret Gierson, Hilda Joyce, Grace White, Winnie Pammett, Clemena Long, J. DISTRESS IN AUSTRIA

Canadian Press:

PARIS, Dec. 16.—The new German delegation which has come here to discuss the compensation for the sinking of German warships in Scapa Flow, arrived this morning. The delegation consists of Councillor Seelingor, of the German Foreign Ministry; Rudolph Brohm, of the Hamburg shipyards; Councillor Busch, of the Ministry of Public Works; Dr. Helzor, of the Hamburg-American Line; Dr. Petens, of the Weser shipyards, representative of the Hamburg Government, and Paul Mullor, representing three groups of seamen.

The German note in reply to the Allied communication, demanding the signing of the peace protocol, was taken up by the Supreme Council at this morning's session. It was decided that a meeting of the Allied experts with the German experts should be held this afternoon. The Council's consideration of the German communication was of a general nature. It was stated that a reply would be made after further examination of the document.

Canadian Press:

PARIS, Dec. 16.—The initial measures of relief for Austria were taken by the Supreme Council to-day after that body had heard the lengthy presentation of his nation's difficulties presented by Dr. Karl Renner, the Austrian Chancellor. It was decided that as a first step in relieving the Austrian food shortage, thirty thousand tons of food should be despatched to Trieste, to be shipped thence into Austrian territory.

...FAILED TO FLOAT GOVERNMENT LOAN

(United Press.)

BERLIN, Dec. 16. — For the first time in its history, Germany has failed to float a government loan. Five billion marks were appealed for the latest loan, conducted on the lottery plan, but only 3,900,000 marks were netted. There was no patriotic advertising and only the people's gambling instinct was appealed to. About three-fourths of the subscribers were compartively poor people.

SPECIAL ANNOUNCEMENT

The Third Canadian Division "Dumbells" have been re-engaged for a return engagement of one matinee and one night performance on Christmas Day when those who missed seeing them when they played here recently will have an opportunity of hearing their now famous Overseas Revue, "Biff, Bing, Bang," in which they are making a farewell tour of the larger Canadian cities.

Every returned man knows the "Dumbells," and what they did to entertain the boys in France where they played over half a thousand times immediately behind the lines. After the Armistice these soldier actors rendered valuable service in Brussels, where they performed over 40 times for the benefit of wounded and disabled soldiers and sailors. For this work they were heartily commended by King Albert, who presented Capt. M. P. Plunkett and his company with a medal in recognition of their services. Later the "Dumbells" toured England and capped their overseas career with a final triumph of two weeks at the famous London Coliseum.

The "Dumbells" are now playing their fourth week in Toronto and are booked for a fifth. This will be postiively the last opportunity of seeing them here and their catchy and attractive musical and dramatic revue should prove a great treat for Christmas Day.

Children Cry for Fletcher's

CASTORIA

Fletcher's Castoria is strictly a remedy for Infants and Children. Foods are specially prepared for babies. A baby's medicine is even more essential for Baby. Remedies primarily prepared for grown-ups are not interchangeable. It was the need of a remedy for the common ailments of Infants and Children that brought Castoria before the public after years of research, and no claim has been made for it that its use for over 30 years has not proven.

What is CASTORIA?

Castoria is a harmless substitute for Castor Oil, Paregoric, Drops and Soothing Syrups. It is pleasant. It contains neither Opium, Morphine nor other narcotic substance. Its age is its guarantee. For more than thirty years it has been in constant use for the relief of Constipation, Flatulency, Wind Colic and Diarrhoea; allaying Feverishness arising therefrom, and by regulating the Stomach and Bowels, aids the assimilation of Food; giving healthy and natural sleep. DRIED MINT FOR WINTER SEASONING

Mint and other herbs growing in our gardens can be dried for winter, for mint gathered and the fresh leaves put into a wide-mouthed bottle; add good vinegar to fill the bottle, stand two or three weeks, strain in a fresh bottle and cork. This makes just as nice mint sauce as fresh mint. Dried mint suffused in hot water, then made into mint sauce is very useful when the real thing is out of season.

End of Season Clearance

COATS

After the most brisk selling season for women's and misses' coats in our entire history, we have a few odd coats in size and colour which we propose to make a quick clearance of.

They have served their purpose with us, and while there are many months yet to wear them; to us, their season is over, Cost price is disregarded. They are now marked at a price generally below that of the material used in their making.

Drastic Price Reduction On Ever Coat in The Store

The prices of these coats all season were $19.00, $29.00, $31.00, $34.00, $36.00, $38.00, $43.00, $46.00, and $49.50.

Everybody remarked this season how unusually low priced and smart styled Elliot garments are. Prices as a general rule were at least one - third less than we have been accustomed to getting them. Now then, think of this established reputation we have made and then of the big reduction we have again taken off of them in order to clear the balance with the least possible fuss.

N. T. LAPLANTE THREATENS SUIT; ALTERNATIVELY OFFERS TO BUY

BIDS $300 FOR REMAINDER OF UNOPENED STREET, PART OF WHICH WAS SOLD TO THE M'DONALD LUMBER CO.—SEWAGE DISPOSAL PLANT PLANS ARE COMPLETE.

CITY PLAYS SANTA CLAUS

City Engineer Parsons has completed the plans for the proposed sewage disposal plant, Ald. Phelan informed the Board of Works last night. They will be submitted to the Ontario Railway and Municipal Board on Friday to satisfy the injunction proceedings which the townships of Otonabee and North Monaghan hold over the city. The specifications will not be ready for perhaps a month when they will be presented with the plans to the Provincial Board of Health.

Will Sue or Buy.

Gordon and O'Brien solicitors for Mr. N. T. Laplante wrote that they had been instructed to enter action against the city for damages of $500 for the sale of that unopened section of Crescent street which the Council recently sold to the McDonald Lumber Company. It is claimed that Mr. Laplante's adjoining property has been depreciated in value as a result. On the other hand Mr. Laplante offers the city $300 for the remaining unsold part of Crescent street which extends southerly from the lot sold to the McDonald company to the north side of Perry street. This property is east of George street. The communication was referred to the Legal committee.

Asks for Refunded Money.

Peck, Kerr and McElderry wrote asking that the $175 balance of Mr. Gerald Dunsford's fine of $200 be returned to him by the city. The refunding of this sum was approved by the Ontario License Board. Referred to City Solicitor Widdifield.

Sault Ste. Marie Replies

Answering the Council's request for endorsation of the proposal that the Legislature introduce legislation to provide for the election of the members of Police Commissions, the council of Sault Ste Marie state that they prefer that the Police Commissioners be appointed by the municipal Councils.

A Few Christmas Presents.

The Women's Branch of the Navy League thanked Peterboro for its grant of $25 to buy Christmas presents for British sailors, and added that Peterboro's name would be included in the list of donors.

Ald. McIntyre moved, seconded by Ald. Taylor that $50 be granted to the G.W.V.A. for the Christmas tree for the children of soldiers.

Ald. Turner suggested that $25 be given the G.W.V.A. and $25 to the ladies' committee for whom Mrs. Mills was canvassing.

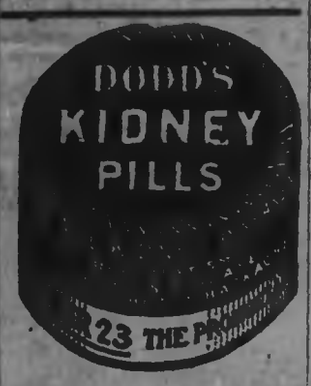
Ald. Turner remarked that both funds were to help make Christmas happier for the children.

City Solicitor Widdifield informed the Council that Mrs. Mills was collecting for the G.W.V.A. Christmas tree. Ald. Turner pressed his motion any way, but Ald. Crowe referring to the motion said "Oh, let them (the mayoralty candidates) have the credit, and Ald. Turner laughingly acquiesced.

Ald. Edgar moved, seconded by Ald. Phelan that $10 be granted the Children's Aid Society for their Christmas.

"Add ten dollars for St. Vincent's Orphanage" said Ald. Morrison.

Ald. Phelan moved, seconded by Ald. Morrison that the orphanage be included in the city's Christmas bounty.



Voice Of The People

"Modernist" in last Saturday's Examiner presents a most repulsive view to Bolshevism, the degradation of woman, and ends his article with these sarcastic words. "The so-called "good" people in America have tried "to force their ideas on a people and "now will have to face force in turn. "Thousands will adopt, and are adopting Bolshevism as a means of self "protection against ignorant reformers and the "unco guid."

What does this writer mean? Is he sneering at the "unco guid" or the Bolshevist teachings?

Bolshevism is the inspiration of the Devil. It is the "abomination of desolation." Don't touch it except with the tongs. There is only one side to it—and that is filthy, cruel, abominable—hide it out of sight, and wherever its head shows crack it, and shove it under out of sight.

PATER FAMILIAS.

Sir: Our Premier, Mr. Drury, made a statement concerning the Swiss government and as a Swiss I must give him credit for seeing these important things in the way they really are. He says:

All this peacefulness and progress, it is claimed, cannot be altogether ascribed to the wisdom of the Swiss electors and their placid compromising nature, but rather to the excellence of their political machinery.

But we must not forget to give the Swiss credit for forming that excellent machinery in the first place.

To make our Premier's statement or discovery plainer, I say the Swiss don't pretend to have a democracy—but actually have one.

And even this excellent democracy cannot overcome the present troubles, as high cost of living, strikes, sore feelings between the different classes, as they have the same thing over there.

In the year 1291 the Swiss united for the first time, and their motto was: All for one and one for all.

They knew God's care, and believed in it. Their faith was crowned with tremendous results, and in glorying over their deeds, in getting too gay, broke that law. Just as soon as their scale tipped with too much wrong they woke up out of their dream to find themselves in trouble.

How far they strayed again from their motto, All for one, one for all, anybody can see, when they split up into clans or parties, and each one singing for "me and myself." It is always easier to stray away from a good thing than to approach it.

When the Swiss had their civil war some of your readers may recall when the warriors of both sides mixed their bread and milk on the boundary and both sides ate out of same pot.

That was the time when they showed their first spark of Christianity again; and then through reforming themselves they got their peace again for a space of time.

Much the same thing happened here after the last election when the two parties apparently, although of different opinions, joined together.

That was the moment when their religion woke up.

What we need now is that reform; or in other words, we have to live up to the name Christian.

Only when we realize that we have been pretending to be Christian can we improve ourselves and overcome the present crisis, which really is a mild stage of war.

We all know the power of unity, and anybody should see how if the different classes unite for themselves they really do not improve themselves in the long run.

If the Labour party wants their wages up they draw the farm help to the cities, and there will be too many in the cities and not enough on the farm. Not enough farmers—not enough bread.

When the capitalists unite for themselves; when the Bolshevists unite for themselves—it is all the same. By doing so they all do wrong and can't escape the results of breaking the law.

For God and the country our soldiers died; for God and the country we should unite.

Unite for one government; unite for one church.

One for all,
A SWISS.

The Proposed Park Purchase

Sir,—I read Mr. J. M. Greene's letter about this project. It is his "private opinion publicly expressed" which I give him credit for.

Dr. Harvey has given his private opinion also by public expression.

Mr. Green did not so much condemn the purchase of the park as that he questioned the expediency of buying the park at this juncture. Mr. Green has exactly the same right to express his views as the doctor.

The argument is presented that by buying the park we will head off claims for damages—this is fallacy—the damages will be paid—the sellers have saved themselves by fixing their own prices, which include the damages. This property was as desirable ten or fifteen years ago but the city allowed it to get into the hands of speculators at one fourth of the price they now offer to pay. It is very rough and undesirable property in its present shape, yet I say buy. If it is made the city dumping ground and every chance used to build it up with soil it can be made a desirable little park suitable for sports, baseball, cricket and etc., and a place to be desired.

A WOMAN CANDIDATE.

Mrs. W. R. Morris who although polling a large vote was not successful in her campaign for election to the Board of Education last year, has decided to again be a candidate. If there is any municipal body in which the women of the city should be represented it is the School Board, and there is no doubt of the ability of Mrs. Morris to successfully carry out the duties of a member of the Board. She has been active in many movements that have been for the public good and her candidature in the coming election should be more favorably received than a year ago.

THE GOVERNMENT'S MANDATE

Canada went to the polls and created a government with a mandate to finish the war and to presevere in the solution of after-the-war problems until 1923" declares the Toronto Telegram in the course of a long editorial reference to the reported resignation of Sir Robert Borden. The Telegram takes a different view of the matter than do the majority of Canadians. It was the general impression that the Union Government was created to enforce the Military Service Act and to look after other war business with the expectation that its career would terminate with the end of the war. The theory that the majority of the electors by their votes in 1917 were empowering the Union Government to remain in office until 1923 will be a new one to many voters. But then the Telegram has a faculty of its own for looking at public events from an unusual angle.

THE MAYORALTY CANDIDATES.

Neither of the mayoralty candidates who have announced that they are in the field for the Chief Magistrate's Chair have shown any eagerness to accept the Examiner's invitation that they should place their platform and policy before the electors. The campaign season is short and if the aspirants for office continue as coy as they have been up to the present stage the ratepayers will have nothing to guide them but their estimate of the ability of the two candidates and their record in public life. There are a number of problems that will have to be faced by next year's Council. The ratepayers are naturally interested in knowing where the mayoralty candidates stand on these questions, and in learning something of the policy they they propose to inaugurate. Have they any policy to offer? The electorate would be in a better position to size up the contest and to come to a definite decision if they were given time to weigh the platforms of the candidates. Anxiety for office may be a sufficent reason for entrance into the campaign but the people are entitled to more information as to the programme of the aspirants for office. Like Christmas shopping the whole campaign should not be left to the last week.

SIR ROBERT'S SUCCESSOR.

The announcement that Sir Robert Borden is about to retire, while occasioning no surprise, because the condition of the Premier's health has been such as to lead to the expectation that he would soon ask to be relieved of his duties, has been responsible for much comment as to the identity of his successor and as to the further developments at Ottawa that may be expected. The situation at present is obscure, there is no one out standing figure in the Union Cabinet upon whose shoulders the mantle of Sir Robert might logically be expected to fall. There are many names suggested by the press but they seem to be all about on the same level as regards ability and fitness. Each will have supporters but none seems to have anything like the united support of the Unionist party The general opinion seems to be that if a former Liberal is chosen as premier, it will be an indication that the Unionist party is to be a permanent organization, while on the other hand if a Conservative is Sir Robert's successor it will be regarded as evidence that the old Conservative party will be revived. In any case the public career of the new leader is not likely to be of long as the present administration no matter what banner it may fight under is not very likely to survive a general election.

SHILOH 30 MIN. COUGHS

THE LIBERAL SECRETARY.

The appointment of Mr. Andrew Haydon, M.A., an Ottawa barrister, as general secretary of the National Liberal organization committee, is carrying out of the re-organization plan decided upon at the convention in Ottawa in August. Liberal thought in all parties of Canada is represented on the National Committee at which Mr. Haydon has been chosen secretary and his appointment will do much to bring the efforts of the committee to a successful working basis. Of the personalty of the secretary himself there is much that could be said. He has much experience in party administration work and his ability in this respect was a decided factor in the success of the National Liberal Convention. He is a close student of political history and has a reputation as a speaker and writer on historical topics. Liberals in all parts of Canada will be delighted to hear of Mr. Haydon's appointment, having it is an evidence that the reorganization of the Liberal party is proceeding on symtematic, business-like lines that will ensure the success of the movement.

A CONSTRUCTIVE RESOLUTION.

The resolution passed by the local G.W.V.A. last night in regard to the disposition o fthe Canadian Expeditionary forces share of the profits of the Army and Navy Canteen Board has the merit of being not only novel but constructive. There is a sum of some three million dollars to be alloted to the Canadian soldiers and various plans have been proposed one of which is to build and endow a G.W.V.A. club house in London, England. The local Veterans, however, believe that the money should be spent in Canada and accordingly propose that the Canadian Government use the interest from the three million dollars to establish scholarships in Canadian universities for the benefit of the children of Canada's soldiers, at the rate of $700 per year, the scholarships to be known as the Great War Memorial Scholarships and to be confined to the children of soldiers for twenty-five years and then thrown over to the children of our Canadian citizens.

The spirit of the G.W.V.A. resolution is highly commendable and no doubt other branches who will be asked to support the suggestion will have little hesitation in doing so. The plan, however, might possibly be improved by establishing the scholarships in the Collegiate Institutes where a much greater percentage of soldiers' children would have a chance to take advantage of them. The winning of such a scholarship would then result in a college education for many students who otherwise would be unable to go further than the Collegiate Institute.

BASIS OF PAY.

Wages, and their relation to the cost of living are both a cause and an effect. But it is a universal rule that wages are based on the cost of living, the lowest pay being usually close to "the margin of subsistence." As living costs rise, wages must necessarily rise, else for the poorest paid starvation would ensue.

The fact that wages are based on the cost of living is recognized in all the petitions of public servants for more pay. The rising prices of everything, they say, with truth, justly call for increased pay. The adjustments are made, and the public servants are comparatively content until prices go yet higher when the demand comes for still more pay to meet the rising prices.

But prices fluctuate. They are now at or near the peak. It is unlikely that they can be maintained at the present altitude much longer. Premier Drury predicts a fall in prices in the near future. He may be mistaken in the time but it is certain that prices will decline sometime, and with their decline of course the cost of living will drop. When the cost of living comes down, wages will come down too. They must. In a sense labor is a commodity, subject to the laws that govern the prices of commodities, and when other commodities fall in price the price of labor, affected by the same conditions which affect them, will fall also.

When then will be done about the pay of public servants who have been getting more and more money as the cost of living has risen? Will it be just to continue paying them wages based upon inflated prices when prices are no longer inflated? When wages generally have fallen, should the wages of public servants be regarded as exceptional and allowed to stand at high-water mark?

It is timely to consider this matter while the demands for more pay in the public service are continuous. The increases which are justly granted ought not to be regarded as permanent. Since they have been granted to meet the increased cost of living, they should be withdrawn when the cost of living declines.

The Herald as maintained and still believes, that instead of making increases in the pay of public servants in periods of high prices, additions to their pay should be made in the form of bonuses, which could be discontinued when living conditions have again become normal.—Hamilton Herald.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

(London Times.)

In an article on the railway strike here, the Temps says that the problem really comes to this: "Should a worker be paid according to the good which he does, or the evil which he might be capable of doing?"

It is a significant fact that the majority of condemned murderers who are awaiting execution in Canada are foreigners.

The number of donations that are coming in for the Christmas treat for soldiers' children is gratifying. The Examiner will be pleased to receive further donations on behalf of the Ladies' Auxiliary of the G.W.V.A. who have the arrangements for the affair in hand.

AN APPLE DAY

Probably not one person in a hundred fully realizes the great health value of fresh fruit. Among those who eat apples and pears, cherries and plums, the majority, and those, too, who most need them, refuse to swallow the skins.

Yet the consumption of raw fresh fruits with their skins assists in maintaining a high condition of the blood, and simultanequsly of keeping the digestive organs of the body clean, in part because of the nature of the food, and in part because it acts as a natural laxative.

The seeds of fruits, like the pits of the apples and the pear, the kernel of the plum and cherry-stone, and all nuts, are among the richest of all food materials, while the skins supply the mineral substances, which are necessary to the nourishment of the blood, without which nobody could live.

Where the blood is examined before one commences to eat fruit with its skins, and again, at the end of three months, the improvement is marked by the increase in the red cells and the red colouring matter, which are of such vital importance to health and to life.

There are numerous foods which we ought not to eat in excess, but of which we do eat too much, that leave something behind them in the organs of digestion and elsewhere. Fruit is the natural remedy to employ and not medicine. The systematic employment at all meals is quickly followed by a healthy change.

FAMOUS WASHINGTON THEATRE IN RUINS

Two Thousand Persons Had to Make A Hasty Exit in Fire.

WASHINGTON, —The Lyceum Theatre konw before the civil war as the Washington assembly hall, and which for nearly a century has played a part in the social life of the capital, and in which five Presidents held inaugural balls, was little more than a mass of flame-blackened ruins Saturday. Fire, which started about midnight from a crowded gallery and which imperilled the lives of upwards of 2,000 persons, damaged the buildings and contents to the extent of about $75,000, it was estimated to-day by the management. Cool heads checked the fear-stricken patrons and the building was cleared in an orderly manner, although a number of women became hysterical.

WHAT AND WHY IS

Group Insurance?

It is an inexpensive means of insuring the lives of all your employees individually by a single small premium.

It involves no medical inspection and it costs about 75 cents a month for each $1,000, of insurance carried.

It has arisen from the desire of business firms to do something substantial for their employees, and also promote goodwill and avoid constant changes in the payroll.

It has been widely adopted by far-seeing industrial executives.

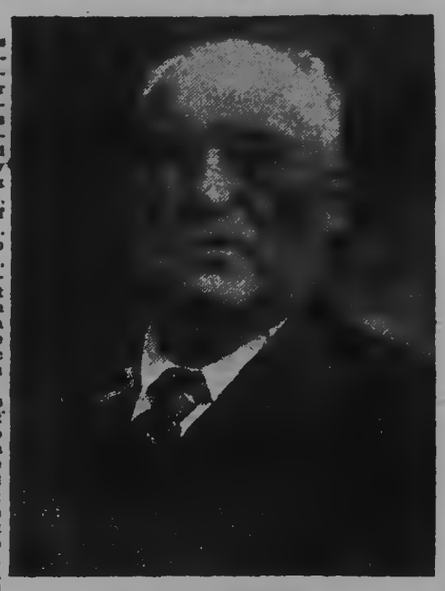
Forty-One Years at the Throttle



MR. LEW PATRICK.

Forty-one years of continuous service as a locomotive engineer without one accident to mar his work is the remarkable record established by Mr. Lew Patrick of Kerrisdale, formerly of Revelstoke, B. C., and previous to October 31, 1919, an engineer operating trains out of Revelstroke on the mountain division of the Canadian Pacific Railway main line.

Mr. Patrick's record is one that it will be hard to duplicate. He is a man still hale and hearty and in full enjoyment of his strength and faculties but has decided to take a rest from the long strain of his railroad duties.

He is one of the pioneers who came west with the railroad and developed as it developed. Starting with the Canadian Pacific at St. Boniface Manitoba, when a young man of twenty-five years of age he passed successively through the occupations of brakeman, conductor, fireman, and engineer during the first year of his service. His first engine was one of the old, wood-burner type and he has seen railway motive power develop from that stage through coal burners of various grades to the latest type of oil-burning mogul. As engines developed Mr Patrick kept pace and operated them as fast as they came.

He was working on construction trains in British Columbia, and was present at the summit when Lord Strathcona drove the last spike that linked the Atlantic with the Pacific ocean. Since then Mr. Patrick has been driving engines on the mountain sections. From June, 1896 to the spring of 1918 he was driver on the fast Imperial Limited passenger trains. On these alone he has carried tens of thousands of passengers in safety. Perhaps no one man in the service of the great railway company has carried more people than he has. Long before he retired from active service his reputation as the safest engineer of the whole country had gone abroad. People liked to know they were to be drawn by Lew Patrick, because it meant that the chances of accident had been reduced to the minimum. Though the Canadian Pacific Railway Company points with pride to its own wonderful record in protecting the lives of its passengers, and its own reputation in this regard has always been very high among railroad men and the travelling public, yet to know that Lew Patrick was at the throttle was added assurance to those who knew.

Mr. Patrick is an example of the splendid type developed by the railroad service. His duty to his company and his passengers was his governing influence. The Canadian Pacific Railway Company through the whole gamut of officials and men, from president to the newest brakeman feels pride in the record of this veteran engineer.

Mr. Patrick was born in South Durham, 65 miles east of Montreal, 66 years ago. His parents were farmers and he followed the same occupation until he went west to railroad. He was married in 1886, and has three children, Miss Jean and Mr. John Patrick of Vancouver, and Mrs. R. Boyce of Calgary, Alberta.

Little Wall Pockets

Here are two pretty wall pockets to hang beside or on the dressing table, ready to hold whatever their owners choose to put in them. Disks of cardboard covered with gayly printed ribbon make the frivolous and dainty pocket at the left, and it is suspended by plain satin ribbon that ends in small bows at the sides. At the right two heart-shaped pieces of cardboard are covered smoothly with red satin and fastened together. The edges are finished with narrow puffing of ribbon, and the same ribbon serves to suspend the pocket. This smooth and matter-of-fact affair is evidently intended as a gift for a man. Two hearts with but a single pocket are quite meaningful. But one might use a diamond, a spade or even a club to make a similar pocket, and anyone of them will hold a deck of cards, score cards, pencils and such things, or pins, needles, thimble and thread for a bachelor.

Handy Bag and Case

Among the examples of convenient belongings embodying beautiful work that makes a gift precious, there are handkerchief cases and darning or knitting bags, like these shown above. The darning bag is made of ribbon and may be carried, with its contents, over the arm. The handkerchief case employs heavy linen, with a coarse linen thread for making its decoration.

Whale With Hind Legs.

A female hump-back whale, having two hind legs, fifty inches in length, has been caught at the Kyukot Whaling Station in British Columbia. Manager Ruck, of the Consolidated Whaling Company, says that in his twenty years of whaling experience he has never heard of whales having legs on the exterior.

Ribbon Sewing Sets

Above are pictured two pretty sewing or darning sets which are intended to hang somewhere conveniently on a wall or be suspended from some place of vantage on the bedroom furniture. At the right of the picture an embroidery hoop is wound with narrow satin ribbon and decorated with bows having many long loops. A thimble, spool of thread, emery bag and needle case are all tied to the hoop or suspended from it. The small kitten of cloth, much dressed up with a bow of ribbon on the neck, carries darning needles in its side and large pins along its back. A little, tinkling silver bell hangs on the ribbon about its neck.

"FORCED TO SWALLOW" LIGHTED CIGARETTE

NEW YORK, Dec. 15. — Brutal treatment and even deliberate torture of enlisted men of the American Expeditionary Forces are charged against Captain Karl W. Detzer, formerly commanding officer of the 308th Military Police Company, whose trial by court-martial opened at Governor's Island Friday.

Evidence will be submitted, it is said, by officers familiar with the case, that will rival the sensational developments of the trials of Lieutenant "Hard Boiled" Smith the Sergeant Ball, who now are serving prison sentences for brutality to American soldiers in Paris.

Reports submitted by the Inspector-General's Office are said to declare that methods used by him in writing confessions from enlisted men included kicking, beating, compelling men to stand at "attention" for 36 hours, ten minutes on and five minutes off, without food and water, not allowing men to sleep, threatening death if certain papers were not signed, and in one instance compelling a man to swallow a lighted cigarette.

The accused officer has entered pleas of not guilty to all the charges against him.

Marmalades require fruit which has pectin. When finished the fruit should appear in small pieces throughout the jelly-like mixture. For marmalades, prepare the fruit, cut in small pieces or slices if large fruits are used, and boil in a syrup until the whole mass is of a jelly consistency. It may be put into jelly glasses or pint jars.

NECKWEAR IN GREAT VARIETY

All Kinds of Frills and Laces in Vogue, Many of Them Extremely Expensive.

Dame fashion fairly runs riot in frills and laces this year, after her stern self-denial during war time; and she has concentrated her fancy for frilly and lacy things upon neckwear. Never have neckwear counters been so irresistible as now. You approach one with the intention of buying a new necktie for 50 cents or so—and come away with several enchanting collar and cuff sets, a simply not-to-be-resisted waistcoat and ten yards of fluffy ruffling in various widths for the beautifying of summer frocks. Beware of the neckwear counter, this season, if you have sternly determined not to spend an extra cent for fripperies.

Of course, neckwear is a frippery—any woman will admit that, but no other frippery in dress counts for so much in smartness and daintiness. Considerable style may be given to the simplest little dress, as every woman well knows, by a very good looking collar-and-cuff set, and very often the accessories cost more than the whole frock.

For neckwear is by no means cheap this season. Indeed some of it—the very prettiest and most tempting things—are appallingly expensive. One must pay for dainty little real lace edgings and insertions, and hand embroideries on filmy fabric, and finely run shirrings in net. These things are sound to be more expensive than pique or cotton gaberdine collar and cuff sets finished with a simple row of machine stitching. But how much lovelier are the filmy, frilly neck-fixings! No wonder woman cannot resist them! There is one joy about it—many of these enticing things can be manufactured at home if one has patience and exquisite skill with the needle. It will take time to fashion a fichu, all tiny hand-tucks and rows of shirred puffing and narrow lace, and when you have finished your labor you will understand why these pretty trifles cost such discouraging sums at the neckwear counter. It is not the material however, it is never. Yet the material has something to do with it too. Women are much more fastidious about fineness of materials than they used to be. The woman who used to be quite well satisfied with a 50-cent collar and cuff set of white lawn trimmed with imitation Val lace, now picks out a set of filmy handkerchief linen garnished with hand-made filet or Irish crochet—and is willing to pay the price for it.

FARMER LOSES $30,000 IN POLAR ICE SWINDLE

STRANGER TELLS KANSAN THAT SCOOP ON THE NORTH POLE WOULD DROP ICE ON HIS FARM.

MINNEAPOLIS, Dec. 15.—Bewailing the loss of $30,000, Homer Hograth, a farmer of Minneapolis, Kan., applied to Assistant County Attorney Olson here for a warrant for the arrest of Gallileo Gribino, alias Galileo Grubb, alleged participant in the discovery of the North [illegible] moter of the Aurora Borealis Ice Company.

Hograth, a wealthy farmer, owner of half a section [illegible] that last July Gallileo Grubb appeared on his farm [illegible] apparatus similar to that used by surveyors. Grubb made measurements and finally, when on a spot not more than 100 yards from Hograth's back door, Hograth says, the stranger exclaimed: "This is the spot, the very spot." Then, Hograth says, the mysterious stranger introduced himself, and from time to time offered to purchase Hograth's land at a price largely in excess of its valuation, which Hograt declined. Hograth says Grubb finally abandoned the attempt to purchase and agreed, under a pledge of secrecy, to take Hograth into partnership.

Grubb explained that he was an Italian scientist who had accompanied Peary to the North Pole, and that the pole was really a steel projection from the centre of the earth, the fountain head of all electric power and the source of the aurora borealis.

He had invented, he told Hograth, a mighty scoop, to be attached to the pole and to be run by electricity from the pole. In the process of the earth's revolution about its axis, Grubb explained, the scoop would dip into the ice of the Arctic Circle, and as the earth revolved still further the scoop would gradually tip and its icy contents fall to the earth in the exact longitude and latitude of Hograth's farm. He offered to accept the farmer as a partner in his scheme upon the payment of $80,000.

HEAD OFFICE OF THE NEW COMPANY

CHANCE FOR THE BOARD OF TRADE TO GET BUSY.

Is Peterboro doing anything as yet to land the head office of the proposed big amalgamation of cheese factories for this city? As it is intended to form an amalgamation of the cheese factories in the three adjoining counties the head office of the big company will presumably be located somewhere in this district. If so why not in Peterboro? It promises to become a company that will soon do an enormous business and it would appear as though Peterboro's live Board of Trade should be busy on the job.

Indications that the amalgamation is likely to go with a swing were furnished Friday at a meeting held in Picton by the representatives from the cheese factories in that county. The meeting was a representative one, factories in practically all parts of the county being represented, about 70 dairymen being present. The meeting unanimously endorsed the proposed amalgamation and nominated as provisional directors R. W. Ireland of Wellington, president of Cloverdale Factory and Mr. Walter Clark, of Allisonville, the president of Ben Gill Cheese Factory. Both these men are prominent in their respective localities and are the largest milk producers in their factories. Mr. Ireland is the county director of the U. F. O. This enthusiastic endorsement by the dairymen of Prince Edward County, which for years has claimed to have the best cheese factories and to make the best cheese in the province, is going to mean a good deal to the proposed company.

The Speakers.

The principal speakers in Picton Friday were Mr. John Kennedy, Vice-President of the United Grain Growers of Winnipeg, who gave an inspiring account of the success achieved by the United Grain Growers in the export of their grain to Europe and Mr. H. B. Cowan, Editor-in-Chief of Farm and Dairy, Peterboro, who described how it is proposed to effect the amalgamation of the cheese factories in the Central Ontario District. Other speakers included Mr. Jones, Manager of Molson's Bank, Belleville and Messrs M. M. Empey of Napanee and James R. Anderson of Mountain View. These last two men formed part of the delegation that was sent to Western Canada last winter by the Dominion Department of Agriculture to investigate the co-operative farmers' companies on the prairies. Both of them spoke enthusiastically in favor of the proposed company.

Mr. Jones, on behalf of the Molson's Bank made one of the most effective speeches of the day. He said that last winter he had attended a meeting of representatives from the cheese factories in Hastings County (at which the proposed amalgamation had been explained by Mr. Cowan and had listened to the discussion. After he had come out from that meeting he said the conviction struck him just as sharply as though he had been hit by a bayonet in the face that the farmers had got hold of a real big idea and one that was eminently practical. He said he had taken it up with his head office in Montreal, an old established bank that for sixty years had been closely connected with the export trade, and had received assurances from the manager that this bank would be glad to place the benefit of its banking facilities and knowledge of marketing and shipping conditions at the disposal of the proposed farmers' company. He said he could not see any reason why the proposed company should not prove a distinct success, provided the farmers succeeded in engaging capable managers. So unanimous was the meeting in favor of the proposal that one of the dairymen simply asked what form of resolution was required to show their support and said they were ready to pass it. The desired resolution was then outlined by Mr. Cowan and carried unanimously.

A meeting of the provisional directors will be held in Toronto next Friday at which two dairymen from Peterboro County, who are directors will attend. At that meeting arrangements will be made for securing a charter for its proposed company and it is understood that a decision will have to be reached as to where the head office of the company will be. This is why Peterboro should get busy. It is likely that many factories in Peterboro County will join the amalgamation.

GABY DESLYS UNDER KNIFE.

Condition is Critical and Another Operation May Be Necessary.

PARIS, Dec. 15.—Gaby Deslys is in a serious condition following the ninth operation on her throat. The X-ray revealed an aggragated inflammation, and it is feared another operation will be necessary. She has had a high fever since last Friday.

Pilcer, her dancing partner, says the former operations were unsuccessful because Gaby insisted that the surgeons work from the inside of her throat and her mouth so as not to cut and scar her neck. But if another operation is necessary the surgeon will insist on opening her throat from the outside, regradless of the scars.

A well-known admirer has promised to give her a pearl dog collar big enough to hide the marks, even if it costs a million francs.

At once the Court Fool began weeping also, and even when, after lamenting for two whole hours, the Shah dried his tears the Fool continued weeping more violently than ever.

Neas-ed-Din looked at him in astonishment and asked him the cause of his sorrow.

"I wept with reason," he said, "at beholding my ugliness—I, the Lord of so many lands, the master of countless slaves. But I do not understand why you should thus despair."

"If you, my lord," replied the Fool, "wept for two hours after seeing yourself in the mirrow for but an instant, is it not natural that I, who see you all day long, should weep longer than you?"

ASK FRANK BARBER TO MEET BRIDGE COMMITTEE

TO DISCUSS QUESTION OF COMPLETING CONCRETE WORK ON EAST SIDE.

Following Mayor Duncan's explanation of the reason for a special meeting and a statement by Ald. Turner, the Council last night decided to ask Mr. Frank Barber to meet the Special Bridge Committee and discuss the question of finishing about a week's work on the east approach to the bridge that would leave the lumber in the forms available for re-setting on the west side during the winter, preparatory to next spring's operations.

If the pouring of the remaining quantity of cement were not done until spring it would take two months to set and require an additional expenditure for new lumber for the west side forms.

Ald. Turner said he had called the attention of the Mayor to this point, but since then he had somewhat altered his opinion. Mr. Barber had told him that the forms on the east side arches had been made to support a certain weight for the arches. Further supports should have been put in for the side walls. Mr. Barber was not prepared to give permission to proceed with the remaining work on the other side wall because the forms were not up for that amount of work. There was usually a thaw in January, when the forms could be put up and the concrete poured. This would allow plenty of time for the setting of the concrete and the moving of the forms to the west side for spring use.

Ald. Crowe said he thought Mr. Barber had an engineer on the job, and if that were the case, how, he asked, could one side wall have been put up unknown to him?

"I hope next year's Council will see that Mr. Barber is on the job or that he put a man there in his place," commented Mayor Duncan.

Ald. Phelan stated that Mr. Barber was advised by Mr. Christie of everything that was done on the bridge.

Ald. Edgar moved the motion, seconded by Ald. Turner, that Mr. Barber be asked to meet the Bridge Committee with regard to the completion of the week's work on the remaining side wall.

It was also decided to let the question of the finishing of the bridge pass over to the new Council.

THE FIRST GUN IN THE LEGAL BATTLE

(Special to the Examiner)

TORONTO, Dec. 16.—The first gun in the legal battle over compulsory vaccination will be fired at Osgoode Hall on Thursday morning by Major H. M. Mowatt, K.C., M.P., Counsel for the Provincial Board of Health. Although an ordinary seven days notice is required, Mr. Justice Kelly has given Major Mowatt special leave to proceed two days hence with his motion for a peremptory order of Mandamus directing the City Council effectively to order the vaccination or revaccination of persons residing in this city who have not been vaccinated within seven years, and to issue a proclamation by posters to that effect.

A LONG HOLIDAY FOR THE FIREMEN

Peterborough has been blessed during the last week or two of cold weather in not having many fires. During the last two weeks the firemen have only had to answer a couple of calls, and most of these were chimney fires. Peterborough may well be thankful that during the past year there have not been many large fires.

THE TORONTO FAT STOCK SHOW A SUCCESS

The Toronto Fat Stock Show scored a notable success when new high records for practically all classes of live stock were made at the Union Yards.

The greatest interest, of course, centred around the sale of "Black Hector," the grand champion, sold under the hammer to the H. P. Kennedy, Limited, at 75c per lb., live weight, and realizing nearly $1,000 in hard cash.

Mr. Kennedy stated that this splendid animal will go forward overseas with a big shipment of high-class cattle, three or four loads of them prize-winners. The champion steer will be used as an object-lesson and shown in various parts of Great Britain and later turned over to the company's representative there and sold, the funds to be given to some charitable movement.

1st prize hogs sold at $50.00 per cwt, winning the United Farmers Co-operative Co., Limited special price. The exhibit was fine and big prices were obtained all round.

PUT BAN ON FLIRTING.

LONDON, England.—The following notice is displayed in a men's hostel attached to one of the Bangor colleges:

"No member is allowed to hold or to attempt to hold any conversation with any of the opposite sex. No member is allowed to be in the company of any girl or woman within the walls of the college. To give or to attempt to give the 'glad eye' or by any means or sign whatever to attract the attention of the opposite sex is strictly forbidden. Members of our league who transgress any of the above rules will be brought before the president, and, if found guilty, will be fined 12 cents for each offence."

FROM A CHILD WAS CONSTIPATED

According to the best medical authorities, fully three fourths of the people of the civilized world suffer in some form from costiveness or irregular action of the bowels. There is no doubt that many distressing diseases are caused by constipation. It gives rise to sick and bilious headaches, jaundice, heartburn, floating specks before the eyes, catarrh of the stomach, biliousness and the painful, troublesome piles. Therefore it is of supreme importance to health that the bowels be kept regular. Simple food, fruit, etc., should be used and rich food and stimulants of all kinds avoided. This with the use of Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills to regulate and establish healthy action of the bowels cannot fail to give permanent relief in the most obstinate cases.

Mrs. Letitia Wainman, Orillia, Ont., writes: "From a child I was always very badly constipated and I can well remember when quite young my mother giving me senna tea nearly every morning and I got to dread it. After taking Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills for a while I am not troubled with constipation any more."

Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills are 25c a vial at all dealers or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

COSTS DRIVER $2.00 TO FIND HALF DOLLAR

"That's a hot one, Judge. It costs me $1.50 to pick up 50 cents," said Albert Johnson, express wagon driver of No. 210 West 63d street, to Magistrate House in Traffic Court, after the latter had fined him $2 on a charge of obstructing traffic at Broadway and 91st street.

"Your Honor," said Johnson, "I plead guilty to obstructing traffic, with an explanation. I was driving along Broadway and when at 91st street I saw something shiny in the street. It was a 50-cent piece. So I stopped and picked the half dollar up."

"I'm sorry," said the magistrate, "but I'll have to fine you $2."

JOHN D. PROTESTS HIS TAXES TOO HIGH

Rockefeller Says He is Paying on N.Y. Property Which Does Not Exist.

NEW YORK,—John D. Rockefeller, senior, has protested against his New York tax assessment of $5,000,000, it was learned here. This is the second time that Mr. Rockefeller has objected to paying his personal assessment, and in the present instance he claims that he has been making a gift to the city of taxes on $3,000,000 for some years. Under the administration of Mayor Mitchel, Mr. Rockefeller's personal assessment was raised to $10,000,000. At that time he swore that his assessable holdings in the city did not exceed $2,000,000, but agreed to pay an assessment on $5,000,000.

The Rockefeller attorneys informed the tox board that Mr. Rockefeller no longer cares to make a gift to the city of taxes on $3,000,000 of property which he does not possess.

MILK'S PRICE MAKES FATHER ABANDON CHILD.

NEW YORK. — The high price of milk was responsible for a seven-month-old baby being abandoned by its father in the Grand Central Station, according to a note found in the youngster's hat by the police.

"Can't afford him on the price of milk they are charging to-day," said the note. "There are others I am trying to support."

The infant was turned over to the police by a man who said another man had asked him "to hold the baby until he came back."

To Eat or Not to Eat

Dyspeptics Often Face This Problem Three Times Daily — Not So If They Once Get Acquainted With Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets.

Indigestion, with gas, sour risings, belching of wind, feeling as of a lump of lead in the stomach and such distresses make one ponder as to the advisability of starving. But that is a wrong method. A better and safer plan is to be regular at meals, eat what is served or what is tastiest, and follow the meal with a Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablet. It is a bad practice for most people to go against nature by depriving the system of what it must have,—food, to keep going. Once you learn how you may eat without stint or fear by using Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, there is little likelihood of your ever joining either that mournful band of starvationists or any other disjointed and out-of-tune company. Get a box of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets at any drug store in the United States and Canada and thus eat and be merry.

WEDS MAN HER KICK SAVED.

English Land-Girl Booted Bull Which Was Goring Farmer.

DICKFIELD, England. — Peggy Fisher, the young land-girl who recently saved the life of a young farmer who was being gored by an infuriated bull, is now the wife of the man she rescued. Peggy kicked the bull with such force in the head that he ceased his attack long enough for the farmer to escape. The Land Distinguished Service bar was awarded to the woman.

Other land-girls, as the English girl farmers are called, have shown their pluck in many ways, and six more Distinguished Service bars have recently been awarded. Miss Chapman of Essex stopped a runaway horse which had bolted with a load of hay. Miss F. E. Henlay swam a river and roped a stranded cow on a mudband in mid-stream and brought it to the bank. Miss A. Bohills and Miss M. Harrison extricated sixteen head of cattle which were buried under the roof of a shed which had collapsed under the weight of a heavy snow.

ANOTHER BALDPATE KEY

NEW YORK, —If the discovery of Miss Louise Gunther, superintendent of the North Hudson Hospital, Weehawken, N.J., proves as successful as she is confident it will, there will be no need for anyone in future going about minus foliage embellishment on his summit. Miss Gunther said she had hit upon the liquid that will grow a covering on a pate even as naked as truth. It is nothing other than iodine.

When Rudolph Thomas, 14, was admitted to the hospital as a result of an automobile accident, the superintendent noticed his head was as denuded as a cue ball. The boy explained he had brain fever when he was five years old, and his hair fell out.

Miss Gunther decidied to experiment with a 10 per cent. solution of iodine, because of its counter-irritant qualities. In a short time, she said, Rudolph's hair began to grow, until now he has a flowing top of jet black hair.

MUNICIPALITIES APPROVE HYDRO RADIAL.

On November 22 the towns of Bowmanville and Oshawa and the townships of Scarborough and East Whitby, carried, by large majorities, by-laws favorable to the Hydro-Electric Power Commission of Ontario taking over from the Dominion government the Toronto Eastern Railway as part of the proposed radial line running east from Toronto. Seven of the ten municipalities interested in the taking over of the Toronto Eastern Railway by the people's commission have now voted favorably. Pickering and West Whitby townships and Whitby town voted on the by-laws recently, and signified their willingness to enter into joint ownership of the road. Three other municipalities have still to vote, as follows: Darlington township, December 18; York township, January 1; and Toronto, about January 1.

MRS. MORRIS TO BE A CANDIDATE

MOTHERS AND TEACHERS WANT REPRESENTATIVE OF THEIR OWN.

Mrs. W .R. Morris authorizes the statement that she will be a candidate for the Board of Education again this year.

The mothers and women teachers of the city should have one or two representatives of their own sex on a Board entrusted with the moral, mental, and physical care of the children and young people.

The large vote polled by Mrs. Morris last year, proved that many electors are alive to the fact that the woman's point of view, as well as the man's, is desirable on the School Board. This opinion has steadily grown during the past year, and the friends of the movement to place a woman on the School Board will welcome the news that Mrs. Morris is again a candidate.

EXPECTS 75 FARMERS IN NEXT PARLIAMENT

KENTVILLE, N.S., Dec. 15.—T. A. Crerar, formerly Minister of Agriculture in the Union Government, before a big meeting of the farmers here Saturday launched a campaign for a Dominion-wide contest by the Farmers for control of the next Federal Parliament. George F. Chipman, who divided the time with Mr. Crerar, said he was confident the Farmers would have seventy-five members in the House of Commons after the next general elections, and he felt he was putting the estimate low. Hon. Mr. Crerar and Mr. Shipman each spoke for an hour.

MAYOR APPOINTS NEW COMMISSIONERS

CITY PLAN AND DEVELOPMENT COMMISSION ONE OF HIS LAST OFFICIAL ACTS.

Mayor Duncan announced the personnel of the City Development Commission last night as follows:—Ryerson Ritchie, Dr. Harvey, W. R. Breyfogle, Ald. John Edgar and Roy H. Parsons city engineer. The Commission may add to its number if it so desires, His Worship said, and next year's Mayor may also be a member.

The Commission has a wide scope for the enthusiasm manifested by the Board of Trade's special committee that urged its establishment, but its powers are limited, and its chief service will probably be in an advisory capacity to the Council.

Mrs. Murray had lived for years at Bobcaygeon before moving to Toronto.

BOY PRISONER BAFFLES ALL EFFORTS OF COURT

For more than three months the county authorities have had under lock and key a 14-year-old boy, who has persistently refused to divulge his name or where he belongs.

When asked to disclose his name he invariably makes the same answer, "Call me John Henry. That's good enough." And for three months he has been known as John Henry. He was arrested for 'loafing.'

INTERVIEW WITH MR. BURNHAM

"I see, Mr. Burnham, that you had a pretty lively article in the Globe of Thursday. What do you think of things?" Mr. Burnham was asked.

You mean political things I suppose, and particularly the Farmer-Labor combination? replied Mr. Burnham. If I were a farmer or a Labor man I would stick to the combination. The farmers is blamed, and Labor is blamed, for the trickery of those who "toil not, neither do they spin," for the speculation and peculation which is practised in Canada as elsewhere. Those who do toil and spin are tired of all this bluff. The speculator and the peculator try deliberately to confuse the issue so as to hide their humbug. The late G.T.R. performance at Ottawa was the barest-faced performance in Ottawa was the barest-faced performance I ever saw. The sharpers ran the farmer and Labor and the Globe into the trap of public ownership and then bled them white. If they couldn't see they could feel, and the Farm and Labor have got vexed and are changing things. Meanwhile the industrial employer will suffer for the sins of others. But in the end the sharper and the shark will be put out of business—for a time. I say for a time because all dishonest men began as honest men, only the temptation proved too great. That is why it is safe to change sometimes, if for no other reason. Most of this talk about hide-bound partyism is utter nonsense. No member will answer the crack of the party or government whip unless nt answers the crack of his whip. Do not run away with the ideas of people who have never been even in the gallery of Parliament. Just let me tell you one thing and pay attention to it. The goverpment lives b reason of the support of the members, and when it does as they say it stays there, and when it does not it "gets out." That is the real truth of all this cry of blind partyism."

BAD COLD LEFT HIM WITH BRONCHITIS

However slight a cold you have you should never neglect it; if you do it can have but one result. It leaves the throat or lungs, or both, affected.

Bronchitis is one of the most common affections of a neglected cold, and neglected bronchitis the most general cause of consumption.

Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup is just the remedy you require to cure the bronchitis. It does this by loosening the phlegm and mucous, and stimulates the weakened bronchial organs, allays irritation and subdues inflammation, soothes and heals the irritated parts and thus prevents it becoming chronic.

Mr. R. P. Sundblad, Francis, Sask., writes:—"I had a very bad cold which left me with bronchitis. I tried several cough remedies and oils of all kinds, but they all failed. At last I got Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup and after using two bottles I have never had a sign of bronchitis since. I therefore can honestly recommend it for coughs and colds."

Don't accept a substitute for Dr. Wood's. The genuine is put up in a yellow wrapper; 3 pine trees the trade mark; price 25c and 50c. Manufactured by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

TOURIST TRADE ON THE TRENT CANAL

...TOR BENNETT ADDRESSES ORILLIA MEETING, TELLING OF BENEFITS TO COME.

...ILLIA, Dec. 15.—Senator W. ...Bennett, of iMdland addressed a ...ial meeting of the Board of ...de here last evening on the wonful possibilities of the Trent Valwaterway as ascenic route for ...rican tourists, once it is opened ... Lake Ontario to the Georgian ..., as it will be next year. The ...ting was held in the Y.M.C.A. ...ling and the meal was served by ... Y.M.C.A. Ladies Auxiliary. ... one hundred Orillia business ... were present, and the Senator's ...ess was received with a good ... of enthusiasm.

...nator Bennet ttouched briefly ...his history of the Trent Valley ...d and showed that while it had ... commercial value locally there ... a future for it in attracting ...rican tourists that few people ... dreamed of. A. P. Cockburn and ... founders of the Muskoka tour...rade had been laughed at when ... laid the foundations in the ...ies, but last year there were 75,... visitors in Muskoka. He showed ... the Trent Valley waterway has ...eater potentiality than can ever ...ossible in Muskoka, because of ...Americans can come in their own ... motor-boats from New York or even Detroit.

The last lock on the canal now being constructed at the outlet of Lake Couchiching will be completed next year, and Senator Bennett urged Orillia to make the most of the occassion by attractive literature and other wise in inviting the American tourists to take a trip ove rthe Trent Valley waterway.

Brief speeches were also made by Mr. C. C. Holland, President of the Chamber of Commerce at Collinsville, Indiana; Mr. L. Fraser, Secretary of the Board of Trade, Peterboro', and Mr. Warwick of Penetanguishene. The chair was occupied by Mr. W. W. McBain, the board's acting President.

OLD KING ALCOHOL

"No sooner has King Alcohol gone out of the back door as a beverage than he enters the front door in triumph as a fuel.

"That at least seems a reasonable interpretation of recent expert utterances on the subject, including the pronouncement of a number of world famous chemists who attended a scientific congress recently in New York City,' says a bulletin from the Washington headquarters of the National Geographic Society.

Why Mother Necessity is giving birth to this new brain-child of invention is related in a communication to The Society by Dr. Alexander Graham Bell, as follows:

"There is one obstacle to further advance in mechanical development, in the increasing cost of the fuel necessary to work machinery. Coal and oil are going up and are strictly limited in quantity. We can take coal out of a mine but we can never put it back. We can draw oil from subterranean reservoirs but we can never refill them again. We are spendthrifts in the matter of fuel and are using our capital for our running expenses.

"In relation to coal and oil, the world's annual consumption has become so enormous that we are now actually within measureable distance of the end of the supply. What shall we do when we have no more coal or oil?

"Apart from water power (which is strictly limited) and tidal and wave power (which we have not yet learned to utilize) and the employment of the sun's rays directly as a source of power, we have little left, excepting wood, and it takes at least twenty five years to grow a crop of trees.

"There is, however, one other source of fuel supply which may perhaps solve this problem of the future. Alcohol makes a beautiful clean and efficient fuel and where not intended for consumption by human beings can be manufactured very cheaply in an indigestible or even poisonous form. Wood alcohol, for example, can be employed as a fuel, and we can make alcohol from sawdust, a waste product of our mills.

"Alcohol can also be manufactured from corn stalks and in fact from almost any vegetable matter capable of fermentation. Our growing crops and even weeds can be used. The waste products from our farms are available for this purpose and even the garbage from our cities. We need never fear the exhaustion of our present fuel supplies so long as we can produce an annual crop of alcohol to any extent desired.

"The world will probably depend upon alcohol more and more as time goes on and a great deal of usefulness is opening up for the engineer who will modify our machinery to enable alcohol to be used as the source of power."

RANEY WILL RUN IN NORTH VICTORIA

(Special to The Examiner.)

TORONTO, Dec. 15.—It is officially anounced to-day that the Hon. W. E. Raney, Attorney-General, will seek election in North Victoria.

ENTERTAINMENT FOR PROTESTANT HOME.

A number of young people of Park Street Baptist Church Young People's Union met at the Protestant Home last evening and put on an enjoyable programme, consisting of solos, vocal, violin and piano, duets, violin and piano, readings, recitations. Finally a quintette of returned soldiers sang several choruses, with Mr. Neil Porter at the piano. This was much enjoyed, after which refreshments were served. "Auld Lang Syne" and God Save the King were sung by all present.

The Superintendent, on behalf of the inmates, wishes to express their thanks for the pleasant evening.

CHURCHYARD AS PLAYGROUND.

LONDON, Eng.—"I draw the line at cricket and football in the churchyard," the Rev. J. M. C. Crum, rector of Farnham, Surrey, told a meeting of parishioners, "but I don't stop them skipping on the flat gravestones. If I had a grave there, I would just as soon have little children over it as geraniums."

TO CLEAN A MIRROR.

Few people really know the delight of an absolutely clean mirror. Any attempts to clean the glass with soap and water usually result in a smeared effect that is very unsatisfactory. Here is a plan by means of which the mirror may be brought up to the highest state of brilliancy. Secure a very soft sponge and see that this is perfectly clean. Then dip it in a little methylated spirits and rub gently over the glass. Now dust the surface with some very fine whitening or better still precipitated chalk. Leave for a moment and then wipe the glass with a dry cloth. Next take another cloth—the softer this is the better—and it is important that it should be clean. Rub the glass briskly and quite soon a fine polish will result. A still more effective way is to do the final polishing with a silk handkerchief. In the case of a very large mirror it is a good plan to do the work in sections, as it is important to dust over the whitening or chalk while the galss is still moisten-

NOTES AND GOSSIP ON CIVIC ELECTIONS

Mayor Will be Host.

Mayor Duncan's luncheon to the members of the Council and other citizens will be held at Hooper's tea rooms on Wednesday at 6.30 p.m.

Like the "Ten Little Injuns"

The general spirit of discontent that demanded last year "new blood" in the Council should be satisfied with the sweeping change that has visited the City hall and promises to complete the displacements at the January elections. Familiar faces have suddenly faded out of the municipal picture. Veterans in aldermanic service were sacrificed last New Year's and when another January shakes off the festive spirit the old guard will be only a memory to be revived at times by their pictures in the Committee room.

By way of illustrating the extent of the revolution in the aldermanic household the 1918 Council is recalled as follows:— Mayor Duncan, Aldermen Jones, Malcolm McIntyre, Wm. Langford, A. A. McIntyre, Edgar Worth, F. H. Dobbin, Jos. Saunders, Arch. Weir, John Edgar and W. H. Taylor.

The Labour campaign scared off some of these aldermen and rolled over others. Those who answered the roll call last January were the Mayor and Aldermen McIntyre, Edgar and Taylor.

This year Mayor Duncan's term expires. He has already taken leave of his associates. Ald. Edgar is retiring. His interest in municipal affairs will probably be confined to the new and ambitious City Development Commission. This leaves only Aldermen Taylor and McIntyre, the embattled mayoralty candidates, to form a link with the past. And one of them is destined for the discard.

Whether all this house-cleaning has been for Peterboro's benefit and advancement time alone will decide. The responsibility rests not so much upon the Aldermen as upon the electors who entrust them with the administration of a community effort capitalized at millions. And the work is expected to be carried on for nothing.

The first year of the new decade promises a fresh effort and starting point, for this city as for the whole of Canada, and whoever the new Mayor and Aldermen may be they should have abiding and active cooperation from every citizen, nearly all of whom seem to regard their duty fully performed in the polling booths on New Years'.

Would Instruct Citizens

That the ratepayers should be reminded that they must vote for four and may vote for five of the aldermanic candidates was Ald. Phelan's idea which was finally embodied in a motion seconded by Ald. Edgar last night. "There's not enough publicity in regard to the voting and the ballots", said Ald. Phelan. It is understood that some arrangements will be made to carry out the intentions of the motion.

HEALTH OFFICER MAY USE DRASTIC MEASURES

According to a report received here there are quite a number of cases of smallpox at Bobcaygeon and also around Fenelon Falls. The Post was informed to-day that Dr. Clinton, District Health Officer of Provincial Board of Health, has been in that section and promised to take drastic action if vaccination and satisfactory quarantine regulations were not carried out.

CURLING

First Game This Afternoon

The first curling of the season was played in a few ends this afternoon by George Stevenson, Herb Hair, Jimmy Metheral and George Hall. They opened the season on Nov. 6. The ice was apparently in fine condition. Both 6 and 7 have been marked off with the purple pencil and are striped for action.

Angus McIntosh has certainly made ice in a hurry since yesterday morning. The centre is well built up and was being mapped, out for three rinks this afternoon. The west side is ready for the finishing touches of removing a few rough spots that cropped up in the frequent flooding by which full advantage was taken of the keen frost.

BIG TURNOUT AT THE INITIAL HOCKEY PRACTICE

It was a lively squad that climbed over the railing at Brock street rink last night for the first practice of the Peterborough intermediate O. H. A. team, the practice being about the best initial work-out that has been seen in years. There were enough out for two teams, and a half hour's game was played at a pace that was unusually fast for so early in the season. There is plenty of material, there will be keen competition all along the line for places, and the team committee will have their work cut out for them to make the selections. A notable feature was that of the big squad in uniform, all but a couple learned their hockey in Peterborough, graduating from the Junior O. H.A. ranks. Among those out were Goalkeepers Legros and Murray, Grover Halpin, Walter Jackson, Ray Rose and Cliff Lowes of last year's intermediates, Roy Cherrett, Harold Frost and "Micky" Williams, of last year's juniors, Yornie Rose, former Peterborough junior who returned from overseas last summer, and since playing in Peterborough was with the Sarnia and London teams, Harry Thornton, who was a member of the famous 247th team three seasons ago, Pete Thornton who, before going overseas in 1915, played on the champion Orillia juniors, Leith Bartley, of the 1917-18 juniors, and Frank Barrie, another former local junior who returned from overseas since last winter. Jerry Coughlin was in uniform and kept the squad moving all the way. The players showed good form for the first practice, Lornie Rose especially catching the eye of the railbirds by his skating and stick-handling. The interest in hockey is shown by the fact that several hundrd fans were on hand to see the practice.

The ice was in great shape.

There will be another practice tomorrow (Wednesday) night, between 7 and 8 o'clock.

Among the spectators at last night's workout was Joe Dwyer, former Peterborough goalkeeper.

Roy Cherrett, although still eligible for the junior ranks this season, is a candidate for the intermediate team. He has been a member of the local juniors for four seasons, playing in the O.H.A. for the first time when fifteen years old.

Trainers Gene Hurtubise and Ed. Dillon were on the job last night. A Peterborough hockey dressing room without this pair would not look natural.

JESS WILLARD GETTING TOO MUCH MUCH OUT OF CORDWOOD

KANSAS CITY, Mo, —A federal warrant charging profiteering in the sale of cordwood, a violation of the Lever Act, the former heavy weight champion, by Fred Robertson United States District Attorney for Kansas, Willard will appear before O. Q. Claflin, jr., United States Commissioner, in the federal court in Kansas City, Kansas, tomorrow, Mr. Robertson said, Willard, who was at his home near Lawrence, Kas. when notified by telephone of the federal action, said that he would appear voluntarily tormorrow to answer the charge. The warrant names W. O. Anderson and J. E. Wilson, members of a fuel committee of Topeka, Kas., as having purchased cordwood from Willard. It is alleged that Willard asked and received $13.50 a cord for wood on the stump from his farm near Topeka. That amount the district attorney asserts, is double what it should have been. Attorney-General Palmer has been notified of the action taken, Mr. Robertson said.

MUSIC AND DRAMA

Adventure, love and a strong current of human interest combine to make "The Wilderness Trail" the feature photoplay at the Grand a most absorbing picture, the staging of which is set in the snow fields of Canada. Tom Mix, the leading man in the picture, won new laurels for himself with the audience which attended the Grand last evening. Fatty Arbuckle who appears in the Cop is, if possible, funnier than ever, and kept the audience in screams of laughter, while the news features were well up to the usual high standard. It is a good programme and warrants a larger audience than was present last evening.

CANCEL EXPORT OF PAPER MILLS?

OTTAWA, Dec. 15.—The Governor in Council by an order passed on Saturday last has empowered R. A. Pringle, Paper Controller for the Dominion, to prohibit the export of the output of any newsprint manufacturingconcern which disregard or violates the Controller's regulations as to price or supply to Canadian newspapers.

Of the 800,000 tons of newsprint annually produced by the Canadian mills from Canadian pulp, from 80 to 85 per cent. has been exported in the past. The remainder has been sufficient to meet the demands of the Canadian publishers. In connection with this the Paper Controller has fixed the prices.

As a result of the paper famine in the United States and the fact that there is no longer a fixed price there, Canadian mills have shown, it is said, an inclination to disregard the regulation and to export their output to its full extent.

Mr. Pringle has now been empowered to advise customs officials on the border to ban the export of paper from any company which disregards these regulations.

Voice Of The People

To the Editor of The Examiner:

Dear Sir,—May I refer to a rather amusing letter in your issue of yesterday, The writer, who signs himself "In Anticipation," brings forward the argument that because there are undoubtedly excess in certain forms of food and drink, apart from those of alcoholic content, that therefore all food and drink should, logically, be prohibited. This brilliant line of thought is not by any means new, and is a favorite one with the liquor forces. In the words of Alexander Pope, they would like to—

"Compound for sins they are inclined to,
By damning others that they have no minds to."

But, Mr. Editor, when I see a man who has had a good earning capacity, brought to poverty and distress in his old age because of his indulgence in tea—when I see him beating his wife and children and turning them out in the snow, while under the influence of coffee—when I seem him infuriated to the point of recklessness by cocoa, stabbing or shooting his fellow-man. When, indeed, I see him so demoralized by a diet of potatoes that he forgets all the obligations of honor and manhood, I may agree with your correspondent. Until then, I am happy to belong to the large and enlightened class of persons who voted to make this country safe for women and children and peaceful, law-abiding citizens, and am certainly a—

DECLARES GIRLS BARTERED LIKE CATTLE AT THE FAIR

DUBLIN, Dec. 15.—Proposals that the Dail Eireann, or Irish Parliament set aside a sum equivalent to $1,500,000 as a state subsidy to enable young men to marry, has been made here. The idea was suggested by Frank H. O'Donnell to the Irish Women's Franchise League. O'Donnell criticized what h. called "barter marriages" in Ireland. He said he knew of girls of 19 years who were brought into the nearest town on a Fair day and taken to a public house to meet men whom they had never seen before, but who were to be their husbands. The girls, he declared, were bartered like cattle at the Fair, while their fathers and friends were drinking.

FASHION RUINS HEALTH, WOMAN DOCTOR SAYS.

NEW YORK.—Having made public her intention to institute a campaign for the reform of women's clothes as worn in New York, Dr. Florence L. Meredith, of the Y. W. C. A. Health Demonstration Centre, has left for Boston, where, she says, "Thank God the girls have too much sense to daub their faces and half the women are going unlaced."

"Modern fashions are ruining the health of the women of New York," she said. "Short vamped shoes with high heels are breaking down their arches. The New York girl doesn't walk. She wiggles. Kalsomined faces hide pasty complexions, sleezy near-silk stockings invite pneumonia in competition with her low cut waists, and ironclad corsets restrict long action."

WORK OF LOCAL DENTAL CLINIC

RETURNED SOLDIERS TREATED AT RATE OF FROM FOUR TO SIX A DAY.

Since the opening of the Dental Clinic in the Armouries approximately three hundred and fifty of the five thousand men in the military district, Peterboro embraces, have received treatment. Captain J. L. L. McLean, the officer in charge said that the patients number from four to six a day.

With two exceptions every man who has undergone treatment at the clinic has previously received attention from the Army Clinic in either France, Canada or England.

Expensive Work.

While the Dental Corps is a department of the army which has received its share of knocks Captain McLean is most emphatic in his denials of charges of more or less casual work. Men have received dental attention at the Armouries absolutely free attention which would have cost them in the regular way $30 to $70 and varying from the filling of the smallest cavity to a total new set of teeth. He quoted the instance in which the London Times after seeing the work done by the C.A.D.C. attacked the style of dental work done by the dental surgeons in England.

Cut Down the Staff

Notwithstanding the fact that the present staff of four officers and three men of other ranks are kept constantly busy at the Armouries handling an average of seventeen new patients a week the staff is to be cut down presently to two officers and one man of lesser rank. Discharged soldiers are anxious to take advantage of the free work done at the Clinic and as long as they are unemployed do so but directly they obtain positions they do not find it convenient.

VETERANS WANT CANTEEN MONEY FOR SCHOLARSHIP FUND

There was not a quorum present for the regular meeting of the Great War Veterans' Association last night, and an adjournment was made. Later in the evening, however, an emergency meeting was held, and the following resolution was passed, on motions of Comrades Milby and Muir:

"Resolved, that whereas it having come to our knowledge that a sum of money amounting to about three million dollars, will be allotted to Canada as the Canadian soldiers' share of the profits obtained by the Navy and Army Canteen Board during the war, and an agitation has arisen in London, England, to have this money spent in building and endowing a club-house in London, to be known as the G. W. V. A. Club, London, England.

"We, the members of the Peterborough Branch, G. W. V. A., do hereby resolve that the Canadian Government be respectfully requested to obtain, invest and place under suitable trusteeship the above-mentioned moneys. If invested in long term Victory Loan, the income will amount to about $150,000 per annum, the above mentioned income to be expended for the benefit of C.E.F. soldiers' children only, as follows:

"200 Scholarships in any university in Canada for a period of four years' duration, value $700 per annum, 50 of which will be competed for every year, these scholarships to be allocated to the military districts on a Canadian expeditionary force per capita basis, and confined to C.E.F. soldiers' children only for a period of 25 years. At the expiration of 25 years, these scholarships to be thrown open to the children of all Canadian citizens.

"The children of enemy aliens to be debarred from participating in the above-mentioned scholahships for a total period of 50 years.

"These scholarships to be known for all time as the Great War Memorial Scholarships."

A copy of this resolution to be forwarded to all branches of the G. W. V. A., and to the G.A.C., Toronto, and the Original Club, Toronto.

FIND BANKER'S WIFE SHOT DEAD IN HOME

Coroner's Jury Says Murder—Sensational Developments are Expected.

CALGARY, Dec. 16.—Mystery surrounds the death at Medicine Hat of Mrs. W. D. Hawke, wife of the accountant of the Bank of Commerce who died from the effects of revolver shots fired by some unknown person Friday afternoon.

Burglary was at first attributed, but from hints dropped by the Medicine Hat police there is something more mysterious. Mrs. Hawke was in the house alone Friday afternoon. She had been sick for some time. The postman found her lying shot through the leg and breast. She died in the hospital that evening. The Coroner's jury returned an open verdict of murder by the hands of unknown persons. No arrests have been made.

The woman was a well-known Medicine Hat lady, and had been married but six months. There was no money to speak of in the house. The police will not state their suspicions in the case, but sensations may develop within the next few days.

TWO BRICKLAYERS INJURED BY FALL AT AUBURN MILLS

George Hitchins, 202 Wolfe street, and S. Parkes, 22 McGill street, bricklayers employed by Mr. J. J. Hartley in the construction of the new factory building at the Auburn plant of the Canadian Woollens Limited, were injured this afternoon about two o'clock when the scaffold on which they were working collapsed beneath them. They were working together on the wall which they were erecting about fifteen feet from the ground. It was reported that neither was seriously hurt. Both men weer taken to their homes in Comstock's ambulance.

NEW YORK STOCK MARKETS

(United Press.)

NEW YORK, Dec. 16.—Leading issues, with the exception of railroad stocks, were higher at the Stock Market opening to-day.

Transcontinental Oil opened at 39 up 7-8, U. S. Steel 102 5-8 up 1-4, Republic 106 7-8 up 1 1-8, General Motors 318 up 1-2, Pierce-Arrow 76 1-2 up 1, Sinclair 41 3-4 unchanged, Mexican Petroleum 190 up 1 1-2, and International Paper 76 1-4 up 3-4.

Southern Pacific opened at 99 58 off 1-8, New York Central 67 5-8 off 5-8, and Bando at 28 1-8 off 3-8.

General Motors and some of the oils were inclined to make better prices. Transcontinental, however, sold down to 35½. The market continued to work toward a higher level into the second hour. Republic bettered its earlier high by more than a point. U. S. Rubber sold above 123 and Baldwin above 106. Transcontinental Oil made a new low on the decline close to 36.

After early uncertainty, the whole list moved forward around 10.30. Republic Steel made an early high above 108. Steel Common reached above 103. General Motors was up 7 from the previous close. Southern Pacific sold above par.

RAID IN MONTREAL.

Special to the Examiner:

MONTREAL, Que., Dec. 16.—An extraordinary overnight rise to 15 points from yesterday's close of to 255 to a new high of 270 was the spectacular performance of Laurentide, which took the market's breath away this morning. Trading practically halted in other issues, while brokers and traders watched the Laurentide pyrotechnics or endeavoured to take advantage of them. Such a phenomenal advance naturally brought a rush of profit-taking the moment it was noticed, and the price was borne backwards to 288½ by the heavy offerings in the first twenty minutes. Nothing but the old story of the approaching division of the stock and issue of new stock on a 3 to 1 basis could be found to account for the sudden rise, but the bulls on Laurentide insisted this was just a start on its way to 300.

WEDDING BELLS

RIDYARD—KINGSHOTT.

A pretty wedding was solemnised on Saturday, 13th December, at Trinity Methodist Church, when Dorothy, the third daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kingshott, Haslemere, Surrey, England, became the bride of John W. eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. S. J. Ridyard. The bride was given away by the groom's father, wore a dress of save blue silk Georgette, with hat to match, and carried a bouquet of white carnations. The groom was supported by his cousin, James R. McDonald.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. F. E. Mallot. Mr. George H. King played the wedding march, and during the signing of the register played selections.

Upon their return they will reside at 463 Albert Street.

The presents were numerous and costly.

POLITICAL SPECULATION

(Canadian Press.)

OTTAWA, Dec. 16. — How and when the successor to Sir Robert Borden will be chosen is still undetermined. The Premier himself, although he declines to make any official statement, it is understood is taking no active part in the arrangements. The strong wing of the party apparently favours the idea of calling a parliamentary caucus to choose a successor. That this course has not been formally decided is evident from discussion of the situation with members of the government at present in Ottawa. Hon. J. A. Calder, Minister of Immigration, has been prominently suggested.

The proposal to nominate a leader of the Unionist forces who will succeed Sir Robert Borden as Prime Minister either at a caucus made up of the ministerial following in the House of Commons and the Senate or at a party convention, is causing considerable speculation. If the plan to have the Unionist gathering is proceeded with, Sir Robert will still be Premier and Unionist leader when the caucus is held and must continue to be leader until he has placed his resignation in the hands of the Governor-General. An authority on public affairs, discussing the situation to-day, expresed the view that the caucus or convention under the circumstances could get around the seeming complication by indicating its preference in the matter of leadership and first choice of the caucus would be the man recommended by Sir Robert to His Excellency as the person who should be entrusted with the task of forming a new government.

DON'T NEGLECT A COLD IN THE HEAD

IT MAY LEAD TO INFLUENZA OR OTHER SERIOUS ILLNESS.

Never neglect a cold in the head. It is a trouble so common that we are apt to treat it as of little consequence. But it is only a step from a cold to Grippe and the possibility of acute trouble in the throat—pleurisy—pneumonia—is always there if it is neglected.

This year there is a special danger as 'flu is about and the first symptoms of this disease are similar to a cold in the head. So don't, under any circumstances, neglect a cold.

In its early stages a cold yields quickly to proper treatment. Grip Fix, a combination of the drugs which relieves the system in such cases, gives remarkable results. It relieves a cold in a night and even Grippe yields to it in 48 hours.

There is nothing in Grip Fix but that would be approved by your family physician, and the ingredients are stated on each box. It comes in capsule form and is a safe preparation for use in the home. Its action keeps the system open to throw off the systemic poisons created by the cold ,reduces the feverish conditions and allays the pains in the head and muscles.

Grip Fix is for sale by all druggists at 35 cents per box or three boxes for $1.00. Be sure that you get the genuine Reid's Grip Fix as there is no substitute which deals so promptly and effectively with colds grippe and kindred troubles.

EMPTY COFFIN INTERRED

LONDON, Eng.—A strange mistake was made in the funeral arrangements of an old Irish woman who died in the workhouse at Roscommon She had saved sufficient to avoid a pauper's funeral and her friends purchased a coffin. The body was not transferred, however, and next day the empty coffin was interred. A second funeral was arranged when the mistake was discovered.

A SICKLY WIFE NO FIT MATE FOR ANY MAN

GIRLS AND WOMEN SHOULD LOOK WELL TO THEIR HEALTH AND STRENGTH.

Never before was physical health and vigor so highly esteemed and so eagerly sought for as today.

No man finds happiness in a sickly wife, and the woman who wishes to enjoy the pleasures of life should spare no effort to maintain perfect health.

Is your daughter growing up strong and ruddy? Has she strength to drink in greedily all the pleasures that youth so zealously seeks—or is she compelled to use the street car instead of enjoying the delightful exercise of walking—does she after the ball arise refreshed and vigorous, or is she exhausted, indifferent, and perhaps irritable?

When strength and vigor can be so easily maintained by Ferrozone, when the glow of health is so quickly brought to the cheeks and elasticity to the step, it is plainly a mother's duty to see that Ferrozone is on hand to assist her daughter back to health.

Upon the wake of Ferrozone quickly follows a stream of rich, nourishing blood which imparts that power and surplus energy so earnestly desired by those in ill-health.

Stop and think what this means for your daughter—certainly a great deal, and it can be accomplished by Ferrozone.

Every growing girl and young woman derives enormous benefit in many ways from this nutritive, vitalizing tonic.

It is specially suited for young women and is a guarantee of health and regularty as long as it is used.

Ferrozone is free from alcohol and perfectly safe to use. Prepared in the form of a chocolate-coated tablet and sold in 50c boxes of six for $2.50 at all dealers, or direct from The Catarrhozone Co., Kingston, Ont.

Every One Wants Money's Worth

Natural Desire Is Not To Get The Worst of Any Business Transaction

Cheapest Not Always Best

Person who Buys from the Catalogue House Sees Only the Price & Forgets that Value is the Thing that Counts

When you spend your money you naturally want to get all you can in return. No one can criticize you for having that desire. Only those who are commonly referred to as having "more money than sense" throw their money away. All others are careful to see that they do not get the worst of any bargain. But one has to be able to look farther than the end of his nose if he is to be sure that he is getting the most that he can get for his money.

That is the defense of the man who buys from the mail order house instead of patronizing the merchants in his own town. He says he can get more for his money when he buys from the mail order at home. But in arriving at that conclusion he certainly has not been able to look further than the end of his nose.

In most cases the man who buys goods from a mail order house does so because he thinks he is getting the goods for less money than he would have to pay for them at the store in his own town. He thinks he is looking out for No. 1 and he says it is not his fault if the merchants in his town cannot make any money and is forced to go out of business. He overlooks the fact that he is likely to be hard hit as anyone else when that merchants closes his doors but, leaving that probability out of consideration, the chances are about 10 to 1 that the buyer has really lost money on his deal with the mail order man.

Price Not Only Consideration.

If buying an article of any kind, whether it be a house and lot or a paper of pins, the price is not the only thing to be considered by any means. You are not in the habit of going into a store when you want to buy a suit of clothes and saying to the storekeeper: "Give me the cheapest suit of clothes you have in the house." You want the best suit of clothes you can get for the price you pay for it, but you don't usually want the cheapest thing you can find.

A man may delude himself into believing that when he buys a suit of clothes from a mail order house for $10 he is saving money, but what is there to justify him in such a belief? The mere fact that he is getting a suit for $10 does not mean that he is saving money. The chances are that if he should go to the man who runs the clothing store in his own town and ask for it he could get a suit of clothes for $10 and the chances are also that it would be just as good if not a better bargain than the suit which he could get from the mail order house for the same sum. It is not the price he pays that shows whether he is getting a bargain or not. It is the quality of goods that he gets for his money that counts.

Can Undersell Mail Order House

The home merchant can sell as cheaply as the mail order man if he sells as cheap goods as the mail order man sells. His expenses are not as heavy as those of the mail order man. He pays less rent in proportion to the business he does, his taxes are less in proportion to the capital invested. His advertising bills are less than those of the mail order man in proportion to the volume of his sales. He can undersell the mail order man any day in the year if he wishes to sell only goods of the same quality and style of those sold by the mail order man, but he doesn't do this because he knows that the majority of the people in his town do not want that quality and style of goods. Therefore he keeps in stock goods of all qualities and all prices. He has the $10 suit for the man who thinks that he can get more for his money by buying a suit at that price than he can by buying a better one for $20, but he tells the customer just what he is buying.

The next time you think about buying something from a mail order house, if you ever do think of such a thing, go first to your home merchant and ask to see the article which you are thinking of buying.

Ready to Compare Prices.

Your home merchant is a business man. He gets the best values he can for his money when he buys goods, and he does not expect his customers to do anything else. All that he asks, in return for the favors he does his customers and the things he does for the good of his community that he be given an opportunity to meet the insidious competition of the mail order house. He is perfectly willing to have his prices and his values compared to those of the mail order house, but he has a just complaint when he is not given a chance to make this comparison.

If all buyers would take the value as well as the price of the article they are buying into consideration, the mail order houses would all go out of business to-morrow.

Buy in Home Town Is Economy

By E. M. Trowern, Secretary, Dominion Executive Council, the Retail Merchants' Association of Canada, Ottawa.

If a city or town is good enough to live in, and good enough to take a salary from, it should be good enough to buy in. If the teachers, the preachers, the professors, the firemen, the policemen and the civic servants want increased salaries, the most direct route to bring about that desired end is to keep the money circulating in the home town. If all the money in Canada ever got into the hands of one or two men, business in general would stagnate. The proper and healthy condition is to have money circulated so that everyone will, through his or her industry, get some of it.

The first expectation of a producer is to be able to sell his crop after it has been grown. To sell it he must have customers, with money, who are able to buy it. The further the producer is away from the consumer the more the transportation costs. Farms near thriving towns and cities are more valuable than those which are isloated in the backwoods. The best way to make backwoods farms valuable is to buy in the cities and towns near them.

Co-operation Counts

Prosperous cities and towns are built up through proper co-operation between retail merchants and their customers. They must work together The customer requires the retail merchant, and the retail merchants requires the customer. If customers send all their money away to mail order houses for staple goods and expect the corner store to live on the sale of lamp chimneys, eggs and coal oil they will awaken some day to find the little store closed. Goods when you want them and where you want them are worth more than goods thousands of miles away. Ten cents' worth of toothache gum in the corner drug store in the home town is worth more to a suffering child with an aching tooth than ten tons of the same article in Hong Kong, China.

A Double Mission

Retail merchants endeavour to locate in places where they are required. They have a double mission to perform; they buy goods to suit their customers and they expect to make a living by selling and caring for them. The better service a retail merchant gives his customers the better business he should receive in return. The service should be mutual and the customer should be equally anxious to see that the retail stores in his city or town succeed.

The statement that by buying through mail order houses you are saving the middleman's profit on all you buy is only a glaring deception, to say nothing whatever about the question of lack of loyalty to your home town. Let us follow the process and see if less labor is required. A person living in a town, and whose position depends upon the prosperity of the town, receives a catalogue. In order that the said catalogue should reach the person the following process must take place.

1. The catalogue is designed.
2. Printed.
3. Cuts made.
4. Delivered to the mail order house office.
5. Addresses secured.
6. Catalogue wrapped up and addressed.
7. Stamped.
8. Placed in the mail bag.
9. Mail bag taken to the station.
10. Carried on the train.
11. Taken off the train.
12. Taken to the Post Office.
13. Delivered to the customer in the town.
14. The customer spends time reading it over and selects an article.
15. Writes a letter.
16. Secures Post Office Order, or encloses the cash and takes the risk.
17. The postmaster enters it up and puts it in the mail bag.
18. The mail driver takes it to the station.
19. Mail clerk in charge of the train delivers it at the other end.
20. Post Office delivery wagon clerk delivers it to the Post Office.
21. Postal clerk checks it and sorts it ready for the postman.
22. Postman delivers it to the mail order house.
23. Mail order house clerk opens the letter.
24. The book-keeper credits the cash.
25. The order clerk selects the order.
26. Stenographer acknowledges the receipt.
27. The shipping clerk mails away the order.
28. The postal clerk sorts it out for the mail delivery.
29. Places it on the train.
30. Mail clerk takes it off the train.
31. Delivers it to the local Post Office.
32. The underpaid postmaster delivers it either direct to the customer or gives it to the rural mail delivery service that is costing Canada a large sum of money to mostly benefit mail order houses.
33. The customer receives the article, and after a careful examination finds that he or she could have bought a better article in the home town by keeping the cash in local circulation.

No Economy

No sane person could say that there is any economy in that system of doing business, especially when fourteen transactions out of the thirty-three are made by the Government mail order service at less than cost price, thus benefiting the mail order house proprietors at the expense of the whole people of Canada.

True economy and sound patriotism, therefore, call upon every loyal citizen of Canada to patronize his home town and keep the wheels of commerce moving in the direction in which most persons can be mutually benefited.

WHEN DOCTORS DISAGREE

Dr. Hastings, medical officer of health of Toronto, in a statement to the press:

"The gross misrepresentation of facts in this connection by those opposed to vaccination and for the purpose of discrediting vaccination might be looked upon, in the light of modern knowledge on this subject, as a huge joke, if it were not for the tragedy of it. Fortunately, these people are not taken seriously by the intelligent, but there is a large number of people in every municipality who have not the time nor the opportunity to obtain the facts, and these people must be protected against these misrepresentations as well as against the smallpox."

* * *

Dr. J. W. S. McCullough, medical officer of health for Ontario, says:

"The ignorance of the people who are opposing vaccination is too colossal for me to afford time for arguments with them."

* * *

The Academy of Medicine, Toronto, in a recent issue of your paper, refer to statements made by "irresponsible persons or technically uneducated laymen." Would the following be included in such a class:—

Walter R. Hadwen, M.D., L.R.C.P., M.R.C.S., L.S.A., J.P., Gloucester, England, states:—"The practice of vaccination is purely superstitious in its origin. The whole practise of vaccination was founded upon folklore and superstitution, and was exploited by the chicanery of one man (Edward Jenner,) amid a cloud of bombast and deceit. The medical profession was misled and deceived by Jenner's bold and unscrupulous statements and promises, and experience has proved in the most conclusive manner that the whole system of vaccination is a fraud."

E. M. Crookshank, M.D., (Lond.) M.R.C.S., Professor of Pathology and Bacteriology in King's College, London, says:—"I maintain there is no scientific support for vaccination, and the practise is destined to fall into desuetude."

George Cordwent, M.D., Deputy Coroner for West Somerset, for 20 years a public vaccinator, says:—"Vaccination should not be practised. I see no justification for it."

R. Hall Bakewell, M.D., M.R.C.S., formerly Vaccinator-General and Medical Officer of Health for Trinidad, author of "Pathology and Treatment of Smallpox": "I have very little faith in vaccination, even as modifying the disease, and none at all as protective in virulent epidemics. Personally, I contracted smallpox less than six months after a most severe revaccination."

Charles Creighton, M.D., M.A.,:—"It is difficult to conceive what will be the excuse made for a century of smallpoxing; but it cannot be doubted that the practise will appear in as absurd a light to the common sense of the twentieth century as bloodletting now does to us. Vaccination differs, however, from all previous errors of the faculty, in being maintained as the law of the land on the warrant of medical authority. That is the reason why the blow to professional credit can hardly help being severe, and why the efforts to word it off have been, and will continue to be, ingenious."

Will the Academy please tell us where they place these men?

Walter R. Hadwen, M.D., L.R.C.P., M.R.C.S., etc., J.P., in the Abolitonist (British)::

The Pharmacopaeia of the latter day medical necromancer is of very limited dimensions. All his preparations are concocted on much the same plan, the date back to the folk lore of Jenner, the Gloucestershire apothecary, or to Pasteur, the credulous chemist of the Rue Didot in Paris.

Jenner was the world-famed apostle of vaccination: he gleamed his theory from the dairymaids of his neighborhood 120 years ago. It consisted in the belief that a certain affection of the cow's udders termed cow-pox, would, if inoculated into a human being, prevent smallpox.

He professed to believe—in spite of conclusive evidence to the contrary—that cow-pox was "small-pox o fthe cow," and that, therefore, smallpox could be prevented by being produced! Pasteur accepted this creed, apparently, because Jenner declared his belief in it, and proceeded without further question to build up the cult of modern Pasteurism.

Vaccine lymph is alleged to be cow-pox virus, and is artificially manufactured as follows:

A calf, three to six months old, is firmly strapped to a specially designed tilting table, its abdomen shaved, and from 100 to 120 incisions are made in its skin with a sharp scalpel. Into these incisions virus is well rubbed by the aid of a bone spatula, and the animal is then released and tied up by its head (so that it cannot lick the irritating sores) for five days, until the wounds become scabs. The calf is then returned to the table, rebound, the whole surface of its abdomen washed with warm water, each scab is separately gripped with a clamp and the top of the crust removed, or the skin is put firmly on the stretch, and the contents of each sore carefully scraped out with a steel spoon. The contents of these 120 scabs consist of lymph, pus, blood, dead skin, etc., all of which is transferred to a crucible and mixed thoroughly with an equal quantity of glycerine by means of a small electric motor. It is afterwards strained in order to remove hair, pieces of flesh or other coarse ingredients, and is then put into tubes and sold as "pure glycerinated calf lymph."

Now, what is the source of the "vaccine virus" which is rubbed into the incisions in the calf's abdomen? That queston has been asked in the house of commons times out of number, but no satisfactory answer has ever been given. Nobody knows what vaccine is. Its history is a very mixed one. Many and various animals have been called into requisition to serve as the media of its cultivation. At one time, some pulp was taken from vesicles found on a smallpox corpse. This was declared by Dr. Monckton Copeman, of the local government board, to be "the most satisfactory material." The smallpox pulp was mixed with glycerine in the usual way, inoculated into monkeys, then into calves and finally into children. Is it any wonder that the riddle of the pedigree of "vaccine lymph" is too much even for a Whitehall bureaucrat to solve? Let us not forget that the vaccination theory and process form the foundation of every inoculation process since.

* * *

It will be noticed that these grotesque methods are upon much the same lines as those adopted for the vaccines and serums, and are but a modification of the inoculation quackery of the eighteenth century.

* * *

In conclusion, let me ask what can any sensible man or woman who does not happen to be a "scientist" think of all this? We laugh at the "witch's cauldron," the African fetish man, the wizards, the necromancers and the soothsayers of the old world, but are we any way in advance of them. If the story I have told be the story of "progress" in these days of boasted medical science and civilization, then the sooner we get back to the "barbarism" of ancient days the less likely the we to become involved in the refined savagery of the present time.—Ottawa Citizen.

STOP HEADACHES BEFOREHAND

You never had a headache when you were well.

To keep well is to keep clean, inside.

To relieve headache, and to prevent it, keep the liver active and industrious and the bowels as regular as a clock.

Two generations of healthy, vigorous people have done this by taking one pill at bedtime, regularly—a larger dose when nature gives the warning.

She will first be attracted to Red Rose Tea by the name which will remind her of the "Red Rose" of "Old England".

And when she tries it she will again be reminded of the "Homeland", for she will find Red Rose Tea the same kind of Tea that she has used at home—a rich, full-flavored blend, consisting chiefly of ASSAM teas grown in British-owned plantations in northern India.

LEAP YEAR WILL HAVE AN EARLY LENTEN SEASON

FEBRUARY 29, THE EXTRA DAY OF YEAR, WILL FALL ON SUNDAY.

With the New Year less than thirty days away interest naturally begins to quicken in the approach of 1920. Already calendars and almanacs displaying the numerals that mark the coming twelve months are to be seen in the stationary shops.

It is almost unnecessary to state that New Year's Day falls on Thursday, for every youngster in Christendom has already consulted the calendar to find out on what day Christmas will come, and has found out that the festival falls on Thursday. Grown-ups, being aware that New Year's Day is just one week later, have drawn the natural conclusion.

Lent is Early.

Old Christmas, the festival that is known by the name of Epiphany, the Fete des Rois, the Twelfth Night, falls twelve days after Christmas on Tuesday, January 6. Lent will come in fairly early in 1920 for the social season will close with the coming of Ash Wednesday on February 18. February will produce another day of interest to the general public, and that will be Sunday, February 29. For 1920 will be Leap Year, though unfortunately the twenty-ninth does not happen to fall on a week day this time, so some of the usual merry-making will be omitted.

Easter will come early—on April 4, which will make the dates of the two accompanying holidays, Good Friday and Easter Sunday, fall on April 2 and 5.

Fishermen will be delighted to hear that May 24, 1920 will come on Monday, so a week-end in the country is assured to those who want it.

The King's Birthday, June 3, a school and bank holiday, will be a Thursday, and July 1, Dominion Day, will fall on the same day of the week. School children will be interested in the fact that Labor Day, the first Monday in September, will come on September 6, the public schools in the city o re-open on the day following abor Day.

Several Eclipses.

Thanksgiving Day is a movable feast and its date will remain undetermined until next September, when the Governor-General-in-Council will proclaim the date of the day set apart for general thanksgiving. If the precedent of the last few years is followed the day chosen will be a Monday in mid October.

Christmas, 1920, will fall on Saturday.

The almanac announces that there will be several eclipses both of the sun and of the moon. Two of these will be visible in Canada, a total eclipse of the moon on October 27, 1920, and a partial eclipse of the sun on November 10.

OBITUARY

JOHN COOPER.

LAKEFIELD, Dec. 16.—A highly respected resident of Lakefield passed away last night in the person of John Cooper, who has lived in this district for many years.

The late John Cooper was born at East Grimstead, Somerset, England, on April 23, 1847, and came to this country in 1871. For many years Mr. Cooper was foreman of the Strickland Co. lumber yards here. In later years Mr. Cooper conducted a trucking and a livery business, which he sold to Mr John Madill 15 years ago, and since then has lived retired.

In 1874 Mr. Cooper was married to Mary Jane Cox, daughter of the late Thomas Cox, who predeceased him some 16 years ago. His second wife, who survives him, was Miss Rose Cox, daughter of the late Wm. Cox. One son, aged 4 years, died about eight years ago.

The late John Cooper was of a kindly nature, and loved and respected by all who knew him, and his death will be deeply felt in the village. In religion he was a Presbyterian. In politics Mr. Cooper was a staunch Conservative, and a member of the Lakefield Masonic Lodge and the Canadian Order of Foresters.

The funeral, which will be held tomorrow afternoon at 2.30, will be held under the auspices of the Masonic Order.

HUMPHREY CROWLEY.

Humphrey Crowley, of Douro, died yesterday at his home, Lot 12, Concession 3, Douro, aged 76 years. The late Humphrey Crowley was born in Douro and had lived there all his life, and was highly respected in the community.

Seven daughters and two sons survive: Mrs. H. O'Rourke, East City; Mrs. Thomas McMurray, East City; Nora, of this city; Catharine, of Rochester; Loretta and Margaret, of Ottawa, and Louise, at home, and Morris and Charles, at home. The late Mr. Crowley's wife predeceased him five years ago.

The funeral will leave the family residence, Wednesday morning at 9 o'clock and will proceed to St. Joseph's Church and Cemetery, Douro.

VOL XLIII NO. 141 — PETERBOROUGH, WEDNESDAY, DECEMBER 17, 1919 — PRICE TWO CENTS.

Sir Robert Borden to Make Statement

IS NOT THE INTENTION OF THE PREMIER TO STAGE A "COME-BACK"—WILL RETIRE FOR GOOD.

ALLEGES A LEAK

(Special to Examiner)

OTTAWA, Dec. 17—An announcement to the Public is expected from Sir Robert Borden to-day. That announcement will declare definitely his decision to retire and will set forth his reasons for doing so together with his wishes as to the future reconstruction. Suggestions as to his taking a temporary rest and coming back for final consideration of matters may be set aside. The Premier is convinced that such a course would work good neither for himself nor the country. He will clean things up before he goes and leave his mind unburdened by the future.

What might be regarded as the "Premature" announcement of the Premier's retirement has created considerable resentment among members of the cabinet. The suspicion is expressed that there has been a leak somewhere though to anyone who has followed the course of events at Ottawa for the past fortnight, the important development was inevitable.

It has been suggested that the calling of a caucus, "if such a course is followed, which is likely," be deferred until the session opens. Thus, it is argued, much expense might be saved to the members and senators. On the other hand it is pointed out that if the government is not reconstructed before the session it will meet parliament leaderless and with the Treasury benches almost empty. Upon the selection of a leader and the reconstruction of the Cabinet will very much depend the future of the union.

WAR VETERANS WILL OPPOSE THE MEASURE

Canadian Press.

WINNIPEG, December 17. — The returned soldiers will oppose legislation providing for compulsory training, R. E. Bowler, Provincial Secretary of the G. W. V. A., declared today in commenting upon the statement made by General S. C. Mewburn, Minister of Militia, to the effect that compulsory military training may be introduced in Canada.

"Returned soldiers have had enough military training and they are not in favour of any legislation which would make it obligatory," Bowler said.

FAMINE SWEEPS OVER AUSTRIA

(United Press.)

ROME, Dec. 17.— Gaunt famine strides through Austria, crushing innocent women and babies and threatening the entire nation with annihilation. One of the greatest catastrophes in history is imminent, and can only be averted through prompt aid of Austria's erstwhile enemies. This was the word picture painted yesterday by Cardinal Piffi, Archbishop of Vienna, in describing conditons in this country.

PREDICTION REPUDIATED

OLD WORLD IS STILL IN ONE PIECE IN SPITE OF PREDICTION.

WENT TO CHURCH

(Special to The Examiner.)

NEW YORK, Dec. 17.—Astonishment was expressed by the superstitious when the earth did not come to an end to-day. The ominous position of the planets had been well press-agented and some astrologists and persons versed in witchcraft had maintained that at the precise moment when the solar system formed itself into straight line with Neptune, Saturn, Jupiter, Mars, Venus and Mercury on one side of the Sun and Uranus on the other, something awful would happen to the earth .Interest in the prediction of Professor Albert F. Porta, a meteorologist, made some weeks ago, has been widespread, and reports from many towns to-day tell of increased attendance at the churches this morning, and of other happenings indicating the impression made upon the minds of a great many people. Harold Jacoby, Professor of Astronomy at Columbia, along with many other scientists, maintained that the effect upon the earth of the planetary alignment would be nil.

THE PETERBORO REQUEST SHELVED

LONDON, Dec. 17.—The City of Peterboro, having requested the City of London to urge upon the Ontario Government the necessity for the electing of police commissioners instead of having them appointed by statute as at present, the City Council took the matter under consideration. Upon the recommendation of number one committee, however, the Peterboro request was filed. The straw vote taken amongst prominent citizens showed a division of opinion on the subject. The London commissioners spend about $80,000 per year of the citizens' money, but there has never been any dissatisfaction so far as known.

PRESENTATION BY WOMEN'S BIBLE CLASS

The Women's Bible Class of All Saints Church met on Tuesday evening in the Assembly Hall and presented their teacher, Mrs. R. Stevenson, with an address accompanied by a handsome china bowl and cream pitcher, as a mark of their esteem and respect. Miss Abbott read the address and Miss McCracken made the presentation. Although taken by surprise, Mrs. Stevenson made a happy reply to her friends, thanking her class for their kind remembrance of her.

If the clothesline is boiled before used, it will not stretch.

PETERBORO'S ASSETS

CONTINUATION OF SERIES OF ARTICLES WRITTEN BY MR. G. N. GORDON—A COMPARISON—PETERBORO'S ASSETS.

This is the second series of articles by Mr. G. N. Gordon, and will be followed by another at an early date.

The efficient administration of the City's utilities has done much for Peterborough.

Many years ago, public-spirited citizens in Peterborough started an agitation to purchase the Waterworks, which was then owned by a company. It was not suggested that the rates were excessive, but it was a matter of public concern that the ratepayers themselves should own a great, public utility, such as the daily supply of water to the homes and for manufacturing purposes, and a favourable purchase was made.

So successful was this operation, that the citizens then felt that they should purchase the electric lighting systems in Peterborough, and after many years of fighting in the Private Bills Committee, and of litigation, the City finally acquired the Peterborough Light and Power Company.

Shortly afterwards, at a most favourable price, the Otonabee Power Company was purchased, and the whole distributing system in the City of Peterborough was acquired by the Municipality, at figures which were probably one-third less than the replacement cost at that time. The Peterborough Light and Power plant had run down and needed repair, so a large part of the income from the electric light rates, required to be used for the purpose of upbuilding this plant and the Otonabee plant, and making extensions, but to-day the ratepayers of this City have one of the best distributing plants, so Hydro-Electric engineers say, that can be found in the Province, and the rates are most favourable for a City of twenty-two thousand. This is an asset, and with this City double the size, would require little extension and would mean a reduction of rates through the largely increased numbers of persons using these utilities.

One of the greatest assets Peterborough has, is the peculiar formation of her soil, which tends to almost perfect drainage, and extends the life of pavements and sidewalks far beyond the life if the soil formation were heavy clay or some other kinds of soil. Probably in no City in Ontario sidewalks have stood up so well under the years of use, as in Peterborough, and these sidewalks which have been built twenty years ago, and which are now paid for by debentures, are in a first-class state of preservation, and will last probably for another twenty years.

Peterborough's location, with no large competing towns within an area of twenty-five miles, places it in an unique position among the cities in Ontario, for business dealings and for a favourable market, inasmuch as competition by adjoining municipalities, on account of great distances, is diminated to a large extent.

The Trent Canal is an asset which will develop to a very material extent the City's trade, and should reduce the prices of produce used in the City, which can be brought from Lake Ontario and the North.

The history of the Erie Canal in New York has been such that great cities have been built by reason of this favourable channel of communication-opening a steady flow of traffic of the greatest possible value. The Trent Canal should put Peterborough in an advantageous position by reason of steamboat rates being much less than freight rates ordinarily are.

ANOTHER ASSET.

Another asset is the radial line known as "The Ontario Eastern," whose objective is Oshawa, and metal has been laid to Whitby. This was built by the MacKenzie-Mann interests, but is not in use at the present time. This radial is at a dead end, with no outlet, and projecting it further easterly would be paralleling the Canadian Northern, the Canadian Pacific and the Grand Trunk. Its natural terminal is Peterborough City, and connecting Peterborough City with Oshawa, by radial, would open a fertile farming area, not now fed by railway communication, and which would throw to Peterborough a large proportion of the trade lying between the Grand Trunk Railway to Port Hope, and the Canadian Railway running westerly to Toronto. In other words, this radial would split this triangular area of country, which has never had its fair share of railway accommodation, and the people in that district would naturally be inclined to deal in Peterborough.

The assets from which we expect to develop and strength to this City, a large population, are, no doubt, the manufacturing concerns now operating within our boundaries, and which employ large numbers of employees of various degrees of skill. These concerns, continuing, year after year, their successful operations, means increasing output and increasing pay rolls, with an ever-increasing population, which should bring to Peterborough such numbers as to continuously reduce the burden of taxation, and to develop this Municipality into a city of homes and a freedom-loving people.

Peterborough's position in comparison with other municipalities, stands in a peculiarly favourable position as to her assets and her liabilities, which will be seen by the following statement:

IS A YOUNG GIRL LESS INTERESTING THAN A SOPHISTICATED WOMAN?

"A young, untried girl is a good deal like a book with its leaves uncut," writes Jane Phelps in her newest novel. "It may be she will be interesting. . . . or that his thoughts will wander because of a sameness in the story, which bores him. Very young women are so anxious to be everything all at once that they leave no page unturned, nothing fresh and new to stir a man's jaded appetite."

Sandra Courney was this type, and Irma Barton was, Oh, so very different. Sandra was just eighteen. Irma had been through the harrowing mill of experience and had come out with no illusions but with startling depths of character.

Which of these would a man find more interesting? Find out in "Sandra the Jealous" which starts in the Examiner on Saturday of this week.

SWEPT BY A BIG STORM

AT LEAST THIRTY LIVES LOST IN STORM WHICH SWEEPS OVER NEWFOUNDLAND COAST.

A TIDAL WAVE

(Canadian Press.)

ST. JOHNS, Nfld., Dec. 17. — Incomplete reports of the damage caused by the storm which has been sweeping the Newfoundland coast for the past week was received here today. It was indicated that at least thirty-five lives were lost and five schooners, while a tidal wave destroyed the railway pier at Placentia and the breakwater at Grand Banks, near Fortune. Telegraph and railroad service has been crippled and many of the distant coast districts have not been heard from for several days.

PAPER SHORTAGE IS GETTING WORSE

PUBLISHERS ARE ASKED TO REDUCE TO EXTENT OF TEN PER CENT.

Special to Examiner.

WASHINGTON, December 17. — An appeal to the newspaper publishers of the country to make an immediate reduction of 10% in the size of their publications, because of the paper shortage, was made to-day by the House Post Office Committee.

Such action is necessary to prevent "destruction of a large number of newspapers in the smaller cities and towns and infict irreparable injury on the communities served by them," the committee declared.

GERMANS BEFORE SUPREME COUNCIL

SCAPA FLOW CONTROVERSY IS TO BE DISCUSSED THIS AFTERNOON.

(Special to The Examiner.)

PARIS, Dec. 17.—Germany's claim in connection with the settlement of peace terms detail is again before the Supreme Council to-day. The Council reached an unanimous decision to permit the Germans to collect customs duties in gold. In further discussions of the question of compensation for the sinking of ships at Scapa Flow, a discrepancy developed between the estimates of the Reparations committee and those of German experts regarding mercantile tonnage and floating docks available for reparation purposes at German ports. It amounted to about a hundred thousand tons.

Allied and German naval experts will meet again this afternoon to discuss the Scapa Flow question. The Germans are semi-officially reported as having first asked a reduction in the quantity of dock material demanded by the Allies and to have the second proposition made to the effect that they should deliver to the Allies units of shipping construction now under way instead of material referred to in the protocol.

Farmers' Meeting In Toronto To-day

OVER 2,500 MEMBERS PRESENT —ANNUAL MEETING.

(Canadian Press.)

TORONTO, Dec. 17.—"U.F.O. delegates, this is an annual meeting, not a political convention. Govern your remarks accordingly."

Such is the intimation displayed prominently to-day at Massey Hall, where the United Farmers of Ontario met this morning for the first session of their sixth annual convention, but it is conceded that notwithstanding this slogan the convention will take unto itself a fairly ambitious responsiiblity with respect to the politics of the Province of Ontario, if not for the whole Dominion of Canada. About 2,800 delegates, representing a membership of forty-five thousand, were present.

SIX HOMELESS MILLIONAIRES

(United Press.)

NEW YORK, Dec. 17. — Six New York millionaires refuse to be homeless. Like thousands of others here, they sought in vain a place to live, and they are going to build a six million dollars apartment house, principally for themselves.

F. Coleman Dupont, Dallas B. Pratt, Col. Ben. McAlpin, Arthur Coppell, L. L. Dunham and L. M. Boomer, are the "homeless."

TROUBLE OVER A TORONTO HOSPITAL

Special to Examiner.

TORONTO, Dec. 17. — Unknown to the general public a battle has been waging between the province and the city for the past six months in connection with the reception hospital, where persons of over-wrought mind and nerve are observed and treated until their mentality has been determined.

Ever since the first of May the province has refused to accept new cases for admission to the institution and doctors and friends of persons of doubtful mental condition have found the doors closed.

The province has taken the position that the ramshackle old building in Trinity park, which is being used, is unfit for the purpose, and that no more cases will be handled there.

Now it is varying this attitude persisted in for six months, by offering to admit some urgent cases that are clamoring for treatment, providing the city gives a guarantee that it will erect suitable new buildings without unnecessary delay.

FATHER COTE SPOKE OF CHAPLAINS' WORK

His experience as a chaplain in France was the subject of Rev. Father Cote's address to the Knights of Columbus, last night. His recollections proved extremely interesting and bore a local conection in the references to Peterboro men he had met overseas, including some of the members present last night.

He stated that he had cherished the respect the men had shown the chaplains. This feeling had been an inspiration and would always be one of the outstanding memories the chaplains would retain.

POINTS ABOUT MEXICO.

Mexico has an area of 767,097, or one-fourth of that of the United States.

The population is a little over 15,000,000, or less than that of the two States of New York and Pennsylvania, and of this only about 20 per cent. are white.

The ancient City of Mexico, with a population of about half a million, is the capital and chief centre of culture

Vera Cruz, on the Gulf of Mexico, is the principal port of entry, and Monterey is the principal railway centre.

Leon, San Luis Potosi, Puebla and Guadalajara are centres of the mining industry.

Mexico is bounded on the north by the United States, on the south by Honduras and Guatemala, on the east by the Gulf of Mexico, and on the west by the Pacific ocean.

Agriculture is backward, but the climate and soil, varying according to altitude, are favorable for the produce of both temperate and tropical zones.

In the higher altitudes wheat corn and other cereals are raised, while the lowlands produce large quantities of coffee, rice, sugar cane, cotton, tobacco, cacao and tropical fruits.

Minerals are the chief resource, for Mexico is one of the foremost silver producing countries of the world. The country also has rich deposits of copper, lead, mercury, iron, sulphur, tin, and other mineral products.

Of late years the oil wells have brought fabulous wealth to Mexico, which now ranks next to the United States and Russia in the production of petroleum.

The chief manufacturing industries are smelting, cotton milling, distilling, and the manufacture of tobacco and its products.

In theory the Government of Mexico is modelled closely after that of the United States, but in practice the country has been ruled to a large extent by the simpler method of ignoring the Constitution.

President Venustiano Carranza, the present chief executive, came into power on August 12, 1914, the sixth to hold the reins since the resignation ofg President Diaz in 1911. The Carranza Government was recognized by President Wilson, Oct. 19, 1915.

The prevailing religion in Mexico is Roman Catholic, but all sects are tolerated.

Mexico has between 15,000 and 20,000 miles of railway, built and financed largely by Americans.

What Some Automobile Owners Do Not Know

1. That I specialize in Storage Batteries only, and if you do not send your Battery to take care of for the Winter, there will be a good man out of a job.

2. Remember the Storage Battery is the very heart of your car, and I am the heart specialist.

3. All Batteries stored by me are fully covered by Insurance, and you are thereby safeguarded from any loss by fire.

CATTLE DISEASE PERIL.

LONDON, Eng. — The Board of Agriculture is issuing a warning to farmers to be on the alert for symptoms of foot-and-mouth disease. Unless immediate notification is given, so that infected animals can be slaughtered, there may be a grave spread of the trouble such as would threaten the milk and meat supplies.

CENTENARIES OF FAMOUS WOMEN

NEW YORK, Dec. 17.—The year seems to begin will be one not only of unprecedented importance in the effect it is bound to have upon the future participation of women in all fields of human activity, but it will possess a peculiar interest associating it with the past, for it will include the centenary anniversaries of the birth of an unusually large number of women whose lives and achievements were of profound influence upon the social, moral, and intellectual progress of the age. Many of these will be the subject of individual comment as the centenary dates occur, but the list is so imposing that a brief glimpse at a few of its leading features in the aggregate seems of interest at this time.

The year will bring the centenary of Susan B. Anthony, who has been called the greatest woman reformer the world has ever known. As a young woman Miss Anthony aided in organizing the first woman's temperance society. Later she participated in the anti-slavery movement, and during the Civil War she was an organizer of the Women's National Loyal League. At the close of the war she took up the cause of woman suffrage. The course of Miss Anthony's work after this time is a history of the whole movement for bettering the legal status of women; its complexity makes a summary impracticable; the general results are matters of common knowledge. Miss Anthony continued her active work until her seventieth year, when age compelled her to relinquish the leadership of the National Woman Suffrage Association.

With the World War still fresh in the public mind, particular interest will attach to the centenary of Florence Nightingale, "the angel of mercy," who will always be remembered as the greatest nurse in history. In Miss Nightingale was found that rare combination of heart and brain which makes the ideal nurse. By means of her winsome personality and marked executive ability, she dignified the profession of nursing and raised it from the makeshift employment of the degraded or ignorant up into the realm of the fine arts.

The sixth of October will bring the centennial anniversary of the birth of Jenny Lind, "the Swedish nightingale," whose popularity as a singer has never been eclipsed. Many persons still living are able to recall the success that attended Jenny Lind's triumphal tour of America in the early '50's, under the direction of the late P. T. Barnum.

Literature contributes among others, the names of Jean Ingelow, the distinguished English poet and novelist; Alice Cary, who with her sister attained fame as a writer of poetry and prose; and Anne B. Warner, a sister of the more famous Susan Warner, and herself the author of many popular novels.

There was also Fanny Crosby, the famous blind hymn writer, who spent the latter years of her long life in Bridgeport, Conn. She was the author of more than 3,000 hymns, which have been sung in the Protestant churches throughout the world.

Heading the list of famous women of the stage who first saw the light in 1820 appears the name of Laura Keene, the celebrated actress and manageress, whose name will ever be associated in history with the assassination of Abraham Lincoln, for it was to see the popular light comedy actress in "Our American Cousin" that the President attended the theatre on the night of 14th April, 1865.

Education will be represented in the list of centenaries by the name of Anne Jemima Clough, the founder of Newnham College, and a noted worker for the higher education of women in England.

Representing the world of art is the name of Eliza Pratt Greatorex, the Irish-born American artist, who was the first woman to be elected associate of the National Academy of Design.

Why Stay Fat? You Can Reduce

The answer of most fat people is that it is too hard, too troublesome, and too dangerous to force the weight down. However, in Marmola Prescription Tablets, all these difficulties are overcome. They are absolutely harmless, entail no dieting or exercise, and have the added advantage of cheapness. A large case is sold by druggists at $1. Or if preferable they can be obtained by sending price direct to the Marmola Co., 864 Woodward ave., Detroit, Mich. Now that you know this you have no excuse for being too fat, but can reduce two, three or four pounds a week without fear of bad after-effects.

WORLD WILL NOT END TO-DAY.

Sir Oliver Lodge Declares That Prediction Is "Bosh."

LONDON, Dec. 15.—"The idea that the world is coming to an end this week is ridiculous rubbish," so declared Sir Frank Dyson, Astronomer Royal, to a Daily Mail reporter who interviewed him on the prediction by Prof. Albert Porter that this planet's debacle will occur on 17th December.

"It's bosh," remarked Sir Oliver Lodge on the same question.

PEASANTS WORRY LENIN.

Says his Gravest Problem is to Make Well-to-do Join Proletariat.

LONDON, December 16. — Nikolai Lenin, the Bolshevist Premier, in an address before the first All-Russian Congress at Moscow, as quoted in a wireless despatch from Moscow, declared that the fundamental problems confronting the Soviet Government were organizations in the villages, and the gaining of the adherence of the middle peasants. He claimed progress in stabilizing the Soviet system.

Criticising the middle peasants, designated as "well to do," for "exploiting the hungry workers," Lenin said:

"A peasant owner who has a margin of grain is accustomed to regard it as his own property, which he can sell freely. To sell the margin of grain in a hungry country is to convert one's self into a speculator and an exploiter. The peasant who exploits is our enemy. Not all the peasants by far understand that free trade in grain is a crime against the State."

A peculiar problem is presented by the "Kulacks" or the well to do peasants, according to Lenin. "In the mass," he declared, "they are on the side of the capitalists and are not content with the revolution which has taken place. It will be necessary to wage a long struggle yet against this group. The mass of the middle peasantry stand among those who exploited others. Here is our most difficult task."

For the peasant there was no choice, Lenin said. "He must assist the workers or the least hesitation will give victory into the hands of the land owners and capitalists. To spread this idea is our first and fundamental problem."

Progress in the movement for the organizing of land communes and guilds was claimed by Lenin. "I must say, however," he added, "that there have been many defects. Everywhere old exploiters have crept into Soviet agriculture and they must be driven out or placed under the control of the proletariat."

Assistance of persons possessing technical knowledge was admitted as necessary to the Soviet system. "It is impossible to construct communism without a supply of technical skill and culture, which however are concentrated in the hands of the bourgeois specialists," he said.

MAY AGAIN GROW VINES IN FIELDS OF BRITTANY

PARIS, Dec. 17. — Experiments made by Professor Daniel of Rennes University in a vineyard near Rennes in planting hybrid vines, obtained by grafting North American vines on the native, are responsible, for the hope of the re-establishment of vine-growing in Brittany. Grape culture disappeared there forty years ago when phylloxera, the plant louse, killed all the vines, which were uprooted, and the land on which they had been grown was devoted to other crops.

VOCATIONAL TRAINING

In an interview General Sir Richard Turner, V.C., points out one weakness of the vocational training scheme of the Government, namely the fact that trades unions object strongly to admitting as fully apprenticed a returned soldier who has had only a few months vocational training in the trade he proposes to follow. It is undoubtedly true as General Turner remarked that the Government plan gives the soldier a six months' course "and launches him half equipped into the labour market, washing its hands of any further responsibilities for him," many returned men have decided to take a course in a trade which usually call for from three to five years' apprenticeship. They are given training by the Government in that particular trade for half a year and then set adrift. If the union objects to such men being placed on the same footing as those who have had to serve their full apprenticeships what advantage is the vocational course. General Turner believes that the Government should endeavour to reach an understanding with the Trades Unions so that there shall be no doubt of a man's status after he has finished his course and there will be general agreement with his opinion.

THINK IT OVER.

Quite a large number of Canadian returned soldiers, born in the British Isles are, it is said, contemplating a return to the old country, dissatisfied with conditions here and particularly vexed with the prohibition regulations. Those who are planning to go back to England might be well advised however to study the situation a little before coming to a final decision. There may be legitimate cause for complaint about some of the conditions here but on the whole the lot of the Canadian people is more happy than that of the people of the European countries at the present time. The food situation in Europe is serious, even in England there is a rationing system in vogue. Unemployment too seems to be increasing and the numerous Canadian soldiers who persisted in taking their discharge in England are according to despatches not having a very happy time, in fact many of them have been clamouring to be repatriated to Canada and surprise is expressed in London that the Canadian Government has taken no steps to send them back, seeing that many are unable to secure positions and are in desperate straits. The British employers are taking the natural position that Imperial soldiers should have the first claim to vacant situations and the ex-members of the Canadian Expeditionary Force who were discharged in England are handicapped by this attitude. All things considered, it would be well for men who are talking of returning to the Old Country to think the matter over seriously before arriving at a conclusion.

PUPPETS AND MEN.

Thoughtlessness is often a refined type of cruelty. The pain it causes is not the less searching because the cruelty is not deliberate.

Theatre audiences are thoughtless. They often seem to look upon performers on the stage as unfeeling puppets. They grudge applause and are quick to resent an error.

An illustration was seen in New York the other day. It was of unusual interest and aroused wide comment.

Wilkie Bard, idol of the London music halls, opened his American tour. The audience, in a critical mood at the novelty of Bard's act, began to "rag" him. The noisy interruptions increased.

Bard stopped his act and advanced to the front of the stage. He was weeping. In a simple, direct way he told the audience of his sorrow at his failure to please them, how this was the first time in a long career that he had been stopped while playing. Then said he appeared against his doctor's advice, but would try again when he felt better, with changes in his act. His heart was broken, but he hoped yet to meet the particular demands of the American stage.

The audience broke into a storm of applause. No actor ever opened a tour amidst such popular enthusiasm as theatre-goers have shown over Bard ever since that first American audience "ragged him" into tears.

The audience which first greeted Bard with hooting was the typical thoughtless crowd. It saw a puppet on the stage, a mannikin to be trifled with at its caprice. It felt no call for human sympathy.

Then Bard broke down and, at once, he became to the audience a human being. Life with its bitterness was laid bare. The touch of nature closed pit and gallery to the stage [illegible] common understanding.

"[illegible]" and mannikins may be [illegible] well as upon the stage.—Montreal Star.

THE QUESTION OF MILK.

The question of the supply of milk has become a serious one in Canada, and one which is about as complicated as it is serious points out the Kingston Standard. The Board of Commerce has protested in extremely strong terms upon the terrible results which are following, and will increase in magnitude, if the export of milk, cream and butter is allowed to continue. It claims that the physical welfare of the whole population of the country is at stake, and more particularly that of the rising generation. It asks also, and with just reason, why privileged people should enjoy cream and ice cream at the expense and suffering of others.

On the other harm those who know anything of dairying appreciate that producing milk is one of the hardest and most exacting tasks which any one can undertake. The work is constant and never lets up. The cows must be attended to and milked twice a day, not omitting Sundays. Now all this is added to by the high cost of labor, of feed, and of living. Few people who have not had actual experience of keeping cows can understand all that it means. Then farmers look round too and see other industries obtaining the best prices they can for their products whether they are to be secured at home or not, and often the high prices received from abroad set the prices which the people at home have to pay.

Thus the problem is a grave one. What the solution is we will leave to others better qualified than ourselves to say; the Board of Commerce may find one, and one which is just both to the farmers and the public. But there is one obvious remedy, that men should be encouraged in every way to take to farming, and thus increase production not only of milk but of other foods. And farming it should be remembered can be made to produce more than a healthy, prosperous living.

TEACHERS SALARIES

When industrial struggles lead to strikes, it is quite the usual thing to hear it said that both labor and capital are utterly self-centered and pay no heed to the public at large, who are the ultimate sufferers. A superficial examination of this statement will prove it to be not quite true. The men who are hardest hit by a strike are the strikers, and the next hardest hit are the employers of the strikers. It is usually assumed, too, that the public are entirely innocent of any of the blame for strikes. This statement is, of course, also untrue. In a democratic country, the public must accept a full share of responsibility for the conditions which prevail, and when these conditions are such as to lead to violent industrial upheavals no voter can regard himself altogether as an innocent bystander. If this is true in matters of dispute which arise in private concerns—and we do not think that it can reasonably be disputed—how much more is it true of issues wherein the public are themselves the employers! This brings to the question of teachers' salaries. There is hardly a paper we have seen in Canada—and we see many—nor is there public man, who has touched on the subject—and there are few who have not—who does not accept as a truism the assertion that teachers are scandalously underpaid. There can hardly be a doubt that this is also the view of the general public. Hence, we have the peculiar condition of a body of employees—namely; the teachers—and, ting the underpayment of their employees—namley, the teachers—and, at the same time, either too indolent or too penurious to raise their salaries. The result is that the teachers in various parts of Canada are organizing for the purpose of furthering their cause. It is not at all impossible that we may see a teachers' strike as a last resort, and for such an eventuality, the public would be directly responsible.

In a recent issue, we published a schedule embodying the demands of the Teachers' Alliance of the city of Vancouver. Anybody who took the trouble to examine that schedule will have observed how entirely reasonable and just these demands were. The same spirit of fairness characterises the stand of the teachers throughout the whole Dominion. Are the people going to see that their employees are met in a manner equally fair and generous? If they do not, then they are justifying every employer in the country, who recklessly brings about strikes by obstinate and selfish opposition to the reasonable demands of the workers. We are well aware that a raise in salaries means a rise in taxes.

An objection on this score simply means that the people are willing that a scandalous condition continue to exist, rather than pay a little additional taxes to have the condition removed. We refuse to believe that this is so. It is superfluous to remark that if we are to have teachers, we must pay them, and that if we are to have good teachers we must pay them well. Ever since the war, education is assuming the vitally important place in Canadian life which is its due in every community. The citizenry of the country realise this, and we believe the y are willing to pay their teachers at least as much as barbers, shoeshiners, stenographers, etc. The people's representatives—the school trustees—need, therefore, have no hesitation in dealing squarely with the teachers.—Turners' Weekly.

WOULD LIMIT THE SIZE OF CITY NEWSPAPERS

U. S. Senator Urges Bill to Give Relief to Smaller Publishers.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 16. — Between 2,500 and 3,000 small newspapers face suspension, if not extinction, unless the newsprint situation is soon remedied, Representative Anthony, Republican, Kansas, told the House Post-office Committee to-day in urging favorable action on his bill to limit to 24 pages daily newspapers and periodicals using the second-class mail provision.

The present acute paper shortage he said, is due to the large size of the big city dailies, and some magazines. The larger newspapers, he added, could eliminate 50 or more pages of feature, comic and magazine matter published in Sunday editions, without loss to the public. The volume of advertising should be drastically reduced, during the present shortage, he said.

Voice Of The People

The Examiner has been asked to reproduce the following matter which was addressed to and appeared in the columns of the Toronto Star.

VACCINATION.

To the Editor of the Star.

Sir: Where there is such intense and widespread opposition to a measure which a certain section of the community desire to force upon the citizens at large it would be well if those in responsible positions should take heed and go slowly and carefully. The war should have taught us some lessons. Remember, this measure (compulsory vaccination) is not sought nor desired by a large number of the citizens. An effort is being made to force it upon the community by one school of physicians only, who are, by the way, by no means a unit in their endorsement of vaccination as a preventive of smallpox, as will be shown later. The grossly unjust feature of the proposition is that an attempt should be made to force upon thousands of well informed people, who entertain rational and conscientious scruples against it, a practice which is not only of very questionable value, but which has been declared by medical men themselves to be at once filthy, repulsive and dangerous.

Before proceeding to mention briefly some of the reasons why intelligent and well informed people are unalterably opposed to the practice of vaccination, it might not be out of the way to tell what vaccine is. Webster defines vaccine as the virus of cow-pox. Virus is defined as "contagious, poisonous matter." In other words, we are to be "protected" against an epidemic (?) by the injection of diseased filth into the body!

But let us see what medical men themselves have said about the practice of vaccination. They, at any rate, should be able to speak with knowledge. Dr. Alfred Russell Wallace will probably be conceded to have been a man of standing in his profession and what he has said upon this subject is respectfully commended to the earnest consideration of civic and Provincial representatives in positions of authority. In this book, "Forty-five Years of Registration Statistics, Proving Vaccination to be Both Useless and Dangerous," Dr. Wallace proves, among other things, "that the severity of small-pox as a disease has not been mitigated by vaccination;" also "that several inoculable diseases have increased to an alarming extent coincidentally with enforced vaccination." Farther on in the same publication he makes the following tremendously significant statement: "While thus utterly powerless for good, vaccination is a certain cause of disease and death in many cases, and is the probable cause of about ten thousand deaths annually by five inoculable diseases of the most terrible and disgusting character, which have increased to this extent steadily, year by year, since vaccination has been enforced by penal laws." Read also what Dr. Wallace has to say in "Vaccination a Delusion: Its Penal Enforcement a Crime."

W. Scott Tebb, M.A., M.D., in "A Century of Vaccination," emphasizes the following among other points: "That there is unimpeachable evidence proving that a variety of inoculable and some incurable diseases are induced by vaccination;" also "that there is no guarantee that syphilis or symptoms indistinguishable from this malady may not be induced by the inoculation of either human or animal virus." In this same book, Dr. Tebb devotes 117 pages to a recital of specific cases resulting in injury or death from vaccination. Among the diseases which have been contracted through the practice of vaccination, Dr. Tebb mentions eczema, syphilis, leprosy, erysipelas and tetanus. Almost a formidable enough list to make us pause in this headlong rush! A CANADIAN.

THE SCRIVEN MEMORIAL.

(Toronto Globe, Dec. 15.)

To the Editor of The Globe: I have been at the monument works today, and as many are interested in the Scriven Memorial, permit me, through your columns, to tell them just how matters stand. The foundation and lower stone are now in position. The second stone is finished with the inscription, and will be placed in position next week. The workmen are busy at the capstone and it also will be sent out next week, though it cannot be placed in position until the die-stone is ready, on which the hymn will be engraved in full. There remains the spirestone, and as it and the die-stone have not arrived from the Barrie quarries, some time must yet elapse ere we can announce the date of unveiling. The work is proceeding most satisfactorily and as rapidly as circumstances will permit, as strikes are the great delaying factor in completing the memorial. Due announcement will be made of the date of unveiling.

May I say we still lack the sum of $215, and we desire a further sum of $100 to enable us to make the necessary concrete approach—$315 in all. It would be a great relief to the committee if this small amount were contributed. Surely those who have been urging this matter through your columns will respond to our appeal. To us as a committee it has been amazing how slow the response has been. The refusals, alas! have been numerous, but we appeal again.

The Churches.

Rev. Mair of South Dummer, conducted the service in the Presbyterian church on Sunday morning, and the evening service was withdrawn.

Rev. Dr. Shorey of Napanee, preached anniversary sermons in the Methodist church on Sunday morning and evening. Both sermons were very impressive, and large congregations were present at each service.

His morning text was, 'Thy Will Be Done,' and in the evening he preached from Nehemiah, 4:10, 'The strength of the bearers of burdens is decayed and there is much rubbish, so that we are not able to build the wall.'

On Monday evening an anniversary dinner and entertainment was held. Dinner was served at six o'clock and the apparently never-ceasing supply of good things which kept pouring in, testified to the fact that none would be turned empty away. After partaking of these bounties, all assembled in the auditorium of the church, when the following programme was given:

Opening hymn, 'All Hail the Power of Jesus Name.'

Anthem, 'I Heard the Voice of Jesus Say'—Choir.

Solo, 'This is My Trust' — Mr. Stares.

Recitations—Miss McConnell.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Tucker on this anniversary occasion presented the pulpit with a beautifully bound Bible in memory of the latter's mother, Mrs. Stinson, who passed away last May.

The proceeds amounted to $150 which, with the $400 donations on Sunday, will almost reach their objective, $600.

A twenty-cent social will be held on Tuesday evening in the basement of the church.

The S. S. entertainment of the Methodist church will be held in the town hall on Friday evening, Dec. 26.

On Friday evening, Dec. 19, the Ninth Line Sabbath school will hold their annual tea and Christmas entertainment in the brick school.

RICHARD HALL & SON LIMITED

SAYS PETERBORO IS IN AN ENVIABLE POSITION

MAYOR G. H. DUNCAN PRODUCES FIGURES RELATING TO THE CITY'S DEBENTURE DEBT—AN EFFORT TO KEEP THE TAXES DOWN.

To the Editor of The Examiner:

SIR: The Examiner had an article, prominently displayed, last evening, which was misleading in the heading which it carried, and might do the city harm. This city is sound financially, and this has been proven again and again by the most severe test possible, that of the money market, as the city's debentures have always brought the highest market prices.

A bare statement of the amount of the debenture debt is not full information. It should also be stated that of the debt $623,200.00 is for waterworks and $220,000.00 for the hydro-electric system. These two items make $842,200.00, which does not affect the taxes, as the interest and sinking fund is provided out of the revenue of these utilities, and by rates as low as any in the Dominion. In addition $351,021.08 of the debt is paid for by frontage rates on the property directly benefitted, and $324,408.62 is for schools.

The statement of asests and liabilities in the last report of the auditor, shows a surplus of assets over liabilities of $469,624.72, and of the assets $2,775,095.32 is made up of convertible property and cash, so that the city corporation owns property and cash sufficient to more than cover the debt without a cent of the assessible property of the ratepayers.

Some municipalities have trouble by not having sufficient sinking funds to provide for paying off their debentures, but Peterborough has a surplus in its sinking funds account of over $30,000.00.

We should certainly keep our taxes as low as possible consistent with good service. A comparison in this respect, and as to the debt, shows that Peterborough is in a really enviable position. The following comparisons are taken from the last report of municipal statistics issued by the Ontario Government last April:

	Municipal Taxes per head	School Taxes per head	Total Taxes per head	Net Deb. Debt per head
Port William	$39.54	$9.14	$48.68	$320.45
Port Arthur	40.42	6.70	47.12	444.28
Toronto	27.44	8.29	35.73	157.94
London	19.77	7.28	27.05	129.89
Ottawa	18.67	7.95	26.62	120.51
St. Catharines	21.34	4.67	26.01	139.62

THE GIRLS HELD SOCIAL EVENING

The Young Women's Chrsitian Association presented a gay appearance last night when girls gathered to sing Christmas carols and have a general good time. The hall, library and green room were all decorated with scarlet and evergreens Christmas bells hung from the windows and here and there bright poinsettia was seen, while a true Christmas fire burned in the big, fire place in the hall. After singing "Hark! the Herald Angels sing" and "It came upon a midnight clear", Miss Layton gave a talk on Christmas and customs in different lands, closing with the story of Babouscka, the old woman who, the Russians believe, missed her opportunity of going with the Three Wise Men and has been hunting ever since for the Christ-Child. Miss H. Davidson, Miss I. Allen and Miss O. Kenyon sang the old carol "We Three Kings of Orient Are", and Raymond Alden's story of "Why the Chimes rang" was told. After singing more carols, everyone went out to the gymnasium for games and dancing under the direction of Miss Pryce and later refreshments were served in the Green Room.

NOTES AND GOSSIP ON CIVIC ELECTIONS

No Scramble for Honour

Incipient campaigns to induce citizens to accept nominations in the municipal elections are meeting with more or less disappointment from all accounts. A general reluctance to step into the civic spotlight is reported of business men, mechanics and others who have been approached with persuasive but in most instances unconvincing pleas to listen to the call of duty. For example one man who is absorbed in business, day in and day out, replies that aldermanic responsibility would interfere with his recreation at the curling rink. Life's too short to work day and night, and is his philosophy, and he claims the right to the pleasure and release from worries that disappear before association with the broom and stones and one hundred and fifty good fellows.

Others say they are too tired after the day's labour to give three or four hours to the city's business. Some men of the factories who have been interviewed replied that they had no relish for municipal responsibility and preferred to remain with their families in the evenings, or to feel free to go and come as they wished.

Group efforts are apparently as unfruitful as the old indefinite hit and miss ways of impressing citizens into the city's service. From the gossip that has been heard it is believed that two slates of municipal candidates are being witheld until nomination day for the plain reason that they are not so formidable as their promoters had expected. Of course there will be more than enough candidates for the vacancies in the several administrative groups. The interesting but unnovel aspect is the fact that men who were set down as first choices by the slate-makers, who are outstanding citizens, have declined the honours that were about to be thrust upon them.

Something of a different system may be evolved by which men who perform the city's business shall be paid for it with salaries that will carry intrinsic attraction. In the meantime little campaigns here and there remain lukewarm, and energy that should stir up heat is wasted in the air.

The Plague of Pimples

Body Covered With Them

The primary cause of pimples arises from the blood not being in a good condition. When the blood becomes impure you will find that pimples will break out all over the body, but more particularly on the forehead, nose and chin, and although they are not a dangerous trouble, they are very unsightly. What you need when pimples or boils break out is a real good blood purifying medicince such as Burdock Blood Bitters.

This preparation has been on the market for over 40 years and is the most reliable remedy for all troubles arising from a bad condition of the blood. It removes all the impurities from the system and will leave a clear, healthy skin.

Mr. Emerson G. Goodwin, Cambridge, N. B., writes: "For nearly two years I suffered from boils and pimples on my neck and nearly all my body was covered with the pimples. I tried most everything but got no relief. One day a friend advised me to try Burdock Blood Bitters, and after using three bottles the pimples and the boils had all left me and there is no sign of them returning. I can strongly recommend B.B.B. to anyone who is troubled with skin disease."

BRIQUETTES AT $9.40 TON MAY HELP CANADA.

Reports received from the Lignite Utilisation Board by the Research Council of Canada indicate that a plant will be in operation near Estavan, Saskatchewan, in August next, which will turn out 30,000 tons of briquettes per year, and these briquettes will sell for about $9.40 per ton in Winnipeg.

This plant, it is prophesied, will be the beginning of an industry which will in a great measure serve to solve the fuel problems of Western Canada, for these briquettes will be equal, ton for ton, to anthracite in heat value and like anthracite in character and keeping qualities.

THIRSTY CORRESPONDENTS ASK RELAXATION OF ORDER AGAINST IMPORTATION OF INTOXICANTS

LETTERS POUR IN ON GOVERNMENT FROM EVERY PROVINCE—CABINET WING WOULD TAKE ACTION TO AVOID UNREST.

Anxious for Christmas cheer in the "good old way," numerous thirsty correspondents are bombarding the Government with telegrams and letters. They are not representative of any one province alone. The are from almost every part of the Dominion and all alike ask for relaxation of the awr-time orders-in-council prohibiting importation of intoxicating liquor. It was expected that the orders-in-council, along with the war period, would have lapsed weeks ago. But delays in ratification of the treaty have prolonged the life of the War Measures Act, and the orders-in-council remain in force. Importation is still forbidden.

Think It Would Remove Unrest.

There is a Cabinet wing which has for some time urged abrogation of all the war-time orders-in-council. They take the view that the orders-in-counil were passed to meet special war conditions and that the more quickly special war restrictions are removed, the less likely is there to be unrest. Acting on a general principle, they would repeal all the war-time orders-in-council not ispecially order-in-council affecting importation and manufacture of intoxicating liquor. They would, however, make an exception of the orde-in-council authorizing the Government to deal with alien enemy property. Powers under this order-in-council are considered essential until enabling legislation passed last session can be utilized when peace is formally proclaimed.

Not Much Hope.

But although rescinding of all war-time orders has met with support, there is little likelihood of any relaxation for Christmas. Formal peace, it is thought, is not now far distant. And with its coming, war-time restrictions will cease.

CHRISTMAS VISITORS

A GREAT MANY EXPECT FRIENDS FROM A DISTANCE TO COME HERE FOR THE HOLIDAY.

A great many townspeople expect friends from a distance to come here for the holidays. The indications are that there will be an unusual number of visitors to city homes in Peterborough this Christmas. Many families have not been united for Christmas dinner for several years, and with the boys at home, they are expected to be under the parental roof on this, the first opportunity they have had since the war ended.

Nothing is too good in the way of preparation for this homecoming. Any dingy corners in the house should be brightened up, and there is no better way than by taking advantage of Harry Zack's big annual Christmas furniture sale—buy the piece or pieces that are required to add that bright look to the home surroundings, at a substantial saving on present values, and if required, avail yourself of Mr. Zack's easy terms of payment.

Visit the store at least, and see what you can do. The sale lasts till Christmas Eve. The place is 420 George Street (opposite Examiner).

SHIVERS

(Special to The Examiner.)

TORONTO, Dec. 17.—All Canada, with the exception of the Provinces of British Columbia and Alberta, was to-day shivering in the close embrace of an almost Arctic temperature. The coldest point at 8 a.m., according to the official observatory list, were: Quebec with 24 below and Sault Ste. Marie with 22 below. White River, Ont., did not report its 8 a.m. temperature, nor the lowest of yesterday, and the suggestion is that the official thermometer in Canada's coldest white town is frozen up. Halifax showed 2 above zero at 8 a.m., though the thermometer touched zero during the night. Probabilities give promise of warmer weather to-night and to-morrow in most of the western provinces with a continuation of the cold spell everywhere else, except in the Maritime Provinces, where gales are prophesied.

Toronto experienced its first taste of real cold weather this morning, when the mercury dropped to 4 below zero. The temperature at Lambton at 9 a.m. was reported to be 8 below.

A decidedly cold snap is now over the part of the Dominion. During the night the lowest temperature was 6 degrees below zero, but later in the morning it sank to 12 degrees below, and at noon it was still 7 degrees below zero. It is unusual for the thermometer to fall very much during the daylight hours.—W. P.

Before it was noticed and the alarm turned in, the blaze had gained considerable headway, and when the fire brigade arrived they found the great structure a seething mass of flames and smoke.

The Eureka is positively the most powerful, the most portable electric vacuum cleaner in the world. Awarded the grand prize at the Panama Pacific Exhibition, competing with all other makes.
Every real electric vacuum cleaner derives its efficiency from its ability to move a great volume of air through the carpet or other fabric at a high velocity.
The brush inserted in or attached to the nozzle of this type of cleaner is there solely for the purpose of removing the lint, hair and threads from the surface. The air gets the dirt—the dirty, unsanitary dirt embedded in the rug or fabric.
Eureka supremacy is based upon these two things—great volume of air—and the high velocity at which it travels.
Let us demonstrate it any time in your own home. We will send it any time—Christmas Day if you wish. All money promptly refunded if not satisfied.

ABANDON TRUNK ROAD, AID RURAL HIGHWAYS, SAYS PREMIER DRURY

OUTLINES HIS ROADS POLICY AT BANQUET OF THE DOMINION GRANGE AGAINST CONCENTRATION ON A FEW ROADS IN ONTARIO.

WANTS GOOD-WILL WITH AMERICAN NEIGHBOURS

TORONTO, Dec. 16.—Premier Ernest C. Drury was the principal guest of honor at the banquet given Monday night at the Carls-Rite by the Dominion Grange. As a Past Master of the organization, he told of the great debt the Farmers' movement owed to the institution and then discussed the policy of his Government, touching at the conclusion of his address on international relations.

"I believe one of the things we all should work for is good-will between this country and the country to the south of us," he said. The coming forward of the common people in the new movement sweeping the country, he observed, would be a great surety of international relations. "We must frown on anyone so wicked as to stir up passions between these two countries," said the Premier. Such a thing had been done in the past by politicians for their own ends. "It is part of my religion that I should do all in my power to cultivate good relations between Canada and the United States. We want that boundary kept without gun or fort—not now but forever."

Drury's Road Policy.

The Premier spoke briefly on the road policy of his Administration. It had been argued, he said, that the revenue from motor cars should be expended on highways. He held that part of the revenue from motor cars at least should be used on roads serving the great body of the people. His highway policy would include three things.

The abandonment of the expensive trunk highways, retaining the road, probably improving it, and making it into a decent running road.

Spreading out the Provincial roads where they would do the greatest good to the greatest number, spending money available on the whole road system, and giving aid to county roads.

And finally giving assistance to township roads.

It was the people of the little towns and the rural districts that needed the roads the most, said the Premier. There was a need of market roads throughout the country, not a concentration on a few of them, but a spread of roads all over the Province.

Mr. Drury talked for a few minutes on educational needs. The fault of the present system was that there was too much regulation. He wanted the parents to get the idea that they had some say in the schools in their sections; the teachers and the inspectors to feel that they could show initiative and originality without feeling that they were breaking regulations.

Affection for the Grange.

"The Grange holds a great place in my affections," said the Premier. There need be no jealousy between the Grange and the United Farmers of Ontario. He sketched the growth of the latter organization to the time he was called upon to form a Government. Before setting out on the the election campaign he had promised his wife that when it was over he would come back to the farm and spend a quiet winter at home, but the elections had decided otherwise.

"We are not politicians, and hope that we never will be in the accepted sense of the term," he said referring to his administration. "I don't think the old parties will unite against us in the Legislature, because I don't believe the people of the Province would stand a combination of the old parties to put us out of business before we had a chance to show what we can do." He was not worrying over what Mr. Dewart or Mr. Ferguson might do, he said.

Young People Interested.

Mr. J. G. Lethbridge, newly-elected U.F.O. member for West Middlesex, said he counted it one of the bright spots in his political associations to meet delegates from the Dominion Grange. He counted it another honor to be associated at the same event with the Premier of the Province, Hon. E. C. Drury.

Speaking to "The Legislature," he said: "We have just passed through a Provincial election, and one of the things that pleased me most in my campaign was the wonderful interest that the younger people, young men and young women, took in the issues that were advanced. I felt that even if I failed personally to secure election that I ought to be proud of the fact that I was able to bring out numbers of young men and get them interested in public affairs."

Heretofore, Mr. Lethbridge believed, the biggest weakness of the farmers as a body was that they would not trust each other. "One of our greatest achievements, I hold," he continued, "is that we have now learned to trust one another. Formerly we would not trust one another, especially along political lines. We have learned this lesson that we can trust one another, and we have already to a certain extent eradicated old party differences." Heartily applause greeted his reminder that this new-found faith of the farmer in the farmer had resulted in his riding of an overturning of a 600 Liberal majority into nearly 3,000 of a U.F.O. majority.

Lauds Farmers' Sun.

Heartily he congratulated the farm press, particularly The Farmers' Sun, on the work it did for the Farmers' party during the campaign. "And today," he added, "we find not a great deal of antagonism on the part of much of the press of the Province. I feel sure that the present Legislature has pretty much the confidence of the great majority of the people of this Province as a whole. I believe that this is the day of the common man, the common workingman as opposed to the big financial interests. The present Legislature has pretty strongly the sentiment of this Province at its back.

"I know that we have a Legislature that is clean and that is devoid of all partisan trickery, fresh from the soil, and we have a Leader of whom we are proud, and who we believe is going to do what is true and right. I have been glad to hear the Premier make it plain to the people of this Province that it is not class legislation that we are going to give this Province, but that we are going to legislate for the interests of the Province as a whole. I am satisfied that is the purpose of every member of the Legislature."

Not Enough U. F. O. Members.

So many problems confronted the Government in this time of reorganization that Mr. Lethbridge believed a new Government could not very well have selected a more inopportune time in which to take over the reins. "It is most unfortunate, perhaps," he went on, "that we have not a few more members to carry on with more surety, but I am inclined to think we are going to have sufficient backing, and I have hope and confidence enough in the laboring class that they are going to stand by us in a way that we can without difficulty give this Province clean legislation."

The Farmers' movement, said Mr. Lethbridge, was part of a forward movement going on everywhere. Public sentiment organized in the United Farmers' party would be a great assistance to the Drury Government at the Legislature. He believed the farmers generally had nothing particularly against the late Hearst Government, only they realized that as the basic industry of the Province they were not adequately represented and, on the way to Ottawa, thought they would stop off in Toronto and clean things up.

Canada's Vast Resources.

Past Master John Pritchard spoke of the immense resources of the Dominion of Canada with "only a handful of people endeavoring to keep up the expense of the country and handling the business of the country. If Canada were going through a p

An exciting game was played last night at the Water street alleys in the De Laval League, the Giants taking two out of three from the Crescents.

Although the bowling was not up to the standard displayed in previous games, there was plenty of excitement. The second game going to the Giants by one pin.

President Robinson was an interested spectator, and he contributes the poor showing of some of the "stars" to the efficiency of the fowl line expert, Mr. French.

Young Dugan, of pugilist fame (?) had high single of 129, while Murray, the genial skipper of the Crescents, had high three games with 402.

Standing room will be at premium on Thursday night when the Separators hook up with the fast coming Midgets.

TORONTO, Dec. 17.— President R. H. Halbert, fo the United Farmers of Ontario, will retire from that position thisafternoon. He has given six years of industry to building up the organization, and is dropping out in view of his election to the House of Commons, representing North Ontario.

It is not known who will succeed Mr. Halbert as President, but the name of Mr. W. A. Amos, of Palmerston, Ontario, is most frequently mentioned. He is a former Presbyterian minister, but is now a farmer, and is on the executive of the U.F.O. Other possible presidents are R. W. E. Burnaby of Jefferson, President of the Farmers' Co-operative Company, Limited, and J. J. Morrison, Secretary of the U. F. O.

THE DUMBELLS

The "Dumbells," most famous and best loved of all soldier-entertainers organizations, with a record of over five hundred performances given in the vicinity of the front lines in France, are now on a home-coming tour of Canada and will return to the Grand for one day only, Christmas, matinee and evening.

The company is composed entirely of soldiers who have served an average of sixteen months in the trenches before being chosen as members of the Dumbells.

In "Biff, Bing Bang," which is the title of the original overseas revue, which they are offering, several of the boys don skirts and do everything from ballet dancing to singing arias from grand opera.

NEW YORK STOCK MARKETS

(United Press.)

NEW YORK, Dec. 17.— Most of the leading issues opened strong on the stock market to-day. Central Leather opened at 94 1-4, up 1-2; Studebaker at 108 1-4, up 1-8; U. S. Rubber at 126 3-8, up 1-8; Reading at 75 7-8, off 38; Mexican Petroleum at 204 1-4, up 5; Pierce Arrow at 77, up 3-8; Republic at 111 3-8, off 1-8; Southern Pacific at 102 7-8, unchanged; Bethlehem B at 98 7-8, up 3-8, and American Woollen at 126 7-8, up 1 3-8.

Ross D. Hamilton, as "Marjorie," with the "Dumbells" Overseas Revue, "BIFF! BING! BANG!" at the Grand Christmas, Matinee and Evening, December 25th.

U. S. Steel opened at 104 1-8.

Foreign exchanges continued to advance around mid-day and demand sterling was quoted above $4.85. This kept short interests busy covering stocks, and Mexican Oil issues were leaders. Mexican Pet. sold at 208, while Pan-American went above 106. Even some rails had sharp advances and Southern Pacific sold above 108.

Firmness in foreign exchange was reflected on the stock market. Prices continued to work toward higher levels during early trading. Mexican Pet. diped two points then recovered to the opening level, Pan American reach 104 and General Motors sold close to 330 an advance of about 20 over last week's low.

Demand sterling was somewhat stronger on the foreign exchange today opening at $4.08 1-4 up 3-4. Lire were three centimes higher at 12.72 but francs dropped 10 centimes to 10.30.

WOMAN IS HELD FOR MURDER OF HER SON.

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Dec. 17.—Mrs. Esther Miller Blade repudiated her statement that two negroes overpowered her last Friday night, on the Ventnor board walk and then kidnapped her four year old son. "It might have been a delusion,' she told Dr. Louis R. Souber, the coroner. "I am subject to delusions and I might be mistaken about the negroes."

Mrs. Blake is under arrest charged with the murder of her boy. She has been a sufferer from nervous exhaustion for several years.

The mother also admitted that the boy ran out on the Ventnor pier, from which the authorities believe she in a fit of instanity, threw him into the sea.

The motive for the crime, according to the police, was that Mrs. Blake harbored the delusion that the death of the boy, a mute, who she thought was a barrier between her and her husband, might result in a reconciliation.

VANCOUVER, BRITISH COLUMBIA

Canadians have grown blase and more appreciative of the richness and variety of the provinces of our Dominion. In British Columbia nature seems to have compressed into a limited space the features of half a continent. Richly endowed with a wealth of forest, mine and stream, a land of lofty mountains, and impetuous rivers, it is the great golden west of promise. The city of Vancouver lies on the verge of a glorious waterway—the gateway to the Pacific. Great purple mountains with snow-crests gleaming lie across the inlet. Stanley Park near by is a wonderland of a thousand acres. In the distance can be seen the summit of Mount Baker, robed in everlasting whiteness. In the lovely serenity of the "Sleeping Beauty" Mountain, in the grace and steadiness of the mountains known as "Lions", which stand guard over the harbor, in the placid dignity and grandeur of many other mountains there is unfolded a matchless panorama.

No one can complain of a lack of romance in the Western world. Where stood the forests primeval a few years ago, now rise skyscrapers, handsome churches, splendid educational institutions, and beautiful homes with gardens of roses and gaily bordered paths. The charm of it all is easily understood. An intense local loyalty and a commendable civic pride accomplished much. Vancouver is now one of the greatest seaports in the world, possessing one of the most beautiful sites imaginable.

Cosmopolitan are the throngs that crowd Vancouver streets. In the procession go the Chinese, Japanese, Hindu, the Indian, and men from all climes, but the white man predominates, as does his civilization.

Vancouver is of the 20th century full of up-to-date spirit, improvement and progress, and dowered by the bounty of nature.

NORTH MONAGHAN COUNCIL MAY BUY A LOT FOR PARK PURPOSES

MATTER DISCUSSED AT REGULAR MEETING OF TOWNSHIP COUNCIL --THE HONOUR ROLL.

The last regular meeting of the North Monaghan Council for the year was held yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock. The Council met as a Court of Revision to deal with the appeals in connection with the recent construction of a sidewalk on the south side of Chamberlain street from Monaghan Road to High street as a local improvement. Mr. H. J. Forester was elected chairman of the Court. A few minor complaints were lodged and deductions made for lumber, tools, etc., in connection with the construction of the sidewalk.

On motion of Messrs. Maclintosh and Bell, $98.02 was deducted from the total cost of the sidewalk which reduced the cost per foot from $1.30 to $1.24.

Court Adjourned.

The Court of Revision then adjourned and the Council proceeded with the regular routine with Reeve MacIntosh in the chair. All the members were present.

By-law 773 was then introduced and read authorizing the Council to borrow $1199 upon debentures to pay the cost of the sidewalk. This amount includes the cost of the sidewalk to date but does not include the interest upon the money borrowed on debentures extending over a period of fifteen years.

A motion was carried authorizing the treasurer to pay Mr. D. Mahoney $10.00 error in pay sheet re the sidewalk construction.

The Council treasurer, Mr. W. H. Bradburn, was present and read his annual statement which was accepted and ordered to be published.

How to Make a Real Wrinkle Remover

In these days of cleverly advertised "beautifiers" and "rejuvenators," it is hard for a woman to believe she can make a simple home remedy for the removal of wrinkles which will do her much more good than the average made preparation. There's nothing in the world so effective for erasing or preventing wrinkles, age marks, bagginess of cheeks and chin, as a simple and harmless solution made by dissolving an ounce of pure powdered saxolite in a half pint of witch hazel. These ingredients of course can be had at any drug store. Use the mixture daily for a while as a refreshing wash lotion. The quick results will surprise you. Even the first application produces very marked improvement. The wrinkles are less in evidence and the face has a firm, "solid," comfortable feeling. Soon you will look considerably less than your age.

MILKING MACHINES FOR OLD WORLD COWS

Antiquated Farm Methods Are Being Scrapped in Italy and Spain.

LONDON, Dec. 16.— Manufacturers of agricultural machinery are doing a roaring business in England and on the Continent because of the necessity of producing more food next year and of meeting the high cost of farm labor. A representative of one concern told a correspondent to-day that his company is swamped with orders for tractors.

In Spain, Italy and Poland antiquated farm methods, he asserts, will be scrapped in the face of the necessity for greater production. Old World farmers who laughed at milking machines are buying them now because in some places farmhands are willing to work only eight hours a day, and this has greatly upset the cow's milking hours.

Ends Stubborn Coughs in a Hurry

For real effectiveness, this old home-made remedy has no equal. Easily and cheaply prepared.

You'll never know how quickly a bad cough can be conquered, until you try this famous old home-made remedy. Anyone who has coughed all day and all night, will say that the immediate relief given is almost like magic. It takes but a moment to prepare and really there is nothing better for coughs.

Into a 16-oz. bottle, put 2½ ounces of Pinex (50 cents worth); then add plain granulated sugar syrup to make 16 ounces. Or you can use clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup, instead of sugar syrup. Either way, this mixture saves about two-thirds of the money usually spent for cough preparations, and gives you a more positive, effective remedy. It keeps perfectly, and tastes pleasant—children like it.

You can feel this take hold instantly, soothing and healing the membranes in all the air passages. It promptly loosens a dry, tight cough, and soon you will notice the phlegm thin out and then disappear altogether. A day's use will usually break up an ordinary throat or chest cold, and it is also splendid for bronchitis, croup, hoarseness, and bronchial asthma.

Pinex is a most valuable concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, the most reliable remedy for throat and chest ailments.

To avoid disappointment, ask your druggist for 2½ ounces of Pinex with directions and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money refunded. The Pinex Co., Toronto, Ont.

ABANDON TRUNK ROAD AND RURAL HIGHWAYS, SAYS PREMIER DRURY

riod of stress she had not nearly the same trouble that beset other nations of the world in the reconstructive period.

Reviewing the political situation, he remarked that while no Governments, Federal or Provincial, could have been expected to do everything that was necessary for the country in war-times, the farmers did feel that not as much had been done in the interests of the country as a whole as could have been done. One of the reasons for partial failure, he held, was that not enough men were in office of the calibre of the visitors at last night's Grange meeting.

"If our inexperienced forefathers," he said, "could come into this new country and make of it the success it has become, is there any reason why an inexperienced Legislature like we have now in this Province should not be able to do likewise. I look forward in great hope for this country of ours. What we want is thrift, economy and industry. If we practise these virtues very soon the political, social and economic life of our country will be improved and we will have a better Canada."

To properly develop, Mr. Pritchard believed, Canada must have more people.

Tells of Pioneer Days.

Past Master Dawson Kennedy entertained his hearers with interesting reminiscences of the pioneer days, when the forefathers of present-day agriculturalists hewed their way through the bush to make for themselves a home. The first cord of wood ever sold in Peterboro', he said, sold for 75 cents, and he himself had frequently carted wood there and sold it for $1 and $1.25 per cord. He told his audience of having driven Hon. George Brown around the Peterboro' district in a political campaign.

To Premier Drury he offered the suggestion that ordinary common sense would prove a more efficient weapon of offense and defense in his new office than all the old-time trickery. The old-line parties, he believed would be out to "get" the Premier. "If you can avoid the pitfalls they will set for you," he declared, "you will be all right. I am not going to be satisfied until the Farmers get into the Dominion House as well as the Provincial House."

Fountain of Inspiration.

Mr. W. L. Smith of The Farmers' Sun recalled pioneer in the Farmers' movement, many of whom had passed away to their reward. The Grange, he said, was the fountain head of inspiration of all Farmers' organizations in the Dominion.

Mr. W. F. W. Fisher of Burlington, who spoke briefly on horticulture, said that there was not any single branch of agriculture of more importance to the Province and the nation than the horticultural branch.

Mr. W. C. Good, addressing the speaking to the toast of "The Press," pointed out the dangers to which the press of the day was exposed in the growing cost of capitalizing and insituting a newspaper.

Mr. W. C. Wood, addressing The Grange members on the U.F.O co-operating movement, related an interesting history of the inception of The Grange in 1875 as the result of the efforts of a man named Kelly of Minnesota. From various extracts he showed his audience how in its inception the aims of the movement were the elevation of the manhood and womanhood of the farms.

A Coated Tongue? What it Means

A bad breath, coated tongue, bad taste in the mouth, languor and debility are usual signs that the liver is out of order. PROF. HUMPHREY says "The liver is an organ of secondary importance only to the heart."

We manufacture poison within our own bodies which are deadly as a snake's venom.

The liver acts as a guard over our well-being, sifting out the cinders and ashes from the general circulation.

A blockade in the intestines piles a heavy burden upon the liver. If the intestines are choked or clogged up, the circulation of the blood becomes poisoned and the system becomes loaded with toxic waste and we suffer from headache, yellow-coated tongue, bad taste in mouth, nausea, or gas, acid dyspepsia, languor, debility, yellow skin or eyes. At such times one should take castor oil or a pleasant laxative. Such a one is made of May apple, leaves of aloe and jalap, put into ready-to-use form by Doctor Pierce, nearly fifty years ago, now sold for 25 cents by all druggists as Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets.

This paper which is published at Novorossisk, Kuban, goes on: "The shirt is made of thin coper wire and fitted with a connecting plug. It was put on a victim who was first treated with salt liquid, and then a strong electrical current was turned on, and caused indescribable tortures. This shirt was found on the body of an unknown victim of Bolshevist inquisition."

From Out the Night You Hear the Cry: "Oh! Why Can't I Get to Sleep?"

Thousands of people all over the country ask this question, but still continue to toss, night after night, on sleepless beds, or walk the bedroom floor until near dawn. Worry or disease has so debilitated and irritated the nervous system that it cannot be quietened. Or, again, there is palpitation of the heart, the sleep is broken by terrible dreams, you wake up with smothering spells, sinking sensations and a fear of impending death.

A CHRISTMAS TRADITION

THE TRADITION OF SANTA CLAUS has always had its mystery, and it has always had its years when circumstances sought to push the mystery aside. "There ain't no Santa Claus!" has been a dreadful announcement in many a life, so dreadful that no one with a spark of human sentiment can fail to regard it as calamitous.

Yet no realism can utterly brush the traditions aside. Certain Santa Claus images may be shattered but the mystery remains. Gifts are real, to be weighed and measured. But there are secrets behind them and the spirit of Christmas, by whatever name or sign it is known, carries its hidden sentiment, its obscured methods of evoking the magic that illuminates the festival of youth and friendship.

The children who wonder who peer at the sky long in advance of the fateful hours are not more in the dark as to sources than many a grown-up. Where do the wonders come from? Who evokes these resplendent dolls? Whose wizard work is reflected in these extraordinary locomotives and windmills and soldiers and inhabitants of far away jungles? Whose patient labour and astonishing ingenuity devises these delightful surprises—actually brings them into being for someone else to pick up for transfer to just the right final ownership?

The story never gets told. You may ask the grey-haired old man in one workshop and the golden-haired young woman in another workshop but none of them can tell you more than a bit of the story. A Sherlock Holmes might do a lot of tracing. He might even find the crippled soldiers—soldiers almost as much broken as some of the wooden ones will be a week after Christmas, and still miss half the romance of the great fact. Who shall tell the full history of the tens of thousands of hands that weave the tapestry of Christmas magic? Only a true poet, perhaps, could guess what mother hearts and hands, what sister and friend and fellow-worker have been doing and will be doing until the very brink of the great day, to bring a note of surprised pleasure where affectionate or kindly imagination chooses to have it struck. "To have it done by Christmas!" That sentence visualises enough to convince any sour old sceptic that fashions may come and fashions may go, but that Christmas has an eternal youth.

Behind many a simple gift will lurk a pathos that may never be guessed. Behind many an ackowledgment of happiness will lie more than ever can be expressed.

SULTAN SAYS TURKEY MUST BE LEFT FREE

SAYS PEACE IN THE EAST IS ONLY POSSIBLE WITH AN INDEPENDENT TURKEY—TRUSTS AMERICAN SENATE.

CONSTANTINOPLE, — Mohammed VI., Sultan of Turkey, received The Associated Press correspondent here and discussed the Turkish situation and the part Turkey is taking in the settlement of the world peace.

In view of the Sultan, despite alarmist impressions in Europe with regard to the peace settlement, Turkish politics are taking a position of sound reasonableness, relying upon the judgment and also the justice of the allied Powers as did Austria, in order to secure the best terms possible.

There has been a moderate amount of propaganda to show that the Turks are fundamentally like other human beings—no better, no worse—and it appears true that nationalists have temporarily submerged the type of officials such as Enver Pasha and Talaat Pasha, who are known as hotheads of the Germanic school.

There is a suggestion of a defensive attitude, in the event the terms are unsatisfactory and that if Turkey is partitioned the Islamic elements of India, Turkestan and Egypt may make common cause with Bolshevism especially against the British. But foreign observers are of the opinion that this is more of a threat than anything else.

One thing the new Parliament hopes to accomplish is the separation of the church and State. The peoples of the Middle East, individually and collectively, realize that they will continue to starve and die unless some outside power brings them peace, order, and prosperity.

Some of these points were apparent in the interview which the Sultan accorded The Associated Press correspondent, who was received by His Majesty outside the Yildiz Kiosk Palace in the Mosque Samidieh Jami, just after the termination of the ceremony of the Selamik.

The Sultan conveyed an impression of dignity. He seemed a deserved but worn out old man, whose way had been full of pitfalls, with a groping in political darkness. So when he shook hands with a hard grip it was a galvanic shock. It made one more ready to believe that the Sultan had been able to assert his will against the old administrative officials who sought to control him before the armistice and also after the armistice.

When the doors closed, his retinue waited without. He seated himself in a businesslike manner and drew from his pocket the notes of answers he had written to questions previously submitted, he began, speaking in Turkish to an interpreter, his aid. Lieut. Commander Fahri:

"Turkish peace is desired quickly because delay is worse than war. It interferes with our political and economic conditions, and also our finances. The uncertainty tries the morale of the people, who have been long at war, and likewise involves misery and sickness.

"As for the kind of peace we deside it is one that will keep the East tranquil in which the powers of Europe are concerned. Eastern peace can be maintained only if Turkey is left independent. Whoever knows the East will agree with this opinion. The Islamic world will be satisfied only with our freedom.

"Regarding the American Senate, I believe it will be wise toward us. It is clearly unfair that other nationalities should profit by President Wilson's pledges ,and not we. President Wilson's principles were accepted by the allied powers. We aso rely on their sense of justice and that of the American people, whose honor is involved.

"Surely America will not disappoint the millions of Turks and the Islamic world.

"Those who investigated impartially the Turkish question have discovered that despite bad Government, our people have many merits and deserve better treatment than it is reported they are to receive. Those Americans who do not believe the slander about us and who understand our difficulties will not countenance this treatment of the Turks.

"With peace we will begin solving internal Turkish affairs. It is first necessary to perserve the tradition of the people, and it is my desire to secure the civilizing help of the great powers.

"I believe sincereiy in the new Turkey, in her regeneration, her social progress, if w are able to secure the general education of our people and also the modern means of prosperity The Turks are an honest, gifted people, and I shall endeavour with all my ability to attain these ends.

"Turkey, reconstructed, will be the centre of the East's peace and progress. It is my unwavering determination to reach this result. One big field is the emancipation of Turkish women. I believe it is through religion that we can best accomplish this, giving them the status of their American sisters, preserving their honor and probity and assuring their welfare as family builders.

"It will be seen that our religion is not against social progress. It is with satisfaction that we observe America adopting prohibition, which has been practiced among the faithful Mussulmans for centuries. The tenets of religion are always helpful when obeyed.

"As a last word I wish to express my gratitude to those Americans who, after visiting us, fel that we are not as bad as we are painted, and also my reliance on the justness of Americans."

AN AMAZING STORY OF CRUELTY TO PEERESS.

Lady Carbery Granted a Divorce Because her Husband Forced her to Live Like a Savage.

LONDON, December 16. — Lady Carbery has obtained a divorce from Lord Carbery in the Dublin divorce courts.

An amazing story of the young Irish peer's treatment of his girl wife was told in court by Sergeant Sullivan, who represented the petitioner. He said that after the honeymoon the respondent took his wife to the jungle wilds of East Africa, and compelled her to ride horseback for long distances, the ordeal causing her such pain that she used to throw herself to the ground writhing in agony. She was unattended by any person of her own sex, the only attendants being black boys. In 1915 Carbery again took her to Africa, where he had a large farm, with no house, and compelled her to live with him like a savage in a leaky grass hut. She contracted malaria, which affected her hearing. In 1916 they again visited Africa and lived in a house which meantime had been built on the farm. On one occasion the respondent lost his temper, and beat his wife viciously with a whip.

No defence was offered to the suit.

Voice Of The People

To the Editor:

Sir,—My neighbor tells me to keep away from the market and eggs and other foodstuffs will come down. I was asked $1 and 95c. on the market last Saturday for eggs. I afterwards went to my grocer and bought strictly fresh laid eggs for 85c., delivered to my door. Perhaps the "keep away from the market" idea might do good for a while.

CASTORIA

Fletcher's Castoria is strictly a remedy for Infants and Children. Foods are specially prepared for babies. A baby's medicine is even more essential for Baby. Remedies primarily prepared for grown-ups are not interchangeable. It was the need of a remedy for the common ailments of Infants and Children that brought Castoria before the public after years of research, and no claim has been made for it that its use for over 30 years has not proven.

What is CASTORIA?

Castoria is a harmless substitute for Castor Oil, Paregoric, Drops and Soothing Syrups. It is pleasant. It contains neither Opium, Morphine nor other narcotic substance. Its age is its guarantee. For more than thirty years it has been in constant use for the relief of Constipation, Flatulency, Wind Colic and Diarrhoea; allaying Feverishness arising therefrom, and by regulating the Stomach and Bowels, aids the assimilation of Food; giving healthy and natural sleep. Blighted War Romance Re-told By Jilted One-Armed Soldier

IMOTHY BOWLER'S PROSAIC LIFE AS FARM HAND RAN THROUGH FATEFUL YEAR IN 1918—SAYS MRS. REDMAN PROPOSED TO HIM—ARM SHOT OFF ON EVE OF ARMISTICE.

EJECTED BECAUSE OF MUTILATION

A strange war romance was re-aled in the County Court before dge Huycke this morning in the stimony of Timothy P. Bowler, ho has brought action against Mrs. dith Redman and Albert Vass for 50, which according to his evid-ce he gave to Mrs. Redman under promise of marriage to keep for m until he returned from France, t which he alleges she converted her own use.

Bowler was a draftee of the Spring 1918. He had been refused exemp-on although he had sought release om military service as a farm hand. hough he accepted the King's shill-g at the eleventh hour, and reached rance in time for the final drive d rout of the Germans, on No-mber 8th, he was so seriously ounded in action that his left arm as amputated at the elbow. After a ng convaleseence he arrived back in eterboro last spring to be told by e young woman who had frequent-written to him as "Your Sweet-art", that she couldn't marry him ecause he couldn't provide for and er her with only one arm.

Bowler was evidently a backward [illegible] wooer for he admitted at Mrs. Redman had proposed to [illegible] some time after [illegible] ome of Mr. Blodgett about a mile st of Peterboro, where he was rking as a hired man.

He alleges that he gave her his tomobile, bank savings and assign-d pay to keep for him until he me back from the war. The co-de-ndant Vass is charged with con-piracy in the sale of the automobile. Bowler swooned on the witness nd at one o'clock after an exam-nation of more than two hours.

Mr. Gordon his counsel, said he as still suffering from the effects shock. Mr. G. W. Hatton appeared r Mrs. Redman and Mr. R. R. Hall r Mr. Vass.

Automobile Sold for $900

G. A. Gillespie was the first wit-ess. He testified that as agent for axwell automobiles he sold a new r to Albert Vass about July 1st 18, receiving in exchange a 1915 odel Maxwell valued at $750 a econd hand Ford worth $300. The alance of $385 was paid in cash.

To Mr. Hatton, witness estimated fair charge for a year's use of a ord would be from $100 to $150. When a car that had been used for ne year was exchanged for a new ord the allowance for depreciation as about $150.

Was its cash value $300? I think it as.

Would you have paid $300 for it? —"I don't know that I would. I didn't uy second hand cars. It was good alue at $300.

Timothy Bowler

Timothy. P. Bowler, the plaintiff, aid he was born in London, Eng., hirty years ago and had lived in Canada twenty years. He had worked or some time with Mr. Blodgett. Early last Spring, he met Mr. Vass nd Mrs. Redman at a dance at Blod-gett's. Mrs. Vass was also there.

Mr. Gordon—"How did you meet Mrs. Redman " —"I went over in he car for her."

"Where was she?" —"At Mr. Vass' ome."

"Who sent you?"—Nobody I went myself."

"Were you at the dance?"—"No. I as in the kitchen all the time."

Plaintiff said he had spoken briefly with Mrs. Redman several times. One Sunday night she was at Blod-gett's.

"She came into the kitchen and in-

A YEAR AGO TO-DAY

Dec. 18.—Toronto Police Force on strike to-day.

Big party of Peterborough men re-turn from overseas.

"TO BE A SECOND WIFE SEEMED LIKE HAVING A WARMED OVER DINNER

Only it was affection instead of love that was warmed over."

So reasoned Sandra Courtney, with all the innocence of just-eighteen. Never, never, would she marry a man who had been married before!

And yet Everett Graham, rich and handsome, forty-one and a widower, persuaded her to marry him. So she put aside the persistent little doubt that would creep into her mind, even on her wedding morning, and went trustingly away with him.

Her chum said the ghost of his first wife would haunt her. But Sandra laughed at that idea. Didn't she love Everett,—not in the overwhelming fashion the novel's painted, to be sure, but that sort of love would come in time. Did it come? And did she have reason to be jealous of that earlier wife? Read "Sandra the Jealous," beginning Saturday in the Examiner.

Mayor Duncan Host At a Civic Dinner

"PETERBORO HAS A PLACE IN THE SUN," IS THE CONCENSUS OF OPINION OF THE SPEECHMAKERS—AMONG THOSE PRESENT —RETIRING ALDERMEN EULOGIZED.

To show his appreciation of the co-operation given him by the city officials ,the chairman of the different boards and his colleagues in the Council, Mayor G. M. Duncan tendered a banquet to them in the Palm Parlours last evening.

After the dinner was over the toast to the King was proposed by Mayor Duncan. After the singing of the National Anthem, Ald. J. J. Turner, chairman of the Legal and Reception Committee, proposed the toast to the Civic Boards.

Ald. Turner spoke of the good work being carried on by the Police Commission, City Trust, City Utilities Commission, the Charity Board and Public Library Board and he thought that the work of these Boards was being carried on efficiently and in the best interests of the citizens. Ald. Turner spoke of the change that might be made in selecting the Police Commission and said that in his opinion the people were represented on the Commission by the highest thoughts and highest minds of the Community.

As to the question, "Is Peterboro bankrupt?" Ald. Turner said that the city was far from that, that the city had plenty of money to pay debentures as they were due. "We now have a surplus over the interest charges and sinking fund," Ald. Turner said. "Our credit is 100% and I am sorry that the question was raised in the press.

Utilities Commission

Ald. Turner spoke of the efficient manner in which the Utilities Commission had been carried on and how they had shown a surplus in their statement for the year and how they had carried out many improvements, a most noticeable one being the removal of the telegraph poles on George street.

Ald. Turner in speaking if the Board of Health said that the city was fortunate in having such good men on the Board and that the credit for having a clean and sanitary city should go to them.

"The Charity Board also does a splendid work and we could not get along without it."

"The Public Library is one of the things that go to make up a community", said Ald. Turner. "Many people are not as fortunate as some of us in possessing a library of our own and it is of great benefit to a community to possess a good library and Peterboro is fortunate in having one which is a credit to her."

All these Boards combined, look after the welfare of our city and we have a city we may well be proud of.

Ald. Turner's Toast was responded to by Judge Huycke on behalf of the Police Commission.

Police Commission.

The Judge dwelt on the good qualities of Mayor Duncan and his faithful and unselfish labours in the Council. Speaking of the Police Commission His Honour said that the police should not be regarded as a local organization but as a provincial or Dominion one. Their duties are to protect the lives of all people no matter where they live and one force must work together with all the rest. The Judge said that this the Peterboro police had done and that they had a very successful organization. "Our organization is better than ever before His Honour said. "and is successful and efficient yes and an honouable and honest one. "Deeds speak louder than words" said Judge Huycke.

Our city is designed for greater things said His Honour and the only way this can be attained is by the people working together and then we shall have the best and the brightest city in the whole of Canada.

Board of Health

Mr. William Buller replied on behalf of the Board of Health. Ex-Mayor Buller referred to the wonderful work carried on by the Board during the "flu" epidemic and how Peterboro escaped with a very low death rate and also to the precaution now being taken against smallpox.

"Financially the Board has been run as economically as possible," said Mr. Buller. Mr. Buller outlined the necessary work that must be attended to at the Isolation Hospital and said that more money would be needed next year to carry on the necessary work. Ex-Mayor Buller spoke of the resignation of Dr. Amy's and how Dr. McPherson had returned to his old position.

Charity Board

Ex-Mayor Rush on behalf of the Charity Board thanked the Mayor for his kind invitation to be present, and said that the Charity Board was very busy but that there was a great deal of work to be done. Ex-Mayor Rush said that last year some $5,000 had been expended.

I am sure that the Charity Board are doing their best work with the assistance of F. W. Miller, of whose work I cannot speak too highly.

Mr. Corkery representing the Separate Schools on the Charity Board was unable to be present.

Civic Development

Ald. H. Gainey in proposing the toast to "Civic Development" echoing Judge Huycke's words said that if Peterboro was to expand the people must all work together and pull together.

"As regards Civic Development the mayor has appointed a commission to look after this department and if the new bylaw for the purchase of Riverside Park is put through they will not be idle next year", Alderman Gainey said.

Board of Trade

Mr. Ryerson Ritchie of the Board of Trade replied to the toast. Mr. Ritchie said that he appreciated the privilege of being present and thanked the Mayor for his appointment to the Civic Development Commission and promised to give his best services to the Commission.

Mr. Ritchie said that they were fortunate in having the counsel and advice of Thomas Adams, one of the world's greatest town planners and who has been appointed by the Government to aid in this work.

Mr. Ritchie caused much amusement when he compared the Commission to the Council "In working without pay" and "of the abuse they would get when their backs were turned."

"The Board of Trade cannot grow in influence or usefulness as a conservator of private self-seeking whether individually or collectively It must stand for the protection of property and the legitimate rights of the individual. It must stand for the material welfare of Peterboro and each and every one of her citizens."

"Our council should have our aid and our hearty thanks instead of criticism and suspicion." said Mr. Ritchie.

Dismiss Charges

NEW DEVELOPMENTS IN THE DANSEY MURDER CASE—TWO PRISONERS TO BE RELEASED.

MORE ARRESTS

(Special to The Examiner.)

HAMMOND, N.J., Dec. 18.—Charles S. White and Mrs. Edna Jones will be released from the county jail at May's Landing within a week, Edward White, father of the young man accused of the murder of Billie Dansey, declared to-day.

Edmund G. Gaskill, county prosecutor, stated that the county expected soon to arrest the two men mentioned earlier in the case, and that then the charges against White and Mrs. Jones probably would be dismissed.

WHEAT SHIPMENTS TO EASTERN MARKET

(Special to The Examiner.)

WINNIPEG, Dec. 18.—The Canadian Wheat Board are demanding one hundred cars per day out of the terminals on all rail wheat shipments.

This does not leave the least trade much chance for any volume of business in the coarse grains to the Eastern markets.

The movement by rail during the winter season was almost entirely governed by the weather elements, and with the Wheat Board demanding one hundred cars per day, it looks as though the stock will increase in terminals in coarse grains a great deal faster than they can be moved out.

EXCITED OVER THE TWO APPOINTMENTS

(Canadian Press.)

OTTAWA, Dec. 18.—Appointments of Col. Carty to the Vancouver collectorship, and Lieut. Alphonse Payette, to the Hull postmastership, have drawn excited protests from two departments in the Dominion Government and pointed comment from "The Civilian," the organ of the Canadian Civil Service Association, "Both appointees are outsiders without any experience in the work they have been hired to supervise," says the Journal. It then refers to the fact that the Customs Service has some three thousand members with from one to forty years' official experience waiting for promotion.

MONTREAL TRAIN WAS DERAILED

DR. D. N. CARMICHAEL OF THIS CITY ATTENDED TWO OF THE INJURED.

(Canadian Press.)

MONTREAL, Dec. 18. — At one-thirty this morning the C.P.R. Montreal-Toronto train was derailed just east of Smith's Falls by a rail which had an internal flow, breaking under the train. The flaw could not be detected on the surface. Several passengers sustained slight injuries. The passengers taken to Smith's Falls on a relief train, where another train was made up and the passengers continued their destination.

Dr. D. N. Carmichael, of Peterborough, was called to meet two of the injured passengers as they passed through the city en route for Toronto, but found their injuries to be more or less slight.

THE WEATHER.

The cold is moderating to some extent but it is is still quite sharp, and there will be zero readings again to-night. The lowest temperature last night was 16 degrees below zero, being but one degree lower than what prevailed last evening after sunset. At 7 o'clock this morning it was 12 below.—W. P.

ALLIES MAY CONSIDER A COUNTER PROPOSAL

TO ARRANGE FOR AMERICAN EXPORT

(United Press.)

LONDON, Dec. 18. — August Mueller, former Under Secretary in the German Food Administration, is arranging to visit the United States, a Berlin despatch to the Times declared to-day.

Mueller will attempt to arrange for important export of raw materials and to find the quantity of food available for Germany, the despatch adds.

PROPOSALS FOR A PEACE TREATY

A COMPROMISE BY THE DEMOCRATIC SENATORS.

(Special to The Examiner.)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 18.—Definite proposals for a Peace Treaty compromise are being formulated by the Democratic Senators for submission to the Republican Mild Reservationists, it was learned to-day.

This is the first time that the Democrats have taken the lead in seeking an agreement on specific terms. In doing so, they are according to the request of the Republicans, who, since the Treaty failed, have declined to put forward any terms, on the ground that if the Democrats want to compromise, they should say definitely how far they are willing to go.

MR. R. W. BURNABY WAS ELECTED TO HEAD THE FARMERS

(Special to The Examiner.)

TORONTO, Dec. 18.—R. W. Burnaby was to-day elected president of the U. F. O. of Ontario in succession to R. H. Halbert, M.P.-Elect for Nor. Ontario, who resigned the leadership of the Ontario Farmers to enter into the broader federal field.

The election of Mr. Burnaby was made unanimous on the motion of W. A. Amos, who made a close run with Mr. Burnaby for the position.

Mr. Amos was then elected vice-president after all the other candidates had retired in his favour.

Road Policy.

Hon. C. S. Biggs, Minister of Public Works and Highways, made an important announcement of the road construction policy he intends to pursue, when speaking before the United Farmers of Ontario convention at their evening meeting last night. The Minister, in introducing his remarks, gave it as his belief that the eyes of the Province were more upon his department to-day speculating on the good roads policy to be followed than upon all the rest of the Cabinet put together. He felt that an important consideration, if it is desired to keep people upon the farms, is to make it possible for them to get to and from the farms without running the danger of being stuck in the mud.

While declaring that he was not in a position to make an announcement of the full road policy of the Government, Mr. Biggs stated that he had presented certain ideas to the Premier, who was in accord with them, as was also the political committee of the U.F.O.

In the Province, he declared there was a good roads system that to some extent had been poorly administered.

"The first thing to take into consideration is some assistance to the township roads," declared the Minister, who was greeted with expressions of "hear, hear," from the audience. Continuing, he stated that there were 1,100,000 days' statute labour still uncommuted in Ontario, and that the sooner these were commuted the better for the Province. With the advent of the automobile, people, and particularly the farmers, wanted better roads, and he was going to see that they got them.

WILL ANNOUNCE HIS SELECTIONS

WASHINGTON, D.C., Dec. 18.—President Wilson will proabbly announce to-day his selections for a three man commission to investigate the mining situation, it was learned at the White House.

GERMAN DELEGATES FURNISH PROOF OF INABILITY TO SUPPLY MATERIAL DEMANDED BY THE ALLIES.

SERBIANS FIGHTING

(Canadian Press.)

PARIS, Dec. 18.—German delegates are said by newspapers here to have furnished the Allies with proof that Germany cannot deliver all harbor and dock material demanded in the protocol to the peace treaty. Allied experts are said to be disposed to consider a counter proposition which would reduce the amount to be turned over by two hundred thousand tons.

(Canadian Press.)

PARIS, Dec. 18.— Fierce fighting by Montenegrin people against Serbian occupation, occurred around Cettinje between December the first and twelfth, it is declared in an official communique from the Foreign Ministry of the Montenegrin government, the seat of which is in a suburb of Paris. The statement asserts that the Serbians placed women and children in front of them to prevent the Montenegrins defending themselves. The Montenegrin government has protested to the Peace Conference and asks that the Serbians be forced to evacuate the country.

WORLD HAPPENINGS

(Canadian Press.)

LONDON, Dec. 18.— Sir Auckland Geddes, Minister of National Service and Reconstruction, announced in the House of Commons to-day that in view of the decision of Justice Sir John Sankey of King's Bench division that the Government possessed no power to prohibit the importation of certain goods, the Customs had been instructd to allow the importation of all articles affected in the government's prohibitory proclamation, pending an appeal.

BOUNDARY QUESTION.

(Canadian Press.)

PARIS, Dec. 18.—The question of compensation Germany should make for the sinking of the Scapa Flow fleet was again before the Supreme Council to-day. Several propositions were presented to the Council, but no definite decision was reached. One more boundary question was settled by the Council when it delineated the frontier between Galicia and Bukowina.

MEXICAN REPLY.

(Canadian Press.)

Washington, Dec. 18.—Mexican reply to the note sent by the United States government regarding the imprisonment of Consular Agent Jenkins was received this morning. The official text is said to differ slightly from that contained in despatches from Mexico city, in which it was stated that his release had removed all motive for misunderstanding between the two government. It was officially intimated that at the first reading the communication had not made a favorabde impression.

STILL HOLDING BACK.

(Canadian Press.)

OTTAWA, Dec. 18.—At the conclusion of to-day's meeting of the Cabinet Council, Premier Borden informed the Canadian Press that he was not as yet prepared to make any statement as to his intentions. Possibly a statement will be issued later.

MOOSE JAW CITY COUNCIL WON'T SIT UNDER MAYOR

MOOSE JAW, Dec. 17.—Following the refusal of Mayor Hamilton to apologize to members of the City Council for references made regarding them during the recent civic elections, the aldermen refused to sit under his chairmanship here. The references, to which objection is taken was that of Mayor Hamilton, when he characterized the members of the council as liars.

LUMBER PRICES STILL GOING UP

(Special to The Examiner.)

WINNIPEG, December 18.—"Prices of lumber laid down wholesale on the Prairies have advanced from 15 to 25 per cent. in the last three months, and are still advancing," declared Premier Norris of Manitoba last night. "The advance at the mills is even greater," he added.

"And it is not a question of the Canadian manufacturers putting up the price. The market is simply running away through the bidding of buyers from the United States above listed prices. The demand from the States is tremendous. Even spruce from the mills north of Edmonton was being shipped to Chicago and New York at exceptionally high prices. Pine is also following the market, and rapidly advancing."

General Election

RUMOUR IS REVIVED IN GREAT BRITAIN—TEST OF CONFIDENCE.

END OF SESSION

(Canadian Press.)

LONDON, Dec. 18.— Recent predictions that a general election will be held in the near future are revived by several morning newspapers in connection with rumors current in Parliamentary lobbies. Parliament will be prorogued next week, until the second week in February when, according to widespread belief, the government will prepare for dissolution of Parliament and an election to test the country's confidence in the coalition cabinet.

PRUNES IN B. C.

Valuable Industry Developed in Grand Fork Valley.

That the dry districts of British Columbia are very suitable for the production of prune plums has long been recognized, yet experienced fruit-growers of that province have found that fruit of that kind cannot be grown to advantage unless a large supply of water is available. It has been found that with the help of artificial irrigation the prune crop on the Sunnyside Ranch, one of the few orchards in the Grand Forks Valley, is such as to indicate an era of prosperity for the district as soon as irrigation is introduced on the many thousands of acres available for prune growing under conditions of sufficient water supply.

Mr. John Simpson, now of Rivers, Man., whose experience with fruit growing at Grand Forks, B.C., satisfied him of the possibilities existing for the successful production of prunes under irrigation at that point, led him to call attention to the fact some three years ago. He produced an article on the subject of prune growing in British Columbia, in which he at that time refused to encourage many who were sufficiently interested to propose investing or taking an active part in the industry, because he knew that at that time a large supply of water could not be obtained at Grand Forks.

Since three years ago, the prospect of a sufficient water supply for fruit land irrigation in the Grand Forks Valley has improved very greatly and the possibilities of producing a heavy crop by such means have been amply demonstrated, as in the case of the Summerside Ranch, where, this year over 10,000 boxes of prunes were picked from the nine acres of orchard—these prunes selling at $1.10 a box at prairie points. In round figures $11,000 was the value of the crop harvested from the nine acres. "Nor is this a record production for the prune orchard," says the Grand Forks Gazette. "Fourteen thousand boxes were harvested in a former season."

Recognizing the possibilities of the Grand Forks district, the British Columbia Provincial Government is to put in an irrigation system at once, which will place one-third of the water of the Kettle river on nearly 6,000 acres of land. The district gets about 14 inches of water from natural causes every year, and the irrigation system will give 30 inches more, making 44 inches altogether. The Government engineer, Mr. Bieker, made all the measurements. He is a great enthusiast on the matter, and says he is positively certain that the quantity of water supplied by the irrigation system will be at least thirty inches.

As indicating the importance of the Grand Forks Valley as a source of prune and other fruit supply, the following from an item in the Grand Forks Gazette of September 19 is interesting:

"Forty-three carloads of fruit have been shipped from Grand Forks this season to date, exclusive of express shipments, which would amount to several additional cars. Up till last night shipping over the C.P.R. included 31 cars of prunes, nine cars of apples, one car of plums, and six cars of mixed fruit. Two cars of prunes and one of apples have gone over the same line to-day, and three additional cars were shipped via the Great Northern."

So far as can be learned, it has not yet been found profitable to manufacture prunes in British Columbia. The price of labor and fuel are said to be too high, and there is a larger percentage of moisture in the plums than in those grown in California or Oregon. In California a large proportion of the prunes are made by drying them in the sun. Now, however, with the prospect of a large supply of the fruit available at one point, and the moisture content possible of control by reason of the artificial irrigation, the possibility of manufacturing the surplus over the demand for the fresh fruit is probably worth considering.

Cleaning London's Air.

Unsuspecting Londoners would probably be very uncomfortable if they knew what the Atmosphere Pollution Research Department recently discovered about their city: that each cubic inch of air in the vicinity of London contains six million particles of dust. Pure mountain air contains only thirty thousand such particles to the inch.

Germs, too, are so plentiful that it is estimated a man putting in a ten-hour day in the city inhales some thirty-seven million microbes of all kinds.

It has been put up to the Atmosphere Pollution Research Department to find a remedy.

HAIL THE GEORGETTE GOWN

Always More Popular Than Any of the Sheer Lingerie Materials and Laundors Easily.

A gown or blouse made of white or light-colored georgette, particularly if it is a one-fabric affair, will usually be found more serviceable than a similar garment made of one of the sheer lingerie materials, such as organdie, cotton voile, etc. The georgette garment can be washed with soap and water, but it does not require the vigorous treatment that a cotton fabric needs to make it look fresh and new, and certainly the amateur laundress can handle the georgette more easily than one of the cotton fabrics.

Tunic and tier effects are being featured in the styles now appearing for fall and winter. These will vie for honors with the redingote and barrel silhouette frocks, but fortunately there need be no real rivalry, as the redingote dress especially is distinctly a style that belongs to daytime apparel.

Godet Fullness in Frocks.

Godet fullness is being introduced into new frocks by Paris dressmakers. The bodice extends far down into the skirt in long godet points and the skirt flares out between these flat godets in the new bouffant manner. The underskirt is very narrow and slim. Such a frock is of turquoise blue faille, its bodice and godets, the flaring skirt of gold tissues and the narrow underskirt of lame tissue.

An Offer.

It was at a cricket match in Australia. A tremendous skyer had been hit and the fielder was in fair way to catch the batter out. At this tense moment one of the spectators called out, "Miss it, Archie, and I'll let you kiss my sister."

Order of the Garter.

There have been a limited number of women admitted to the Order of the Garter, though for nearly 600 years no British sovereign conferred this honor on a woman.

IT'S A BIG JOB TO GET THE NEWS OUT OF RUSSIA

PARIS—Some idea of the difficulties encountered by American correspondents in Europe endeavoring to communicate their news observations to American readers may be gleamed from the following letters written by Paul Williams, Tribune correspondent, as he was leaving Constantinople to join Denikine's forces in their push to Moscow. The letter was sent to the director of The Chicago Tribune foreign news service in Paris.

"I leave this afternoon on a French destroyer, which is carrying the French mission direct to Denikine's headquarters. I am in luck.

"The communication situation is bad, but not hopeless. There is a Russian courier at least once a week from Novorossisk to Constantinople. Arrangements can be made probably to get the stuff from HQ to Novorossisk. The French mission also intends to have a courier service of which I can avail myself.

Is a Wireless.

"The Inter-Europe Telegraph company has a cable from Odessa to Constantinople. It is clogged with official business, and the delay on press stuff, unless I can get it stamped official, will make the cable as slow as the courier. How to get copy to the cable office from HQ is another problem.

There is a wireless at HQ. If I can get permission to use this and authority from Admiral Bristol here to have my stuff taken on the U.S.S. Galveston, in the harbor, we will have quick transmission on important stuff.

"Everything will be delivered to Czapski here for forwarding.

"Harold Williams, who has been in Russia many years for the London Times is with Denikine. His wife is in some Russian government office. He probably gets his stuff away by a wireless which the British are said to have in London. You ought to know with what fear and respect the British army regards the Times. Perhaps I can get stuff to London or Paris this way.

GUM TENDERNESS —A TOOTH-MENACE

It is true that four out of five people over forty suffer from gum-shrinkage, or Pyorrhea (Riggs' Disease). But many people even under thirty have Pyorrhea. Women, particularly after the baby comes, are peculiarly subject to Pyorrhea. At such time they cannot be too careful about their teeth.

Pyorrhea commences with tender gums, or with gum-bleeding, at tooth-brush time. Gradually the gums become spongy. They inflame and then shrink. The teeth become exposed to decay at the base and tiny openings in the gums become the breeding places of disease germs which infect the joints—or tonsils—or cause other ailments.

Beware of that first gum tenderness! Try Forhan's for the gums. It positively prevents Pyorrhea, if used in time and used consistently. No ordinary tooth paste will do this.

And Forhan's cleans teeth scientifically as well. Brush your teeth with it. It keeps the teeth white and clean.

If gum-shrinkage has already set in, start using Forhan's and consult a dentist immediately for special treatment. 35c and 60c tubes. All druggists.

PARIS WOMEN TO RESUME CLOTHES; CAPES TOO COLD

PARIS—Women will soon resume the wearing of clothes, in the opinion of H. Worth, aristocratic dressmaker of Paris, who is confident that the extreme limits in "undressed styles have been reached."

There are two reasons why he expects the change.

First, because the women are regaining their sense of good taste, which he believes has been noticeably absent since the end of the war, and, second, because the coal crisis is making it impossible for women to sit in restaurants, theatres, ballrooms, and concerts without wraps about their shoulders—wraps which entirely cover their elaborately "missing" bodice.

Worth declared today that the really aristocratic women never wore their scanty bodices. The great bulk of women obtained their inspiration for the recent styles from musical artists.

During the height of the present "undressed" season the average group of women in the restaurants and hotel dining rooms was more undressed than dressed.

At one of these fashionable affairs one woman wore a bodice consisting only of two straps. One of the straps broke. Nothing but powder protected her upper body from the eyes of the public. However, there was so little difference between her appearance and that of the other women diners that the incident attracted almost no attention.

A MINISTER LOST 40 YEARS' SAVINGS

LATE REV. A. MARTIN, BELLEVILLE NOT TOLD OF STANDARD RELIANCE WRECK.

BELLEVILLE—"The evil that men do lives after them, the good is oft interred with their bones." The above epigram is just as true today as when Shakespeare wrote it. Incidentally, it might serve as an epitaph for certain deceased directors who guided the destinies of the old Hastings Loan and Investment Society, which, after two mergers, finally would up in the Standard Reliance wreck.

Rev. Alexander Martin, for the past twenty-three years a resident of this city, died here Thursday morning. After preaching the good tidings in no less than sixteen Methodist parishes, he accepted superannuation and settled in Belleville.

The savings of nearly forty years in the ministry, which Rev. Mr. Martin brought here with him, were invested in the Hastings Loan and Investment Society, and he looked on the investment as a sure prop for his declining years, as well as a safeguard against want for his wife and the remaining daughter left in his house when death visited him.

Mr. Martin passed away in his 89th year, in the firm belief that his savings were still drawing interest from the Standard Reliance. He died without the knowledge mercifully withheld from him, that the money meant for the sustenance of loved ones had turned to dust and ashes!

WINTER WOES OF A MARRIED MAN

Writing in the December number of the Rotarian, Charles O. Smith, a member of the Rotarian Club, of Saskatoon Sask., and the editor of the Saskatoon Daily Mail, has some very apt and amusing things to say regarding the many trials and tribulations that afflict the average married man during the winter season. After recounting the cussedness of storm windows, furnaces, ash sifters, frozen water pipes, etc., he says:

"Perhaps the most pestilential foe of a married man's comfort is the husband who knows how to make things. (Every married man will understand just what he means.) There is one in every neighborhood. Nothing can stop his activity. He can do things with hammers and saws. Seems to have a gift that way. Normal sorts of husbands can't understand it. Cold weather seems to bring it on bad. In the long winter evenings he goes to the basement and makes things for his wife.

"If these amazing performances could be kept secret in his own house all would be well. There would be no complaint. But in her pride the wife tells the other men's wives, and then the trouble begins. Home comes the talented whittler some cold evening with a discarded telephone pole on his shoulder. His gloating wife meets him at the front steps. He turns sideways so as not to poke her in the face with the pole, and greets her with an affectionate kiss. Such husbands are always greeting their wives with an affectionate kiss. Then he lays the pole down.

"That night he starts in to whittle and four months later he brings forth a wonderful six-foot lamp, all fluted and polished. His delighted spouse telephoned all the neighboring wives, and they go to see it.

"And they come home and sit wondering why it was not their joyous fate to marry a man who can make things like that. They compare their husbands with the gifted hammer slinger until the luckless man who can't do anything in woodwork, except to pull a splinter out of his finger feels that nothing in this life matters but an ability to make seven dollars' worth of furniture out of a dollar and nineteen cents' worth of railroad ties.

"Sometimes one of the goaded husbands tries to emulate the home-improver, but instead of converting an abandoned piano box into a mahogany chiffonier, he flattens out his thumb with the hammer, and the language he uses is something his wife never thought she would have to listen to.

"Winter time brings one to the conclusion that there is something wrong with our educational system. It either produces wives who expect too much of their husbands or it produces husbands who lack the technical training that modern conditions of housekeeping demand. If the latter is the case, there should be a change in the school curriculum. There should be a special course in handling a home in the winter. Political economy should be replaced by fuel economy. Schools should teach the use of furnace draughts instead of bank drafts. As we are using wood instead of coal, the care of the teeth of a saw should be included in the hygiene lesson, and the botany professors should impress upon their classes that it is more necessary to know what to do with a leak in the sink than a leek in the garden. The class of future husbands should be taught how to get storm windows on without breaking the glass or into getting into profanity. And when our schools teach husbands all these things the wives of the day will rise up and call them blessed—the schools, that is, not the husbands. Never that. One must not expect too much."

MAN CHOKES TO DEATH.

Philadelphia, Pa.—Martin Muller, 50 years old, of 2908 Gaul street, choked to death at the Philadelphia General Hospital, Thirty-fourth and Spruce streets, when a piece of food lodged in his throat. He was a patient at the institution.

According to physicians, the man was admitted to the hospital in May suffering from a disease which weakened the muscles of his throat. At the time when he choked to death he was being fed by a nurse and is said to have accidentally swallowed an extra-large piece of food. An operation was performed at once in the hope of saving the man's life. The windpipe was opened and the food removed, but in his weakened condition it was found impossible to revive him after the operation.

"Peterborough Presents Possibilities Unsurpassed."

THURSDAY, DECEMBER 18, 1919.

THE CITY'S FINANCES.

In his letter to the papers last night Mayor Duncan makes it clear that Peterboro's financial position, far from being of a nature to alarm the citizens, is in reality something upon which the people may take pride. As His Worship points out the soundness of the city's financial condition has been proven frequently "by the most severe test possible," for Peterboro's debentures have always brought the highest market prices. It is notable too that Peterboro is in the splendid position of having a surplus in its sinking fund account of over $80,000, to provide for paying off the debentures while the tax rate as compared with that in other cities is low the report of municipal statistics of the Ontario Government quoted by Mayor Duncan shows that Peterboro's position in this respect will stand comparison with the majority of the cities of the Province, the figures given by the Mayor are convincing; if there was any doubt as the city's financial status his letter should be sufficient to dissipate it from the most pessimistic mind.

THE POLITICAL SITUATION

In view of the situation caused at Ottawa by the retirement of Sir Robert Borden, the Toronto World is agitating for an early session of Parliament, the restoration of electoral machinery and a general election as soon as possible. "Because of the War" says the World "the Country's old-time election machinery has been stalled, if not scrapped. Parliaments first business is to restore and improve it for instant working Cabinet reconstruction is really secondary to this, because, unless we are to remain in the old bondages, no self-respecting administration would dream of carrying on without a mandate that fits the present time." However reasonable it may be the warning of our Toronto contemporary is likely to fall on deaf ears. An appeal to the country is the last thing in the minds of most of the members of the Union Government, they are willing to accept almost any compromise in the selection of a leader rather than face the electors at the present time for they realize that a general election would result in the disappearance of most of them from public life. On the other hand if they can hold on until the last days of their legal term of office there in the hope, faint as it may be, that the present dissatisfaction will subside.

JOHN BULL'S SHARE.

There is an impression among some of the Senators at Washington that Great Britain is getting too much land, too many ports and footholds and spheres of influence throughout the world, and the clean-up folowing the war, says the Toronto Star. They charge that President Wilson has been too visionary and altruistic, and too anxious to show Uncle Sam to be a generous benefactor asking nothing for himself.

But is is to be observed that such responsibilities as Great Britain is assuming in various corners of the world are of a nature that the Washington Senators are determined the United States shall not relieve Britain of.

Lord Rothermere, for instance, criticises Lloyd George quite as severely as any Senator does President Wilson. He charges that Britain spent $640,000,000 in Russia in the first seven months after the armistice and $250,000,000 in Mesopotamia in the same period. He declares that the attempt to shoulder the burdens of the world, without fair help from other nations, cannot go on without producing national bankruptcy. "Today," he says, "we are plunging into new regions and incurring dangers from which our victorious Continental allies, and even the United States, shrink." Then he adds, and italicises the statement: "The Dominions will not help us in these enterprises. Our future lies here and not in tropical wastes."

There is a desire that Canada and the other Dominions should join in these enterprises. Mr. L. S. Amery, of the Colonial Office, has been flattering us with the prospect of being permitted to do so. There is need for a good deal of considering before anybody commits Canada to a share in all these remote, unknown, and almost unknowable responsibilities.

But if Senators at Washington say that John Bull is getting too much in the clean-up after the war it is well to consider the charge that he is giving too much, paying too much, pledging himself too far and in ways that others are particularly careful not to do.

WHISKEY SPOTTERS.

The hissing of the detectives, that had been sent to Belleville by the Ontario Board of Licensed Commissioners, in the police court the other night, was not an uncommon or an unnatural manifestation of opinion on the part of those who do not regard that particular form of police work with favor.

But the liquor detective or "whiskey spotter," as she is commonly and derisively called is an essential element in the enforcement of the law.

Experience, both under the license system and under prohibition has abundantly proved that no matter how willing and efficient the local police and officials may be, there is a certain class of law-breakers they can never apprehend.

The local officials are so well known that warning can almost invariably be given of their approach by confederates of the boot-leggers or customers of the boot-leggers.

The spotter comes by a more circuitous route. He has to match wit against wit. His calling demands a higher order than usual of mental keenness and intelligence. It also requires courage, resolution and persistence. The methods employed must be indirect or the reverse of those ordinarily used by the regular police. The subterfuges and stratagems brought into play will often bring the detective making use of them into popular disrepute. Occasionally his unpopularity becomes so great that he is in danger of mob violence.

But, popular or unpopular, the detective is an essential part of the administration of the prohibition law and of every other law that man seek to evade in a criminal way.

The prohibition law is, however, somewhat different from the other laws.

In other crimes, as, for instance, theft, organized society is unanimously opposed to the wrong-doer and demands his detection and punishment. But with the man who violates the provisions of the Ontario Temperance Act there is in certain quarters a certain sympathy. Many people are bitterly opposed to the O.T.A. and deem it an improper law, a gross and unjustifiable infringement of that ancient right of every Briton to eat and drink what he pleases. With Juniua, he believes that the subject who is truly loyal will neither advise nor submit to arbitrary measures.

Because of that adverse opinion of a certain section of the public the detective has a much harder row to hoe and the way of the boot-legger and moonshiner and blind-pigger is rendered correspondingly easy.

But nevertheless the O.T.A. is backed up by the overwhelming force of public opinion. No government in Ontario or in the Dominion has ever received so unanimous a vote at the polls. The majority was well over two to one. A vast preponderance of the voters of Ontario have signified that they desire that prohibition shall be the law of the land. In Ontario we are governed by majority rule.

When the people have so recently and strongly endorsed the law, it seems but fair to assume that people desire to have that same law vigorously and efficiently enforced.

The detective is a very essential part of the machinery of enforcement. Without him illicit stills and peddlers of poison brews would flourish. He strengthens the arm of the inspector or the police.

There is a very easy way to avoid the attentions of the spotter and that is to observe the law. Several deaths of citizens of this county, due to the ministrations of boot-leggers, show that the man who illegally dispenses alcohol is a menace to the public.

The sooner that these men discover that society is bound to protect itself, that prohibition is not a joke perpetrated by sissies and wild-eyed crusaders but a business proposition demanded by business men, that this statute cannot persistently be tampered with by over clever smart-alecks or by those too lazy to do honest work, the better it is going to be for all parties concerned.

Never having engaged in the boot-legging business, we cannot say from experimental knowledge whether it is profitable or not in a financial way. But we hazard the opinion, that the same amount of energy expended in law-abiding, respectable pursuits would bring in better returns. The returns in peace of mind and satisfaction in regular occupation would surely be infinitely greater. There is, perhaps, a certain fascination in dodging the eagle eyed minions of the law but, no matter how clever the dodger, detection and exposure are certain sooner or later.

The game is not worth the candle. —Belleville Ontario.

LIGNITE PLANT TO GIVE WEST NEEDED FUEL

START OPERATIONS AT ESTEVAN SASK., SELL IN WINNIPEG AT $9.40

OTTAWA, Dec. 18.—Reports received from the Lignite Utilization Board by the Research Council of Canada, indicate that a plant will be in operation, near Estevan, Sask., in August next, which will turn out 30,000 tons of briquettes per year, and these briquettes will sell for about $9.40 per ton in Winnipeg. This plant, it is prophesied, will be the beginning of an industry which will serve, in a great measure, to solve the fuel problems of Western Canada, for these briquettes will be equal ton, for ton, to anthracite in heat value, and like anthracite in character and keeping qualities.

Standardize the Coal.

Investigation and standardization of the coal of Western Canada will be undertaken by a Fuel Research Board, appointed by the Council at its meeting in Ottawa last week. The urgency of this action, it is stated, lies in the fact that the coals of Alberta, for example, are not all of equal value, and the use of the inferior variety in Winnipeg and other cities east of Alberta, tends to discourage the consumption of Western coal and to make consumers resort to American supplies of fuel. It is held by the Research Council, that if the coals are standardized the better varieties of the soft coal of Alberta may replace wholly the soft coal imported from Ohio and Pennsylvania into Manitoba and Saskatchewan.

Once Bitten, Twice Shy.

Dr. A. B. MacAllum, Administrative Chairman of the Research Council, instanced the case of some 30,000 tons of Alberta coal of the inuferior variety having been shipped to Winnipeg last year. It gave such poor results that the users declared they would have no more Alberta coal, and this winter purchased their supplies at a higher price across the border, despite the fact that much of the Alberta coal is of excellent heating and keeping qualities.

Survey Oil Shales.

A resolution was also adopted by the Council that a careful and thorough survey of the oil shales of Canada should be made under Dominion auspices. The possible future supply of oil from these shales may eventually be called upon, as the peak of production in the United States has been passed, and American companies are now importing more than is produced in the United States. The oil shales of the West may be found eventually to furnish a greater supply of oil than can be obtained from any of the present or future oil-gushers of Western Canada.

The Council recommended also the estimate of a Central Bureau to collect and disseminate all possible information regarding all our natural resources.

HUSBAND'S CAN'T GET PAY FOR HOUSEWORK

Newark, N.J.—"Husbands should not expect to be compensated for performing household duties, such as fixing the defence, painting the house, or washing the dishes," said Vice-Chancellor Backes.

In signing an order making permanent an injunction restraining George W. Newberry, of Belmer, from interfering with his wife's property, the Court issued this statement:

"If I were to allow your claim, any husband who washes the dishes for his wife might ask for $8 a week. This kind of work is considered a gift, but under the law if a wife give her husband $500, it is a loan. Whether this will be changed after woman gets the vote, I don't know."

Newberry last week got a judgment of $500 against John T. Kelly, of No. 270 High street, Newark for alienating his wife's affections.

TO REBUILD PALESTINE.

London, Eng.—In connection with the British Government's declaration of policy in favor of the establishment of a Jewish national home in Palestine, a practical step has now been taken in the formation of a company for the promotion of building operations in the country. This company, entitled "Haboneh" (the Builder), has been formed by a number of Russian Zionists in England, and has been registered in London with a capital of $1,000,000.

TALE OF CORRUPTION

WHEN THE DEVIL REIGNED IN SALZBURG.

Strange Career of Man Who Was a Favorite of Austrian Court—He Lived Like an Eastern Potentate, Robbed and Betrayed His Country and Acted as Spy for the Allies.

A SECRET of the almost incredible governmental corruption that preceded and partly caused the downfall of the Hapsburg monarchy in Austria is told by the Salzburg correspondent of the Berliner Tageblatt." It should be explained here that Salzburg is the capital of the former Austrian crownland of the same name. The city, surrounded by the snowclad peaks of the Alps, is one of the most picturesque in Europe, and noted as the birthplace of Mozart. It had a pre-war population of 40,000. The province of Salzburg had a population of 220,000, almost exclusively German Catholics. The two main sources of revenue were the immense salt deposits, from which the name Salzburg is derived, and the yearly influx of tourists.

The story in the Berliner Tageblatt is headlined "The King of Salzburg." It runs:—

"A lawsuit now pending in the great court of justice opens up an incriminating perspective into the incredible maladministration carried on in the province of Salzburg for years by a favorite of the assassinated Archduke Franz Ferdinand and his spouse, the Duchess of Hohenberg. The consequences of this maladministration became evident last fall in the bloody riots here, and the conditions that followed were greatly instrumental in preparing the soil for the revolution which destroyed the throne of the Hapsburgs. In the centre of this trial is the figure of the former chief of the Governor's cabinet, Dr. Rambousek, who was indicted for espionage in Entente service and for the embezzlement of many million crowns of state money. Dr. Rambousek, not long ago, committed suicide in the jail of the Vienna police. His father was the private physician of the heir to the throne, Franz Ferdinand, and the backing of this archducal protector was exploited by the younger Rambousek in an unheard of manner. He also succeeded in gaining the confidence of the Duchess Hohenberg, and requited her support by closing the beautiful Blühnbach Valley, near Salzburg, to all traffic, a measure which at the time roused a mighty storm of protests in Bavaria and Austria, causing the Austrian government to annul the measure. The affair gained unfavorable publicity for Rambousek not only in Austria, but also in Germany.

"But Rambousek capitalized his influence on the Catholic and Czech circle of the Austrian heir presumptive not only in the economic, but also in the political field. Through his brother, Prof. Rambousek, of Prague University, he entered relations with the Entente Governments and conducted a lively correspondence with the French military intelligence officers. The disclosure by the Austrian Secret Service of these relations during the war led to the suicide of the Prague professor.

"Dr. Rambousek was also very influential with the Roman Catholic clergy in Salzburg. His wedding—he married an American woman—took place in the private chapel of the Archbishop of Salzburg, the archbishop himself signing the marriage certificate as witness. The archduke and his wife telegraphed their congratulation. After this event the consent of the ambitious official knew no bounds. He established his household on a regular princely footing, rented the most fashionable hotel in the city and furnished the entire building as his private residence. He surrounded himself with a brigade of servants.

"Through his appointment as chief of the Governor's Cabinet he became the real ruler of the province. He was called by the people the uncrowned king of Salzburg. After the assassination of the archducal couple his position seemed, for one reason or other, stronger than ever, and he simply did not tolerate interference in the affairs of the administration. His regime, modelled along the lines of an Oriental despot, did not fail to attract the attention of the widest circles in Vienna, but nobody cared to challenge the all-powerful favorite of the court and clergy. In the meantime Rambousek extended his sphere of activities. He had very powerful friends, not only in Vienna and Prague, but even in Berlin and other German capitals. He maintained intimate relations with high military officers, including some on the German and Austrian general staffs; he had a chain of pretty and fashionable women working for him as political and military spies, and he utilized all this [illegible] the accusation he formation, which he had transmitted through Prague and Bavaria to the Entente capitals.

"Thus he is credited in Austria with a considerable role in the Bohemian revolutionary agitation and the plottings which led to the breakdown of the Italian front. But his principal achievement was the wrecking of the food distribution system of Salzburg and the neighboring districts. The wholesale theft of provisions, organized by Rambousek with the aid of profiteers, smugglers and corrupted officials, furnishes the main subject of the monster trial, in which indictments were found after Rambousek himself committed suicide, against his accomplices, a number of prominent and less prominent people in Salzburg and surroundings.

"Owing to the misappropriation of funds and supplies, conditions in Salzburg reached the famine point last September. Already during the summer all strangers were ordered to leave the province, owing to the shortage of foodstuffs. In September the population, whipped into utter despair, broke out into riots. Shops were plundered and property destroyed. Rambousek's residence was surrounded by a menacing crowd, whereupon he ordered out the military, and reported later to Vienna that the outbreaks were due to Entente intrigue. This notwithstanding the fact that he himself was in the pay of the French espionage system.

"A few days later, however, Rambousek saw that he had arrived at the end of his rope and arranged for his escape. He gave his valet a considerable sum of money, ordering him to secure Czech passports. Taking with him 6,000,000 crowns in cash—all taken from the state treasury—Rambousek started out in his automobile for the Swiss frontier. On the way a tire got punctured, and while he was engaged in repairing the damage a policeman became suspicious and put him under arrest. He was brought to Vienna, and after a few days he hanged himself in his cell. Inquiry showed that he had embezzled no less than 30,000,000 crowns ($4,000,000 in pre-war exchange)."

Mothers!

NEVER NEGLECT WHOOPING COUGH

Many mothers make the mistake of thinking that whooping cough is not of serious importance, but unfortunately this mistake often leads to the neglect of this dangerous child's disease.

Never neglect whooping cough, for it may be followed by some serious lung trouble.

Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup is highly recommended by mothers everywhere for the relief of this trouble. It will clear the clogged-up air passage of the mucous and phlegm that has collected in in this way bring on the "whoop" which bring the so-much-sought-for relief.

Mrs. Francis Burlingham, New Gate, B.C., writes: "This spring three of my children took the whooping cough, and they had it so bad I thought they would choke. I was getting pretty worried when my sister wrote me, telling me to try Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup. I sent for some right away, and, believe me, I will never forget how it worked. I will always have it in my house."

There are many imitations of Dr. Wood's on the market. Get the genuine when you ask for it. It will pay in the end. Put up in a yellow wrapper; 3 pine trees the trade mark; price 25c and 50c. Manufactured only by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

Pretty Christmas Gifts That Any Girl Can Make

By DOROTHY PERKINS

(Copyright, by A. Neely Hall.)

Most of the material required for the gifts in the illustrations can be picked up at home, which will be appreciated by every girl who has many to remember at Christmas time and small means to procure gifts with. Besides, these gifts are quickly made.

A Fancywork Basket.

You will not make a mistake in providing a handy workbasket like that in Fig. 1, for mother. Its end pockets for needles, thread, scissors and other small articles, are constructed outside of the basket, which leaves the entire inside space for work. A grape-basket, or any basket of about its size, may be used. Figure 1 shows the start of an end pocket. Cut a piece of cardboard of the shape of A (Fig. 3), and hinge it to the basket bottom by means of strip B. With both pockets started, cover the basket with cretonne, running it around the cardboard ends to form sides to the pockets (Fig. 1). Conceal the handle by wrapping a strip of cretonne around it.

A Which-Broom Holder.

Either a man or woman will appreciate this convenient article. A stationery box forms its foundation.

Such a box usually has the proportions shown in Fig. 2. The first thing to do is to remove one end, and enough of the top, bottom and sides, to make the box square. The dotted line in Fig. 2 shows where to cut. The second step is to remove a side adjoining that just removed, cut away the top to the shape of the finished front, and cut away one corner to form the open bottom of the rack. This cutting is shown by dotted lines in Fig. 3, and Fig. 4 shows the pieces thus prepared. Sew together what remains of the box and cover, then conceal the surfaces with cretonne and fasten a small bow and loop of ribbon through a hole punched through the upper corner of the back, for a hanger.

A Twine Holder.

This unique holder may be used for either crochet-cotton or twine. It requires the head of a small doll (Fig. 2), and a small "cat" basket (Fig. 3). The doll's head must be fastened to the basket in such a way that it can be removed easily for putting a new ball inside of the basket, so the best method of attaching it is with bands of ribbon, passing these around the doll's neck and shoulders, and around the basket, and tying the ends in bows. Cut a strip of pretty colored silk of the proportions shown in Fig. 4, run a thread through a hem made in one edge, for a gathering string, and by means of this thread gather the silk about the doll's head to form a ruffle and sleeves. Add a neck ribbon. Figure 1 shows how the twine or crochet cotton is pulled out through one of the sleeve openings.

Alexandre Millerand.

Many of the characteristics of Georges Clemenceau are said to enter into the "human equation" of Alexandre Millerand, the former Minister of War whom the French Government has put at the head of affairs in Alsace and Lorraine. Like Clemenceau he is a man of combined newspaper and political experience, with quite strong convictions as to the first duty of a war minister being to prepare for war. A promise made by his predecessor to restore Col. Paty du Clam to the army, and kept by Millerand, because he held himself compelled to respect it whatever might be the popular disapproval, led to his resignation from the War Ministry, to which he returned after Germany had begun her invasion. To his new position in Alsace-Lorraine, Millerand takes also the experience of a man who has served France as Minister of Commerce and Minister of Public Works, and a restored friendship with Clemenceau himself. The two were old friends who had become antagonized, and the attempt to assassinate Clemenceau happily reconciled them.

The Storks Come Back.

The storks have come back, to Strasbourg, and the townfolk are happy. For a long time the storks of Strasbourg have been famous birds, and their long-legged presence in the Place de Broglie has been an attractive and picturesque feature of the old cathedral town in the eyes of tourists. So the fame of the storks went round the world. At home they were regarded more matter-of-factly, although the Strasbourger held them in high regard even whilst he took them as a matter of course. In the spring of 1914, so the story runs, the word passed from mouth to mouth that the storks were leaving their nests and going away. Then came the war, and for five years the nests went from bad to worse, and Strasbourg, with so much else to think of, almost forgot there had ever been any storks. But the other day somebody said, "The storks have come back"; and sure enough, whoever went to the Place de Broglie saw them busily rebuilding their nests, without so much as word of explanation as to why they had been away.

Marquis Saionji.

Concerning Marquis Saionji, the leading member of the Japanese peace delegation, a London correspondent recently said that "of all the statesmen of Japan, Marquis Saionji best understands the genius and spirit of Western Europe. When the great war broke out he saw at once that Great Britain and France were determined to make a clean sweep of German militarism. Even in the darkest days of the struggle he never wavered in his faith that the allies would win in the end. Democratic in principle, he is an aristocrat in taste; the successful leader of a popular party, yet the very opposite of a demagogue. He is to-day the one statesman who is trusted by all classes and all parties for his great intelligence and tried patriotism."

MADE GOOD IN THE WAR

MEN WHOSE CHANCE CAME IN KHAKI.

Had Humble Employment In Civil Life But Seized Opportunity In the Army—There Are Also Cases That Have a Distinctly Humorous Aspect.

While the war has badly handicapped many soldiers by decreasing their efficiency for civil life, it has also been the means of promoting ex-soldiers upward many rungs in the ladder of business success.

Tens of thousands of men have "found themselves" while in khaki.

Men who went away timid, quiet fellows, content to take what was apportioned them, have returned to civil life confident, sure of themselves, and feeling able to take what they want out of life.

And here and there among them are instances of men who, by gifts of the soldiering genius, or by dint of hard, strenuous work, have raised themselves high in army rank; which rank has been recognized on their return to civil life, and due promotion made in the normal sphere of life.

John P. Girvan, a sorter in the Toronto General Post Office, enlisted as a private in the 15th Battalion, Highlanders, in August, 1914. Major (Acting Lieut.-Col.) John P. Girvan, D.S.O., M.C., Croix de Guerre, led the Highlanders in the smashing advances of August, September and October, 1918, to the victorious end of the war.

Doffing his bonnet and kilt on returning to Toronto, Major Girvan reported to the post office for duty. Would he step back into his old position? Would his five years of very distinguished service count for nothing? Would his very strikingly demonstrated ability to organize and command go unrecognized by the Government he served?

Major Girvan was promoted to command of the city night staff at the Central Post Office, assistant to the superintendent; a post that is ordinarily reached only after long and devoted labor in the civil service.

Second-class Police Constable Geo. H. Basher enlisted in Toronto as a private in the 3rd Battalion, August, 1914. He had years and years of humble service to put in as a constable before promotion in the Toronto force would come.

But in the army, his experience as a policeman came in handy and he was promoted to be provost-sergeant, that is, police sergeant of his battalion. He then obtained a commission with the Imperials, served with distinction in France, Egypt and Mesopotamia, and rose to the rank of major. Again, his police experience profited him, and he was given command of a detention barracks in England, and, later, of a military prison in France.

Would he return to the "beat"? No. Major Basher was appointed Governor of Toronto Jail.

The Toronto police force has several examples of accelerated civic promotion, due to distinguished military service. Detective Bill Miller enlisted as a private in the 15th Battalion. Major Miller, on being demobilized, was promoted to the rank of police inspector, a post that ordinarily demands a whole lifetime of service in the force.

Some very comical reversals have occurred. The colonel of a Toronto battalion returned to civil life and couldn't get a job for love or money. Finally he applied to the Government Employment Bureau in Toronto, and on entering the office of the secretary of this bureau, found himself face to face with his former orderly-room lance corporal. Now, for three years, this colonel had led the lance corporal a merry dance, bawling him out on many an occasion for little cause. As the jobless ex-colonel stood before the snappy business-like ex-corporal, he was at a loss for words.

A former major got a job soliciting advertising. Humbly approaching the owner of a very smart and up-to-date cigar store, he found himself face to face with a former buck private, with whom he had had many unpleasant collisions. The ex-major meekly purchased a package of cigarettes and executed a tactical retirement.

England has greater variety, however, than Canada. In his despatch, Sir Douglas Haig, says:

"Many instances could be quoted of men who from civil or comparatively humble occupations have risen to important commands.

"A schoolmaster, a lawyer, a taxi-cab driver and an ex-sergeant-major have commanded brigades.

"One editor has commanded a division, and another held successfully the position of senior staff officer to a regular division.

"The under cook of a Cambridge college, a clerk to the Metropolitan Water Board, an insurance clerk, an architect's assistant and a police inspector became efficient general staff officers.

"A mess sergeant, a railway signalman, a coal miner, a market gardener, an assistant secretary of a haberdashery company, a quartermaster sergeant and many private soldiers have risen to command battalions.

"Clerks have commanded batteries.

"A schoolmaster, a collier, the son of a blacksmith, an iron moulder, an instructor in tailoring, an assistant gas engineer, a grocer's assistant, as well as policemen, clerks and privates, have commanded companies and acted as adjutants."

Holiday Fun With Shadows for Youngsters

By A. NEELY HALL

(Copyright, by A. Neely Hall.)

Every boy likes to give home entertainments, and probably the best time of the year is right now during the holidays when grandmother and granddather have come to visit, and an appreciative audience is at hand. There are so many things for a boy to do during this vacation, however, that there is little time to prepare an entertainment, so I shall show you how to give a shadow exhibition, as this can be arranged in a short time.

It requires only a few minutes to get the knack of shadow making, and after you have tried out the forms in the accompanying illustrations you will find it easy to devise others.

The shadows must be cast upon a sheet, and the audience must be seated on one side of this, and the operator stand on the other side. It is best to hang the sheet in a doorway so the light by which the shadows are made can be confined to the screen, because the room in which the audience are seated must be dark. By hanging a dark cloth over the upper and lower portions of the doorway the area of the picture screen can be reduced to just the size necessary, and the covered lower portion will conceal the shadow of the boy performer's body (Fig. 1). The light for projecting shadows must be placed about five feet in back of the screen.

Figs. 1 and 2 show a rabbit shadow, and how the hands are held to produce it. Interlock your little fingers, then slide the back of your left hand over on to the back of your right hand. Form the nose and head by doubling back the first finger of the left hand, and the ears by extending the second and third fingers, and extend the thumb and first three fingers of the right hand for the feet. By wiggling the first finger the rabbit can be made to nibble.

The alligator shadow (Fig. 3) is a one-hand shadow made with the aid of [illegible] and notched along their edges to form teeth (Fig. 4). Fig. 3 shows how the teeth are held between the extended fingers, and how the alligator's eye is formed by light passing through an opening between the first and second fingers. With your free hand give the alligator things to eat. His eating will greatly amuse your audience. With modifications, a snake's head can be formed with your arm extended for its body.

Fig. 5 shows a wolf's head, and Fig. 6 a donkey's. Both are formed by placing the palms of the hands together, with thumbs up for ears, the first fingers drawn in for the forehead, and the little fingers dropped for the lower jaw. These shadows are a good example of how different figures are produced by extending or bending the fingers.

The duck's head (Fig. 7) is a simple one-hand shadow. By dropping and raising the little finger the duck appears to open and close its bill. It can be made to snap at flies very naturally.

Santa Claus' profile (Fig. 8) requires a cardboard hat (Fig. 9). The first finger forms the nose, the second and third fingers the lips, and a piece of cotton held between the third and fourth fingers makes the whiskers.

Oleomargarine to Stay.

Representatives of agricultural constituencies were again to the front when the Government's proposal to permit manufacture and importation of oleomargarine until August 31, 1920, and its sale until March 1, 1921, was before the Commons. Manufacture, importation, and sale of margarine has been permitted under an order-in-Council passed under the authority of the War Measures Act. Now that the war is over, it has been proposed to continue the permission by statute for a definite period. Members for rural ridings, including Donald Sutherland, of South Oxford; S. Frank Glass, of Middlesex, and A. B. McCoig, of Kent, objected to the continuation of the right to manufacture, import and sell the butter substitute. They took the ground that to allow production and sale of margarine would be a serious blow to the dairy industry. Dr. C. A. Sheard, of South Toronto, on the other hand, urged the Government to further and foster the development of oleomargarine in Canada under proper supervision for the very purpose of keeping down the price of butter. A vote was necessary before the resolution was adopted, and the bill founded upon it was introduced.

Our War Debt.

It will pay Canadians who do not believe in thrift to consider the war debt of the Dominion. Since March 31, 1914, the public net debt has increased 550 per cent., from $335,-986,000 to an estimate for 1919-20 of $1,950,000,000. Pensions are estimated this year at $20,000,000; land settlement, $25,000,000, and soldiers civil re-establishment, $10,-000,000. Interest on the public debt has risen from $13,093,000 in 1913-14 to $102,767,000 this year.

War expenditures for 1919-20 were estimated at $250,000,000, exclusive of pensions, and this year's consolidated revenue receipts were estimated at $544,000,000.

Income tax had been levied on 51,548 people in 1917, and the amount of assessment was $12,221,-669. Only 47,037 people paid, and the amount collected was just over ten million dollars. Only 32,668 persons paid on incomes between $1,500 and $6,000, and $1,669,862 was collected from them. Only 46 persons paid on incomes over $250,-000, a total of $1,670,000.

Silk Toilet Bag

Never was anything finer for a Christmas gift than the bag filled with toilet requisites, shown above. It is made of dark silk, having a figure printed on it, and lined with plain satin. The bag closes by means of a silk cord that runs through a casing and emerges, through slashes, in loops at the opposite sides. In the center of the bag a smaller bag encloses a box of face powder, and set about this are pockets containing all needed articles for the toilet. Besides, there is a money or jewel bag to be suspended about the neck when the owner of the toilet bag goes traveling.

Brazilian English.

"The river of Parana," declares the prospectus of a real estate agent in Parana, Brazil, "is the most watery in the state, one of the most extended in the world, it is navigable until to this state for ships of great profoundness; it is also sufficiently fishful." The same cheerful chap it is who further asseverates that "the vegetable reign is excessfully represented in resinous, oily and gummous plants."

MRS. W. R. MORRIS WAS CORDIALLY RECEIVED BY TRADES COUNCIL

LABOUR APPROVES PROPOSITION THAT WOMEN SHOULD HAVE A PLACE ON THE BOARD OF EDUCATION—COMMITTEE MAY RECOMMEND THAT MRS. MORRIS BE ENDORSED BY LABOUR COUNCIL.

Labour support for women's claims to one or more of the seats on the Board of Education was sought from the Trades Council last night by Mrs. W. R. Morris, Mrs. S. T. Medd and Mrs. Arthur Stevenson, the former of whom has already anounced her candidature for election to the Board on New Year's. The deputation was courteously received by the delegates from the local Unions and cordially welcomed by the president, Mr. A. J. Bolwell.

Mrs. Morris made it clear that the object of the visit was to secure Labour's endorsation for the principle that women, especially because of their innate interest in children, should have a place on the Board of Education.

"I am not asking you to give me your vote unless you wish to" Mrs. Morris said, "but we do request you to consider whether or not it is right that one or two women should be on the Board of Education, not because women have votes, but chiefly because we who are mothers, and those of us who have previously been teachers as I have been, come most closely in touch with the children and their work. If some day we have three members on the Board we shall be satisfied. We have no intention of taking the place of the men. In the home the women look after her share of the partnership, and we believe in carrying on the city's work in the same spirit of partnership. If you agree that women should have a place on the Board of Education we hope you will show it a little later on."

Mrs. Morris recalled former occasions on which the Labour Council had shown their sympathy to the women of the city in their efforts to deal with social problems, and this year in materially assisting the Playgrounds association.

Mrs. Medd's Arguments.

Mrs. Medd pointed out that in the majority of families children until their school age were left almost entirely to the mothers. From that stage the mother was supposed to know nothing about their care, but the father was supposed to look after their education. Peterboro was a democratic city, Mrs. Medd said. There was not one private school here, and it was perhaps just as well that the children should be brought up together and learn to take their knocks early. Hence no matter how they were educated, they all received the same education. One or more women on the Board of Education would see many things that do not appear to the men. Mrs. Medd added that she failed to see why it was not considered necessary that women should have a voice in directing the education of the children in the schools.

Not a Women's Campaign.

Mrs. Stevenson emphasized that this was not a women's campaign. They didn't wish women to be on the School Board simply as representatives of women but as the nominees and choice of the whole people. The women hoped to be elected by the men and women of the city, just as the men do.

"We are not running a women's campaign if that is the correct word" Mrs. Stevenson said. "We are anxious to have women on the Board, but we are also anxious to have the best men and women on it."

Mrs. Morris remarked in dearting that there appeared to be a strange prejudice against women on the Board of Education, to which Mr. Bolwell replied that there used to be a prejudice against the Trades Council.

Referred to Committee.

When the deputation were gone, the Council discussed their request at considerable length. Some of the members were in favour of endorsing Mrs. Morris in her candidature, but they were reminded that Labour hoped to bring out two or three of their own members for the Board of Education. The Council was unanimously in favour of women being elected to the Board, and it was suggested that some workingmen's wives might be brought out.

The question of membership in a Union as a necessary qualification for the Council's endorsation cropped up in the debate. One member stated that if some particular candidate proved satisfactory to the Trades and Labour Council exception should not be taken to that person because of any class condition whether any real difference in class actually existed or not. A great number of the teachers in the city were women, and questions dealing with their affairs should have women's counsel. It was in the interests of the working men of Peterboro that one of two good women should be on the Board of Education. They would be great strength to the Board.

Appreciates Her Service.

Other delegates spoke of the splendid service Mrs. Morris had rendered to the citizens and their children through the medium of the playgrounds which she had actively promoted. She was known to many workers through the reports their children had brought home of her visits to the grounds. It was agreed that the working people had much for which they should be grateful to Mrs. Morris.

This was the tenor of the discussion and at length it was decided to recommend to the committee in charge of Labour nominations for the municipal elections that they consider Mrs. Morris in preparing the slate for the Board of Education and report at the special meeting on Monday night.

Lots of people never think of making any preparation for the better land unless they see an excursion advertised.

LAKE WATER SOLD AS BOOZE

Canadian Sailors Made a Clean-Up on "Wet Goods" Brought Over to Oswego Recently.

At Oswego, N.Y., a couple of Canadian sailors, said to be off the steamer Pentland, that got away for Montreal, Monday, made a nice little clean-up with some fine old Canadian "fikker" that they had brought over for a few friends, but which they would let go for $8 per bottle.

The fellows had a couple of bottles of the "real" stuff and the rest was just common lake water. They would probably have been selling it yet but for the fact that the packages gave out and they had no more bottles to fill.

Wednesday night last, the tip was passed about the town that someone had three cases of Canadian whiskey that had never paid a single penny of customs duty, on the dock and that it would be up town about twelve o'clock or shortly after that hour, and those who wanted a bottle had better stick around. Shortly after midnight a couple of sailors came along and one of them carried the "sample" bottle full of the "real" stuff. The other carried nothing but an air of mystery and a fine speel. When he got through he had disposed of about 24 quarts at $8 per, or two for $15. One west sider started to make a kick Friday morning when he discovered he had bought lake water, but realizing the position it would put him in with the public, if not the federal authorities, he decided to hold his peace.

It is said that another gang on the Pentland worked the east side and disposed of several cases over there.

ACTRESS WINS BIG BREACH OF PROMISE AWARD

MONTREAL, Dec. 17.—Ida Wingard, actress, who played one of the leading parts in "Experience" at His Majesty's Theatre, was awarded $3,000 damages for breach of promise of marriage by Judgment the Superior Court rendered here by Mr. Justice MacLennan against T. H. Ryan.

It was on the occasion of her theatrical engagement in Montreal in October, 1917, that plaintiff met the defendant, to whom she was introduced the judge said by a Montreal lady of good social standing. The following week Miss Wingard went with her company to Ottawa, and there defendant renewed his proposal of marriage and was accepted. Defendant kept up a correspondence with plaintiff and visited her at Buffalo, Elmira, Ithaca, New York and Philadelphia and met many of her friends and acquaintances, to whom their marriage engagement was made known.

TO PLACE YPRES RUINS AT DISPOSAL OF BRITISH.

BRUSSELS, Dec. 15.—The Belgian National Congress of Architects passed a resolution declaring against the restoration of the Cloth Hall and Cathedral at Ypres. One delegate objected, saying that if the British wished to reconstruct the Cloth Hall and make it a museum to their national glory they should be permitted to do so.

NO WATER OR LIGHT.

ROME, Italy.—Owing to the power station collapsing into a canal Padua is without water or light. The foundation of the station had been undermined by Austrian air bombs.

"Yes, I know it is hard for you to catch those mistakes, Miss ——, on account of your eyes, but it would save your time and my time if you wore good glasses.

"I would miss the errors in your letters if I did not wear good glasses. Without my glasses, my efficiency, too, would be greatly impaired.

"You can increase your value to this firm by wearing glasses that will make your eyes efficient. If I were you, I would go out right now and consult a reliable Optometrist about your eyes. He will give you a thorough and expert examination and the kind of glasses you need."

PAPER ATTACKED ADMINISTRATION

(Canadian Press.)

LONDON, Dec. 18.—According to a despatch to the Herald, organ of organized labor, the reason for suppresson of the Dublin "Freeman's" Journal was not because of the paper's alleged interference with recruiting of special constables, but was the result of its attacks upon the Irish administration. It is asserted that the Journal alleged that certain known criminals were allowed immunity from prosecution because the government was employing them.

Day After Day

people from every walk in life come to this clothes shop of ours and with the dawn of every day its popularity increases. We are grateful for this patronage—glad to know our efforts to render good service are appreciated and glad to know our shelves are stocked with merchandise that the people want. And now the Christmas shopping season has dwindled down to a few days and although we do not wish to hasten our patrons we think it best to remind them that eleventh-hour-purchasing limits their selections to stocks that are depleted. At present we offer you a bountiful assortment.

—The Cressman Co., Ltd.

Speaking of the purchase of Riverside Park, Mr. Ritchie said it was the best thing that could happen at this time and would show our confidence in the city's future. "Our city should be so developed as to attract industry, so planned that the workers both with brain and hands will get more out of life, than they can get in any overgrown, over populous city and it is only by intelligent planning, painstaking foresight, common sense and persistency that we can attain such a desirable condition."

Mr. Ritchie said he was glad to hear that the Baby Clinic was being started and said "we are planning for the better moral and mental development of ourselves collectively.

In conclusion Mr. Ritchie said "We want a city of homes—we want a homelike city—good for us, good for our children.

For Education

Ald. Joseph Crowe in proposing the toast to "Education" dwelt on the great advances made in teaching in the last few years and how there was little excuse for one not being educated these days. Ald. Crowe said that Peterboro was to be congratulated on her fine staff of teachers and her good schools. He spoke on the Consolidated School System now in use in some of the States and of its benefits.

Mr. Crowe caused much amusement when he told of his own personal experience with schools and "schoolmarms."

Referring to the Police Commission Ald. Crowe held that the honors on the Board should be passed around and one man should not hold the same position for life.

Before the reply to the toast by Roland Denne Mayor Duncan read a message of regret from Mr. J. Fitzgerald saying that he was prevented from coming owing to his wife's illness. Mayor Duncan expressed regret at Mr. Fitzgerald's absence and said that he hoped Mrs. Fitzgerald would soon recover.

Consolidated Schools.

Mr. Denne replied to Ald. Crowe's toast. He said that the Consolidated Schools System had been inaugurated in parts of Canada but that it wasn't needed in this district. Mr. Denne dwelt on the need for agymnasium at the Collegiate and that they were paying $600 a year to the Y.M.C.A. for the use of their "gym" for the boys.

"The South Central School has outgrown its usefulness" said Mr. Denne dwelt on the need for a gym- $251,000 but it is not extravagant, for Windsor spent $400,000 on a school of about the same size. "We could now fill 17 rooms in it if we had it now. When it is completed we will have one of the best schools in Dominion."

A great trouble is that we lose too many children at the Entrance. Their people feel they cannot afford to give them any more education and so they learn trades and go to work. "What we need is a technical school." Our night schools have been crowded to capacity and this is something the new Board will have to look into."

Referring to teachers salaries Mr. Denne spoke of the increases given in January and June last but he still felt that the lady teachers were not paid enough. Mr. Denne said he hoped the new Board would look into the matter closely and see that the teachers were paid a just remuneration and when the money is asked for from the Council let them get it for our children are our greatest asset said Mr. Denne.

Ald. H. Phalen

Ald. H. Phalen said that there was no toast that he could do more justice to than the one he had been asked to propose.

"Mayor Duncan can look back with pleasure and pride to his career in the Council."

As chairman of the Board of Works I came in contact a great deal with Mayor Duncan and although we had our little quarrels we always came out good friends. I now ask you, gentlemen, to fill your glasses and drink a toast to "His Worship the Mayor".

Mayor's Reply

Mayor Duncan in replying thanked all the civic officers and his colleagues in the council for the help they had given him.

The Mayor said he was pleased to look back on his civic career and find that he had made few enemies and there had been no hard feeling.

Mayor Duncan referred to the work of the different committees and personally thanked the chairman for their unstinted service and said uHt

"There has been a great deal of work to do during the past year." His Worship said, "due to the new bridge and other improvements and the members and chairmen have not spared themselves in the least. Great credit is due to the City Clerk also said Mayor Duncan.

His Worship regretted leaving the City Clerk to do so much work, he said but asked the other members to do all they could to help him to secure new industries to come here. In order to get more industries the people must be impressed with the need of beautifying the city and the Mayor advised everyone to vote for the bylaw and have a park we will be proud of. "Again I thank you all for your kindness and support".

Ex-Mayor Buller now suggester that some of those who had thought of running for Mayor retire and give Mayor Duncan a third term, because it was a critical period and he was familiar with the work.

Ex-Mayor W. Buller said he was sorry that the name of Mrs. Nicholls had not been mentioned in connection with Public Library for Mrs. Nichols donated the site and not only this but the Parks, Hospital, Y.M.C.A. and other buildings.

One for the Ladies

Ald. James Hamilton before proposing the toast "to the Ladies" dwelt on the sterling qualities of the Mayor and his efficient service and he hoped that the Mayor would be there again next year. In proposing the toast "to the Ladies" Ald. Hamilton coupled Mrs. Nichol's name to it.

Mr. C. R. Widdifield replied to this toast and speak of the women who had been and still were leaders in thought and science, in war and in peace and said that we might soon have a lady on our Board of Education. "The Women have played an important part in the development of our country," said Mr. Widdifield.

Retiring Aldermen

Ald. Robert Morrison said it was his sad task to propose the toast to the retiring aldermen.

Each of the retiring aldermen, viz: McIntyre, Edgar, Taylor, Phelan and Garside made short speeches thanking the Mayor and City Officers for their kindness and aid.

Ald. McIntyre said that he was satisfied to retire or go higher but the decision remained with the people.

Ald. John Edgar said that he thought the Mayor should still be kept in harness for another year and that it would be in the best interests of the city to retain him. Ald. Edgar wished the new council every success and hoped that they would have the support of the people.

Alderman W. Taylor thanked everyone for their support and his colleagues for their co-operation.

Will Not Retire

Ald. H. Phelan struck a new keynote when he announced that he was coming back, no retiring for him, and that he would be in his old position on Board of Works next year and equal to any occasion.

Ald. James Garside thanked all for their support and said he hoped they would all be returned especially Ald. Phelan "who was heart and soul in the work" as he put it.

Roland Denne said that he hoped Mayor Duncan would run again and that all the members would get back and the work be completed.

Mayor Duncan spoke on the new Aladdin Company briefly and asked for the support of all ratepayers on the by-law.

Stomach and Liver Trouble

Once the liver fails to filter the poisonous bile from the blood, there is a clogging up and poisoning of the whole system which causes many troubles to arise. Therefore, upon the liver, more than any other organ of the body, depends the general health.

Carelessness and neglect, and oftentimes wilful disregard of nature's laws will put the system out of sorts. The bowels become constipated, the liver inactive and the stomach upset. To bring the system back to its normal you should take Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills. They liven up the liver, get the bowels back to their proper condition and tone up the stomach.

Mrs. G. L. Cackett, Enchant, Alta., writes:—"I have used Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills and have found them good for both stomach and liver troubles. I have told others about your valuable medicine and they have used them with good results.

"They are also good for headache."

Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills are 25c. a vial at all dealers or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

PRIZEWINNERS AT VETERANS' DRAW

The G.W.V.A. Band gave a concert, during which the drawing for the Grafton & Co. prizes took place.

Part I.

The first number on the programme was a selection by the G.W.V.A. Band, entitled "The National Emblem March."

The second number was another selection by the band, after which the chairman, Mr. Staunton, announced the Christmas treat for the soldiers' children.

The third number was a vocal solo by one of the bandsmen, Mr. Everett, which was so well received that he was called upon the second time.

The fourth number was a selection played by the G.W.V.A. Band, which was well applauded by the audience.

A piano solo by Miss Flowers furnished the fifth number, which was very much enjoyed.

The sixth number was a selection by the G.W.V.A. Band.

The chairman then announced the most important item of the evening, that of the drawing for the prizes. He remarked that "Grafton & Co. were doing all they could for the returned men, as far as their firm was concerned, by allowing 10 p.c. off on everything purchased by the soldiers or their dependents; that they had done so since the men came come." He said that they felt they were only doing what was right to get the soldiers back to civil life.

At this time any who were present who had not received a ticket were allowed to register. The tickets were well shaken up in a large box by Mr. Staunton, and a little girl from the audience drew out the lucky number, which was 878, the winner of the handsome phonograph.

The second draw was 703 for the electric lamp, the 3rd was No. 16 for the $5 hat, the 4th 652 for the pair of gloves, the 5th was 886 for the muffler. No. 867 won the $1.50 tie. The last draw for the pair of mitts was No. 826.

The chairman then announced that as the winners were not present, the lucky numbers would be published in the next day's paper, and the winners would receive their prizes on presenting their ticket at Grafton's store.

A selection was then played by the band.

Another bandsman gave a vocal solo, accompanied by the piano. This was followed by a cornet solo, which was very much enjoyed.

A selection entitled, /"Joyland," was played by the G.W.V.A. Band, and afterwards they played a march.

A gentleman in the audience voted thanks to the Grafton & Co. Ltd., which was heartily seconded by a member of the G.W.V.A. The thanks were conveyed to Mr. Conway, manager of the Peterborough store, by Mr. Whatley, secretary of the G.W.V.A.

Mr. Conway replied, saying that he only voiced the sentiments of Col. Grafton, of Grafton & Co., Ltd., whom he wished could have been present that evening. He said that both Col. Grafton and himself were trying to do all they could to help the soldier back to civil life. He thanked the chairman for the privilege of speaking, and hoped the people would remember to take advantage of the discount at Grafton's.

The evening ended by the playing of the National Anthem.

The names of the holders of the winnning tickets are:

No. 1—878, Frank Grady, 47 Crescent street.

The Grand Theatre will have as its feature today, and Friday and Saturday a photoplay called "Smiles," in which Jane and Katherine Lee, the inimitables, keep everybody in hot water and at the same time have the knack of working toward a happy ending.

"Smiles" was directed by Arvid E. Gillstrom, who also had charge of the Lees in "Swat the Spy!" and "Tell It to the Marines." This latest play has a touch of war in it, but it shows the humorous side of the great struggle. It has in it airplanes, U-boats, a new radio-mine invention, besides showing the methods of some of the German spies in this country. It is said to be one of the best features that Jane and Katherine Lee have ever appeared in.

If you don't want to be happy, if you don't want to laugh, if you don't want to smile, keep away from this mirthful picture.

THE DUMBELLS

"Biff, Bing, Bang," is the catchy title of the original overseas musical comedy revue which the famous "Dumbells" are offering here at the Grand, a return engagement on Xmas Day. The "Dumbells," as they were called in France where they gave over five hundred performances to our Canadian soldiers, is an organization of soldier-actors, who were chosen by Capt. M. W. Plunkett from practically every branch of the service. Every member of the cast and chorus has a record of at least sixteen months service to his credit before joining the entertainment corps.

Their performance, while given entirely by soldiers, is along similar lines to the big musical revues, so much in vogue in London and New York, and the boys play everything from chorus girls to prima donnas. The costumes and scenery are the last word in gorgeousness and the many song and dance numbers, most of which were written especially for them by some of England's best composers, are brilliantly sung and executed.

Its One Fault.

Some time ago a traveler brought home to England a "Kaffir pick." It was a versatile tool, the natives using it as an ax, a pick, or a spade. It was shaped like a heart. A British manufacturer saw it, and decided he could make it and market it more cheaply than could the Kaffirs. He produced a pick so like the original that the Kaffirs couldn't tell the difference—so he thought.

Salesmen went forth to South Africa with their British-Kaffir picks, expecting a harvest. But, strangely, the harvest was not forthcoming; the picks remained on their shelves in the shops. Sadly the salesmen returned home—all except one. This tenacious one took a trip up country, talked to the Kaffirs, and learned what was wrong.

In addition to its other uses, it seems that the Kaffirs take the pick from its haft and use it as a cattle call, and they had discovered that the British-made article did not have quite the right note. The manufacturer quickly remedied this, and sales picked up.

British Goods for Germans.

British goods to the value of $50,000,000 are in Cologne ready for sale to the Germans. The goods belong to members of the British Chamber of Commerce in Cologne.

Charles Knott, president of the chamber, has made an arrangement with Mathias Erzberger, German Minister of Finance and Hermann Muelley, the Foreign Minister, to prevent "dumping." Mr. Knott announced that both the German officials agreed to the suggestion that a clearing house should be opened in Berlin to control markets and experts so as to prevent "dumping."

"No goods from Germany will be sold," said Mr. Knott, "unless offers are made by exporting firms to British firms and accepted by them, corresponding values of goods from Great Britain being exported for the Ger-

At Cassils, Alberta, 73 miles west of Medicine Hat, and 103 miles east of Calgary, on the coast-to-coast line of the Canadian Pacific Railway an area of land was taken up this year by a colony of Seventh Day Adventists from Washington and Oregon. They certainly made up a splendid community. To my great surprise, most of them are taking up farming for the first time. There are professional men, business men, clerks, teachers, music teachers, nurses, mechanics, carpenters, and representatives of several lines of work. A desire for healthful occupation, together with the necessary ambition to make money, has led them to settle in this country.

The climate is delightful, the intense heat being usually tempered by cooling breezes. Though the summers are short, the long daylight hours with continuous sunshine, force the crop to early maturity.

I have seen thousands of sheep grazing in the prairies, the huge herds of cattle and horses ranging everywhere and the golden harvests as far as the eye could reach. Huge tractors do all the heavy work.

On account of the drought this year, the crops on dry land in this section have been almost a total failure. But on the irrigated land, they have surpassed all expectations. This particular community has just been holding its agricultural fair at Brooks, six miles east of here. The exhibit of cattle, horses, sheep, grains, alfalfa and vegetables was certainly far above the average. This is especially surprising, as it represents the first attempt at farming in this section of the country.

The water supply for irrigating canals here comes from the Rockies, about 150 miles west through the Bow River. At Bassano there is an immense dam, costing three and one-half millions. From this dam, the water is conveyed through large main canals to the smaller ones. Each quarter section has a headgate or weir where the water is measured to the farmer. Then the farmer has to build a main ditch with many laterals, to get the water spread over his land. The "ditch-riders" regulate the amount of water that each farmer shall have. They oversee six miles of ditch. The farmer pays the Canadian Government $1.25 an acre per year for the use of the water.

The flume at Brooks, a great piece of engineering work, is about four miles long and 300 feet high. It carries the water from one hill to the other, a distance of about four miles. The structure of re-enforced concrete cost over two million dollars. Over twenty millions have been spent on this irrigation system and as much again will be spent before it is completed.

A short distance east of Cassils is the soldier colony; 50 ready-made farms fenced, with necessary buildings, and 50 acres of land broken. These farms are sold to returned soldiers on long term easy payments. To the south is Taylor's sheep ranch where they have over 25,000 head of sheep. This is only one of the many large sheep ranches in this section. Near Brooks is the farm belonging to the Duke of Sutherland—a farm of 7,500 acres. This year they have 2,000 acres in wheat, and 500 acres in alfalfa. Some of the land produced 3½ tons of alfalfa to the acre. They have had three cuttings this year. There is so little rain here that there is no difficulty in curing the hay. Twelve miles south of here is Lake Newell, the fishing ground for everybody. Wherever there is any water, there are thousands of ducks and geese. The duck hunting season has just opened and we have been well supplied.

Flax is a good crop. The seed is used for linseed oil, the stalk, which is very tough, for linen fiber. It now brings $4.92 a bushel. Wheat and oats are usually put in for the first crop.
